

RD. CANI DESCRIBE IT

Words
Describe Can't
It

COCAJARY LIST #58

1 BRIGHTON - (BRAIN - TON) N - A SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
LOCATED AT 723 ST. MARY'S STREET
RALEIGH N.C. 27605 PHONE NUMBER -
(919) 755-6226

2 LATIPAC - (LAT - I PAX) N - 1 CAPITAL SPELLED BACKWARDS 2 WORDS CAN'T DESCRIBE IT.

Enjoying a break between classes, Edward Hicks uses the time to talk to his friends. So there was enough time to get to class with all the added trailers, an extra minute was added to class changes.

2-Words Can't Describe It

WORDS CAN'T DESCRIBE IT . . .

BUT FACES CAN!

Faces. They are all different, each with their own character and personality. They express who we are and how we are feeling at every minute. Frustrated looks while we wait on cafeteria lines and humongous grins as our class wins spirit week are all parts of Broughton. The individuality of every person's face has helped make Broughton what it is today, and words certainly can't describe that!

Making use of the long ride home, John Palko, Trina Wilkes, Karen Friberg, Katrina VanCleave, and Stephanie Yost release the tension of a long day at school. The riders of this bus took advantage of the space created by a missing seat to visit.

Looking up in surprise, Gina Johnson responds to a noise a little too close to her head. Many looked forward to the days when they could congregate on the bleachers.

WORDS CAN'T DESCRIBE IT . . .

BUT ACTIONS CAN!

It was evident in everything we did. A willingness to help, a drive to do our best in every way. The things we did and the way we did them proved that we had character and singleness of purpose as we supported individual class activities and school wide projects. The added support of parents and alumni are part of what makes Broughton so different that words can't describe it.

During her PEPI class, Harriet Stephenson teaches an Aldert Root student how to walk on stilts. Playtime proved to be just as fun for high school students as for the elementary school kids.

In order to make it to class on time, Lisa Campbell climbs over the rail to trailer 503. Coming from the third floor, one had to cut seconds whenever and wherever possible.

4-Words Can't Describe It

HOM DO

Entertaining the crowd at an assembly, Kevin Lee leads the band. Music was an important part of every assembly.

TES SECONDS
E VISITOR
WN TO GO QTR

DRINK
Coca-Cola
ENJOY THAT Refreshing new Feeling

But Actions Can-5

Contemplating life behind bars, Dan Auman wonders if the 2:35 bell will ever ring. Though the bars are there to protect the school from theft, students often wanted to break out.

6-Words Can't Describe It

WORDS CAN'T DESCRIBE IT . . .

BUT WE'RE GONNA TRY!

Broughton? From gweebs to jocks and from Homecoming to Graduation the students and activities at Broughton, so versatile, so unique, yet so traditional cannot fully be described with words. The many traditions at Broughton remain while the students, faculty, and school are constantly changing. The diversity of the students and staff add to the difficulty in pinpointing the meaning of the one and only Broughton. Words can't describe it . . . but, we're gonna try.

Cheering in support of his class, Senior Allin Foulkrod helps to win the shouting competition. The class of '87 won spirit week for the third year in a row.

Traditions of excellence have been supported by students, teachers, and alumni since the doors first opened in 1929 as Raleigh High School.

In the summer heat, Charlie Ginger stops to catch some refreshment. The air conditioners between school and the boys' gym dripped constantly.

But We're Gonna Try-7

Shading his eyes from the afternoon sun, Jon Byers relaxes on the front steps. Students could sleep almost anytime, anywhere, and at the drop of a hat.

G

ADDABOUT-N-(GAD'-A-BAUT
ONE WHO FLITS ABOUT IN SOCIAL ACTIVITY; SEE ALSO: VIBRANT, CHIC
JAZZY, OUTRAGEOUS, DELIGHTFUL
ZANY, ASTOUNDING, DYNAMIC, DAZ
ZLING, ELEGANT, JOYOUS, EFFER VESCENT, AND LIVELY.

Words
Can't Describe
It

STUDENT LIFE

Judging from the smile on Todd Hoffman's face, school must be over. Even the most overworked student could stop to smile as the 2:35 bell rang.

8-Words Can't Describe It

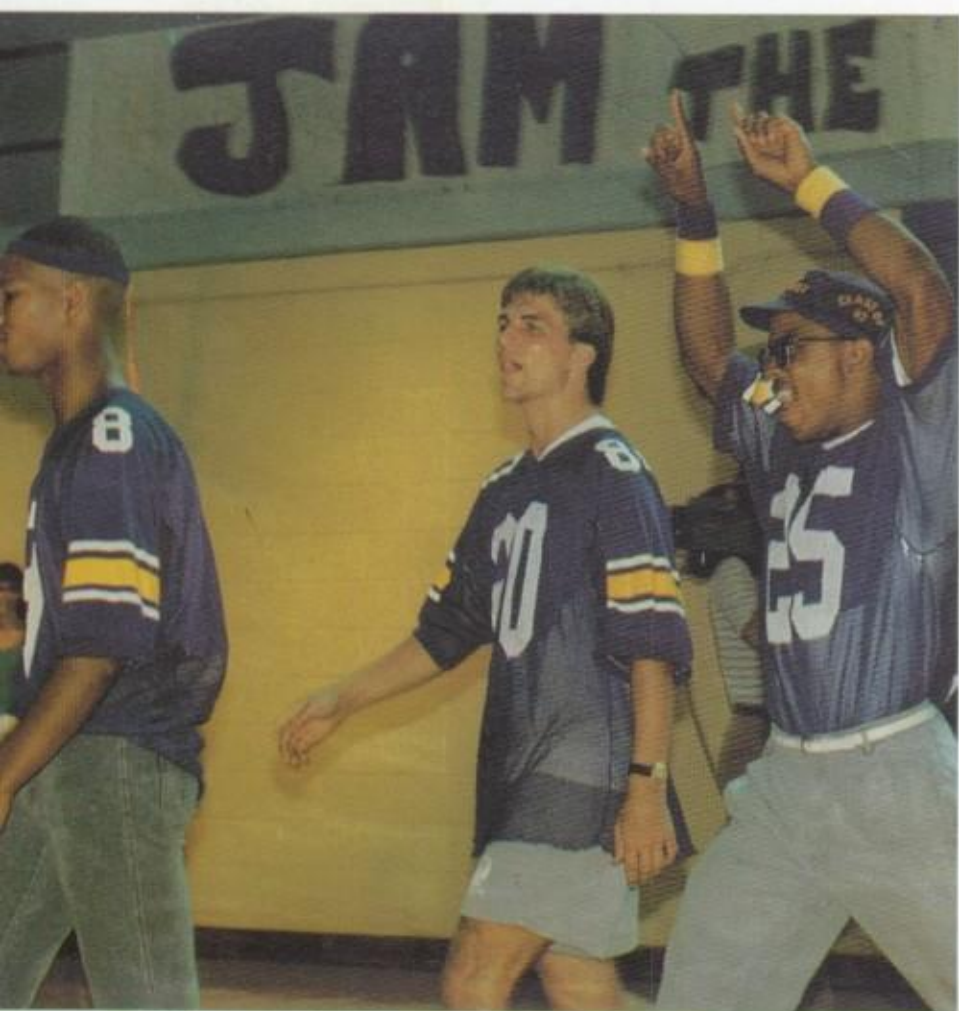

Rusty Oates pauses to vent his frustration before picking up his scattered papers. Often things happened when all you could do was laugh.

Topped with purple hair, Junior Vee Renfrow cheers on the Caps. Explosive Friday was planned to ignite spirit before the Athens football game as both teams were undefeated.

CAPITAL PSYCHE

The enthusiasm was electric throughout the year. Pep rallies, dances, and ball games came alive with spirit. Students expressed their school spirit in many different ways. Whether painting a T-shirt for Explosion Friday, or singing "Louie, Louie" at a football game, Broughton found unity in its diversity.

Leading the football team across the gym, Seniors Jabo Peebles, Jimmy Boykin, and Kenny Lightfoot pump the crowd up during a pep rally. Players wore their jerseys to school before each football game to get the students psyched.

Showing tremendous spirit, Senior football players Kemp Hunt and John DeAngelis model their new haircuts. Many football players had their numbers shaved into the back of their heads for the Athens game.

Baby powder, greasepaint, and lots of padding transform high school teenagers into withered small town residents. Beth Battle was one of the many who went through dressing room chaos solely for her appearance.

The chorus was made up of students from every grade, supplementing the show with dynamic musical performances. The array of costumes worn by the townspeople were authentic, some being provided by the Raleigh Little Theatre.

The antics of the women of River City were a constant source of entertainment for the audience. As a member of their troupe, Izlar Andrade performs an Indian folk dance in celebration of the Fourth of July.

Music Man

Think hard. The 1986 spring musical? Flashes of packed auditoriums, standing ovations, and dynamic performances. Enter Professor Harold Hill, self-proclaimed music instructor, vendor of band uniforms and instruments, and proponent of a revolutionary new learning process, the "Think System". His plan was to waltz into River City, Iowa, peddle his wares, and once he collected, catch the fastest train out of town. But, things got complicated when Professor Hill fell deeply, totally, and hopelessly in love with the town librarian, Marian Paroo.

This only begins to describe the events that took place on March 20, 21, and 23. With one of the largest casts in recent history, aided by a group of students from Underwood Elementary School, turnouts were exceptional, and the audiences were not disappointed.

"I loved the color of it all.

Everything, and everyone, was so exciting!", stated Senior Mary Shaw.

The entire cast and crew pulled out two excellent performances on Thursday and Friday nights, and the Sunday show was just as entertaining and enjoyable as the two previous ones. Since the final performance was scheduled at the same time as the NCAA playoff games involving N.C. State and North Carolina, spirits were high and the show was light-hearted. Several cast members went so far as to call out scores from the games, and several members of the audience were seen with small televisions and radios. As Debbi Sisson remarked, "It was kind of funny when I realized this little glow out in the audience was a man watching the N. C. State playoff game on a portable television." Hats off to every one involved for a four star performance.

Music Man

Professor Harold Hill
Marian Paroo
Eulalie Shin
Mayor Shinn
Winthrop Paroo
Mrs. Paroo
Marcellus Washburn
Charlie Cowell
Alma Toffelmier
Luella Hix

Steve Lindsley
Kathryn Bilbro
Benji Taylor
Brad Woodhouse
Hayes Permar
Jodie McKenzie
Gordon Stephenson
Jackson Trent
Katherine Jones
Iziar Andrade

Mary Shaw listens intently to Professor Hill's arguments against the proposed town pool hall. The vices about which he warned them were appalling to the simple-minded honest townspeople.

Katharine Jones, Iziar Andrade, and Benji Taylor look on, horrified with Professor Hill's sham. However, the good natured townspeople forgave him for his shady dealings.

Just finishing a snack, these seniors, Laura Rinne, Chris Currie, Jason Smith, Jim Beck, Jim Wiley, Beth Crampton, Miller Vick, Jill Dembicks, Cammy Worth, Justine Kelly, Hugh Avera, and John DeAngelis relax on the steps of a friend's house. Seniors enjoyed getting together to discuss the many highlights of their summer.

Six juniors, Ken Harris, Lucy Ferdon, Chuck Williams, Johnny McConnell, Sharon Watters, and Andrew Donadio spent the first few days of summer vacation at a surprise party for a close friend. Many hours were spent hand delivering invatations while keeping the party a surprise.

Top: Not all of us were bright eyed and bushy tailed as Junior Robbie McCarthy proves. He along with many others enjoyed days of sleeping in and partying late!

Enjoying a lazy summer afternoon Junior Jeff Allen takes a break. When he was not at the beach he spent much time relaxing and reading the ever so popular "Surfing" magazine.

The Head Of The Crowd

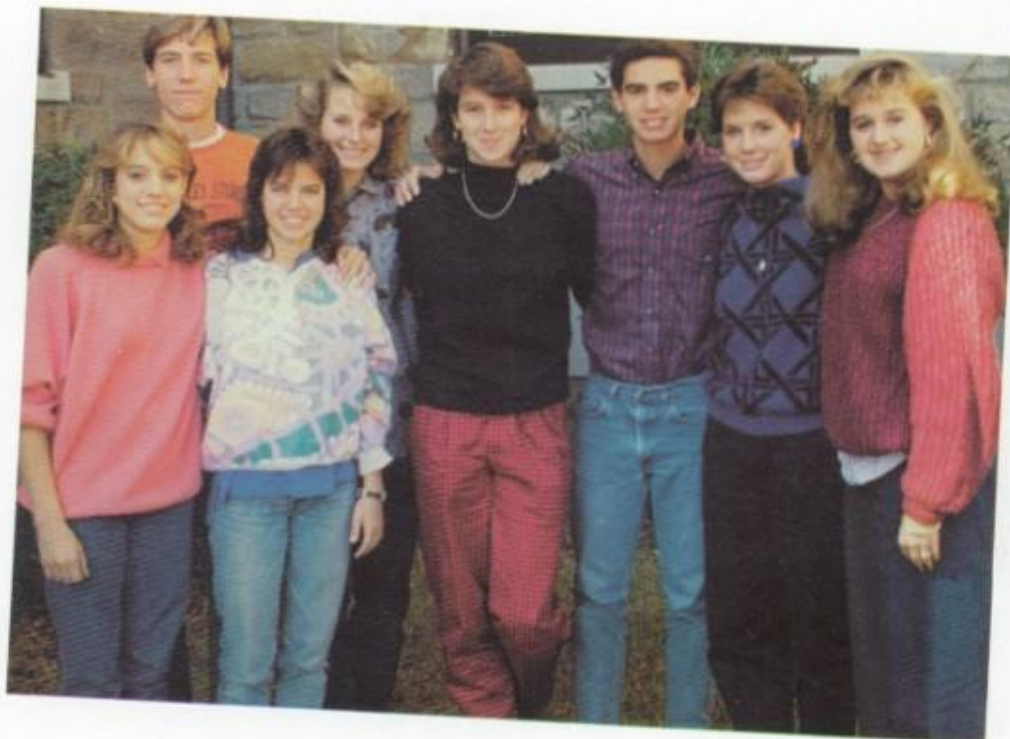

"I'm a YMCA Day Camper and I'm proud. You'll find me at the head of the crowd." The words of this YMCA Day Camp theme song sung to the tune of the Dr. Pepper commercial started each day of their summer job as counselors among a staff of thirty. "We were all so close, we had a special bond that held us together," commented Senior Cindy Balentine. Another senior, Amanda Tugman, agreed. "We were like a family, all knowing that we were the First and Best North Raleigh YMCA Day Camp Staff of 1986!"

This certain experience brought many different people together. Junior Andy Lester stated, "I got a chance to meet other people from Broughton and to become close friends with many people from college and other high schools like Millbrook."

These staff members had many memorable experiences. "I will never forget the time when we dressed up in our pajamas and went Christmas carolling at North Hills Mall," explained Junior Julie Joyner. Senior John Cella exclaimed, "My favorite part of Day Camp was playing pillow polo!" Senior Cindy Balentine said, "I loved to see the campers run around the lodge while singing 'Happy Birthday' to them. Little did I know that when it was my birthday I would have to the same."

Many asked, "How do you end a summer like that?" The reply is, "You don't." Junior Julie Joyner stated, "I would definitely return if I had the chance. It was an opportunity to get close to the staff and the many children while having a great time!" Junior Andy Lester agreed, "I was very sad to see the summer end. All the staff would be going their separate ways. I would miss the kids the most of all. They made the summer what it was." Senior Cindy Balentine concluded, "Day Camp was an experience everyone should be a part of!"

The 1986 North Raleigh YMCA Day Camp Staff: Dana Daughtry, Jackie Phillips, Andy Lester, Nancy Snyder, Amanda Tugman, John Cella, Cindy Balentine, and Julie Joyner.

Junior Andy Lester smiles while being covered with his "Booberries." "Booberries" is one of the many huddle names at the YMCA Day Camp.

Chatting in the restaurant, Sophomores Mary Andrews and Angel Rasette pose as Parisian merchants. Students who visited the boutiques even tried on accessories.

La Menu is a fine example of the detailed work put into the prom.

Dancing under the stars, Scott Johnson and Jakie Phillips enjoy the music by the Backstabbers. The band encouraged audience support and added to the success of A Night in Paris.

Concentrating on her counter, Junior Sabine Moore constructs her authentic Parisian cafe. Although Rome was not built in a day, Paris was.

La Nuit Dans Paris

-A Night in Paris-

Would you believe that as many as three hundred seniors and juniors spent an evening in Paris? Actually, they didn't go to Paris, France, but rather it was brought to them by the Class of 1987. "The overall impact of the prom was incredible; we created a beautiful Paris," said Senior Jackie Mittlesteadt.

Students strolled through French gardens and chatted under the famous eyesore- The Eiffel Tower. Merchants were kept busy in shops ranging from a bakery with tantalizing bread to a boutique of quaint clothes and accessories. Colorful mural masterpieces covered the boring walls of the cafeteria. "It was interesting to see who noticed the McDonald's arches and the clock tower hidden in the trees of the Notre Dame mural," commented Senior Belinda Watkins.

Refreshments were served in the French cafe while couples danced under the stars on Les Champs-Elysees. Street artists donned berets and sketched pictures of couples in the brick art square. The Backstabbers, a local band, entertained students and helped make the prom a great success. "With all of the complicated details and troublesome construction, I am thrilled that our Paris turned out as beautiful as it did!" exclaimed Senior Laura Nowell.

Leaning against a street sign, Sophomore Sara Carlson watches couples dancing. Costumes were provided for the sophomore servers to make Paris more authentic.

Taking a break from the tedious serving task, Sophomore Matt Brown relaxes in a secluded corner. Sophomores traditionally serve refreshments at the Junior-Senior Prom.

Getting down to detail, Juniors Kathy Bell and Marianne Sikes fill the grocery store with goods. Committees were formed for the construction of each shop.

WHEN THE GOING GETS ROUGH

"You don't know how aggressive a girl can be until you see her play Powder Puff," joked Sophomore Jason Steele while watching the beginning of the Junior-Senior Powder Puff Game.

What? You saw girls with hairy legs, short skirts, heavy make-up, and wigs? Then they must have been the Powder Puff Cheerleaders. "Being a Powder Puff Cheerleader was an awesome experience because we got a chance to act like ourselves," commented Junior Jonathan Lotz. Senior Junior Bailey agreed, "It was a lot of fun. I liked getting much attention and being laughed at!"

"Coaching Powder Puff was hard at first but as the games approached we got our act together," explained Junior Coach Johnny McConnell. Not all practices were spent playing football. Junior Jodi Haire laughed, "We spent much time searching for jewelry on Lacy Field, playing on the monkey bars and not working on the float."

Many girls were excited about the final game. Junior Suzanne Jordan commented, "Getting to play in Gregson Stadium was so exciting. We got a chance to see how it felt to be a 'real' football player!" Senior Sarah Wilson concluded, "I was really psyched about playing my final year, and yes, we dominated once again."

Senior Powder Puff Cheerleaders Mark Brenner, Dayan Levi, Kent Perry, Lee Highsmith, and Allin Foulkrod take over the field to stir up enthusiasm for the Class of '87. These seniors also preformed in the Homecoming Pep Rally.

Juniors Jenny Dunlap, Blaire Castelloe, and Kim Hauser are enthusiastic after the Junior-Senior Powder Puff game. Even though the final score was 26-0 the juniors were still psyched and ready for next year.

.....

WHAT! Junior Jodi Haire's shirt reveals her feelings about Powder Puff football. The players took the initiative to have shirts printed.

Who's NEXT? Who ever withstood the competition between classes. Each Powder Puff player was required to have individual numbers printed on their shirts.

With a smile Junior Leighanne Futrell lends a helping hand to Powder Puff Coach Ken Harris. Five Powder Puff coaches were responsible for thirty players.

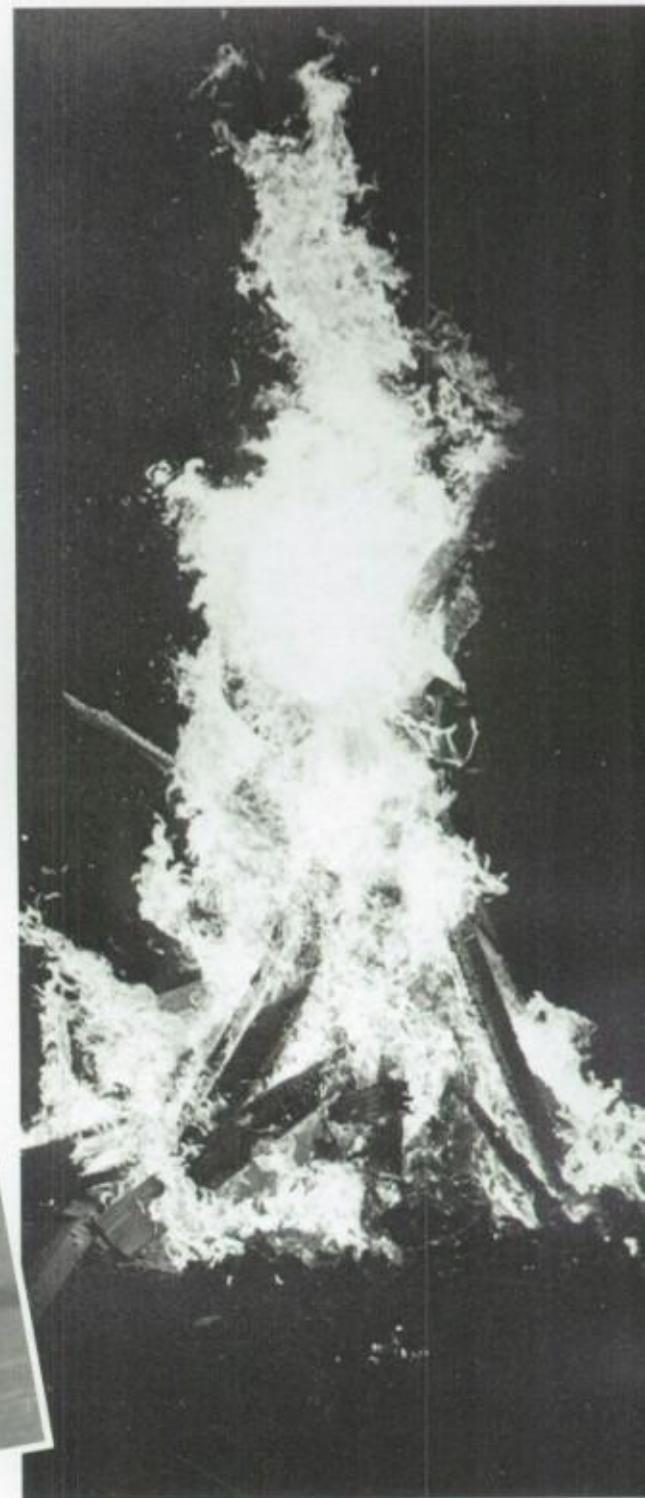

YOU KNOW IT'S POWDER PUFF

Smiling up at the crowd, Audra Doughty keeps perfect time with the rest of the Varsity cheerleaders. Countless hours were spent perfecting and rehearsing this difficult routine performed to a medley of classic rock and roll favorites.

Led by the Varsity cheerleaders, the juniors show their spirit at the Thursday night bonfire. The juniors tied with the seniors for first place in the effigy competition.

Blazing skyward, the bonfire's flames consume the remains of the senior effigy. The senior class incorporated part of their float from last year to once again produce a winning effigy.

SPIRIT WEEK

On Monday, October 20, Corey, the construction worker, reported to work as usual. However, things were not normal at the school where Corey worked. Class after class Corey saw students fill the halls with their most unique hats and their best looking pair of shades. Dazed, and slightly confused, Corey headed home. As Tuesday rolled around, Corey cautiously re-entered the building not knowing what to expect. Comforted by the absence of weird hats and punk shades Corey breathed a sigh of relief, only to glance down and realize, with slight horror, that none of the students knew how to match his shoes.

Wednesday came, and Corey approached the school campus with a slight dread. Observing the rush of students to their classes, Corey noticed that students everywhere had worn ties to school that day. Feeling a bit comforted with that, Corey was suddenly taken aback when he saw a group of senior guys walking around dressed as females. He was further disturbed when he heard that a team of junior girls was going to be playing a team of senior girls in football that night at Gregson Stadium. What scared him more was that those strange guys he saw were going to be the cheerleaders! Corey dreaded Thursday already. But, once he got to school, all he noticed was the flurry of buttons and stickers worn by everyone. Getting up his courage, Corey asked a passer-by just what was going on.

"Don't you know? It's Spirit Week!" was the answer he got.

That explained a little of this to him, but he was still a bit confused.

"So?" was his heartfelt reply.

"So be at the bonfire tonight, and wear your purple and gold tomorrow!" Corey wrinkled up his nose, and walked away with a dazed look on his face. Driving home that night, he noticed a big red fire engine making its way towards the school.

"Hmmm," he muttered to himself. Later that night, as he was laying out his outfit for the next day, he pulled out his purple and gold sweatsocks.

School was buzzing on Friday, and Corey found himself a tiny bit caught up in the excitement. Everywhere he looked he saw people showing their Capital spirit. He even saw a janitor with a purple and gold nose. Seventh period soon arrived, and students poured into the gymnasium. A few minutes later Corey heard what sounded like a roaring engine. Cautiously approaching the front doors, the screams grew louder. As he stood in the doorway, Corey saw thousands of enthusiastic students cheering their loudest in support of their school and class. The Homecoming King and Queen's courts were presented, and the cheering did not quiet down much. After the cheerleaders' routine, and a surprise visit by the Powder Puff cheerleaders, Corey was clapping and cheering along with everyone else. As the pep rally ended and the students filed out, Corey realized he had discovered just what was meant by Capital spirit.

At Friday's pep rally, members of the senior class display their Capital pride with numerous signs and posters. The Seniors capped off a winning week with a victory in the spirit link competition.

Working intently on the sophomore float, Jason Steele anchors the body of their airplane with several carefully placed nails. The sophomores spent many long hours constructing their Capital interpretation of "Top Gun".

CUT LOOSE AND...

Iggy, the Broughton-saurus, was flabbergasted. He overheard students who painted his purple and gold spots talking about foreign things like a bonfire and Spirit Week. Now, as the Class of 1987 was putting the finishing touches on his teeth and tongue, they were talking about taking him on a motorcade and to a football game. He had no idea what to expect, but hoped it would be fun.

The next day, students hitched Iggy's trailer to a Ford Bronco and drove him to Broughton. Iggy and the other floats waited at Broughton as judges looked over them, and Iggy hoped he would win. Then they lined up for the motorcade behind the court, a group of beautiful girls in convertibles. They drove to Gregson stadium waving at people and talking about the game.

Soon after they arrived at Gregson the crowds began to gather. Dressed up couples sauntered to the track and stared with amazement at Iggy. He had never had this much attention before and was very flattered.

As the stands filled with colorful people, Iggy heard the emcee announce the Broughton football players. They were dressed in purple and gold just like Iggy. They played on the muddy field and when halftime arrived the emcee announced that the Caps were beating the Triton Hawks. The players retreated into the locker rooms and the festivities began.

Enjoying the latest music, Bobby Jurgens, Laura Rinne, Harriet Stephenson, and David Dunn dance the night away in the cafeteria. Broughton graduate, Kevin Sanders, was the D.J. for the Homecoming Dance.

The beautiful girls stepped back into their convertibles and someone started up Iggy's Bronco. The Golden Regiment Band marched in place on the field and one by one each court member was presented. The crowd went wild when Caroline Marie Farmer was announced as the 1986 Homecoming Queen.

Iggy straightened himself up as his trailer began to move and held his head high. The crowd cheered as he drove by, and he listened excitedly as the emcee talked about Spirit Week and the floats. Iggy's heart leaped when the emcee announced him the first place winner of the float competition and he beamed as he rode around the track one last time.

The rest of the night was spectacular for Iggy. He cheered with the crowd as the Caps fought on to victory. The only disappointment was that he was not able to go to the much talked about celebration dance held in the cafeteria. He guessed it was because of his size, and didn't mind too much because he was too tired to boogie anyway.

Displaying her tiara and bouquet, the 1986 Homecoming Queen, Caroline Farmer, walks proudly with her escort, Clark Womack. Purple and gold corsages were provided for the court members.

Smiling at the crowd, Jason Smith accepts the honor of being 1986 Homecoming King as Casey Herget, Chairman of the Special Projects Committee, crowns him. The Special Projects Committee is responsible for organizing Homecoming activities.

CELEBRATE

Standing proudly on his trailer, Iggy, the Broughtonsaurus, waited patiently for the motorcade to begin. The motorcade, consisting of the court and floats, is the traditional parade to Gregson Stadium.

QUEEN'S COURT — Front Row: Karen Murrell escorted by Charles Jackson, Pam Davis escorted by Maylon Rowland, Caroline Farmer escorted by Clark Tomack, Second Row: Kim Harris escorted by Eddie Hicks, Cece Bailey escorted by Michael Messner, Beth Crampton escorted by Markham Carr, Third Row: Harriet Stephenson escorted by Roger Smith, Stewart Harris escorted by Jim Wiley

KING'S COURT — Front Row: Pearl Surles escorted by Ivan O'Neal, Jackie Phillips escorted by Junior Bailey, Cathy Bell escorted by Henry Young, Second Row: Jim Wiley escorted by Elizabeth Jones, Chris Currie escorted by Michelle Hodge, Kevin Murrell escorted by Princess Whitaker, Third Row: Jill Dembicks escorted by John Cella, Laura Nowell escorted by Bret Bachelder, Caroline Farmer escorted by Jason Smith.

This Just In . . .

Several things have been changed here at Broughton as well as many other high schools regarding education and certain standards.

The new exam policy caused an uproar in everyone, especially the seniors. "I don't think we should have to take exams because during exam week seniors don't have to go to school. Would it be a crime to take exams a week early?" questioned Senior Gordon Stephenson.

Senior Roger Smith added "That the privilege of seniors not having to take exams would be a reward for four years of hard service."

The school system has not only made requirements regarding exams but also regarding athletes. Several athletes were not permitted to play sports because their grades weren't good enough. There was a 1.5 grade point average minimum required of all athletes.

"I think that this new policy is a good one. It puts education in perspective making the person a student first and an athlete second," explained Teacher Mike Kral.

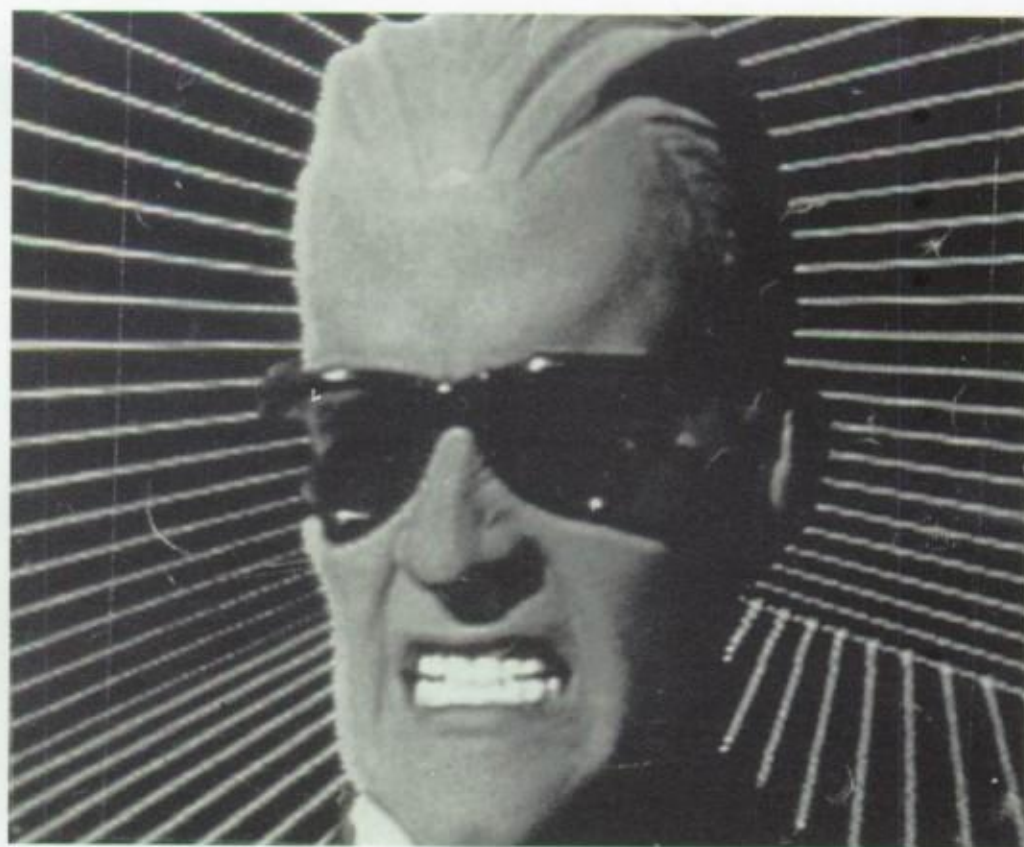

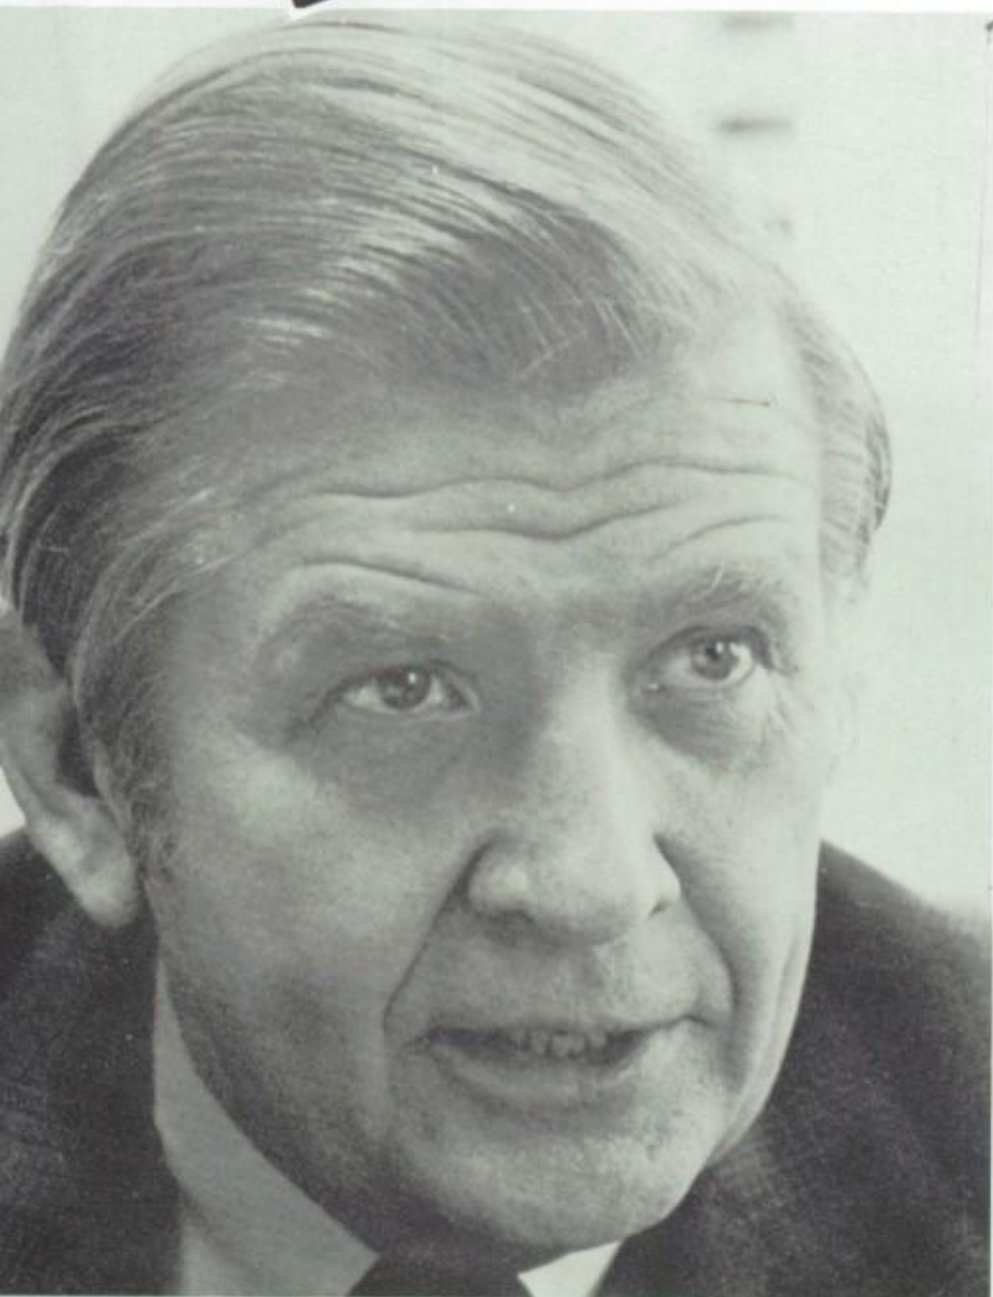

Many seniors got upset when they heard the news that the drinking age had been changed from nineteen to twenty-one. "Now when we finally do turn nineteen, the drinking age will be twenty-one!" moaned Senior Stephanie Burkhart. "College will never be the same again," complained Senior Brent Miller. North Carolina was one of the forty-two states that changed its drinking laws. The law took effect on September 1, 1986, as part of the crackdown on drunk driving. Because of the change many false I.D.'s were being produced and I.D. checking became stricter and more common.

President Ronald Reagan met with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev in Iceland for their second meeting regarding arms reduction between the two nations. These two political leaders met in October to reduce the amount of weapons produced in each country. The meeting was a preliminary meeting before Gorbachev was scheduled to visit the United States. After many hours of unsuccessful discussion the two leaders were unable to compromise on any type of arms agreement but did agree to disagree; nothing was accomplished.

As Senate elections were held in a close race between Republican Jim Broyhill and Democrat Terry Sanford developed. The seat in the Senate was vacated by the death of former Senator John East. The campaign was well known because of the high qualifications of both men. Terry Sanford, a former president of Duke University and Governor of North Carolina, defeated former congressman Jim Broyhill despite Broyhill's presidential support.

If you tuned into the television during 1986 it was hard to miss the computer-generated T.V. Host Max Headroom. He really is twenty year old actor, Matt Frewer. With a heavily made-up face and a distorted voice Matt is transformed into the robotic emcee seen frequently on television. He is on the Coke commercials, has his own T.V. show on Cinemax, and is also seen on MTV with his own song.

Senior Gordon Stephenson gives Senior Debbie Sisson a lift during a musical number. Students rehearse choreography many hours to make their dance steps perfect.

SPECTACULAR

"It turned out spectacular!" raved Senior Caroline Frye. "The turnout was well worth the hours put into it." The annual fall show included an extra spark with a slide show of the performers "putting it together." "I loved seeing the slides," commented Freshman Ann Henley Yelverton, "Looking at them in sweat-shirts made you realize just how much time they put into it." The show consisted of the Carolina Spirit, Capital Touch, and Carolina Company Show Choirs.

The Cap 5 quintet, led by Senior John Worsley, was a highlight of the evening. The group won over the audience with their musical act "For The Longest Time." Senior Susan Tull caught many laughs when she shuffled on the stage drenched and in shreds to sing "It's Raining Prom Night."

Carolina Company, the girl's show group, began their return to the 50's with such hits as "Stop in the Name of Love" and "Big Girl's Don't Cry." Capital Touch followed her lead with "Rockin' Pneumonia" and "Happy Feet" and Carolina Spirit entertained the crowd with "Jambouze Rock."

Capital Touch members were donned in sequined new costumes of sparkling blue. Adding a new twist, Michael Boles performed a tap dance to "We're The Money." "We were apprehensive about how "put together" the show would look, but I think the end result was fantastic!" exclaimed Senior Casey Herget.

Senior Jodi McKenzie leads a line of young men including Kent Perry, Junior Bailey, Dana McCall, Michael Boles, Ivan O'Neal, and Shane Angley. Members of small group are given many chances to be in the spotlight with solos.

Junior Lucy Ferdon puts the final touches on Senior Asle Lokken's make-up while Freshman Shannon Brown looks on. Every performer must wear make-up so their features will stand out.

During intermission, Sophomore Zeke Creech, Junior Don Griffies, and Sophomore Mike Anderson take a break. The ensemble relies on volunteers from the band to accompany them in their performances.

Ladies' Choice

The weeks before Christmas vacation found the guys of Broughton being wooed and courted by the entire female population. "It was weird, at first, being asked out by a girl, but I could get used to having someone else pay for my dates," exclaimed Junior Charlie Kennedy.

Sadie Hawkins, a Broughton tradition, is a role reversal for most males. On this date the girls do the asking, and pick up the bill. Senior Charles Bell remarked, "I really didn't have much to do with the whole thing. All I did was say 'yes'."

The Friday of the dance the Special Projects Committee transformed the cafeteria. Strands of garlands and three dimensional snowflakes helped to capture the holiday spirit, and the two live Christmas trees also added to the decor. As Ricky Eiswirth put it, "The D.J. was awesome! I was furious when

Mr. Gunter turned him off!"

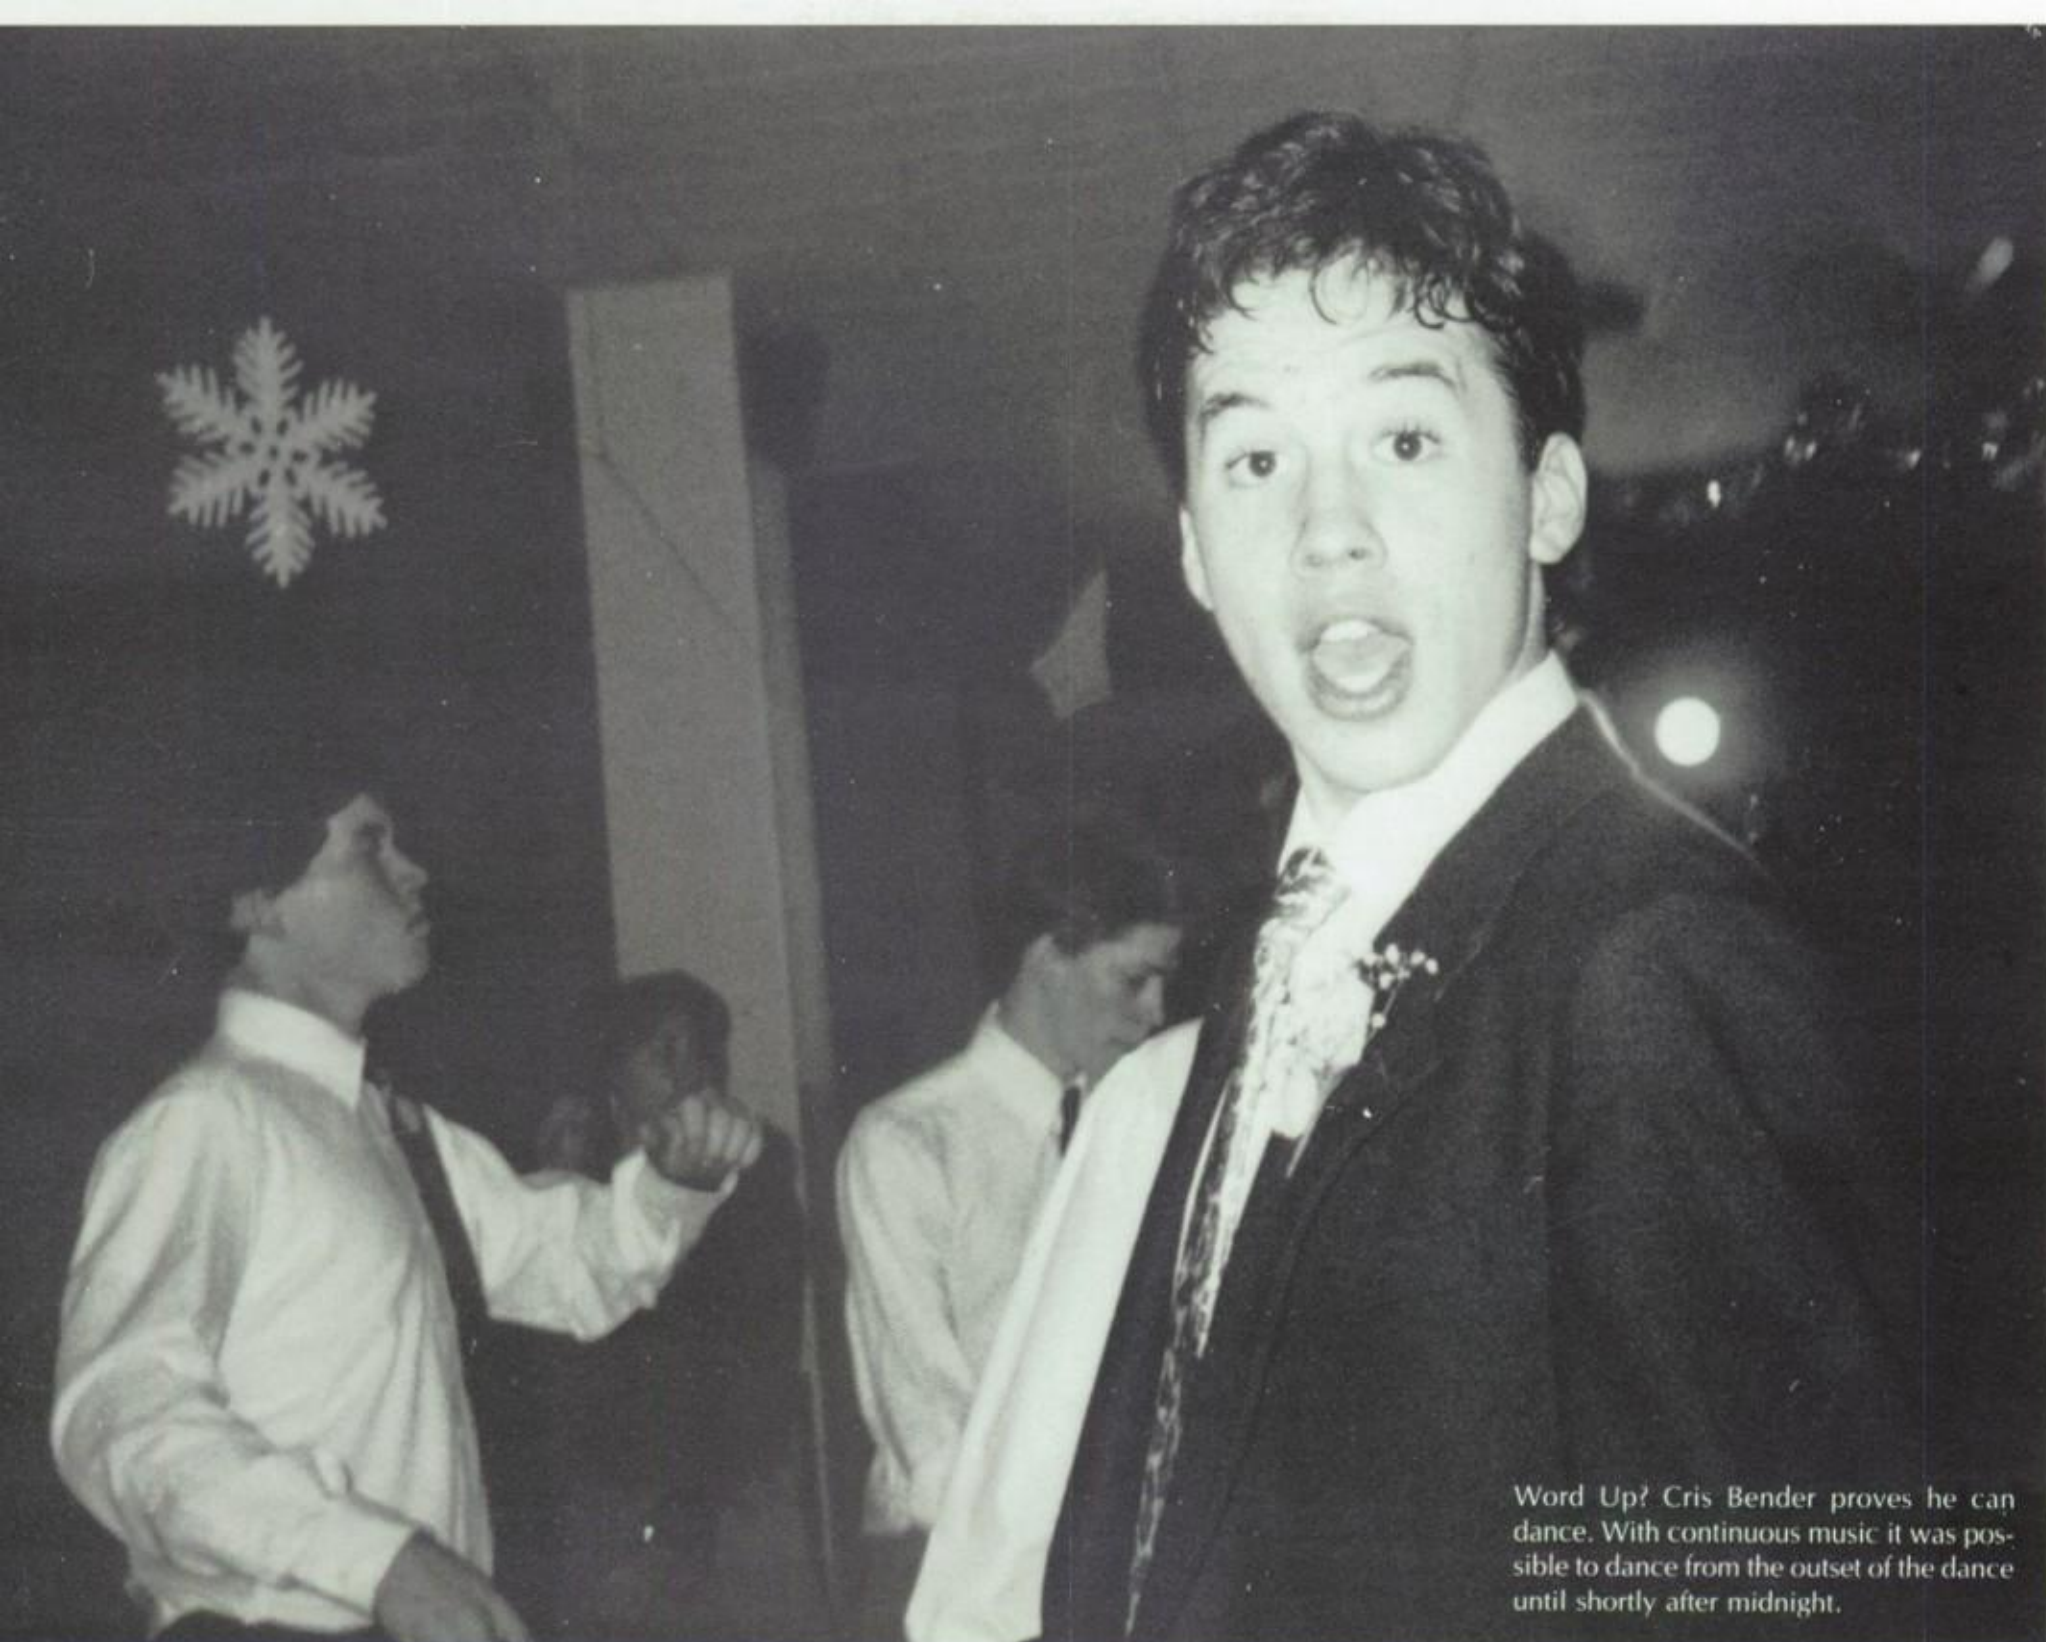

After the dance the fun wasn't over. Whether making late night runs to the Breakfast House and IHOP, or attending one of the many breakfasts, students socialized and visited till the wee hours of the morning. "I loved it. I wish we could do it more than once a year!" Thus the thoughts of Caroline Frye summed up the evening.

Greeted with a smile and an outstretched hand, students enter the 1986 Sadie Hawkins Dance to find Mr. Stephen Gunter. Mr. Gunter, the Special Projects Committee advisor, is in charge of supervising all committee activities, including taking the admission fee of two dollars.

Captured in the act, Tim Watson and Linda Coggins sing along to "Louie, Louie". The Disc Jockey combined a variety of new hits with several old favorites.

Word Up? Cris Bender proves he can dance. With continuous music it was possible to dance from the outset of the dance until shortly after midnight.

The Christmas spirit shows throughout all the Sadie Hawkins decorations. Live Christmas trees, giant snowflakes, and Christmas garland added to the effect.

Wiping the sleep from his eye, John Cella continues dancing. For many, Sadie Hawkins turned out to be an all night affair.

Hot and tired from a full night of dancing, Johnny McConnell and Christie Dunn's evening is not over. A late night snack and visiting with friends top their agendas.

Reaching for a piece of sugarcake, Linda Fisher clutches her orange juice. Breakfasts provided many students with a late night diversion.

Spring Break Scrapbook

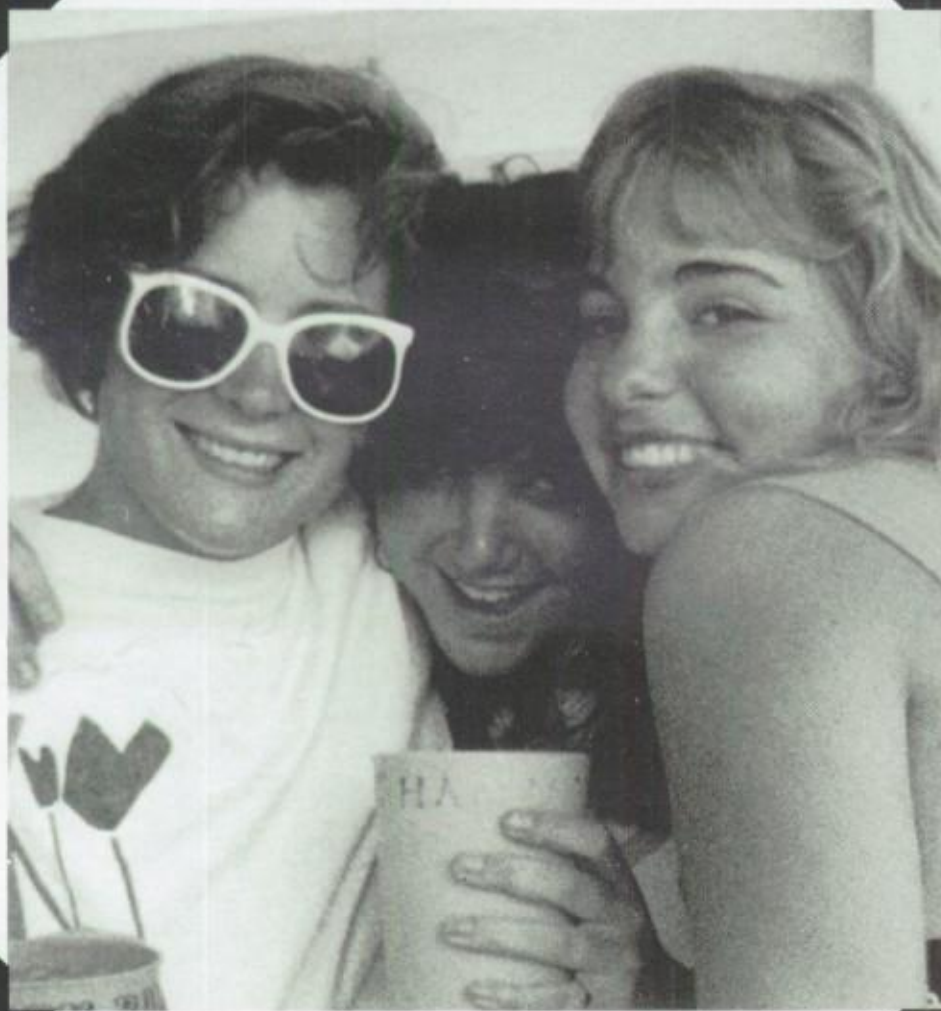

Spring Break is an all time favorite for most students everywhere; Broughton students were no exception. "Spring Break is a time to forget all the pressures of school and to learn how to live on your own!" explained Senior Roger Smith.

As the 2:35 bell rang enthusiastic students full of plans dashed out of every open door. "I begin the countdown right after lunch. First hours, then minutes, and finally seconds. It takes so long for Spring Break to come yet it passes so quickly!" commented Junior Lara Lovingood. "The worst thing about Spring Break is you never recover. You get a taste of what the summer is going to be and it just ruins the last nine weeks of school," groaned Sophomore Erin Tracy.

Beaches everywhere were packed with students working on great tans and having a good time. As Sophomore Sherry Mendenhall explained, "For me Spring Break is a warm sunny day with the ocean waves breaking along the sand and hundreds of high school students living it up during their vacation from school!" Junior Jodi Haire agreed, "It is a time out of school to be with friends or family and go to the beach!"

Spring Break comes and goes each year. Although it is never quite the same, strong memories and lots of fun are always expected.

Three hot women, Cammy Worth, Deanna Pollard, and Jill Dembicks come in from the sizzling beach for a cool drink. Many groups painted cups to remember their fun throughout the year.

As a member of the Myrtle "Beach Buffet," Junior Suzanne Jordan models her favorite shorts — boxers. Comfortable clothes were a must during Spring Break.

Unburned Seniors Elizabeth Jones and Kelley Pleasants catch the last rays of the day. Many Senior girl's names have remained on the sea wall from their Freshman year.

"Hurry up and get the picture over with so Sophomores Erin Tracy and Robin Roseberry can scope out the guys behind them!" Even on cloudy days, students tried to get the maximum rays possible.

Junior Brad Mannifold cruises to McDonald's for a bit of morning scrunching. Many students relied on fast food restaurants for a decent meal.

Even though Seniors Miller Vick and Andria Matlock are away from home they bring their bedtime buddies with them. A famous character around Atlantic Beach is Andria's pal "jack-alope".

Huddled in her sleeping bag, Junior Stephanie Tardiff tries to keep warm during a cold Myrtle Beach night. Students went in large groups and sacrificed the comforts of home to cut down on costs.

... Congratulations Felicities, Applause

Incredible. The student body this year pushed the limit beyond anything seen before. With Jodi McKenzie and Lisa Dingman on the Hudson Belk's Teen Board, and Maureen Carlin on the Ivey's Teen Board, Broughton was well represented in the fashion world. Benji Taylor continued the tradition by becoming Raleigh's Junior Miss and qualifying for the State Junior Miss Competition.

Intense. The community was not the only place Broughton students were challenging standards. High scores on the PSAT won Bill McNairy, Kristie Barksdale, Benji Taylor, and Lisa Dingman National Merit Semi-Finalist status. Also on the honor list were Nicole Simmons, Yolanda McGill, Kelly Daughtry, Katherine Ellis, Jonathan Bolch, and Andrew Pipkin. Their pursuit of academic excellence entitled them to Governor's School nominations from the school. Further academic success led Bret Batchelder to the Finals in the Morehead Scholarship competition at Carolina, and Lloyd Clark and Mark Brenner to the Semi-finals in the Stuart Scholarship competition at Davidson.

On the non-academic side, Mike Smith, Kevin Cummings, Bret Batchelder, Victor Glover, and Royce Laws ended their football season with top honors, by attaining All-Conference status. Mike Smith also brought home top accolades with his All-Metro award. Not to leave football with all the honors, David Allred made the 1986 Raleigh Area Soccer Dream Team, voted on by area sports writers and coaches.

The best of the best. We proved this time and time again with award after award. The student body of 1986-87 pushed its goals and expectations farther than ever, showing just how unique Broughton has become.

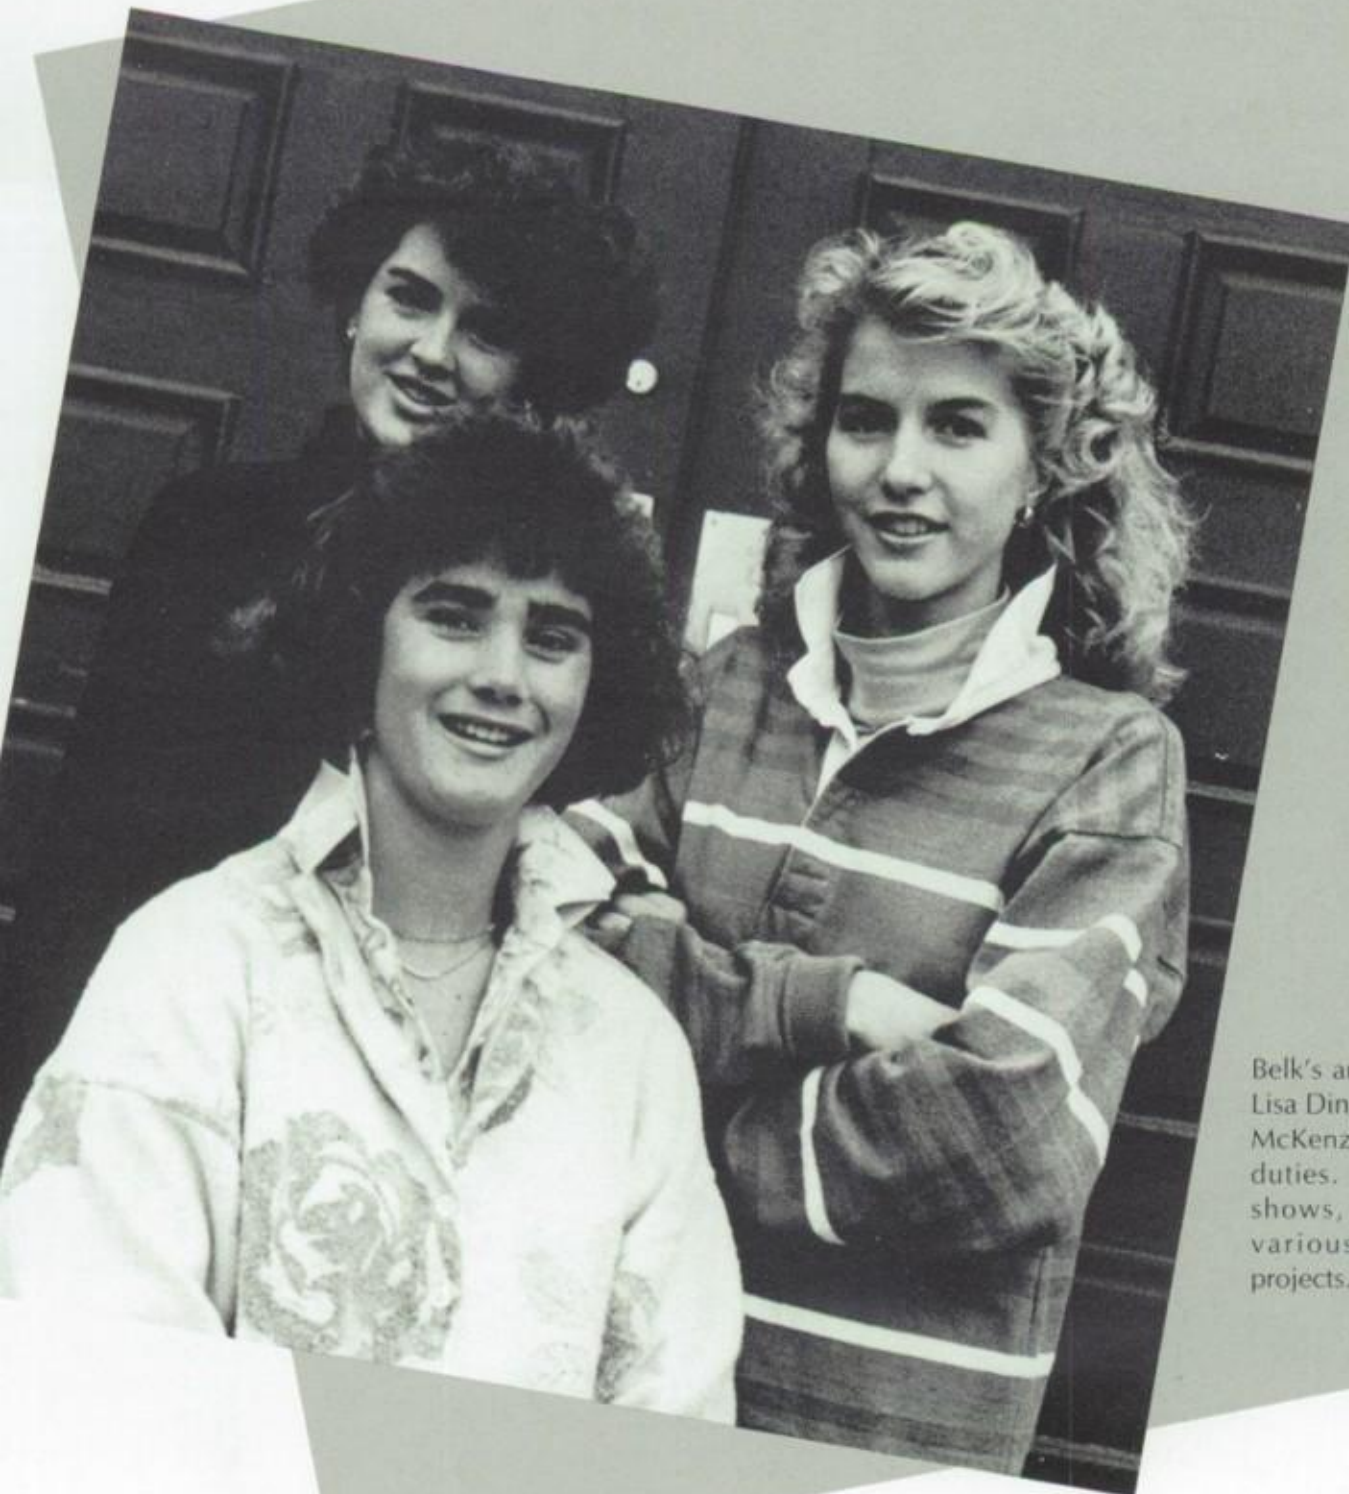

High scores on the PSAT set Benji Taylor, Lisa Dingman, Bill McNairy, and Kristie Barksdale apart from their classmates. This prestigious honor, unfortunately, came with it no monetary value.

Hurrah, Commendations, Adulation . . .

Distinguishing himself by reaching the finals in the Morehead Scholarship competition, Bret Batchelder received a full four year scholarship to the University of North Carolina complete with summer internships. Mark Brenner and Lloyd Clark were Semi-Finalists in a similar competition at Davidson, the Edward Crosland Stuart Scholarship. These two scholarships are two of the most competitive in the Southeast, if not in the country.

Belk's and Ivey's Teen Board members, Lisa Dingman, Maureen Carlin, and Jodi McKenzie kept busy with their many duties. Such duties include fashion shows, photography sessions, and various other community related projects.

Wham!! Alice hit the ground with a cry of alarm.

"Where am I?" she asked herself in fright.

Alice jumped up from the ground and gazed about at the small, dirty room. She saw a table in the corner and walked over to it. A tiny silver key winked up at her from its dusty surface. She grabbed it and began to search for a door that it would open. Along the opposite wall, she found a keyhole. The door glided open when Alice turned the key. Alice stepped back in awe as she saw the girls in the Class of 1990.

Alice ran after the girls who had disappeared around a corner. Out of the room, she came upon the most unusual creature she had ever seen. It was a large green caterpillar smoking a pipe atop a fat mushroom. Alice stopped short.

"Pardon me sir," Alice curtsied to the animal, "but do you happen to know where I am?"

The caterpillar turned his head away haughtily.

"I surely wouldn't tell you even if I did know," he snorted.

Alice began to say something else but the caterpillar cut her off with, "Little girls like you should go back to where they came from! Now, go away!"

Alice huffed in anger and stomped back along the path. She reentered the room she had first landed in and, while searching for the hole she came through, she saw a bright spark on the floor. Alice raced over to see what it was and discovered that it was another key! She cried in excitement and quickly found a second door which opened with as much ease as the first. Out stepped the beautiful girls of the Class of 1989.

Alice ran as fast as she could, but she could not find where the beautiful girls had gone. A little way along the path, Alice came upon a small house. Curious, she opened the door and went inside. A plate of cookies stood on a table just inside the door, and without thinking, Alice began eating them. All of a sudden she got a strange sensation that she was growing! The walls began to get closer and closer, and soon her legs and arms had popped out of the windows and her head out of the chimney! Alice screamed, she struggled to get free, but she was stuck!

"Quack! Quack!"

Alice peered down from the chimney. A duck sat on the ground below her.

"Hello!" shouted Alice, "Can you help me?"

The duck looked around, then up at Alice.

"Do you have another cookie?" it shouted up to her.

Alice still had one in her hand.

"Yes, what should I do?"

"Eat the cookie," the duck told her, "you should shrink, then. If that doesn't work, I'm afraid you'll just have to stay there."

Alice quickly ate the cookie. Slowly, but surely, she began to shrink. Finally, she was back to her normal size. Alice sighed in relief.

When she climbed out of the house, she found the duck and swooped it up just in case she encountered any other catastrophies. They headed back to the door-room together.

Another search turned up another key and another door. These girls from the Class of 1988 were even more beautiful than the others before them!

Alice tried once again to follow the girls, but they had disappeared. Instead, Alice came upon a large orange cat who looked down on her from its perch in a tree.

"Hello," said Alice, "Can you tell me where I am?"

"Maybe so maybe not," he sneezed while cleaning his teeth with one sharp claw.

"Please mister, can't you tell me?" Alice began to cry.

"I'll tell you this: follow beauty wherever it goes and you will find home."

The cat turned away. Alice ran back to the doorroom in tears. Inside, Alice lay down and sobbed. Her tears began to make a pool on the ground, and soon she was surrounded by them!

"I'll never get home!" cried Alice.

"Let me help you," said a voice.

Alice looked about. There was nobody there.

Down here," the voice said.

Alice looked down. A goldfish had found its way into her pool of tears and was trying to give her something.

"Take it," it said.

Alice reached down and pulled another key from its mouth.

"Oh!" exclaimed Alice, and she jumped up to find another door that opened to reveal the gleaming girls of the Class of 1987.

Alice couldn't believe her eyes at the beauty of the last girls. She ran after them but they too disappeared!

Committees	Chairmen
Flowers	Daria Ervin
Hearts	Stephanie Banes
Mushroom & Animals	Mary Hampton Ferrell, Leah Miller
Card Men	Mary Shaw, Michelle Roberts
Trees	Jill Dembicks
Murals	Lorenzo Berry
Cave	Joey Leville
Court Backdrop	Jakie Phillips, Belinda Watkins
Entrance Backdrop	Jim O'Conner
Refreshments	Kristi Barksdale
Invitations	Laura Rinne
Flags	Susan Tull
House	Renelle Risley
Dutchess	Felicia Parker
Entertainment	Casey Herget
Mad Hatter	Sabine Moore
Court	Jackie Mittelstaedt
Escorts	Mark Brenner

Portraying the Dutchess, Johnathan Lotz screams as Alice approaches. Alice in Wonderland was the first theme used for Queen of Hearts many years ago.

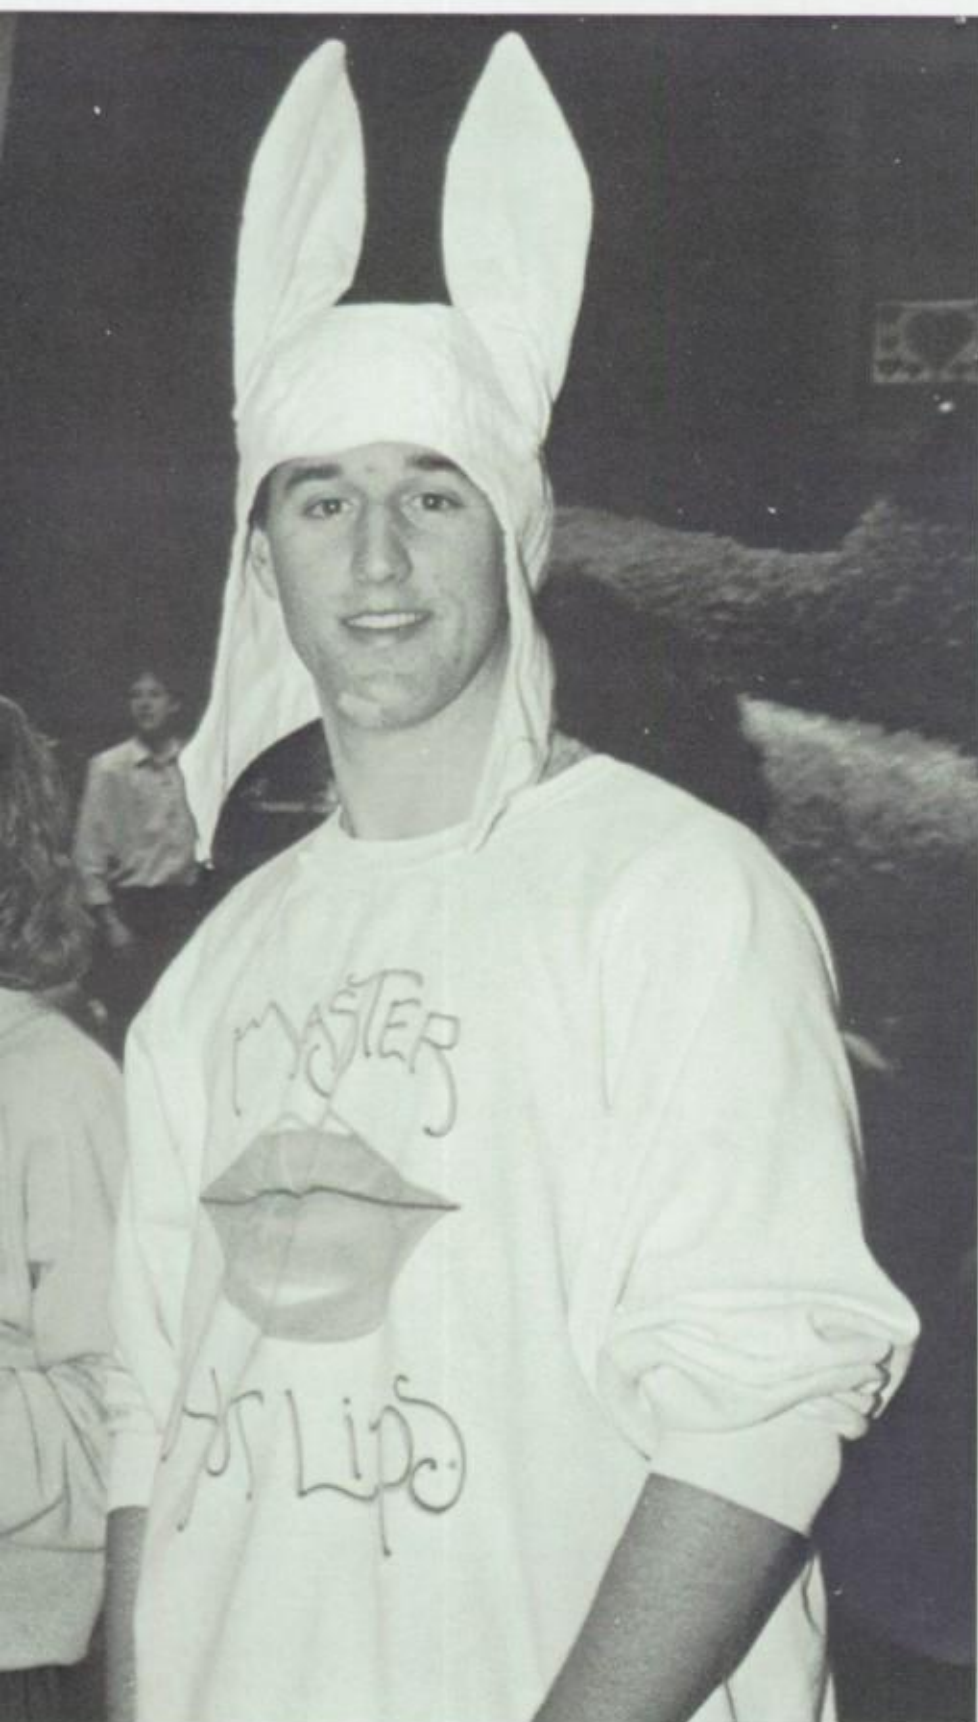

During clean up, Kevin Lee and Chanrad take a break from hauling trash. It took only five hours to clean up Sunday, compared with the hundreds of hours put together.

LOOKING GLASS

Sitting at the feet of the mouse that attended the Mad Hatter's tea party, Senior Leah Millar glues tissue paper to this year's Queen of Hearts' decorations with particular attention to detail.

With sticky fingers, Maureen Carlin and Bonnie Koehler place tape on the court backdrop. Dressed in sweatshirts and jeans, many seniors worked late into the night to get the job done before the assembly.

Before practice, the White Rabbit — Senior Henry Young, shows off his bunny ears and Master Hot Lips sweatshirt. Students who took part in the performance rehearsed many hours.

Looking around Wonderland in awe, Freshman Molly Briggs searches for the White Rabbit. The senior class advisors, Ann Pupa and Judy Barker put in many long hours and suffered many headaches overseeing Queen of Hearts.

FANTASIZE A WONDER

Frustrated, Alice started back along the path when she heard a loud scream. She ran towards it. Through some bushes, Alice saw a woman screaming at the top of her lungs. She was hurling plates all over the ground! Fearful for her life, Alice fled back to the door room.

As she went inside, she saw that another key had been put on the table. Alice looked around to see who might have left it. She did not see the pair of white ears in the shadows.

Alice grabbed the key and quickly opened another door. A bright light shot forth, and the beauty of the 1987 Maid of Honor stunned Alice.

Alice tried once again to find out where the girl had gone, but she couldn't. Instead, Alice stumbled upon a table. There was a tea pot and a set of tea cups on it, and Alice sat down hopefully...she was very hungry for her supper!

"Boo!" a voice said.

Alice jumped. She turned around. A friendly face smiled at her from under an enormous hat.

"Hello," she replied, "who are you?"

"I'm the Mad Hatter."

"Oh!" exclaimed Alice, "Can you take me home?"

The Mad Hatter sat down. A small grey mouse came up behind Alice and pushed a chair under her. It hopped up on the table and began to eat a crummet.

Alice looked at it and helped herself to a cookie.

"These won't make me shrink, will they?" Alice asked the mouse.

"Oh, no, no," it squeaked.

Alice ate it with joy and helped herself to another.

"Now," Alice looked over to the Mad Hatter, "Do you have any idea how I can get home?"

"Sorry, dear, all I do is serve tea and biscuits,"

The Mad Hatter poured himself a cup of tea.

"Care for any, Alice?"

Alice lept up and ran away as fast as her little legs would carry her.

"I don't want tea! I want to go home!!!"

When Alice got back to the room, she found one last key on the table...she still didn't see the ears, nearby. A small pink nose twitched in the darkness. Alice opened the last door with apprehension. A light brighter than her eyes could stand broke through the door. Before her stood the 1987 Queen of Hearts!

Alice ran as fast as fast as she had ever run in her entire life! Just as she rounded a corner, a big white rabbit lept in front of her.

"Bet you thought I'd never get here," it said to Alice's surprised face.

Alice stepped forward.

"You're not?" she peered at him, "You're really not, are you? I was beginning to think you really didn't exist. My White Rabbit, you're finally here!"

Alice hugged him and he bowed to her.

"Allow me," the White Rabbit took Alice's hand.

"Wait," Alice stopped, "You haven't said your famous line yet."

The rabbit looked down at Alice.

"But I'm not late, Alice," he smiled, "I've been here all along."

"The keys!" Alice exclaimed.

The White Rabbit led way and the two of them went through a hedge. There before her eyes sat the beautiful court of girls that had appeared in the doors. Alice clapped her hands in delight. A jack of clubs escorted her to a seat, and the festivities began.

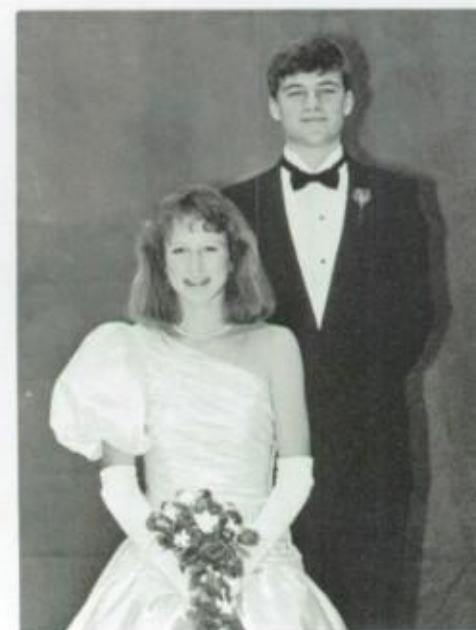

The entertainment included such songs as, "A Capella", "I'll Never Love Again," "I Don't Know How To Love Him," "Baby Come To Me," "Sound of Silence," "Play A Simple Melody," and "The Way We Were." The band, Sasquatch, played "Twist and Shout" and several raps were preformed for the court.

The White Rabbit was so pleased with his court he proclaimed that a dance would be held the very next night! Alice clapped her hands in glee, and, taking the rabbit's paw, she left to prepare for the festivities.

Finally the time came. The pleased White Rabbit began to dance. He told his court to join him, and soon all of Wonderland was dancing and laughing! The White Rabbit took Alice's dainty hand, and they waltzed the night away...

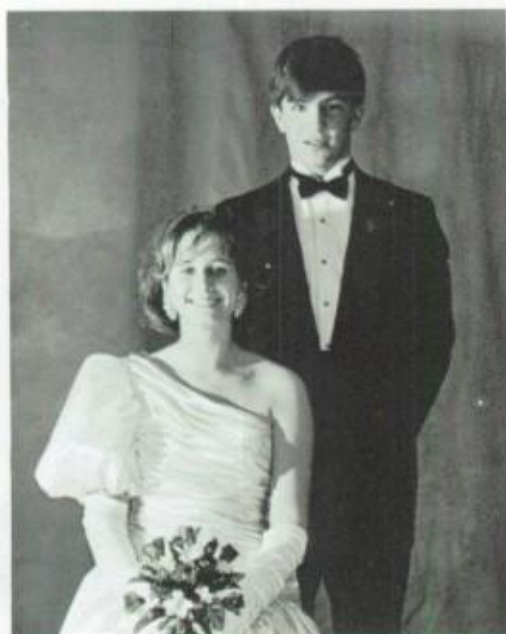

Dana Susanne Batchelder
escorted by John Patrick Clougherty

Jennifer Hallman Boone
escorted by Eugene Nimocks Haigh

From the Queen of Hearts script by Lisa Campbell and Meg Korte.

Frances Gant Bailey
escorted by Darryl Reed Head

La Rhonda Nicole Hemby
escorted by Derrick Cleveland Lovelace

Mary Charles Lefort
escorted by Brian Kenneth Lynch

Gray Cowper Williams
escorted by Charles Putnam Wilkins

ERLAND

Margaret Taylor Bridger
escorted by
Marsden Bellamy DeRossett III

Gerralyn Tuan Chunn
escorted by Bernard Rosevelt Terrell

As they danced the night away, Senior Allin Foulkrod and his date jammed to the tunes by the Bottom Line. This Broughton band performed songs by popular groups such as, U2, Rush, and Van Halen.

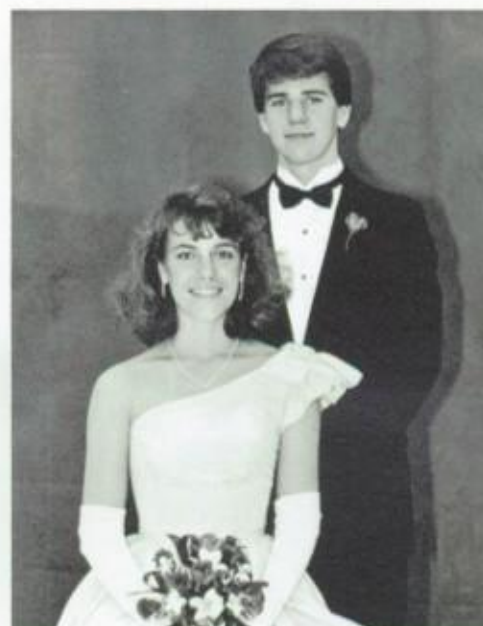

Coats, coats, and more coats, that was the objective for these three freshmen, Virginia Sparrow, Kitty Meares, and Jenny Phillips. Year after year the freshmen collect coats and hold them in the weight room.

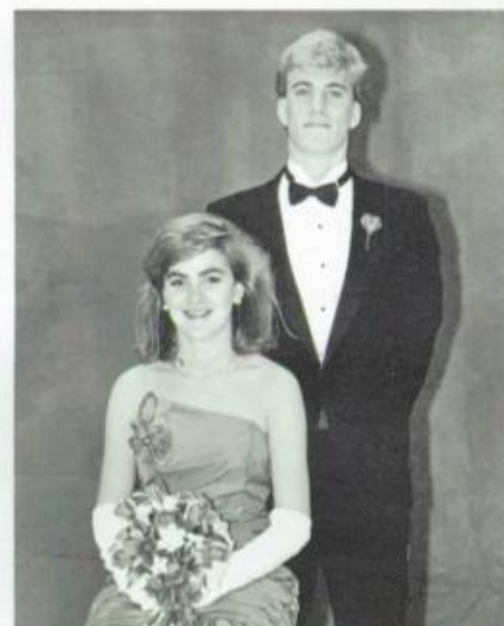

Chela Theresa Garland
escorted by Kerwyn Booker Hinton

Stephanie Yvonne Collins
escorted by Derrick Gerrard Holland

Pamela Layfield Davis
escorted by John Michael Dickinson

Margaret Frances Porter
escorted by Kevin Scott Lancaster

Ashley Ann Thompson
escorted by Michael Taiwan Young

Kenyetta Daniels
escorted by Craig Allen Warren

Kimberly Beth Hauser
escorted by David Allan Head

Sharon Anne Watters
escorted by Kenneth Lee Johnson

Marilyn Ann Andrews
escorted by Michael John Paul Messner

Pamela Denise Chavis
escorted by Maylon Antonio Rowland

Melanie Annette Chrip
escorted by Royce Donovan Laws

Mary Elizabeth Crampton
escorted by Hugh Taylor Avera

Following at just the right distance, Sherwin Abraham Sanders observes the crowd. Accompanying Abraham were the train bearers, Courtney Atrese Perry and Anna Madison Crampton.

The terrace awaits the 1987 Queen of Hearts' Court, as the Queen's card oversees the proceedings. Countless hours went into this triple overhead hand of cards, as well as the red back-drop and the cardman archway.

Caroline Marie Farmer
escorted by Bret Allan Batchelder

Kimberly Harris
escorted by Dennis Anderson Peebles, Jr.

Holly Ann Mercer
escorted by Kevin Russell Lee

Focusing intently on the script, Master Ceremony Noah Channing Conrad and Princess Ka Shan Whitaker guide crowd through Wonderland. Many hours were spent writing and revising detailed Queen of Hearts' script.

Karen Nicole Murrell
escorted by Kevin Von Murrell

Laura Hervey Nowell
escorted by William Lloyd Clark

Harriet McConnell Stephenson
escorted by Jason Adam Smith

The 1987 Queen of Hearts, Corinna
Carolyn Bailey is escorted to her throne by Andrew Hudson Brown.

Maid of Honor Barbara Cameron Wort
escorted by
Kemp Neal Hunt, Jr.

That's it! The very last page finished in the yearbook! Excuse us if we kick back for a while . . .

The New Broughton Dictionary 58th Edition

tel'e-vis-ion — n — A machine which converts light rays into radio waves, transmits these waves, which are received and re-converted into light rays, which form pictures similar to those recorded on film.

Paul Reubens, aka Pee-Wee Herman shows off some of his famous moves.

Although it was only available to people with cable, It's Gary Shandling's show was hailed by critics as the best new sitcom of 1987.

Andy Warhol: 1928-1987

art — n — one of the fine arts, more especially one of the more imitative members of the group, and in particular painting and sculpture, something pleasing to the eye.

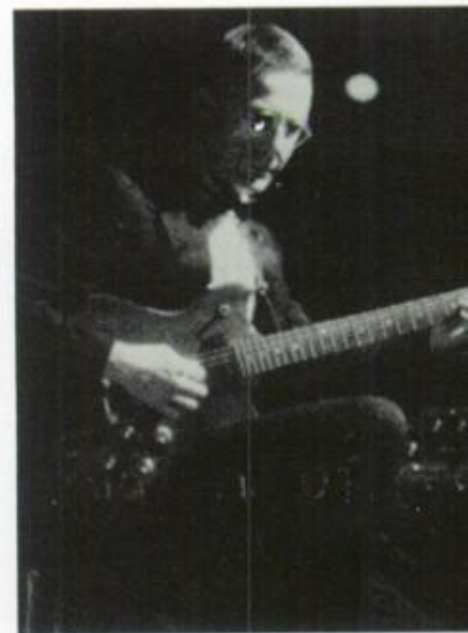

mū'sic — n — any succession of tones so modulated to please the ear, melody and harmony, any combination of tones in harmony: vocal music, instrumental music, etc.

Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band's live triple disc went to number one the week it was released and sold record breaking amounts.

Spring'steen — n — a musician who released a three album live set.

art rock — n — a type of music that focuses on the original.

Robert Fripp's innovative guitar work powered King Crimson for fifteen years. Fripp most recently collaborated with Andy Summers of the Police on two albums.

Hot: Platoon.

Not: Howard the Duck.

mov'ie — n — a moving picture show, a popular diversion for teenagers, something to do on Friday night.

news — n — recent account: fresh information of something that has lately taken place at a distance or of something previously unknown, tidings new intelligence of something strange and interesting.

Clockwise from upper left: Tammy F. Bakker, Colonel Oliver North, President Reagan with Robert McFarlane, William Casey, and Donald Regan rec-re-á tion — n — the acts of reviving or refreshing after toil or exertion; reanimating; amusement; diversion; gratification; satisfying.

Lazer Tag, one of the biggest selling toys of the year wasn't just for kids; many Broughton students enjoyed the game.

NOT IN WEBSTER'S!

antizits-n-indentations in car doors caused by pitting it (see pitting it) — ex: "The guy at the bodyshop told me it would cost $100 to take all the antizits out of my doors."

Black & Decker-n-an extremely studious student — ex: "That Black & Decker made a 97 on the Anatomy exam."

burn-v-to study, contraction of burning the midnight oil — ex: "I'm gonna have to burn it tonight for the Calculus test."

bust-v-to be caught — ex: "I came in at three last night and my dad busted me."

casual-adj-like, really good — ex: "That shirt is casual!"

catch rack-v-to sleep — ex: "I'm gonna go home during lunch today and catch some rack."

chill-v-to calm down, usu. used as command — ex: "Chill out, guy!"

crib-v-to cheat — ex: "I was cribbing like crazy until Mrs. Smisson caught me."

Dad-n-Dr. Jewell — ex: "Just as I'm telling Joe how I skipped third period, up walked Dad."

duckswerve-v-to avoid — ex: "I'd been trying to duckswerve this guy all day, and ran into him pulling out of the pit."

fellahs-n-Brother's Pizza Palace — ex: "Let's go to the fellahs after the game."

frog-n-freshman — ex: "My mom makes me give this frog who lives next door a ride to school every morning."

fugly-adj-beyond ugly, grotesque — ex: "The Pacer is a fugly car."

Fuquay-Varina-n-redneck — ex: "Check out the Fuquay-Varina behind me with the shotgun rack."

ginchy-adj-difficult — ex: "This equation is really ginchy."

goats-n-people who walk to school (deriv. of "to hoof it") — ex: "My bus goes by these goats every morning, and they look so cold."

go up the hill-v-to go to Chapel Hill for the evening — ex: "There's nothing happening tonight, do you wanna go up the hill?"

grind-n-see Black & Decker grotty-adj-gross, grotesque — ex: "This sandwich my mom packed is just too grotty!"

guesstimate-n or v-rough guess, to make a rough guess — ex: "I had to guesstimate on three equations on Mrs. Lloyd's test."

guz'-n-a large drink from Fast Fare, short for Guzzler — ex: "Let's go to Fast Fare after school and grab a guz'."

hoof it-v-to walk — ex: "I gotta hoof it down to the pit."

the Hut-n-the Hamburger Hut — ex: "Let's go to the Hut for lunch today."

illegal aliens-n-underclassmen who go off campus for lunch — ex: "There were three illegal aliens at the Hut today."

landing craft-n-school bus — ex: "My car wouldn't start and I had to catch the landing craft." — ex: "I pulled an all-nighter last night and had to munch a couple ludettes to stay up."

Ma Bell-n-recorded messages from school informing your parents that you missed school that day. — ex: "Everything was cool until my day got a call from Ma Bell."

mannah from heaven-n-money from the parents — ex: "I couldn't go to the game until some mannah from heaven came my way."

mob-n-an inanimate object — ex: "Let's overdrive this mob!"

no-man's-land-n-the Senior Parking Lot, which is on campus if you bring a drink back from lunch, but off campus if you don't have a senior lunch pass — ex: "Dad busted me walking across no-man's-land carrying a guz'."

nyeh-n-negative, usu. stressed — ex: "Do you want to go out tonight?" "Nyeh!"

overdrive-v-to push to the limit — ex: "Let's overdrive this mob!"

pinch-v-to steal — ex: "I pinched a pencil from her purse."

pit it-v-to park in the pit — ex: "I got here late today and had to pit it."

power tool-n-see Black & Decker projectile-n-any object thrown in class — ex: "He made some really stupid remark and I hit him with a projectile."

rent-n-contraction of parent — ex: "The 'rent's loaned me the car for Queen of Hearts."

rock-v-to do well — ex: "I rocked my Latin test!"

scrap-v-to borrow — ex: "Let me scrap a piece of paper off you."

section g-v-to go to a N.C. State football game — ex: "I'm going to section g tomorrow afternoon."

schwench-n-a female freshman — ex: "Did you hear that schwench ask me to Sadie Hopkins?"

shinola-n-top forty radio programming — ex: "She had the radio set to shinola, but I turned it to WRDU."

skiptease-n-someone who promises they'll meet you at McDonald's during third period, then doesn't show up — ex: "She's such a skiptease. I waited for her for thirty minutes."

sweet-adj-better than good — ex: "Your new car is sweet."

tank-n-any car made before 1975 — ex: "I parked beside this extreme tank this morning."

tower-v-to climb the water tower — ex: "Those guys went towering last night."

tunes-n-music — ex: "Those are some pretty sweet tunes."

Uncle Dave-n-David Letterman, a friend of burners (see burn) — ex: "I was burning last night and caught Uncle Dave on the tube."

Uncle Johnny-n-Johnny Carson, another friend of burner — ex: "Uncle Johnny was really dumb last night."

untouchables-n-really pretty girls — ex: "I asked this untouchable out to dinner and she's been giving me the duckswerve."

wicked-adj-like, really, really good — ex: "The Genesis concert was wicked."

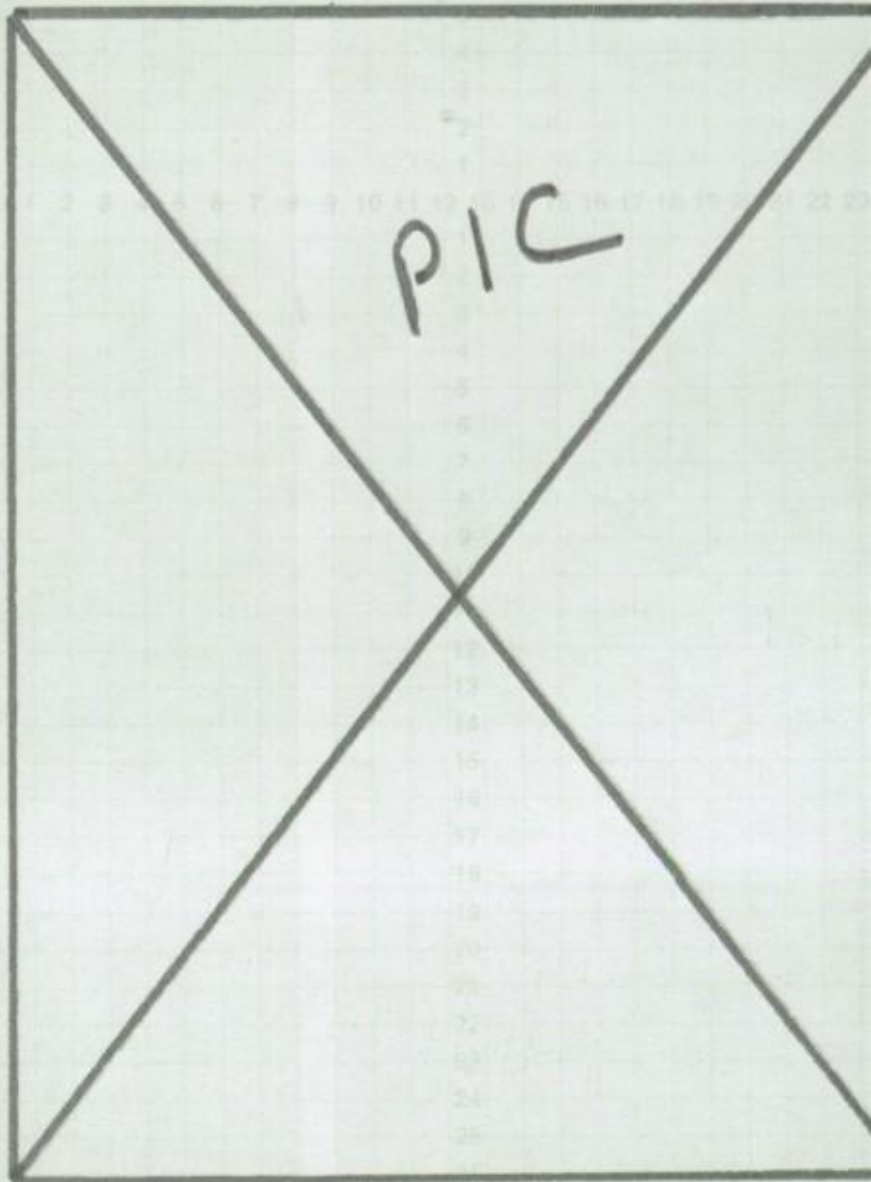

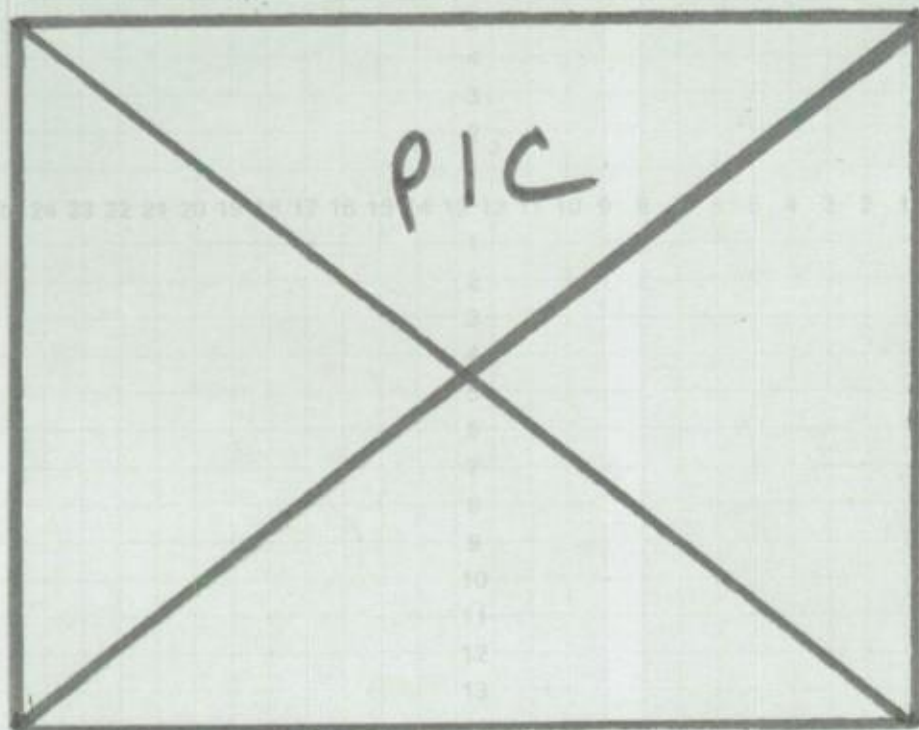

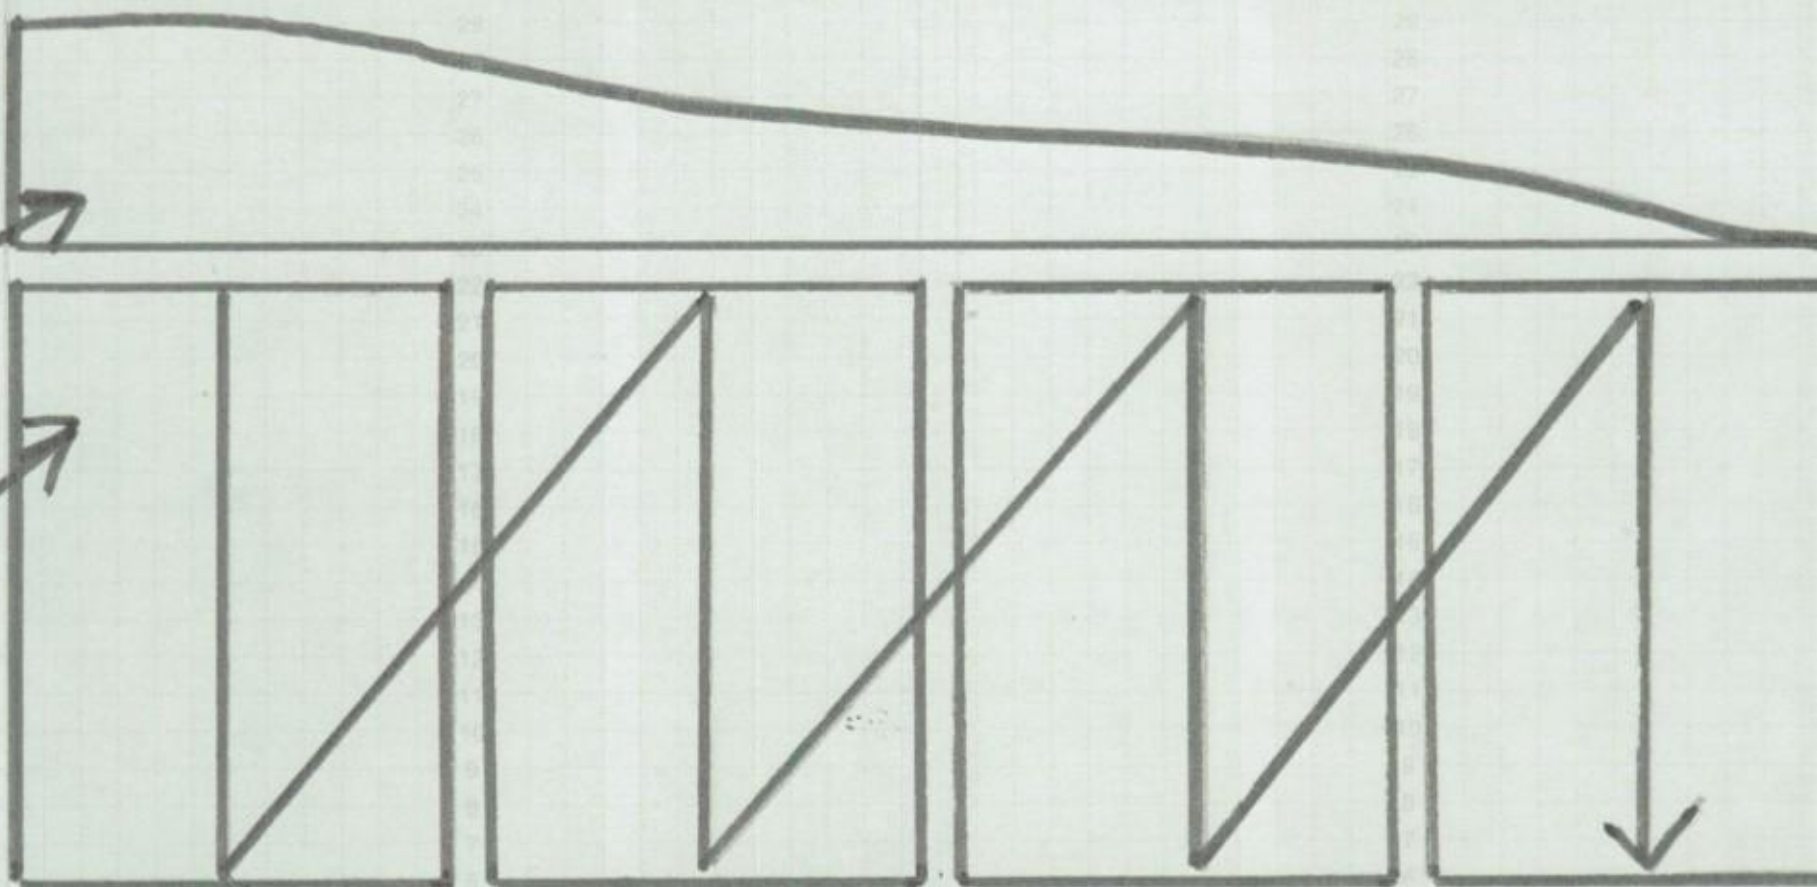

yum-n-an extremely present sensation — ex: "He asked me out, and it was just like, yum."

za-n-pizza — ex: "Let's go over to the fellahs and grab some za."

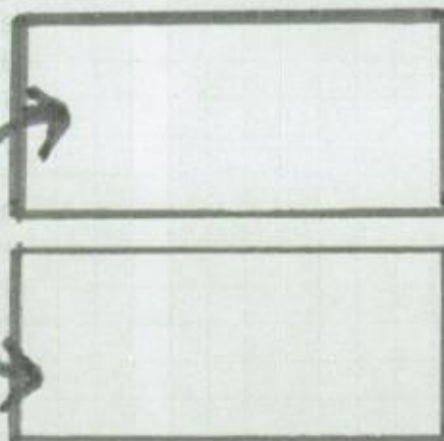

DESIGN YOUR OWN LAYOUT

Headline

Copy

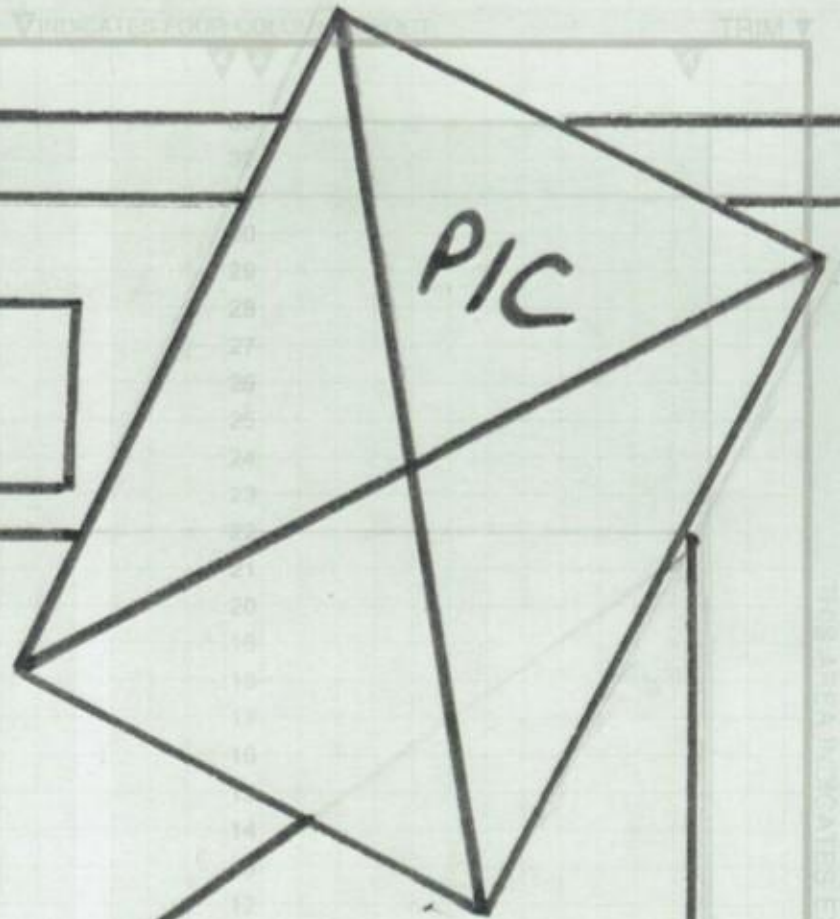

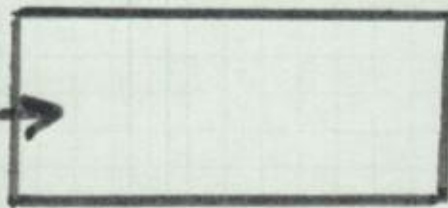

Captions

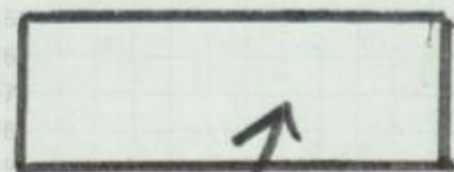

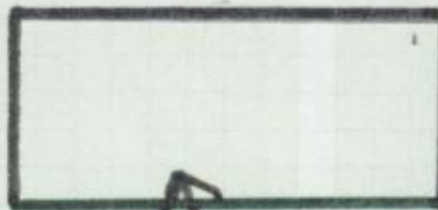

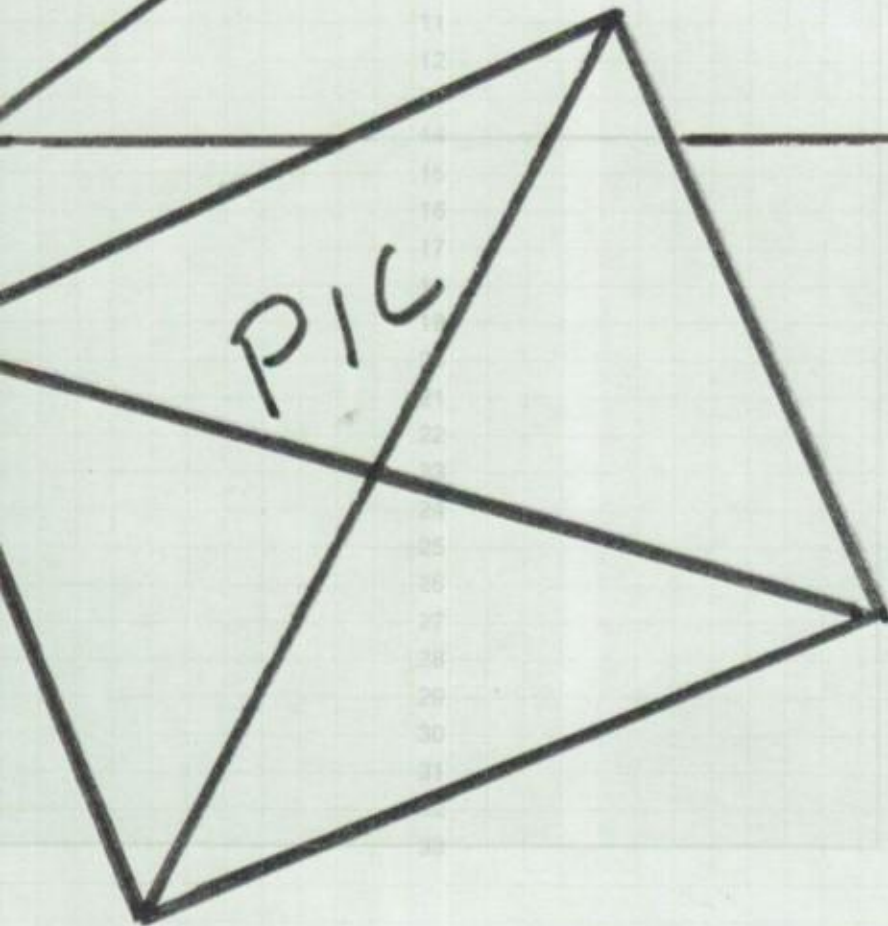

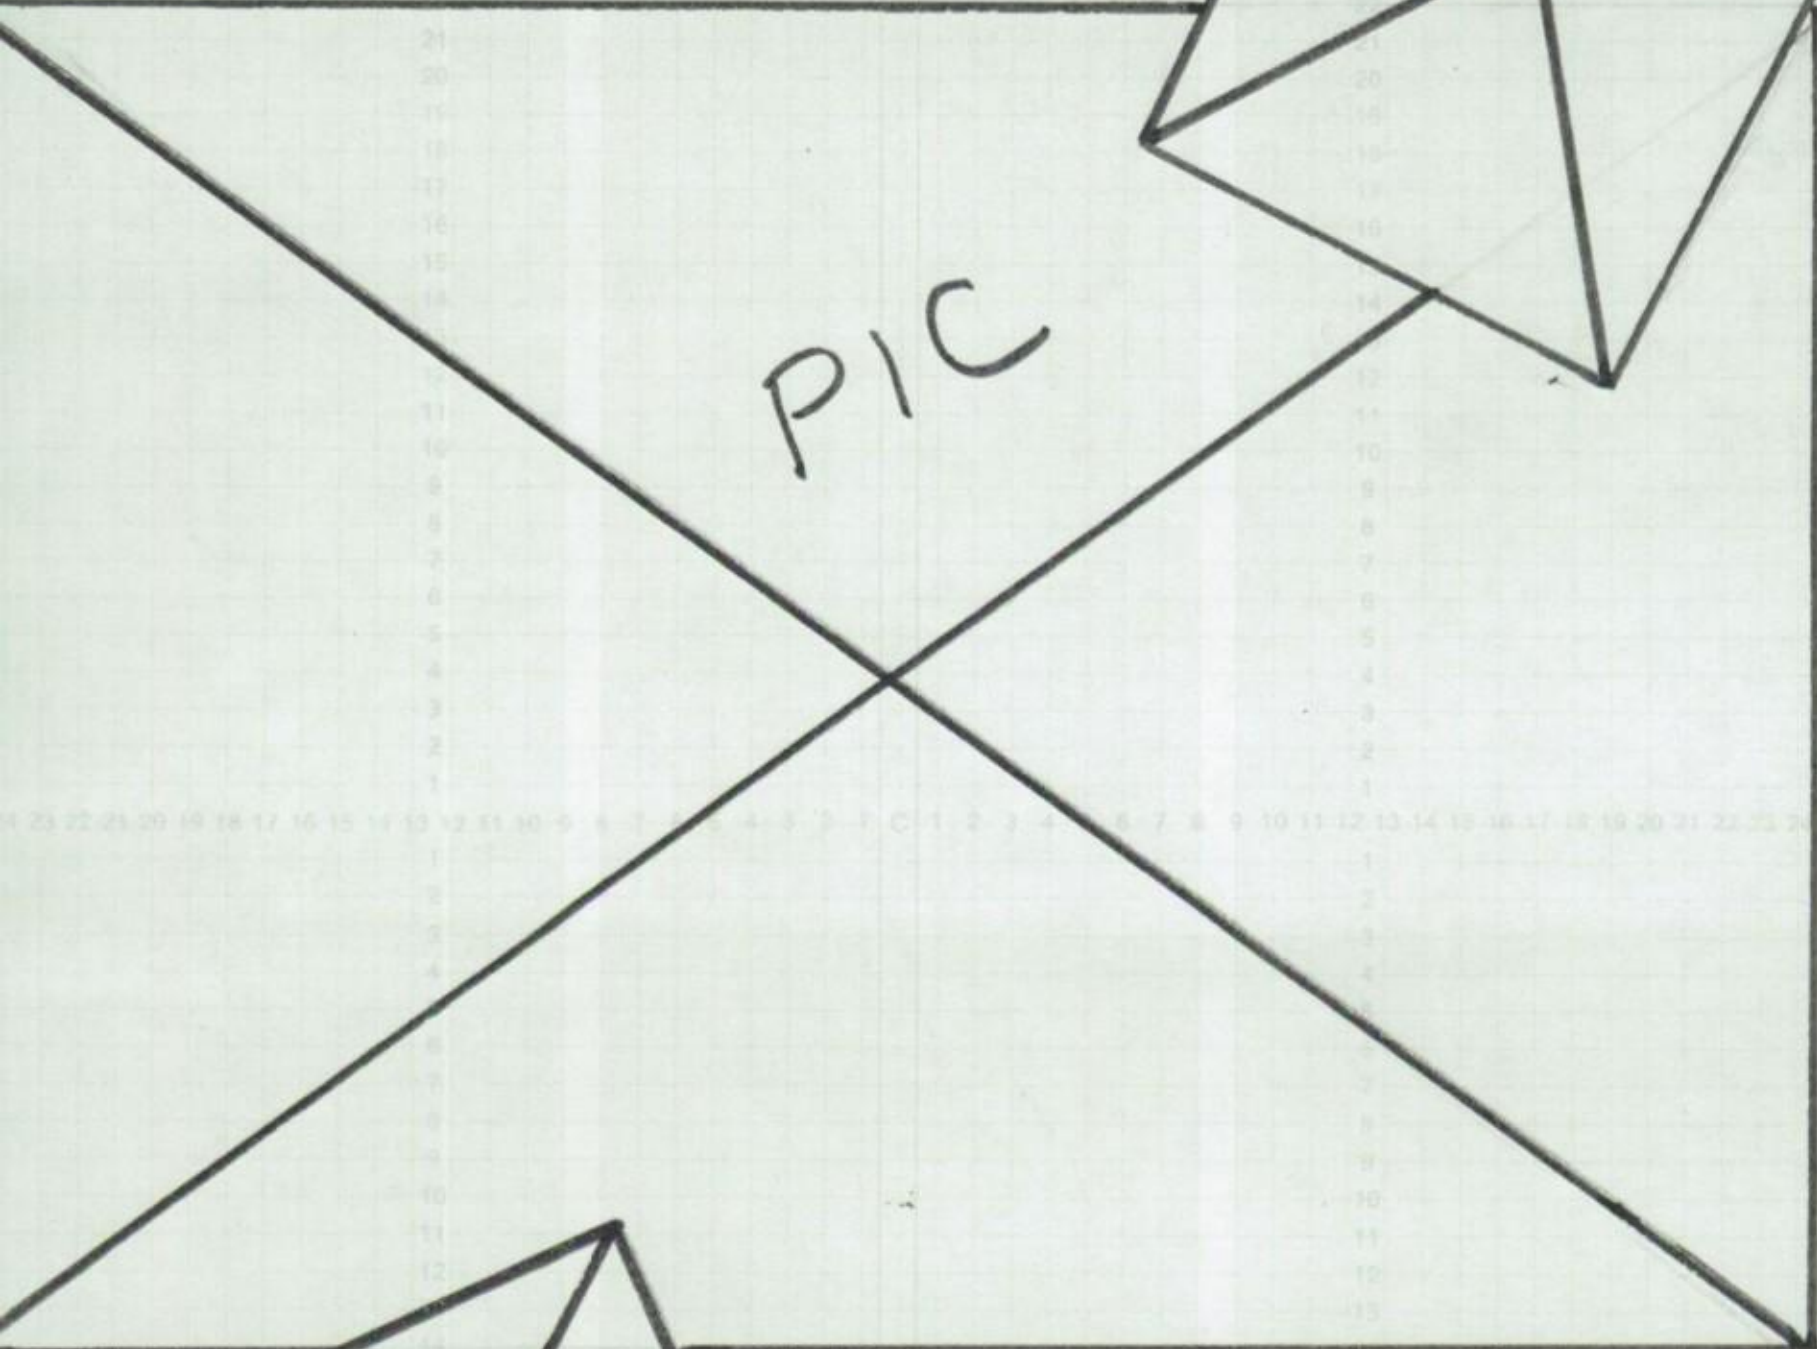

(BE CREATIVE)

Caption →

PIC

Captions →

Q

UINTESSSENCE-N-(KWIN-TES-NS)
THE MOST PERFECT MANIFESTATION OF A QUALITY OR THING, SE
ALSO WISE, KEEN, LOGICAL, PROVO CATIVE, MERIT, VIRTUE, FAS
CINATING, COMPLEX, SCINTI
LATING, INQUISITIVE, SCHOLARLY OMNISCIENT, ENLIGHTENING, AN ENGROSSING.

Not all classes at Broughton involved pencils and paper; other classes, like P.E. made up an important part of the curriculum. Here, an unwitting P.E. student gets caught upside-down by a Latipac photographer.

CURRICULUM

Perplexed by an algebra trig question, Brian Beck pauses to ask a friend for help. When teachers were not available, many turned to peers for assistance.

...ing Halloween spirit to her senior En-
...sh classes, Ms. Sylvia White joins in on ...e fun. This year there was a great increase ...teacher participation in traditionally
...dent dominated events.

Copy Sheet

PLEASE CIRCLE TYPESTYLE FOR THIS PAGE.

- Korinna LATIN EXTRA CONDENSED Linotext Melior Metrolite Optima Palatino Quadrata Shelly Andante Snell Roundhand Souvenir Times Roman Venture Script
- American Typewriter Antique Olive Avant Book Baskerville Bodoni Caledonia Century Eurostyle Garamond Helvetica

PICA	5	10	15	20	25	30	35	40	45	50	55	60	65	70
ELITE	6	12	18	24	30	36	42	48	54	60	66	72	78	84

↓ BEGIN TYPING AT THIS LINE ↓

COPY MUST BE NEATLY TYPED. DOUBLE SPACE ALL COPY. NO HANDWRITTEN COPY WILL BE ACCEPTED. SPECIFY UNDERLINE COPY WHETHER TO BE BOLD OR ITALIC. BOLD ☐ ITALIC ☐

DO NOT TYPE IN THIS MARGIN

As you probably know, two weeks before the 1987 LATIPAC was due to be shipped to us, the publishing company informed us that they were missing thirty-eight pages of our book. In a desperate attempt to get the book shipped to us before the year ended, we put together those thirty-eight pages in three days. You probably won't be able to tell which ones most of them are, because we did a pretty good job. However, thirty-eight pages in three days is an incredible effort, and we just couldn't do them all perfectly. We were missing pictures...well no need to make excuses. This is supposed to be the English spread, so here is the article.. We know this spread doesn't look very good, but we did do it on purpose, out of anger and frustration. Do read the article. It's pretty good.

-Ed.

"It's something you have to take, so you might as well love it!" exclaimed Junior Connie Zaytoun. The high school student's schedule must include one credit of English each year in order to graduate. Because it is the only class required each year, a student grows and develops with his English classes.

Freshman English classes included many of the basics. "It's all pretty much laid out for you," said Freshman Richard Campbell. "You read the book or look at the words and you have a test. It's that simple. Sophomores experiment more with free-writing and creative

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS DON'T LOSE IT THIS TIME

Copy Sheet

THIS SHEET IS TO BE USED FOR ONE LAYOUT PAGE ONLY

PLEASE CIRCLE TYPESTYLE FOR THIS PAGE

Korinna LATIN EXTRA CONDENSED American Typewriter Linotext Melior Metrolite Antique Olive Avant Book Baskerville Bodoni Caledonia Century Eurostyle Garamond Helvetica
 Optima Palatino Quadrata Shelly Andante Shell Roundhand Souvenir Times Roman Venture Script

PAGE 55

Sheet

JOB NO.

870435

of

↓ BEGIN TYPING AT THIS LINE ↓

DO NOT TYPE IN THIS MARGIN

PICA	5	10	15	20	25	30	35	40	45	50	55	60	65	70
ELITE	6	12	18	24	30	36	42	48	54	60	66	72	78	84

projects. Juniors got a chance to express their thoughts in formal essays. "I've never had to write an opinion paper before this year," stated Junior Ken Johnson. A Senior's course on the other hand, was more unstructured and allowed the students to think for themselves. "You can think whatever you want to think in this class," explained Senior A.P. teacher Mrs. Marian Timothy, "as long as you have reasons to support your thoughts."

Students discovered more about themselves each year, and were able to develop a strong character. Senior Laura Mills summed it all up very well when she said, "We're treated a lot more maturely now than we were as Freshmen. It's like you grow up in English."

← WHAT DOES THIS PICTURE HAVE TO DO WITH ENGLISH? NOTHING, BUT IT'S A NEAT PICTURE, ISN'T IT?

BE ACCURATE — CORRECTIONS COST TIME AND MONEY! ◀

ENGLISH-55

WHETHER TO BE BOLD OR ITALIC. BOLD ☐ ITALIC ☐

CIAL

Empire Drive

Blow Ups and Cut Ups

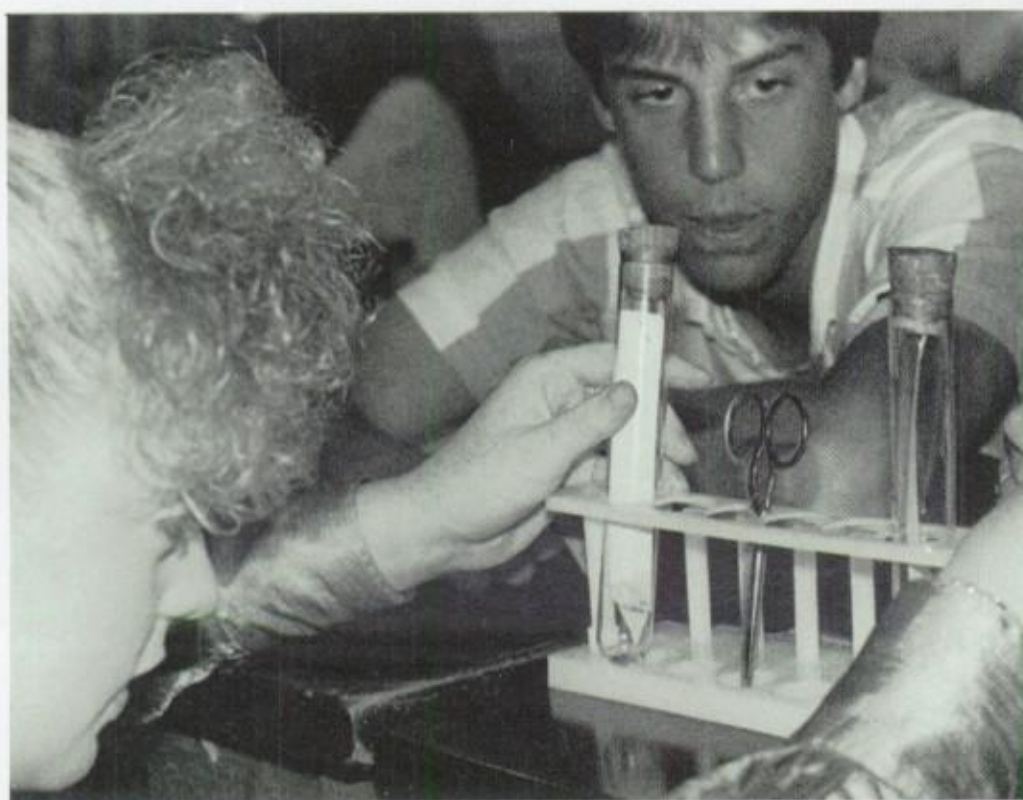

"I like to blow up things," Connie Zaytoun said during Chemistry class. Students were involved in all phases of science from lab work to theoretical formula. "I don't mind dissecting frogs until I hear their bones crunch," Biology student Diane Coleman explained.

Science classes offered a break from the regular school day. During what other period could you do a urinalysis, draw a fetal pig, or perform a flame test? Students in Marine Ecology spent an entire day at the beach studying North Carolina's coastal process. What a field trip!

There were advanced courses for the serious scientist as well. Honors Anatomy, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics were taught. For the first time this year, students who passed a system-wide exam received weighted credit for their honors science classes. "I don't think the new policy is fair at all," complained Emily Cowling. "You don't have to take an exam in any other honors class to receive credit." Students took a standard exam in A.P. Chemistry and Biology as well. However, those who passed these exams received college credit. Although most A.P. science students found their classes challenging, they were given a lot of extra work to do, "I guess it's worth the extra effort," pondered Nicole Simmons, an A.P. Chemistry student. "Yeah but last year I understood everything, now I'm just so confused," Crystal Williams, her classmate countered. No matter what science class students were in, they were kept busy with every thing from boiling bunsen burners to vector problems. There were no short cuts.

Hi! I just got out of science and am writing this note. Guess who was my partner for the chemistry lab?! He looks good even with those geek glasses. Maybe I can get one of those aprons to wear to the prom. (I'm so sure!) Our beaker boiled over and green goo sprayed all over even in my hair! At least he stayed after to help me clean up.

Recording their findings, Lisa Andrews and Mike Anderson make careful measurements. Precision was essential in all science classes.

Searching for a beam of sunlight, Hugh Avera examines various human tissues. Labs were a vital learning tool in science classes.

Watching the formation of molten iron, Johnathon Boltch stands back at a safe distance. A.P. Chemistry students undertook complicated experiments to prepare themselves for college.

Peering curiously at a test tube, Carla Sheppard and Lori Thorpe learn hands-on about chromatography. Labs gave students a break from the regular routine.

Concentrating, Howdy Manning works diligently on a Physical Science experiment as Ashley Moore looks on. Partner labs saved materials and time along with teaching students how to work together.

During third period Anatomy class, David Lynch, Beth Crampton, and Monique Merriweather study the mitosis of a cell. Anatomy students did close to twenty labs throughout the year.

Foreign Fluency

When I first walked in the door "TARDE!" I tried to explain why but all she did was shake her head and her finger and say "No comprendo, habla solamente en espanol." This is the worst class to try to argue with the teacher because in Spanish she's always right."

A must for college bound students was the learning of a foreign language. Broughton offered German, Latin, French, and Spanish. Although one of the more commonly spoken tongues would have been more helpful for travel and communication purposes, students chose Latin to expand their general knowledge and aid in English grammar. Stephanie Ferrell, a fourth year Latin student said, "I figured that I wouldn't have to speak in Latin up in front of the class and so far I've been right."

Reasons for taking any language vary, one honest student, Charles Bell, said he took Spanish "to get a grade." Charles is now in his fourth year which offers weighted credit. A contrasting remark made by Michael Messner was, "I want to be able to expand my horizons of other cultures. It's the second most widely spoken language in America and if I move to some place like Florida I'll be able to speak to the people."

While playing the Spanish version of Monopoly, Chan Conrad informed us that he's taking Spanish "to pick up girls." Senior Caleb Smith's father teaches Spanish at N.C. State University but he agreed with Chan when he said that he too was hoping of encountering "beautiful women on nude beaches." Clark Green had slightly sentimental reasons, "I used to watch "Chico The Man" on T.V. when I was little. I would also like to visit Columbia for its culture."

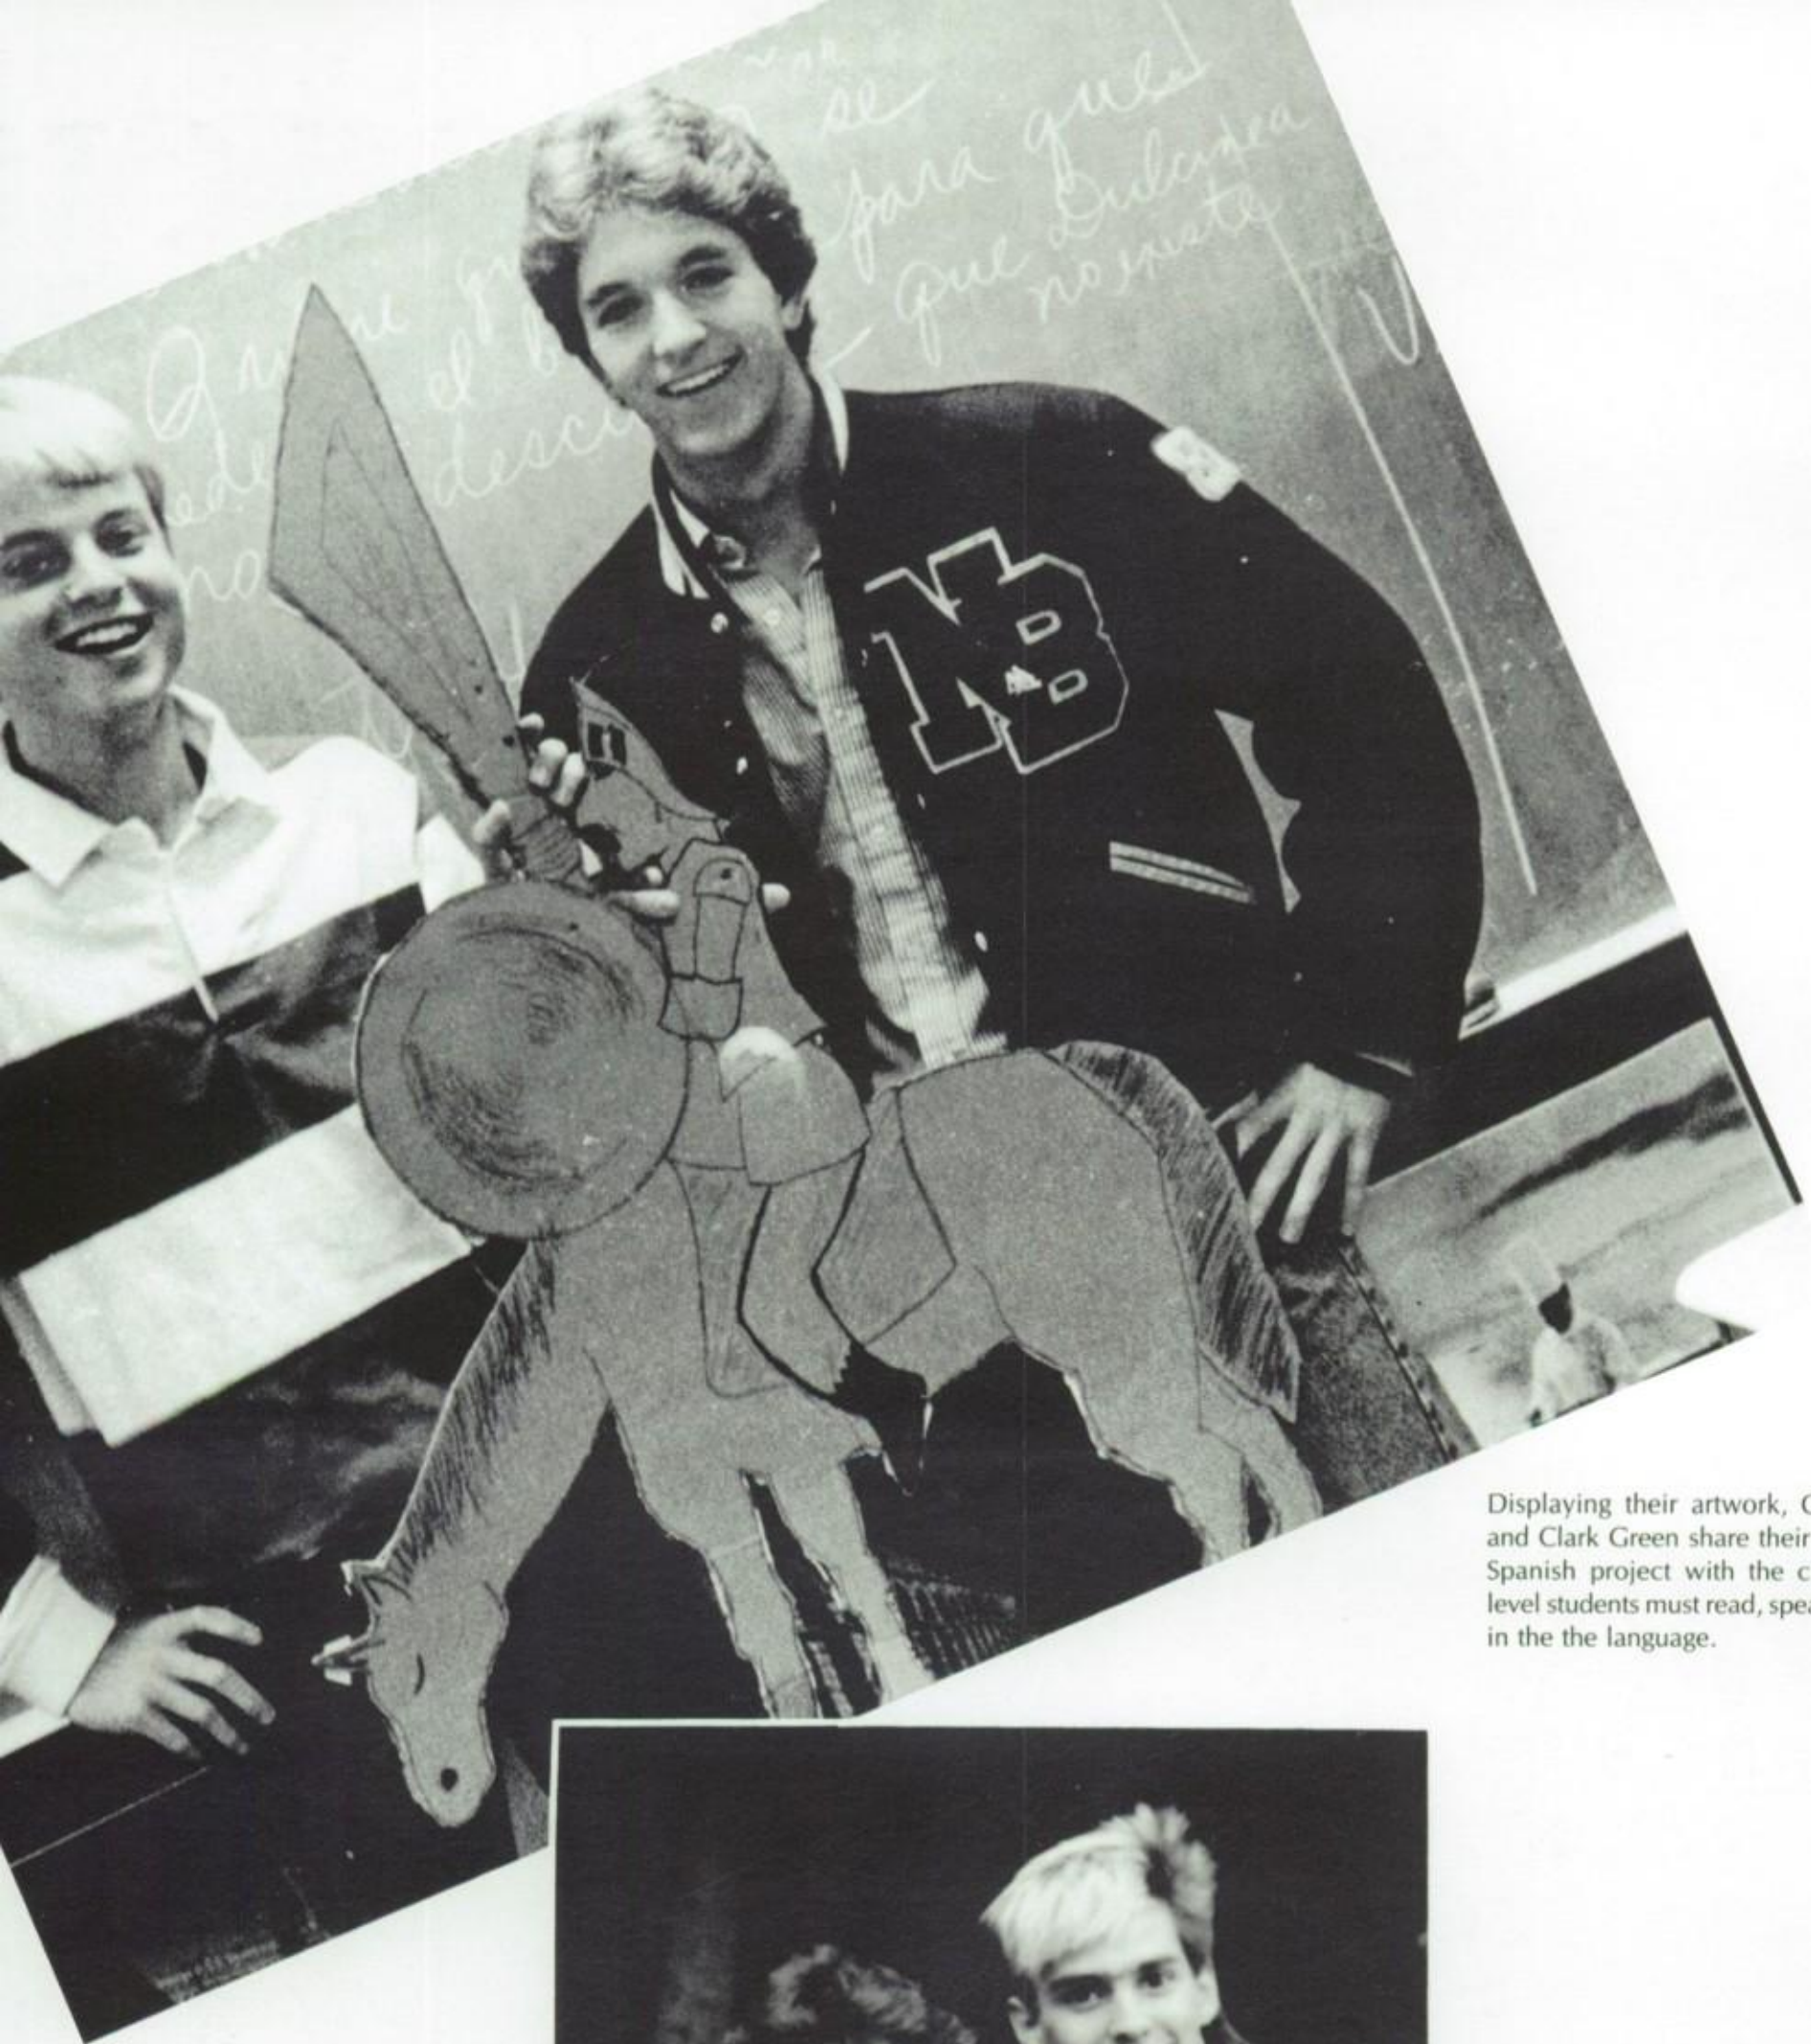

"Schools should stress a second language more; it's so important because we take English, the most widely spoken language, for granted. I spent a month in France this summer and it helped me with my fluency. Over the past few years I've grown to like speaking French - it's not harsh, it is a romantic language," stated Marty Mitchell.

Explaining difficult verbs, M. Adams keeps the attention of her class. Fourth year French students learn grammar as well as literature.

Trying to explain a difficult vocabulary word, Mary Hampton Ferrell gestures towards the chalkboard. Vocabulary was essential in translating the complicated works which the Latin students read.

Displaying their artwork, Charles Bell and Clark Green share their fourth year Spanish project with the class. Upper level students must read, speak and think in the the language.

Taking a break from baseball, German students Kathleen Smith and Nathan Kirkman quench their thirst. "das Fruehlingpicknick" (spring picnic) is one of the German club's many activities.

NOTABLE

Yes, you can leave campus during the day without getting detention or suspension. Many students found their classrooms outside of Broughton. Students with work release left campus for as many as four periods a day. Members of the Senior's Scholar's Program left campus to attend classes at area colleges. Some seniors even participated in unusual programs at other high schools. "If they are smart enough to take college courses they should be able to," Diane Dickerson said of the policy. Work release participants gained invaluable experience in job fields. "It helps me prepare for my future life after Broughton," Jeff Goodman explained. Abe Quinn also found the class worthwhile. "It teaches you a lot and really helps you understand your employer." "You have to change your schedule around to make it fit, but it works since I already have enough classes to graduate," Bridger Newman added. Although some students already had jobs before entering into the program, all participants went through the regular application process. They found themselves in a wide variety of work environments, including construction, landscaping, and political campaigning. Approximately thirty students were involved in the program, working at least twelve hours a week for two high school credits. Although the seniors who took classes at area colleges did not receive high school credits, many students found it both academically challenging and rewarding. They too had to go through an application process before being admitted. "It's even harder than I thought it would be, especially my Economics class. I feel I will be better prepared for college though and I really am enjoying the stimulating work," said Debbie Hall who took two classes at Meredith. Karen Nowell, who took Biology at N.C. State also found her class helpful. "College release has offered me time to get ahead and taste a little bit of what I'll be experiencing next year," Senior Benji Taylor also left campus, although not for college. During sixth and seventh period, Benji took a modern dance class at Enole, a P.E. credit. Although, the majority of students involved in campus classes found the experiences to be worthwhile, sacrifices were necessary. "Not after four years I'm eligible for senior lunch. Instead, I just got an apple on my way to class," grinned Benji Taylor.

Warming up before class, Benji Taylor uses the ballet bar. Benji attended Enole for her dance class.

TAKE NOTE

What is the most interesting project you've ever done?

I made the Globe Theatre out of popsicle sticks.

Dan Kesler

I made the sun by painting a styrofoam ball gold and green. I colored it with a yellow magic marker, put construction paper on it, and two walnuts.

Tuan Chun

I don't usually do them.

Nathan Kirkman

WHILE YOU WAIT

Time Off

last minute chance to finish homework or eat breakfast — a time to talk with friends and find out what's happening Saturday night — Homeroom: words can't describe it.

Homeroom is the only period I have besides lunch," Sara Jarette said smiling. "I'd never get my homework done if I didn't have it," Justine Kelly added. But homeroom was more than just a break from classes. Students, who spent all four years in the same homeroom, had a certain closeness and other members including the advisor. Announcements for the day as well as job bulletins and scholarship information were given. Attendance was taken, some clubs, such as the US club, held special meetings on Wednesday, an extended homeroom. Students received school pictures and report cards along with lots of other information aimed at parents. "I hated that we had to spend so much time on the student handbooks, but I guess it was important," Heidi Berenson commented. Students had a chance to catch their breath between classes during homeroom. Suzanne Jordan said, "I don't know how we'd get along without it."

After homeroom announcements, Missy Stoutt and Lisa Dingman relax and enjoy a moment of free time. Homeroom was a perfect time to catch up on the weekend activities.

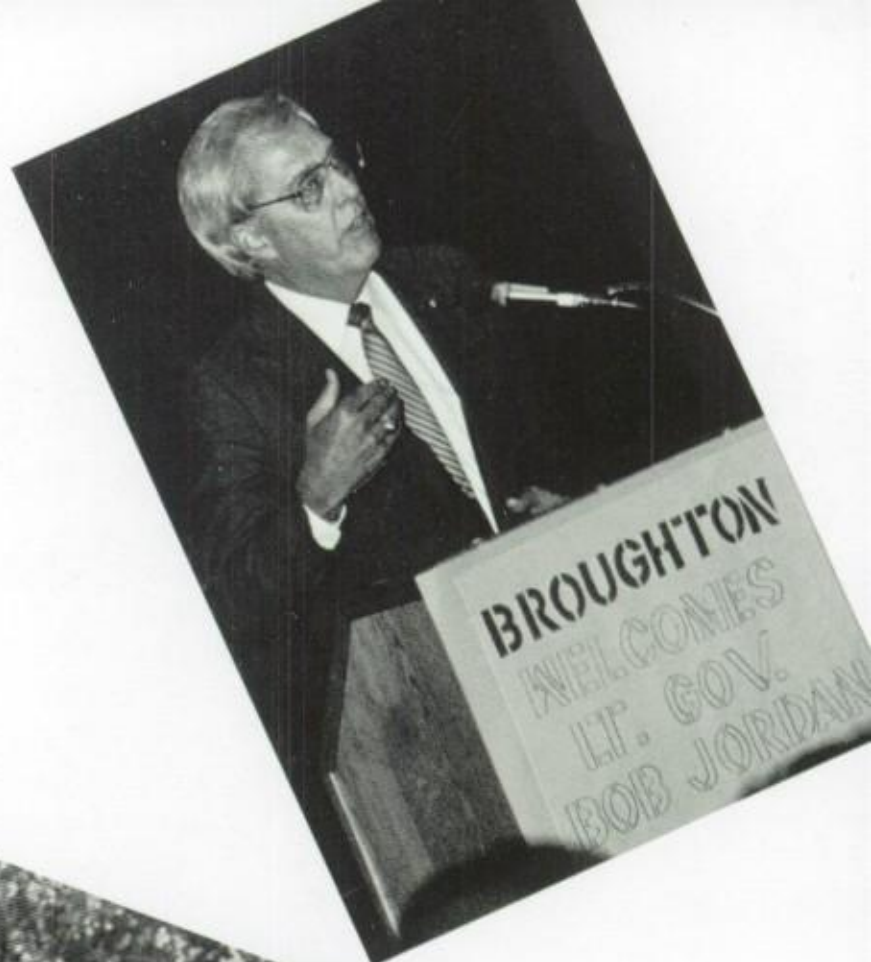

Starting Staff

"I like everything except for my sixth period class," smiled Ivan Rotin, a student teacher from N.C. State University. Seniors from State and Meredith took over classes at Broughton for the fall semester. They had spent seven weeks being taught how to teach and then two weeks observing Broughton classes. Finally, full of new ideas, they plunged in with their lesson plans, homework, and tests. "Student teachers start out so nervous that you feel sorry for them, but they usually have lots of neat things planned," Nicole Simmons said during her English class.

"I like student teachers because they grade easier than the regular ones," Christina Boatwright added. But Broughton students were not the only ones being graded; these nestling teachers received grades on their performance too. Almost once a week advisors from their respective colleges sat in on classes.

Even though student teachers carried a full load of classes at Broughton, they were still considered a students of a university or college. Most spent their free time on home campus where they received all the privileges of regular students. But for them student teaching was more than a graduation requirement. As Connie Morrow said, "It's hard work, but very rewarding. It has taught me a lot about students, teaching, and my future career."

Biting his lip in determination, Jeremy Gould, struggles with the "Greek Week Olympics" tug-of-war. The World Civilizations classes competed against each other in various events.

Speaking to Social Studies classes in the auditorium, Lieutenant Governor Bob Jordan explains the workings of the governor's office. In order to help E.L.P. students understand the workings of the government more fully, many officials were invited to speak.

Preserved in the Pages

"I'm thoroughly bored. The class is discussing the Dow Jones Average and I'm veggin' out on the ceiling. Ronald, you stud you. When I grow up I wanna be president and walk around with a cheesey grin going PEACE. Or maybe I'll just get radical and design a new flag, tie-dye it or something?

O.K., it's a required course so how interesting can you expect it to be? However, some students found their history classes to be one of their favorites. Senior Julie Sparboe said, "I like it for the interesting class discussions. I loved the N.C. State trip to the library with Mr. Ratliff - we even took him out to lunch." Randy Mason did not share her enthusiasm. "I don't think that we should be required to take three years of it. U.S. History was rather boring and it got redundant." To spice up World Civilizations, the first annual Greek Week was set up during which students took trips to the library and museum. Each World Civilizations class represented a Greek city/state and received points during an olympics and dress-up day that were included in the activities.

"It was a little drafty in that toga, but it was really fun!" explained Katrinna Vancleave. Junior Kim Fowlkes also enjoyed the week, but felt it was unfair to require students to do so much after school. "I have a really busy schedule and I don't think my grade should suffer because I can't stay after school." Just or unjust? It's just a matter of what's more important to you.

John Muddiman liked his E.L.P. class. "We're learning about the governmental systems, and I think that is important to know." Most students found their history classes interesting and worthwhile and didn't seem to mind being required to take it for three years.

Loaded with books and bags, Kim Hoang pauses in the hall to show off her homemade toga. Students were required to wear Greek costumes for their World Civilizations presentations.

Posters plaster the ceiling of Mr. Ratliff's Social Studies classroom. Many are from other countries, and one is even the size of a billboard.

Problem Problems

WHEW! I just came from math! We took the hardest test. I can hardly breathe! I think my grade will be lower than the speed limit.....the city wide speed limit! My Dad will kick me into negative infinity. Well, I better go make out my will just in case. See ya!

Some students thought of it as an hour for games, puzzles and fun. Others called it cryptic and foreign. Regardless of its reputation, Mathematics have played an important part in the high school student's curriculum for as long as schooling has been recorded.

"It makes sense," said Freshman Shannon Brown, "There are no exceptions to the rules. Every thing has a definite place." Math was the logical science. There were reasons for every method and proofs for every formula. And just as their was more than one way to cross a river, there was also more than one way to solve an arithmetic problem. After Steve Gunter, a math instructor, solved one problem with two different methods, he shook his head and said, "This renews my faith in mathematics."

"But I just can't think that way!" exclaimed Sophomore Robin Goss. "It's like I listen but I just can't hear." Some of the concepts in mathematics were difficult for some students to grasp. "It's really a building process," sighed Sophomore Mark Muddiman, "And if you get lost or have a bad teacher early, you're really in trouble later on."

"I like math," admitted Senior Junior Bailey, "but it's mostly because of my teacher Mrs. Wells." Fortunately, Broughton's faculty included many special math teachers. "I think the math department at Broughton is very strong. I'm confident that I'll have a strong base for college math," thought Senior Markham Carr. Whether students went into a mathematical career or simply took enough math for graduation, problems requiring mathematic skills would be present forever!

Working out a proof, Jennifer Johnson draws a triangle with her trusty geometer. The geometer is a must-have for all Geometry students.

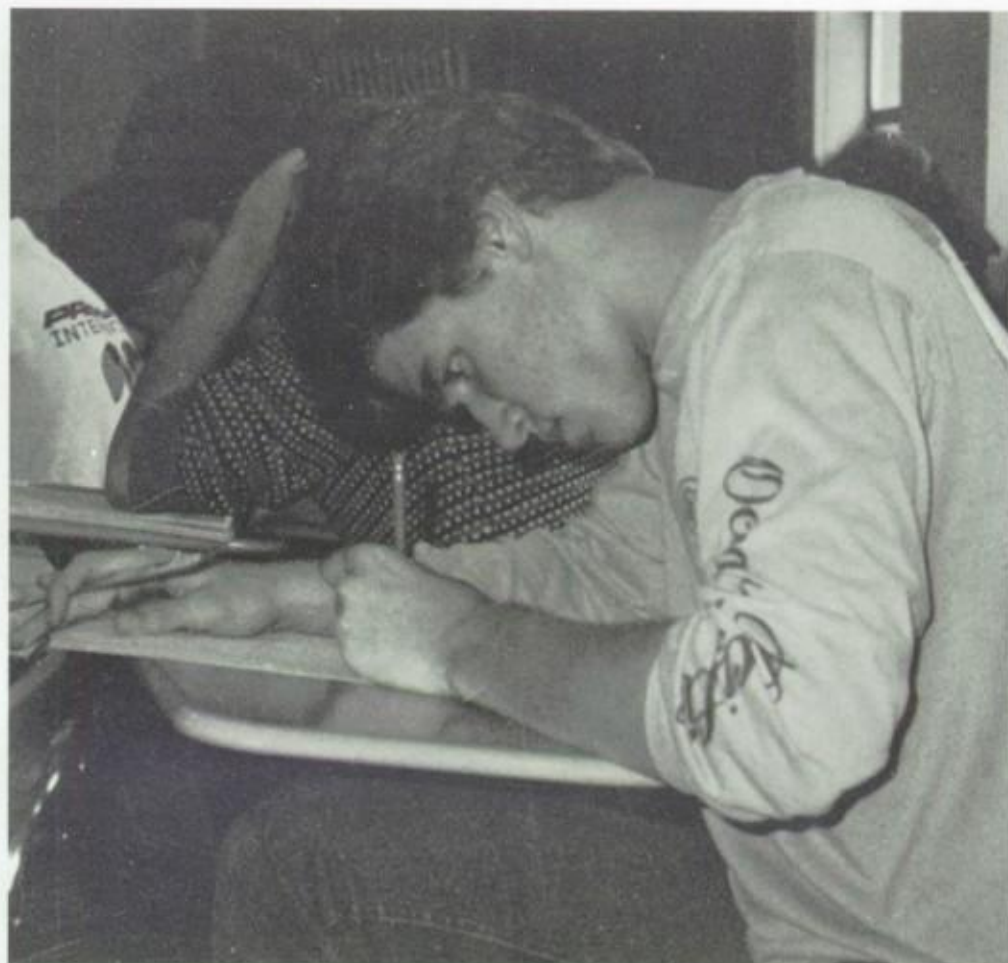

With great patience, Ms. Maple instructs her students in a Geometry lesson. Board illustrations were a great benefit to the Geometry students.

Working on a perplexing math problem, Juniors Johnny McConnell and Tracy Cate visualize their Algebra. Although teamwork can be disruptive, often two minds can work better than one.

With an intense expression, Senior Charles Miller concentrates on the general equation of an ellipse. The ellipse is only one of the conic sections studied in Advanced Math.

Among the students in Ms. Wells Algebra class, Shannon Brooks and Meg Chenery work along with their teacher on the overhead projector. Because they are easier to use than the traditional chalk and chalkboard, overhead projectors are found in many math classrooms today.

Experiencing It

"It takes a lot of time and effort but when it comes together it's worth it," John Worsely said about his drama class. Students in art and drama put forth a tremendous amount of energy and patience in producing attractive and appealing projects. "I enjoy the class but not the homework. I didn't expect homework assignments in art class," groaned Tico West. Few students realized all that was involved when they signed up for art or drama. Demetria Richardson however found her art class worthwhile, "It's a way for me to get away after a long hard day at Broughton. For me, it's relaxing." "I think it's good training for technical drawing in college," Tommy Benton added. Whether you were looking for a career or just a hobby, art and drama were good choices. I like art because I love to sketch strange creatures," smiled Donovan Hawfield. His classmate Taka Goto felt more strongly, "Art is my life!"

Both art and drama classes required an unusually large amount of creativity. "I like to express my creativity on paper," art student Wes Hamilton explained. Drama students expressed their creativity on stage. "There's nothing like the excitement on stage. You can feel the excitement in the air," emphasized Bob Gossman. Pam Leden agreed, "Being onstage is unlike anything you'll ever experience. The camaraderie is very strong." Drama students often spent long hours memorizing lines, making props, or staging scenes. In the end star

You won't believe what I just did! I just spilled purple paint all over my shoes. Really smooth huh! Oh well purple spotted tennis shoes aren't too bad, maybe I should get a sweater to match. Life's rough. Hope you're having better luck in your class. I'll wait for you in the halls.

productions made all the preparation worthwhile. "It's great to be a part of something moving and growing. It leaves you stronger when it's over," Mathias Gilmore stated. "Drama is a good attention getter," Donna

King added. Many students would say the same thing about art. Students in either class exhibited large amounts of effort and dedication. The result was indescribable.

Drawing a pattern, Sarah Carlson creates her national traffic and bus safety poster. Art students enter their work in various competitions throughout the year.

Bill Buchanan accuses Salem residents practicing witchcraft as Goody Proctor (Donna King) clings to John Proctor's (John Worsley) side. Cast members of "The Crucible" did excerpts from the play for class throughout the day.

Working patiently with sticky fingers and rubber cement, Demetria Richardson and Tico West concentrate on their studio work. Students must learn to share the limited amounts of supplies.

Concentrating intensely, Taka Goto perfects his cutout. Precision was a vital part of making award-winning posters.

TAKE NOTE

What do you do when you have to stay up late to finish homework?

I clean my face and sit in an uncomfortable chair.

Ann Hiott

I blast the radio and get a cup of coffee.

Renelle Risley

I just go to bed and fail my test.

Jim O'Conner

THINK NOIL

The Intermission Epic

After about an hour of trouble, toil, and sweat,
And other sundry business what time did students get?

What rest and relaxation within the busy day
Was granted to each student to spend in his own way?

We only got six minutes to take a wearied breath
And pull ourselves from anguish or rescue from near death

And clear our minds of physics or maybe driver's ed.

And try to switch our trains of thought to history instead.

And during all the walking and clearing of the minds

Remember that this instant is your person time.

Yes that includes the restroom. And you bet believe

That after waiting you will check your h before you leave.

Now quickly to your locker to get your thro ring binder.

And rush to meet your best friend at the corn
Can you find her?

She's in the crowded hallways among the mob masses;

Each moving at their own pace; Sights set on d

Although a six minute nap is not the most restful, John Palco chose to give it a try anyway. Such napping served as a complimentary display of our library's silent atmosphere.

Spending several of her six minutes productively, Ann Henly rushes thro her locker preparing for her sixth pe class. Locker visits had to be ti perfectly to insure punctuality.

Rushing a conversation, Eric Teague
Carson Satterfield catch up on the l news. Students enjoyed the six m break as a quick chance to chat.

ferent classes.

Now students on the third floor have got to move with haste

To make it to the trailers. Otherwise they're placed

Back in the good old classroom thirty minutes after school.

Much distressing students this was a strictly enforced rule.

But once you're in your classroom, you musn't take a rest.

Until you've got your notebooks and your books out on your desk.

And all your pencils sharpened and all your paper set.

For teachers have no mercy with what students may forget.

Once you have gotten settled, then you can sit a spell.

Then piercing tranquil comfort was the dreaded tardy bell.

Now back to toil and trouble. But one sure grace is felt.

Oh! Thank you trusty school board.....That minute really helped.

After first period, Margaret Porter and Francie Kleiner stop to say "Good Morning". Corner conversations were quite common in the halls of Broughton.

Getting a breath of fresh air between classes, Andrew Ferrel ventures across the lawn to his class in the trailer. Because of the addition of the trailers to the campus, walking out doors became much more common.

Choosing the road less traveled by, Dee Walker and her trusty friend Trigger make their way from the gym. Although the time between classes is a break for students, it could prove to be an untimely moment to take a load off the feet.

Saluting ROTC

Right face, left face, to the rear! Short order drills stressed discipline and respect. "We do our best and have a good time," Robert Brown explained. ROTC members went on many field trips such as the one to Pope Air Force Base where they learned base physics. They learned if cafeteria food was better there than at Broughton. How many bathrooms were there? During the year, ROTC students had orientation flights on a C130, ran a concession stand, and presented the colors at basketball games. They studied aero-space and military history in Lieutenant Colonel George F. MacQueen's class and leadership with Master Sergeant Eugene Weeks. Each Tuesday students wore their uniforms throughout the day as a disciplinary exercise. Money from the concession stand helped pay for the uniforms as well as funding a military ball in March. Although the uniforms looked the same to most students, different ribbons and stripes distinguished them. Ribbons were signs of achievement. They could be earned by making straight "A's" and "B's" on a report card or by a perfect attendance record. A longevity ribbon was given each year that a student participated in the program. Officers also received different stripes. Cadet Commander Lieutenant Colonel Pamela Chavis led the class. She did such a good job that inspections by core inspector Captain Holly were not days met with fear and panic. "ROTC is very rewarding. It builds character and teaches responsibility as well as history and air force rules," Pamela Chavis noted. ROTC members sent out a newsletter intermittently to keep Broughton informed on the many things with which the ROTC was involved.

After a long trip on the bus, ROTC members finish putting on their uniforms. Correct military attire was strongly stressed in ROTC.

At the beginning of a basketball game, ROTC members present the flag. ROTC duties extended past the 2:35 bell.

On the way home from a drill meet, Guy Schnitzler and Elisa Wright relax. ROTC encouraged camaraderie.

Proudly displaying a trophy, ROTC drill team members enjoy their triumph. Drill meets gave students a chance to exhibit their hard work.

On her way home from school, Mary Carter stops at the ROTC concession stand to purchase a Coke from Valerie Winston and John Taylor. The money the students earned from the stand helped finance trips, uniforms, and the military ball.

Before warm up exercises, Brig Harris joins the children's hands. PEPI students visited Aldert Root four days a week.

Keeping his eyes on the road Kirk Hampton practices his parallel parking. Drivers students spend hours driving with the instructor.

TAKE NOTE

What do you do during class films?

I put make-up on when no one's watching to impress my boyfriend next period.

Andrea English

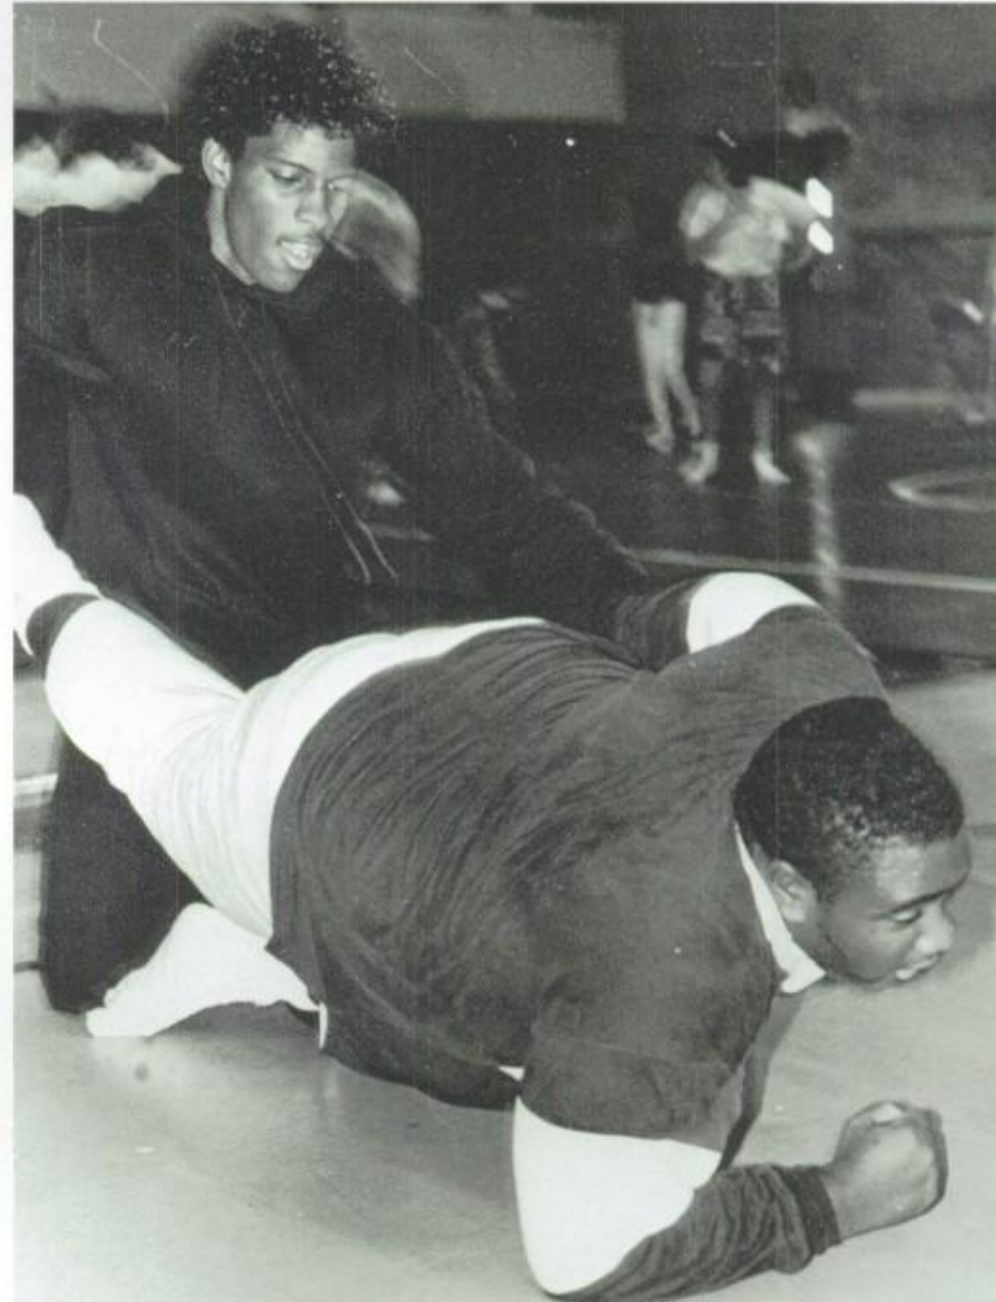

Sleep, usually.

Junior Bailey

I write love notes to my main man.

Demetria Richardson

THINK NOIL

Proving that bigger doesn't necessarily mean better, Nathan Thompson slams Tony Hankinson. Wrestling was one of the many units taught in P.E.

Need A Lift?

I am so embarrassed! My first day of Drivers' Ed. and I already screwed up. And "you know who" was sitting in the back-seat. I nearly died. Now I'll never get a date with him. When the coach told me to pull up on the emergency brake, I unlatched the hood instead. "You know who" had to get out and close it in the freezing rain! I'll never get my license. What a way to start the day.

"I take P.E. to be healthy and no longer. I'm doing it for myself and for a grade. It's also a lot of fun," explained Lynn Britt who echoed the feelings of many students in P.E. or PEPI. P.E. students pushed themselves to the limit and although they were often met with pain and pulled muscles, they acquired coordination, endurance, and strength. P.E. is one of the most important classes. If you don't take care of yourself, you'll regret it," commented Victor Glover during a weight-lifting class. Amy Hobbson agreed, "We're learning really important stuff in C.P.R. Who knows, maybe I'll save a life someday?" Students studied health and safety in P.E. as well as the rules and strategies of many sports such as volley ball, basketball, track, and tennis. Some students enjoyed less-traditional units like badminton, archery, pin-pong or gymnastics. "Gymnastics is really fun. For the first time short people have the advantage. There's less weight to hold up," said Sarah Preston smiling. Students in PEPI also learned about holding up. As instructors at Aldert Root School, piggy backs rides were common. Every day except Wednesday, a chosen group of juniors and seniors spent fifth period teaching several small friends basic games and exercises. Duck-Duck-Goose, Seven-up, and Red-Rover seemed to be the children's favorites. PEPI instructors were divided into groups of three or four and taught all ages from Kindergarten to fifth grade. But no matter what age, teaching required patience, leadership, and creativity. "It's hard, but I love to play with kids. The kindergarten students get so excited when they see us," exclaimed Deanna Pollard. Cammy Worth enjoyed the class just as much, "Yea for PEPI!" she cheered.

Patience, a virtue stressed in PEPI, was just as important in Drivers' Education. "They tell you to be really patient in Drivers' Ed.. If some other car does something wrong you have to just overlook it to avoid wrecks," explained Missy Noah. Most tenth grade students spent the first nine-weeks of Drivers' Ed. watching filmstrips, taking notes, and listening to lectures on driver safety. Then the students took turns actually driving. Twelve days in the car were required for each student. Again, the students had to be patient. "You have to wait until they tell you it's your turn to drive. If we have an assembly or it's raining they won't let you," groaned Chaunte Sanders. Students paired up for the twelve days taking turns going behind the wheel. "You're supposed to watch your partner and see what he's doing wrong but driving with another person always makes the driver more nervous," complained Dyan Coleman. In spite of the complaints, Drivers' Education was a favorite class because it was key in getting a Drivers' License. The class was met with just as much enthusiasm as PEPI or P.E. Because all these classes were different from the routine, most students looked forward to them.

During a typical PEPI day Harriet Stephenson is met with many hugs and smiles. Special bonds were built between PEPI students and the instructors.

Extra-Curriculum

TAKE NOTE

What's your favorite extracurricular activity?

Girl watching...hey, hey...

John Lack

Reprinting pictures for the yearbook.

Randy Lewis

Working on my weekend problem sets for the Math Team (just kidding!)

Mackie Jittlesteadt

THE NOTE

Pencils, pens, paper, and notebooks are vital tools for every student. Whether it's a basic blue Bic pen or a purple marker that smells like grapes, each student had his favorite school supplies. "My pens and notebooks have to be interesting or I can't get through the day. I like anything bright," Diane Coleman explained. Lynn's Hallmark and Mille Herget's were frequented by many such students looking for interesting supplies. "I always get mine at Kerr Drugs; Mom pays for them so I just use the basics," Cullen Nichols countered. Most students used book bags to carry their texts and notebooks. "I'm a Caribou man but I think those Swatch book bags are neat for girls," said Phil

Gruber. Because they took up too much space in a book bag looseleaf notebooks were disliked by some students while others preferred them because of the ease in turning in papers. Math students often found themselves using geometers, compasses, and graph paper. Number three pencils were the only ones allowed on biology and anatomy labs, and English papers had to be written in ink or typed, while math teachers stressed the use of pencils and spiral notebooks. Whether you used college rule or regular paper, spiral or looseleaf notebooks, pencils or pens, it was clear to see that there was a wide variety of essential school supplies from which to choose.

Lending a helping hand to the counselor in need, teacher assistant Scott Brian had his hands full for the afternoon. Most teachers assistants had their work cut out for them before they even entered the classroom.

For physics assistants Jess Chapell and Hofler Williams, a scientist's work is never done. Most teachers kept their assistants busy the entire period.

searching through mounds of college information, Leigh Ferris, Tom Laney, and Princess Whitaker rely on the guidance department. Files and pamphlets were available to school searching seniors throughout the year.

Reviewing a few final study tips, John Rudder leads his helpful How-to-Study course. Students were allowed to miss each period once to attend the course.

Looking for any way to help a staff member, Gigi Kareem makes herself available in the guidance office. Since assistant was such a popular elective, there was often more help than work.

Able to leap tall obstacles in a single bound, Markham Carr and Brent Miller avoid the long walk around the trailer's ramp. Crafty student assistants found lots of little ways to make their work a bit easier.

Scanning an attendance sheet, student assistants Stewart Harris, Miller Vick, Laura Rinne, and David Alred help their coaches locate absent students. Due to superfluous socializing, this group moved at a less than productive rate.

Surviving the Differences

"I think they're nicer because they're bigger than some of the classrooms and they have air-conditioning and heat. The only bad thing is that they're so far away from the building," Emily Cowling said about the new trailers put in this summer. "I don't mind them really, it's just the mess of walking out in the rain and getting your shoes all nasty!" exclaimed Anne Hiott. Twenty-one trailers expanded Broughton's walls. Students in math classes, foreign language classes, or special programs often found themselves making the trek outdoors to their rooms. "I hate trailers! They're ugly, they're big and they're mobile. I don't work in anything mobile," Jim O'Conner stated. Nine trailers arrived three to four weeks before school; unfortunately three were late. Ms. Lewis, Ms. Gibson, and Mr. Gardner had to turn the library and auditorium annex into makeshift classrooms for the first nine weeks of school. Mr. Gardner was not happy with the arrangement. "It really messed up my plans. It was difficult to teach and very restraining." The mud puddle in front of his new trailer did not please him either.

"We're not planning to have a more but who knows what we expect with all this overcrowding," Mattie Goode explained. Whether they liked them or not, most students had to cope with trailers. Tim Pierce summed up many students' feelings when he said, "They're not too hot or too cold, but too far."

During ensemble foreign exchange studies, Jonas Hendre works on hitting a perfect pitch. Foreign exchange students enjoy the variety of classes offered at Broughton.

School Tools

A survival kit for overseas living would be a perfect present for the many foreign exchange students at Broughton. But what would you put in it? How would you prepare for spirit links, trailers, and Greek Week? Foreign exchange students depended on their host families and friendly Broughton students to help them through the year. "Although I miss my German family, I am very excited about being here. I have a room of my own and my host parents are very kind," Markus Hecher explained. "Broughton really isn't Pencils, pens, paper, and notebooks are vital tools for every student. Whether it's a basic blue Bic pen or a purple marker that smells like grapes, each student had his favorite school supplies. "My pens and notebooks have to be interesting or I can't get through the day. I like anything bright," Diane Coleman explained. Lynn's Hallmark and Mille Herget's were frequented by many such students looking for interesting supplies. "I always get mine at Kerr Drugs, Mom pays for them so I just use the basics," Cullen Nichols countered. Most students used book bags to carry their texts and notebooks. "I'm a Caribou man but I think those Swatch book bags are neat for girls," said Phil Gruber. Because they took up too much space in a book bag, looseleaf notebooks were disliked by some students while others preferred them because of the ease in turning in papers. Math students often found themselves using geometers, compasses, and graph paper. Number three pencils were the only ones allowed on biology and anatomy labs, and English papers had to be written in ink or typed, while math teachers stressed the use of pencils and spiral notebooks. Whether you used college rule or regular paper, spiral or looseleaf notebooks, pencils or pens, it was clear to see that there was a wide variety of essential school supplies from which to choose.

A motley array of school supplies adorn a once-bare desk. School supplies were vital tools for all students.

The Raleigh 500's

From circuit boards to engines, from motors to contact sheets, vocational classes spanned a wide range of interests. Students in Technical Drawing built intricate and difficult projects, "I'm working on a clock right now. It's kinda hard because you really have to know what you're doing," explained Sophomore Jeff Woford. Auto Mechanics required just as much careful work. "You can't really slack off or your car will never start running," said Eric McNeil. Students could be enrolled in Auto Mechanics or Masonry for as many as three hours a day. Mortar and paste were as common to masonry students as grease and oil to auto mechanics students. "Brick laying is pretty easy. It's really neat to know that if you just lay down bricks you can build a house. I hope to be a bricklayer out of school," Chris Jones commented nonchalantly. For an accomplished bricklayer, laying down bricks was easy but for most students getting all angles perfect and each brick level was difficult work.

Just as difficult was the precise work involved in drafting and drawing classes. Students worked with blueprints designing machine parts and houses. An inordinate amount of time was put into the projects to make sure the ceiling of a planned house was high enough or a room wide enough. "Architectural design is worth the extra effort because it's actually a class that may help me in the future", emphasized David Leonard. "I don't want to become a photographer but I think it's a neat hobby and I'm glad I took the class," Kemp Hunt said during a photography class. "I like to roam the school taking pictures," Virginia Eagles added. Students in photography learned how to develop their own pictures as well as more complicated projects like cartoon making. Students in electronics also completed complicated projects such as circuit boards. Whatever vocational class students were involved in, they all took time, precision, and practice.

At the beginning of the year the foundations were laid for several new trailers. Twenty-one trailers adorned the front lawn by the end of the year.

With school pictures in hand, Mary Exum runs towards her class on trailer row. Because the trailers were so far away from the building, students often had to rush to class to make it on time.

Even with a broken arm, James Bell applied mortar to a brick. By the advanced students could lay seven to eight bricks a minute.

Putting It Together

TAKE NOTE

Where would you be if you didn't have to be in class?

In a bathtub, talking on the phone, drinking Tab.

Lisa Campbell

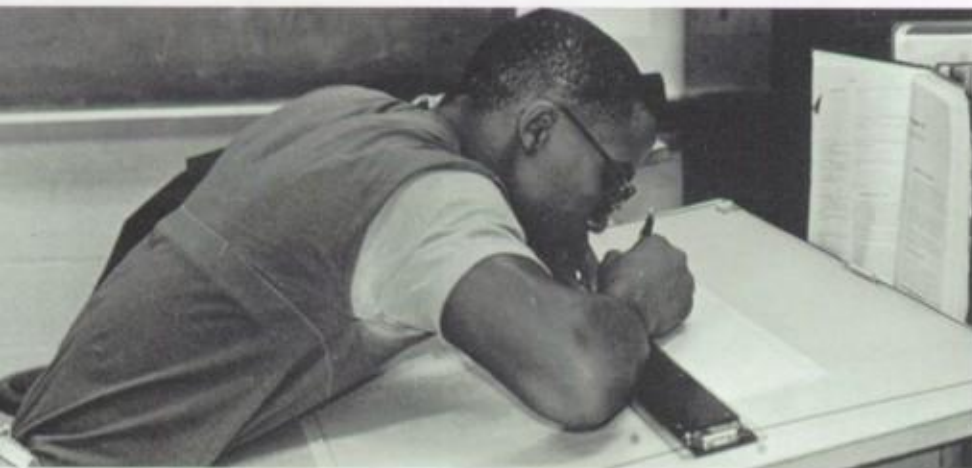

Asleep on the beach.

Justine Kelley

Skiing.

Brad Manifold

THINK NOIL

I'm writing you this note in photography. We're watching a filmstrip on focusing -Boring. I just developed my pictures. They were all blurry and the one of Matt had two noses. Oh well -I think I'm going back to my disc camera: just one press of a button and you're done. Those nasty chemicals smell and it's so dark in the developing room that I usually get more stopper fluid on my clothes than on the paper. Hope you're having better luck with your class.

From circuit boards to engines, from motors to contact sheets, vocational classes spanned a wide range of interests. Students in Technical Drawing built intricate and difficult projects. "I'm working on a clock right now. It's kinda hard because you really have to know what you're doing," explained Sophomore Jeff Wofford. Auto Mechanics required just as much careful work. "You can't really slack off or your car will never start running," said Eric McNeil. Students could be enrolled in Auto Mechanics or Masonry for as many as three hours a day. Mortar and paste were as common to masonry students as grease and oil to auto mechanics students. "Brick laying is pretty easy. It's really neat to know that if you just lay down bricks you can build a house. I hope to be a bricklayer out of school," Chris Jones commented nonchalantly. For an accomplished bricklayer, laying down bricks was easy but for most students getting all angles perfect and each brick level was difficult work.

Just as difficult was the precise work involved in drafting and drawing classes. Students worked with blueprints designing machine parts and houses. An inordinate amount of time was put into the projects to make sure the ceiling of a planned house was high enough or a room wide enough. "Architectural design is worth the extra effort because it's actually a class that may help me in the future", emphasized David Leonard. "I don't want to become a photographer but I think it's a neat hobby and I'm glad I took the class." Kemp Hunt said during a photography class. "I like to roam the school taking pictures," Virginia Eagles added. Students in photography learned how to develop their own pictures as well as more complicated projects like cartoon making. Students in electronics also completed complicated projects such as circuit boards. Whatever vocational class students were involved in, they all took time, precision, and practice.

With careful calculations, Tweed Hoffman works on his boat. Wood-shop students worked on major projects during the year.

With precision, Kenneth Lightfoot designs a building. The work required a careful hand to make sure all angles were even.

Learning By Doing

I can't believe I've finally finished it. My skirt looks great and I did it all by myself! I know what you're thinking and yes, you can wear it! Maybe if I have time after my exercises I can type you a little note. We're typing essays. Can't Wait!!

"A stitch in time saves nine" has proven especially true when evaluating the business and home economics classes at Broughton. By learning well their specialties, students were able to use their strong skills even prior to graduation. The things they learned in courses at Broughton proved to be valuable and viable for careers in the future. "Sometimes I don't understand why we have to make a color wheel and a sloper to sew a simple skirt," sighed Senior Erica Payne, "but we've all learned the hard way in fashion design that a job worth doing is worth doing right."

By choosing Home Economics, Sewing, or Computer Programming, high school students were able to lay the foundations for their post-graduation skills. "My typing course has already proven to be helpful," stated Sophomore Kathleen Sulzen. "I took it early enough to use it in high school and in college."

Traces of hard work were seen everywhere in the school. Often the third floor was filled with mouth-watering aromas from the home economics classes. The sewing and fashion design students entertained the school with their own fashion show at the end of the year. Some students were exposed to a real secretarial environment through classes in typing and bookkeeping skills. Much of the effort was never seen; but it was there nonetheless. "Mom told me that Home Ec. was one class I'd always use," sighed Junior Stephanie Tardiff. "She was right.....Again!"

Filling in her color wheel, Amy Bishop plans decor in her interior design class. Interior Design proved to be a very popular class in the curriculum.

Breaking her concentration, Tammy Cook laughs as she measures out fabric for a garment in her fashion design class. Students found making their clothes to be a much more economical way of dressing.

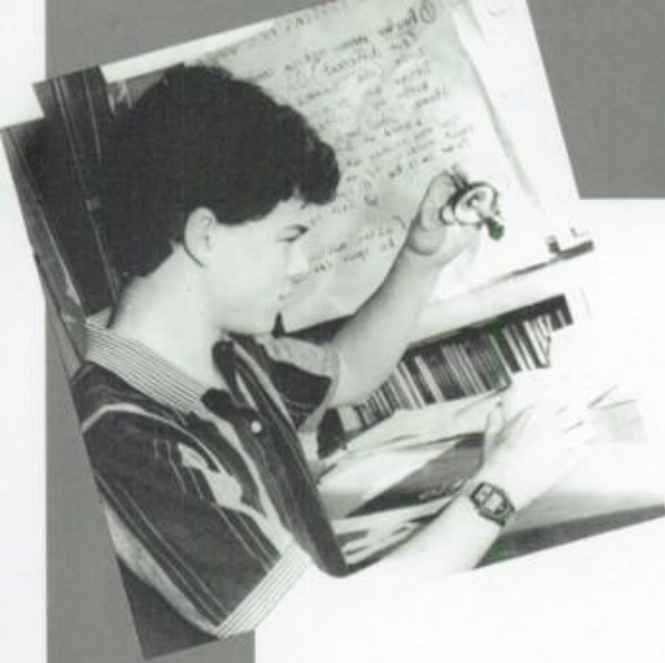

Concentrating on the keyboard in front of him, Anthony Martin types during his Graphics class. Students experimented with point size and typestyle to create interesting graphic effects.

Planning her dreamhouse, Becca Isabel concentrates on where to put another closet. As a project, Architectural Drawing students were required to design and execute their dream house.

Trying to stay in the lines, Chaunte Sanders cuts out her pattern. Fashion Design students often design their own dresses.

With eyes on his copy and fingers on the home keys, Chris Currie types his way through the period. Typing classes were useful for all students whether planning a vocational career in typing or merely to type term papers.

Just how long a string can you make with rubber cement? wonders Wes Hamilton. Actually, Wes was working on a poster for the Conservation Of Energy contest/display.

Q

UANDARY-N-(KWAN-DRE)-STAT OF PERPLEXITY; SEE ALSO INN
VATIVE, ELABORATE, PARAGO
IMPRESSIVE, SUPERB, MAGNIFICEN IMPRESSIVE, MASTERFUL, QUI TESSENTIAL, SUPER, IMPERATIV
SPARKLING, INGENUOUS, SPLE DID, AND AUSPICIOUS.

ORGANIZATIONS

Surprised by a LATIPAC photographer, Clay Herget takes a break from his biology lab to show us his tonsils. If Clay had paid us the very nominal sum we asked for, this picture would have never appeared in the yearbook.

82-Words Can't Describe It

ing the marching band at a home foot-game, Kevin Lee performs his role as n major. The band performed at all e games

More Than Voices

"The Broughton student body is awesome!" said John Cella, President of the Executive Cabinet. Combined with the efforts of Vice-President Mary Shaw, Secretary/Treasurer Connie Zaytoun, Parliamentarian Petra Wiggins and the rest of the members of the Cabinet, they were able to organize and carry through several community service projects. The Cabinet and the Hospitality committee co-sponsored a challenge between classes with profits going to United Way. "It's fun working with everyone, but even more so because we are helping lots of people," stated Andy White. In addition to having fun, the Cabinet was also very successful. Broughton provided about half of the food raised throughout the High Schools in Wake County for the Food Bank. "The word was passed by the English Class Representatives and the response was overwhelming! We are number one in Wake County with each student bringing in approximately 2.16lbs. of canned food," explained Mary Shaw as she sat in the middle of a massive pile of cans, almost completely covering the floor of the Student Government Office. The Executive Cabinet also carried out several smaller, but equally rewarding projects. The informative bulletin boards, a Student Scrapbook, Thanksgiving goody bags for our custodians, early-morning breakfasts for teachers and a much appreciated visit to the Hillhaven Rest Home were the kind of activities initiated by the Cabinet and that gave Broughton such a superb reputation.

Another very important part of student government was the Principal's Advisory Council. "We express the students' views to Dr. Jewell," said Senior Lee Highsmith. "Then we make sure he understands them. Whenever the principal needed input, we called on PAC. The committee was made up of a wide variety of people so that everyone's opinion had an impact on the decisions made."

EXECUTIVE CABINET: (first row) Tiffany Perry (second row) Chad Wilkins, Tommy Worth, Donna Curtis (third row) Caleb Smith, De Smith, Matt Edwards, Sec/Treas. Connie Zaytoun, (fourth row) Pres. John Cella, Ivan O'Neal, Vice-Pres. Mary Shaw (fifth row) Andy White, Parliamentarian Petra Wiggins, Kristie Dunn, Hart Miles (not pictured) Tracy Cate, Nicole Simmons, Raymond Perry, Aimee Had, Clare Holroyd, Tammy Cook, Matt Edwards

PRINCIPAL'S ADVISORY COUNCIL (First Row) Anthony Scott, Sara Winkler, Jenny Boone, Beth Crampton, Rengia Davis (Back Row) David Wilson, Rob Sealy, Lee Highsmith, Todd Sanders, Bob Dunn, April Mial

"Everyone thinks Dr. Jewell ignores the student's ideas, but I think this committee proves them wrong. I am really surprised how interested he is in what we have to say. He honestly wants to improve Broughton for us."

— Bob Dunn

"Everyone thinks Dr. Jewell ignores students' ideas, but I think this committee proves them wrong," added Bob Dunn. "I am really surprised how interested he is in what we have to say. He honestly wants to improve our school for us."

Members of the Executive Cabinet grin with pride in the student body. Broughton raised 4,736 lbs., almost the food raised county-wide, for Wake Students Against Hunger 1986 Food Drive.

Executive Cabinet-85

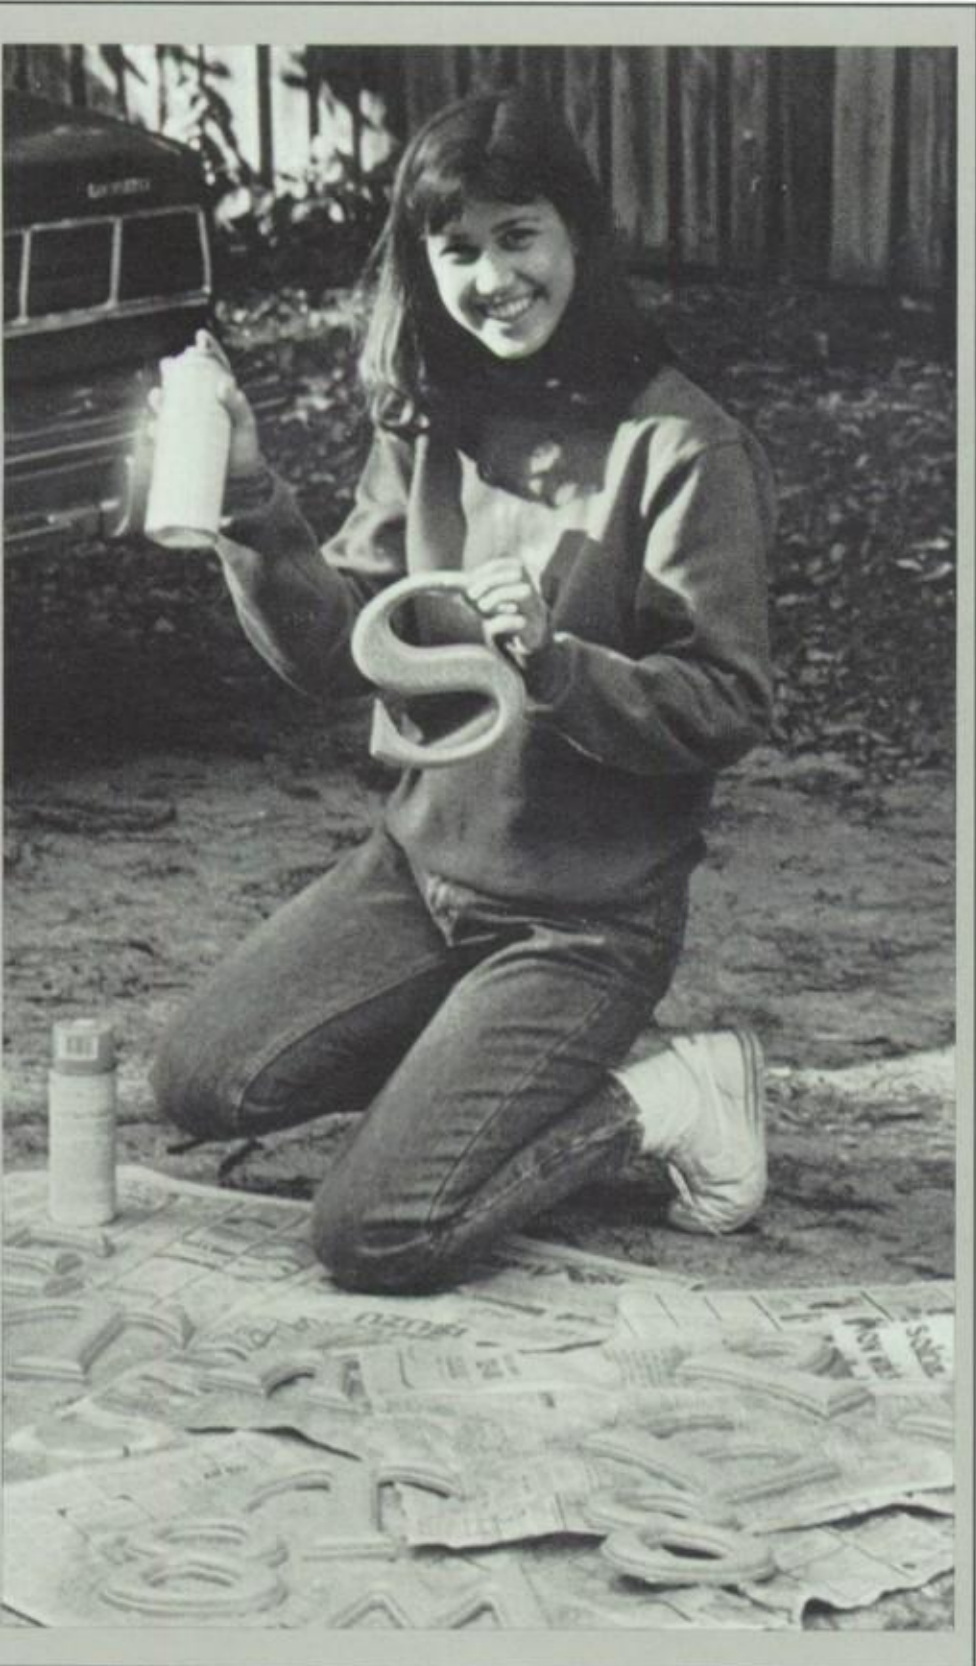

Ken Harris, Jon McConell and Michael Dickinson take a moment to clown around. Juniors always seemed to find ways of having fun while working on their float.

(Ascending Order) Nita Hunter, Monique Merriweather, Laura Nowell, CeCe Bailey, Caroline Farmer, Roger Smith

(Front Row:) Pam Davis, Lori Lynn (Back Row:) McClain Selden, Matt Brown, Andrew Donadio, Jon McConell, Charlie Kennedy

SOPHOMORE CLASS COUNCIL — Dana Batchelder, Jason Steele, Kiley Wells, Sue Jett Russler, Margaret Bridger, Jennifer Downey.

FRESHMAN CLASS COUNCIL - Sheri Jordan, Janie Miles, Gray Williams, Jennie Phillips, Ann Henley Yelverton.

Class Council Member Sharon Watters, works on her class' homecoming float.

Culture Clubs

The Foreign Language Clubs helped students to obtain a cultural awareness of foreign countries, and thus the clubs planned many cultural activities. The students learned the cooking, dancing, arts and way of life of these Foreign Languages.

The German Club offered students the chance to savor such things as German foods, customs and ideas. The club met to promote the languages and cultures of 'Deutschland.' Anyone who takes German is automatically in the club. "The German Club, like every year, has an Oktoberfest in which we eat types of German food and have our annual football game which every year Mr. Gurganus' team wins. At Christmas time, we went

"The Foreign Language Clubs are enlightening because you get to meet all kinds of people you wouldn't know otherwise."

Mary Exum

Christmas caroling and sang German carols. In the spring, we had another picnic and an annual softball game," explained Junior Karen Kish.

The French Club promotes the languages and cultures of la belle France and offered students the opportunity to experience cultural activities that were not always possible in class. They had speakers, suppers and the annual 'French Night.' At the French Night dinner, the students entertain the parents with skits and enjoy a homemade French meal.

Students could find a little bit of Rome at the Latin Club's toga parties and at the Fall Forum. Every year, the Latin Club holds a Saturnalia banquet in honor of Saturn, the Roman god of Harvest.

Every year, the Spanish Club enjoys an authentic cuisine of CHI-CHI'S of Raleigh. They sell candy as a fund-raiser. The club enjoys a Spanish Fiesta at the traditional Foreign Language Festival. Senior Paul Nelson feels that the Spanish Club, "brings everyone together."

With all the equally exciting events provided by the Foreign Language Clubs, any of the clubs would certainly be beneficial to those interested and involved in the Foreign Languages.

SPANISH CLUB - Row 1: Becky Cartor, Jean Metz, Keri Durden, Mandy Dill, Meg Olson, Suzanne Jordan, Nancy Snyder, Mary Exum, Paul Nelson, Mike Milvalken. Row 2: Jool McKonzig, Caroline Farmer, Rick Kioman, Brig Harris, Steve Conway, Clark Johnson. Row 3: Kristi Marrow, Chuck, Reed Fountain. Row 4: Dan Auman, Jeremy Gould.

LATIN CLUB — First Row: Joanna Scott, Tommy Worth, Jess Chappell, Bobby Ramseur, Monique Merriweather, Courtney Whitaker, Kristen Guillory, Angela Gupton. Second Row: Erin Tracy, Matt Hoyt, Chris Jackson, Brandy Fisher, Elizabeth Lee. Third Row: Jeff Vanderkam, Karen Beasley, Patrick Fleming, Ben Eggleston, Ashley Frye, Katherine Boyette, Stacy Pollard. Fourth Row: Nat Swearingen, Guy Vitaglione, David Ogden, Troy Legge, Francie Kliner, John Cella, Susan Brenner, Jane Dog-

gett. Fifth Row: Tim Dassinger, John Emrich, Hart Miles, Allen Ralph, Matt Brown, Tim Pierce, John Shutt, Nicole Simmons. Not Pictured: David Allred, Curt Brewer, Lloyd Clark, Emily Cowling, Mike Davidson, Meg Deal, Alex DeGrand, Diane Dickerson, Kristy Dunn, Bennett Funderbirk, Cheala Garland, Jessica Gregory, Mary Hamptin, Larry Lancaster, Sharon Leach, Lesha McLain, Bill McNaury, Holly Mercer, Charles Miller, Jeff Mock, Theodora Parsons, Brad Pickard, Banning Reed, Chris Samuels, Bill Satterfield, Zema Semunigus, Beth Shaw, Elizabeth Sparrow, Winn Stahel, Sarah Stone, Stephanie Tardiff, Princess Whitacher, Will Hubbard, Brad Krieger, Tony Finger, Mike Curlee, Catherine Mitchell, Steve Bruggerman, Mike McCracken, Brian Holder, Walter Daniel, Darryl Head, Bart Satterfield, Jeana Johnson, Margaret McDowell, Gordon Smith, Jeff Mock, and Diana Brown.

GERMAN CLUB — First Row: Nathan Kirkman, Christina Boatwright, Mark Boyd, Caroline Bell, Kathlene Smith, Dr. Gurganus, Tricia Gessner. Not Pictured:

Katherine Boney, Annette Brunsen, John Cella, Tuann Chunn, Jenny Dunlop, Aimee Had, Kim Hauses, Tom Jacobs, Pam Leden, Dee Dee Lightfoot, Robert

Liu, Yolanda McGill, Joe Meierer, Elizabeth Price, Anthony Scott, John Shutt, Kelly Stuart, Lisa Tucker, Kim White, Chad Wilkins, Phylcia

Williams, Karen Kish, Rosalie Jones, Brian Attayek, Nauer Ayob, Hanns Baungart, Robert Brown, Angela Brunsen, Sheryl Bryant, Tim Chew, Alison Green, Sally Hauley, Larry Johnson, Erin Kesterson, Kenya Lane, Kim Mehlich, Renelle Risley, Melanie Shekita, Russ Spry, Benny Stewart, Eric Teague, Crystal Williams, Eric Wu, Lisa Crenshaw, Andy Estes, Allen Hill, Sandra Holkup, Stig Lima, Adam McClellan, Dave Ratliff, Chris Slagle, David Head, Melissa Herring, Tom Still, Camden Webb.

FRENCH CLUB — First Row: Amy Peterson, Leigh Kemp, Cathy Prygrocki, Rosalyn Fraser, Suzy Fiske, Hoan Cao. Second Row: Jana Soward, Pam Leden, Meredith Pritchard, Susan Brenner. Third Row: Anthony Scott, Gina Johnson, Nancy Ko, Carol Conway, Jenny Dunlop. Fourth Row: Mrs. Sharon Ayers.

Right at Home

There may be no place like home, but three organizations helped new and old students alike feel welcome. The Hospitality committee, U.S. Club, and Marshals spent the year trying to make their friends, parents, and teachers feel at home through the many service projects and social events throughout the year. "It's important for students to get involved in helping others, and the Hospitality committee is a great way to do that," explained Junior Kristen Guillory. This committee was responsible for the Welcome Back Teacher Brunch on the teacher's first day of work, the P.T.A. open house, several receptions, and the United Way Fundraiser. "Because this is such a popular committee, we decided to sponsor a fundraiser to involve more members," explained Linda Fisher. John Cella added, "The success of the United Way project can be attributed to the hard work and dedication of the Hospitality committee." Another group that showed an equal amount of dedication was the Marshals whose job it was to escort homerooms to assemblies, guide confused parents the night of BCA Open House and serve at the many shows during the year. "Being a marshal is great because you get to meet a lot of new people and it makes you feel important," said Junior Suzanne Jordan. Freshman Kris Bencke also enjoyed her position as a marshal. "I'm glad I was elected a marshal this year because it's fun playing a special role in the assemblies." Sophomore James Graham added, "The only problem is having to dress up and wear those sashes."

"Making people feel welcome is what we're all about."

Connie Zaytoun

Another organization that centered itself around service was the U.S. Club. Senior David Allred had nothing but positive comments for the U.S. Club. "It's a great way to spend your time being with your friends." Sophomore Laura Wyrick shared his enthusiasm. "Making warm fuzzies for our fundraiser was a lot of fun, especially because you knew how good it was going to make other people feel. "Making people feel good was the main objective for the U.S. Club Marshals, and Hospitality Committee — a goal that they successfully strove to achieve throughout the year.

U.S. CLUB: First Row—Kenya Lane, Fraiser, Cynthia Fulbright, Kristen Ruggles Courtney Spooner, Robin Roseberry, Laura Wyrick Second Row—Rosalin

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE: First Row—Julie Sparboe, Linda Fisher, Ken Harris, Jess Chappell, Kevin Lee, Ce Ce Bailey, Connie Zaytoun Second Row—Kathy Orr, Paige Barefoot, Rennelle Risley,

Susan Majors, Charles Bell, Robin Roseberry, McClain Selden, Dana Daughtry, Suzanne Jordan Third Row—Jenny Philips, Kristen Guillory, Mandy Dill, Julie Johnson, Rosalin Fraiser, Devin

Steele, Cynthia Fulbright, Kim Fowlkes, Chuck Williams Fourth Row—Cheryl Jones, Laura Wheelis, Will Ellington, Courtney Spooner, Cynthia Fulbright Fifth Row—Kenya Lane, Monique

Merriwether, Laura Nowell, Carolin Farmer, Lucy Brown

Collecting money for the United Way Fund, Senior John Cella and Susan Majors make sure purchasers sign their tickets. Winners were drawn from each class and received prizes including a T.V. a dinner for two, a fifteen dollar Fat Daddy's certificate, and a ten dollar Record Bar certificate.

MARSHALS: First Row-Ashleigh Keener, Suzanne Jordan, Beth Shaw, Sabine Moore, Kristie White. Second Row-Jack Morisey, Missy Lefort, Lisa Radford, Sharon Watters, Cammy Worth, Anna Dunn Fonville. Third Row-Amanda Long, Karen Allred, Frances Bailey. Fourth Row-Dexter Morgan, Ken Harris (Not Pictured) Curt Brewer, Allen Crone, Tom Laney, Kenneth Lightfoot, Ford Shippey, Wanda Watson, Mike Carlin, Lance Miller, Cullen Nichols, Crystal Williams, James Graham, Gene Haigh, Chad Rasette, Chaunte Saunders, Sally Scott Edwards, Ashley Mattox, Cameron Lewis, Ken Hartpence, Kris Bencke, Rhonda Wagner, Chris Jurgens, Derrick Lovelace

@!#$%&*!!

Yikes!
Rut Row!
Mistake!
Goof!
Screw Up!
Accident
Boo Boo!
Mess Up!

Words can't describe why these pages are so inconsistent with the rest of this section. Let's just say that somebody lost what should have appeared here during the production of the book. But hey . . . we think it's kind of creative — and it's DARN good for last minute!!!) Just consider great place for people to their names, and a page y never forget . . . believe m we won't.

Paint, Typewriters, Ballots, etc.

It takes a lot of hard work and planning to organize the many special functions throughout the year. Four committees were

"There's so much that goes into planning the big events . . . but it's always a lot of fun putting them together."

Donna Curtis

responsible for much of this work: the Elections, Publicity, Special Projects, and Publications Committees. The Elections committee had the important job of making and passing out the ballots for each election. "We run the elections during the lunch periods and then tally the votes," commented chairman Lloyd Clark. So many students signed up for the committee that members had to be chosen from a very extensive list. Sophomore John Watters appreciated his position. "It make you feel important and gives you a sense of responsibility. It's also fun because since I'm a roamer I get a new table every election and I get to know a lot of people."

Another important group was the Publicity Committee. Chairman Lisa Campbell explained, "We have to make all the posters and banners advertising every athletic event during the year." This committee spent many hours after school with countless magic markers and paint jars to accomplish its tasks.

The Special Projects Committee could be seen long after the bell had rung as well. Homecoming week and a dance after the game was organized by members of this committee. The Sadie Hawkins Dance was also put on by the Special Projects Committee. However, chairman Casey Herget felt, "...the Bloodmobile is the most important thing we do all year because we're helping to save lives."

Although the Publications Committee could not claim such an impressive project, it did make a very important contribution that prevented much confusion about school organization and policies. Chairman Sara Wilson explained, "The Publications Committee puts together and types up the student handbook during the summer." And that is an important part of Broughton.

SPECIAL PROJECTS COMMITTEE: First Row — Benji Taylor, Casey Herget, Melissa Herring, Sherri Jordan, Lori Lynn, Lindsay Cox, Sarah Wilson, Peggy Teng, Caleb Smith, Derek DeBank, Sabine Moore, Cliff Torence.

Third Row — Sarah Wilson, Diane Coleman, Nancy Snyder, Dana Daughtry, Stephanie Tardiff, Suzanne Jordan. Fourth Row — Cheryl Jones, Jenna Dockery, Gigi Kareem, Ce Ce Bailey, Julie Sparboe, Linds Fisher, Kim

Fowlkes. Fifth Row — Laura Wheelis, Tracey Stonnacker, Faith Eury, Lloyd Clark, Lucy Brown, Katie Smith, Laura Nowell, Renelle Risley, Justine Kelly, Mary Shaw.

ELECTIONS COMMITTEE: First Row — Lloyd Clark, Hoffer Williams, Henry Young. Second Row — Crystal Williams, Antoinette Stewart, Francie Kliner, Lisa Permar, Susan Dearborn, Renita Hunter, Nicole Simmons, Troy

Legge, Bill Buchanan, Kristen Guillory. Fourth Row — Mike Nichols, Nany Ko, Caleb Smith, Justine Kelly, Ce Ce Bailey, Michael Dickenson, Janie Miles, Charles Bell, Wes Hamilton, Bobby Ramseur. Fourth Row — Bob

Dunn, Hugh Avera, David Allred, Petra Wiggins, Lisa Radford, Johnny McConnel, Beth Crampton, Dana Daughtry. Fifth Row — Lora Brooker, Lucy Brown, Maureen Carlin, Diana Davis.

The student handbook would not have been possible without the extra special effort of students like Publicity chairman Sara Wilson (above) and Antoinette Stewart who devoted many summer hours to its production. Many other students gave up a day in the sun to staple the book together so that they could be distributed to every student at the beginning of school.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE: First Row — Henry Young, Caroline Erye, Catherine Smith, Julie Sparboe, Lisa Campbell,

Devin Steele. Second Row — Anne Cella, Tracey Stonnacker, Mark Brenner, Ashley Frye, Tom Laney, Wheelis. Fourth Row — Jeanna Dockery, Laura Bryan, Charles Bell, Cheryl Jones. Not Pictured — Jackie Philips.

Show Stoppers!

An excited crowd buzzed with anticipation. The last few stragglers tried to find seats in Broughton's already overflowing auditorium. Slowly, the curtain rose and the audience was propelled into a musical yesteryear. The Fall Choral Show captivated students, parents, and faculty alike, selling out both November 14 and 15. "I love watching people leave with a smile 'cause they liked our show," stated Lesha McClain. With such a successful start, the Chorus would have a hard time following their own performance.

"They never stop surprising me. Every show has something new and creative in it. It makes me wish I could sing."

— Gordon LeGrand

Yet under the direction of Kraig McBroom, Carolina Spirit, Capital Touch, and the girl's Carolina Company managed to match and excel their opening show. "They never stop surprising me. Every show has something new and creative in it," said Gordon LeGrand. "It makes me wish I could sing!"

When not putting on stunning performances, the Chorus was busy with other activities. Broughton's pride, Carolina Spirit, returned to Mid-Atlantic to defend their Grand Championship as well as traveling to Chicago for the second year in a row. They were also forced to turn down an invitation to perform in Indiana due to a full schedule. The entire Chorus started a new tradition by hosting the first-ever choral competition at our school. PIECES OF GOLD proved successful by attracting participants from South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia and all over North Carolina. Another achievement to add to their already impressive list.

CAROLINA SPIRIT; (First Row) Kim Mechlich, Mandy Dill, Katherine Jones, Julie Joyner, Susan Tull, Katherine Kennedy. (Second Row) Debbie Sisson, Ashleigh Keener, Catherine Winters, Benji Taylor, Angie Sikes, Casey Herget, Caroline Frye, Jodie McKenzie. (Third Row) Dale Currin, Brad Krieger, Dayan Levi, Michael Boles, Shane Angley, Dana McCall, Tim Johnson. (Fourth Row) Jason Morgan, Junior Bailey, Charlie Kennedy, Kent Perry, Gordon Stephenson, John Worsley. (Not Pictured: Ivan O'Neal)

CAROLINA COMPANY (First Row) Andrea Harris, Karla Horton, Shelma Serracin, Rita Young, Susan Brenner, Kathy Watson, Shannon Mooky, Dyan Coleman, Maura Wiggs, Aimee Sweatland, Carla Shepard, Alice Fuller (Second Row) Amy Tess, Mary Caruso,

Ashley Frye, Alison Gerig, Jennifer Farr, Simon Covington, Ashlee Roll, Julie Peckman, Yolanda Halsell, AJ Thomas (Back Row) Toweena Thorpe, Sally Ferdon, Katie Titchener, Kathy Ide, Meredith Mizell, Lois Sanders, Cindy Swinarski, Christy White

CAPITAL TOUCH (First Row) Jennifer Johnson, Jana Soward, Connie Zaytoun, Shelley Raines, Carson Satterfield, Kathy Orr, Lucy Ferdon, Kim Fowlkes, Beth Shimmel (Second Row) Lisa Permar, Ann Johnson, Pam Davis, Kathleen Franklin, Devin Steele, Will Ellington, Jason Steele, Ruben Gutierrez, Harriet Stevenson, Linda Coggins, Lisa Dingman, Jennifer Huggins, Stephanie Dare, Princess Whitaker (Third Row) Amy McClunly, Jessica Hamilton, Holli Crane, Mike McCracken, Jason Reinberg, Shannon Brown, Che Coker, Crystal Dail, Katy Bell, Stephanie Ferrell,

Hadley Eure, (Fourth Row) Lisa Radford, Dee Richardson, Daphne Baemore, Kelli Wellbourn, Bill Buchanan, Wes Quaintance, Mike Shaw, Thurston Harris, Cynthia Moore, Martha Cannon, Claire Goodson, Meg Olson, Jenny Lozw, Caroline Bell (Back Row) Natalie Clark, Laura Spence, Todd Shammie, Taka Goto, Tim Chew, Scott Pierce, Paul Walker, Dennis Carey, Jonas Herde, Asle Lakken, Clara Holroyd, Jennifer Downey, Melissa Elliot, Traci Dewid

The audience laughed as a wet Susan Tull stole the show with her amusing solo. People's personality delightfully added to the songs they sang.

The entire gym was silent as Gordon Stephenson sang a stirring solo at the Christmas assembly. The Chorus frequently performed for the students at school functions as well as competitions.

Ending with a spectacular flourish, members of the Carolina Spirit smile at the overwhelming response of the crowd. Complex choreography was only part of the magic Small Group used to captivate audiences.

The spotlight focuses on Kim Fowlkes, Lisa Permar and Harriet Stevenson as they practice for the upcoming show in November. Lots of rehearsals were held before each show.

All Together Now

Dedication was definitely a key ingredient in the members of the Golden Regiment March-

We're not in it for the trophy — just the satisfaction of knowing you've gone out there and given it your best."

Anne McChesney

ing Band-lots of dedication. Although they did not bring home as many awards as they had hoped to this year, the band showed its extraordinary character and discipline in all of its work. "We can all pull together no matter what and get the job done," commented Desiron Young. "Everyone realizes how important it is to work hard, even without J.R. there to push us on."

Mr. Jeffrey Richardson, the band director, was unable to work with the band at the end of the first semester because of a hip injury; nevertheless, the students accomplished their goals and continued to practice as hard as ever. "When J.R. yells at you, you know it's because you're not giving it your best. He always has a reason," stated Dawn Wiszowaty. "We know it's not personal."

The Golden Regiment performed in several competitions and marched in many parades, including Raleigh's popular downtown Christmas Parade. "We practice all the time for our competitions and performances," explained Evan Sanchez. "There's band camp in August, and either a parade or contest almost every Saturday." "You, up Friday nights for games weekends for trips. But it seems worth it-especially when you get recognized for a job done," Anne McChesney added. This recognition came when the Golden Regiment was invited to represent North Carolina at the Festival States competition.

The long hours in the afternoon sun or chilling drizzle and the dedication of its members came together in another impressive year for the band.

The 1987 Golden Regiment; J.R. Richardson, Director

Sounds of the Golden Regiment Marching Band set the background for Senior Holly Mercer as she performs an impressive baton routine during halftime. Holly is the band's only majorette and has received many honors for her twirling.

Head Of The Class

To produce an "all around student," it takes four outstanding qualities: scholarship, leadership, service and character. These qualities were recognized in over sixty new inductees of "The Honor Society gives us a tangible reason to strive for excellence and serves as an award for achieving it."

Jon Chapman

the National Honor Society.

To be inducted into the NHS, a 3.3 grade point average must be maintained. The individual must be of strong character and have shown evidence of service and leadership ability.

"Some of the projects we do are really eye-opening. I think it helps us to be well rounded people," explained President Lloyd Clark. The NHS makes Christmas goody-bags for the teachers and have a Christmas party. They also provide a tutorial program in which the members help students in many subjects.

"The Honor Society allows students the opportunity to continue to demonstrate these qualities," stated Melissa Herring.

A previous member of Hale High School's Honor Society, Junior Margaret Porter escorts Junior Ken Johnson through the auditorium. New students who were members at other schools are accepted into Broughton's Honor Society.

Supportive friends look on as Senior Hoffler Williams places the Honor Society tag on new inductee Senior Michael Messner. A committee is responsible for making a tag for every new member before the assembly.

HONOR SOCIETY: First Row — Michelle Roberts, Sabine Moore, Hart Miles, Christy White, Rob Singleton, Lloyd Clark, Jon Chapman, Chris Newton, Antoinette Stewart, Renita Hunter, Petra Wiggins, Janet Millar, Belinda Watkins. Second Row — Heidi Berenson, Casey Herget, Marilyn Andres, Mary Hampton Ferrel, Christy Dunn, Beth Shaw, Maureen Carlin, Kathleen Huggins, Nancy Ko, Kim Wood, Wendy McCloughy, Suk Rhee, Meg Korte, Helen Schwall. Third Row — Carson Satterfield, Mary Shaw, Renelle Risley, Leah Miller, Faith Eury, Julie Sparboe, Meagan Francis, Margaret Porter, Lucy Brown, Meg Deal. Fourth Row — Ashleigh Keener, Laura Nowell, Beth Crampton, Melissa Herring, Lisa Campell, Erica Payne, Dana McCall, Kristie Barksdale, Lisa Dingman, Tresa Elguera, Jodie McKenzie, Holly Mercer, David Lynch. Fifth Row — John Cella, Linda Fisher, Ricky Eiswirth, Tim Watson, Dominic McCoy, Bill McNairy, Marc Boyd, Kevin Lee, Jee Chappell, Randy Lewis. Sixth Row — Hugh Avera, Ed Burton, Clark Greene, Breth Batchelder, Caroline Farmer, Hoffler Williams, Andy Estes.

FALL INDUCTEES: First Row — Bill Buchanan, Ann Hyatt, Gina Johnson, Debbie Sisson, Lisa Roberts, Kristen Guillory, Yolanda Thompson, Amy Peterson, Dana Daughtry, Pam Davis, Claire Goodson, Kelly Daughtry, Stacy Pollard, Suzanne Jordan, Tricia Ges-

sner, Charlotte Gregory. Second Row — Katherine Boney, Lisa Permar, Susan Majors, Barbie Bernhard, Ford Shippey, Michael Messner, Kinsey McWilliams, Steven Boyd, De Smith, Connie Zaytoun, Laura Wagner, Emily Cowling. Third Row — Larissa Lewis,

Jenny Gibbs, Ray Smith, Thomas Caves, Jonathon Bolch, Crystal Williams, Nicole Simmons, Justine Kelley, Jakie Phillips, Mark Brenner, Michael Dickinson, Ken Johnson, Julie Joyner, Kent Perry, Gordon Stephenson, Chuck Williams. Fourth Row — Dayan

Levi, Andy White, Markham Carr, Kurt Brewer, Charles Miller, Charles Bell, Jim Wiley, Larry Lancaster, Matt Hamilton, David Head, Chris Bender, Lisa Radford, Sharon Watters, Matt Brown.

Unselfish Service

"We are striving to do activities for the school as well as the community to gain a reputation as an active service organization," explained Senior Mary Hampton Ferrell. Being inducted into the

"It's a great honor to be chosen by your peers."
— Suzanne Jordan.

Service Club is a high achievement; out of the many who apply, careful consideration goes into selecting the elite to this long established honorary organization. Having gained almost fifty new inductees this fall gave the Service Club a boost for the new year.

Services provided by the members are helping pass out apples to all the teachers the first day of school, holding an Olympic Dinner for the underprivileged children in the Spring and having "teacher pals" throughout the year to improve relationships between faculty and students," commented Junior Suzanne Jordan.

"It's an important honor to be recognized for all you do to help serve people, the school, and the community," remarked Senior Laura Rinne.

SERVICE CLUB MEMBERS: First Row — Harriet Stephenson, Beth Shaw, Chris Newton. Second Row — Kristi Dunn, Kevin Lee, Jess Chapell, Jon Chapman, Kim Fowlkes, Carson Satterfield, Lisa Permar, Julie Joyner, Charles English, Jakie Phillips, Caroline Frye, Connie Zaytoun, Sabine Moore, Casey Herget, Suzanne Jordan, Leah Miller, McClain

Selden, Renita Hunter, Mary Shaw, Petra Wiggins. Third Row — Amanda Tugman, Charles Bell, Hart Miles, Nicole Simmons, Mark Brenner, Benji Taylor, Lloyd Clark, Caroline Farmer, Marty Mitchell, Sarah Wilson, Beth Crampton, Laura Rinne, Erica Payne, Laura Nowell. Fourth Row — Tom Laney, Ken Harris, Chuck Williams,

Maureen Carlin, Cindy Valentine, Kristi Barksdale, Devin Steele, Jodi McKenzie, Scott Pearce, David DeBosky. Fifth Row — Russ Spry, Junior Bailey, Johnnie McConnel, Charlie Kennedy, Andy Brown, Allie Foulkrod, Matt Hamilton, Cal Hodge, son, Matt Brown.

Senior Harriet Stephenson extends congratulations to new Service Club member Junior Suzanne Jordan.

A STEP AHEAD

Not everybody takes meetings seriously. Kath Ramons, Lesha McClain and Yolanda Hott still find time to smile for the camera.

Singing a demanding solo, Tim Johnson demonstrates that he has reached excellence. The AAHC encourages it's member to aim high.

AFRO-AMERICAN HISTORY CLUB (first row) Yolanda Thompson, Krystal Peebles, David Hinton, Benny Stewart, James Hunter, Petra Wiggins, Andra Daughtery, Monique Merriweather, Princess Whitaker, Pam Chavis (second row) Dina Walker, Rosalind Jones, Valerie Harris, Mike Smith, Ashley Thompson, Antoinette Stewart, Kenya Lane, Rosalyn Frasier, Renita Hunter, Tiffany Hall, Cathy Winters, Crystal Williams (third row) Xavier Chavis, Peter Rusher, Jennifer Jones, Abdul Baker, Cheala Garland, Tracey Dixon, Tracey Carter, Tuan Chunn, Vicki Peterson (fourth row) Andre Smith, Joseph Williamson, Langston Horton, Joseph Jones, Miguel Shields, Michael Young, Derrick Holland, Crystal Glenn (last row) Ernie Davis

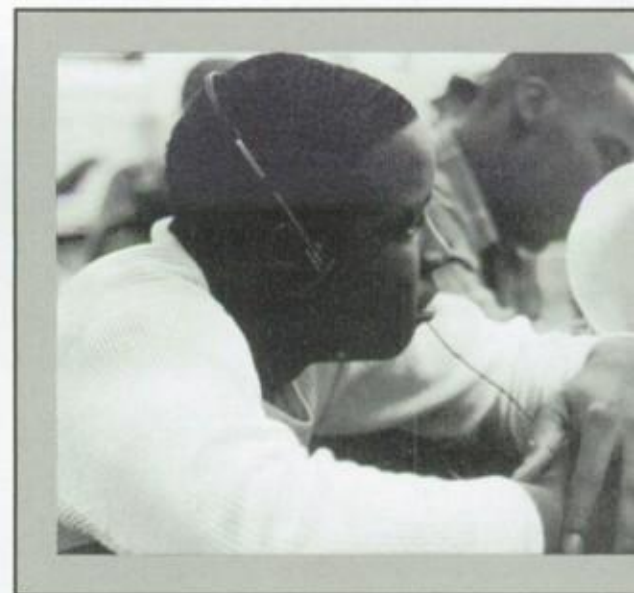

Need a few extra bucks? Or maybe just a little help making your money work for you? Then Broughton Distributive Education Club of America is for you! S Mark Garlof "It's a step up to bigger things, if you take advantage of it." One student not only took advantage of what DECA offered, but made it work for him. Sen Allin Foulkrod first competed on the school level and on to the state level, where he was elected Vice President of the North Carolina chapter. Did he stop there to rest on his laurels? No way! After traveling to places all over the USA, Allin won the national honor of first place in General Marketing, Supervising Level. Still, not letting his business genius cool for even a moment, he accepted speaking invitations to many places in order to prep his campaign for National President. Other students benefited also. "Like everyone else, we sold M & M's, we learned things that will give us a head start in the business world," said Ronnie King. Through the efforts of President of Broughton Chapter, Michelle Robb and advisor, Ms. Hooper, DECA had fun meeting new people while competing on the high school level. "It's been a wonderful experience!" explains Allin "It's helped me make my career decisions."

"It's helped me make my career decisions."

— Allin Foulkrod

Another club designed for the student achievement is the Afro-American History Club. "We offer a system of support that helps the student realize his or her potential and believe in themselves," said advisor Bill Curry. Advisor Ava Closs added "There are so many talented people in this school. We just help them realize their opportunities that are open to them." The Afro-American History Club kept the student body supplied with facts during Black History Month, as well as celebrating the great Martin Luther King's birthday by dressing in black. They also had an excellent tutoring program that covered a wide range of subjects. Raymond Perry, Jr. summed up plans to get one more step closer to his future by saying "Being in AAHC has inspired me to be what I want to be by doing my best. The whole world is open to me."

DECA (first row) Jean Metz, Amy Cotlas, Laura Hinky, Tiffany Hall (second row) Mark Garlof, Stephan Otto, Rick Garlof, Michelle Roberts (third row) Ronnie King, Stuart Shirey, Jim Capps, Allin Foulkrod.

A man with a future. Already Allin Foulkrod has won top national honors, as well as holding the position of NC's Vice President. Where to now, Allin? Could it be the Presidency?!

Shaw and Devin Steele ham it up after Service Club auctions.

While waiting for a tutor, Eddie Jays takes time to listen to a walk-man. (left) The AAHC proved to be invaluable by providing help in a wide range of subjects.

Three good friends dress in dark colors to celebrate the honorable Martin Luther King, Jr.'s birthday. Announcements were also made in commemoration of Black History Month.

DECA also provided leadership skills. It could have been hard following Allin's shadow, but Michelle Roberts used her Presidency to make the Broughton chapter shine on it's own.

Fine Arts

Winged Words- (wing'd wurdz) n. Outstanding literary contribution from Broughton's creative minds.

"Our club is extremely special because it provides students a unique chance to express themselves with other students who are interested in the same thing. It is an excellent creative outlet," stated advisor Mrs. Sally Smisson. Led by President Kelly Daughtry, Winged Words stayed busy all year offering activities for literary enrichment. Their first project was a guest speaker, Professor Sidney Knowles. "I thought his speech was good and I learned a lot, but he talked too long," said Sophomore Hadley Eure. Winged Words also sponsored a poetry reading in which the students participated. Faculty, family and fellow students attended. Exclaimed Senior Penn Dillon, "My English teacher gave me extra credit to come, but it wasn't too bad. I can't believe that high school students wrote some of that stuff. I was really surprised at how good it was!"

Walking down the halls you saw someone wearing a ragged shirt, torn pants and painted with a two-day stubble. A bum at Broughton? No, it's an Art Club member! This

"What makes this club so wonderful is the same thing that makes Broughton so extraordinary--we're learning and having fun at the same time!"

Katherine Kennedy

Halloween the Art Club paraded the halls decked in their best bum costumes. "Everyone jokes about how nice I look today," laughed Junior Leslie Tyner. In addition, the Art Club celebrated Christmas selling Santa-grams, their major funds raiser. "Our Christmas project is my favorite 'cause Ms. Banker just turns us loose and lets us decorate the Santa-grams any way we want. It's soooo creative!" bubbled Suzy Marshall. The Art Club also sold calendars designed by second period art students. "Our main goal is not to make money," explained President Amy Brickhouse. "It's to have a good time."

Talent wasn't the only thing that made Winged Words and the Art Club special. "The people" was the people. "We spend half the time talking about poetry and short stories and the other half just talking. It's great!" described Junior Connie Zaytoun. Katherine Kennedy added, "What makes this club so wonderful is the same thing that makes Broughton so extraordinary — we're learning and having fun at the same time!"

WINGED WORDS-(First Row) Meg Chenery, Erin Tracy, Kristen Ruggles, Alan Hill (Back Row) Mary Jo

Brown, Jason Outlaw, Hadley Eure, Suk Rhee, Beth Battle, Hans Enders, James Hunter, Rob Sealy, David

Lynch, Bobby Brown, Amy Crooke, Tina Powell, McClain Selden

Speaking on what he looks for in literature, Professor Sidney Knowles addresses the Winged Words members. He was their first guest speaker of the year.

Preparing to design a poster to sell Santa-grams, Jennifer Fuller, Penn Dillon and Leslie Tyner man their rulers. The Art Club thrived on its members' participation.

ART CLUB-(First Row) Suzy Marlin, Erin Barksdale, Ms. Maureen Banker (Second Row) LeeAnn Camp, Shannon Lawrence, Ashley Keaner, Kim Melich, Evie Merrick, Teresa Walters, Sara Soloman (Third Row)

Veda Renfrow, Becky Carter, Nancy Ko, Amy Brickhouse, Leslie Tyner, Lynn Parramore, Kim Soloman

On Key

Lots of hard work and many hours of practice were responsible for the professional sounds that the student body enjoyed during assemblies and concerts. The Orchestra, keeping in tradition, accompanied the Chorus during the Christmas Concert on the "Hallelujah Chorus" as well as performing several pieces on their own. This group also set its goals on a competition at Washington, D.C. in the Spring.

"Orchestra is my favorite period of the day because it's so relaxing," explained senior Monique Merriwether. "I love being able to play the violin and rest during that time."

The Symphonic Wind Ensemble was another group that provided us with beautiful melodies. It was composed of mostly upperclass band members selected through an audition held by director Mr. Jeffery Richardson. They practiced numerous hours both during school and at home on music of the highest level. Dawn Wizowaty commented, "I got the chance to master my instrument, and I had fun at the same time."

Concert Band worked just as hard as the Symphonic Wind Ensemble and had an equal amount of fun. It provided a good outlet for students trying out for next year's Wind Ensemble.

Upperclass band members were chosen for Jazz Ensemble by director Mr. Jeffery Richardson. They practiced hours after school on pieces capturing the mood of the 1940's. All four groups put in much dedicated work and took their music seriously. It was thanks to the efforts of these talented students that we were able to enjoy music of excellent quality throughout the year.

The long hours spent practicing were apparent as orchestra members Nichole Enders and Susan Majors perform during an assembly. The orchestra also devoted much of its time toward preparing for state contests.

CONCERT BAND: First Row — Lisa Carter, Kathy Turner, Julie Snyder, Melissa Taylor, Leigh Anne Gauin, Amy Walker, Stephanie Anouilh, Amanda Harris, Tamara Federici, Jeanne Barton, Liana Ettridge. Second Row — Verlinda Stallings, Beth Freezor, James McLawlon, Melinda Taylor, Courtney Watson, Melanie Anouilh, Heidi Weaver, Suzanne Virtue, Traci Dixon, Dawn Wisowaty, Laura Mohr. Third Row — Krystal Glenn, Tuan Chunn, Deanna Davis, Candi Byrd, Selliva Manley, Thomas Brinley, Derek Hollard, Randy Grisson, Jennifer Davis, Danielle Dunn, John Taylor. Fourth Row — Chris Chappell, Geof Barndt, Chesley Price, Brooks Denmark, Tim Smith, Sandy Vitaglione, Chris Hall, Evan Richardson, Jay Berenson, Jennifer Hoffman, Angie Harris, Richard Campbell, Carrie Dow. Fifth Row — Tim Mock, Gavin Hall, Ernie Davis, Mike Martin, Chris Hampton.

SYMPHONIC WIND ENSEMBLE: First Row — Susan Dearborn, Sally Hadley, Suzy Roberts, Kim Walker, Tricia Gesener, Sara Raynor, Jenny Gibbs, Katherine Boney, Kristi Barksdale, Kim White, Molly Briggs. Second Row — Thomas Caves, Paula Falcone, Erin

Barksdale, Winn Stahel, Barbie Bernhard, Meg Deal, Leigh Kemp, Elizabeth Lee, Jeanette Juriewicz, Elizabeth Prire. Third Row — Tim Mcallister, Kristen Thomasson, Guy Vitaguone, Zach Schroeder, Christian Bernhard, Scott Hardesty, Bob Ramseur, Desiron

Young, Barbara Bono, Susan DeKarske. Fourth Row — Asle Lokken, Lee Hinton, Suzanne Szlajus, Robbie Knox, Mark Lindsay, Kevin Lee, Billy McDowell. Fifth Row — Abdul Baker, Dana McCall, Clark Johnson, James Hunter, Tom Reichstetter, Gregg Lee, David

Harrell, Evan Sanches, Joey Leveille, Jeff Hinton. Sixth Row — Allen Hill, Zeke Creech, Joey Harres, Robert Axtell, Jeff Robertson, Don Griffies, Billy McDowell, Mike Curlee, Mike Anderson.

Without missing a note, Nikki Scandalus and other students fill the auditorium with the sound of Christmas. Many music groups performed holiday selections as the season approached.

JAZZ ENSEMBLE: Saxes — Robert Axell, Elizabeth Price, Gavin Hall, Billy Duncan, Tom Reichstetter. Trumpets — Dana McCall, Evan Sanchez, Don Griffes, Guy Vitaglione, David Harrell. Trombones — Joey LeVille, Clark Johnson, Billy McDowell, James McLawlon. Rhythm — Scott Hardesty, Laura Wagner, Thomas Caves, Gregg Lee.

ORCHESTRA: First Row — Hans Enders, Diedra Martin, Dottie Thornton, Ann Hyatt, Steve Boyd, Rob Sharer. Second Row — Nicholas Enders, Gordon Smith.
Third Row — Mrs. McCullum, Angela Gomes, Elizabeth Sparrow, Charlotte Gregory, Nikki Scandalias, Susan Majors, Soni Smith, Tina Powell.

Getting The Job Done

"I feel that the Stage Crew is a relatively unheralded yet integral part of Broughton which facilitates the ease with which

"It requires an unselfish sort of student who will unbegrudgingly and regretfully be called on to miss certain class periods."

Andrew Donadio

school functions are held. Setting up chairs, laying down the mat and pulling out bleachers are just a few of the strenuous duties we regularly carry out before and after each assembly. It requires an unselfish sort of student who will unbegrudgingly and regretfully be called on to miss certain class periods after each assembly. We love it!" explained Junior Andrew Donadio.

Working in conjunction with the Stage Crew, the Technical Support Crew was responsible for all the audio-visual equipment used at school functions. They helped videotape the athletic events and helped operate the P.A. systems.

The House and Grounds Committee worked hard to keep the school clean and beautiful. They sponsored clean-up days and did such things as paint signs, speed bumps, and trash barrels. Trimming hedges, removing unsightly trash, planting grass and flowers, and generally making the campus attractive were a few of the generous things the House and Grounds Committee did.

Another important organization at Broughton, the Emergency Preparedness Committee was responsible for organizing and conducting fire and disaster drills. They also drew up fire routes and posters for every room in the school.

TECHNICAL SUPPORT CREW: First Row — Cal Hodgson. Second Row — Joey Leville, Mark Boyd. Third Row — Lee Hinton, Daniel Donochod. Fourth Row — Scott Fillbrook, David Deboskey, Todd Sanders.

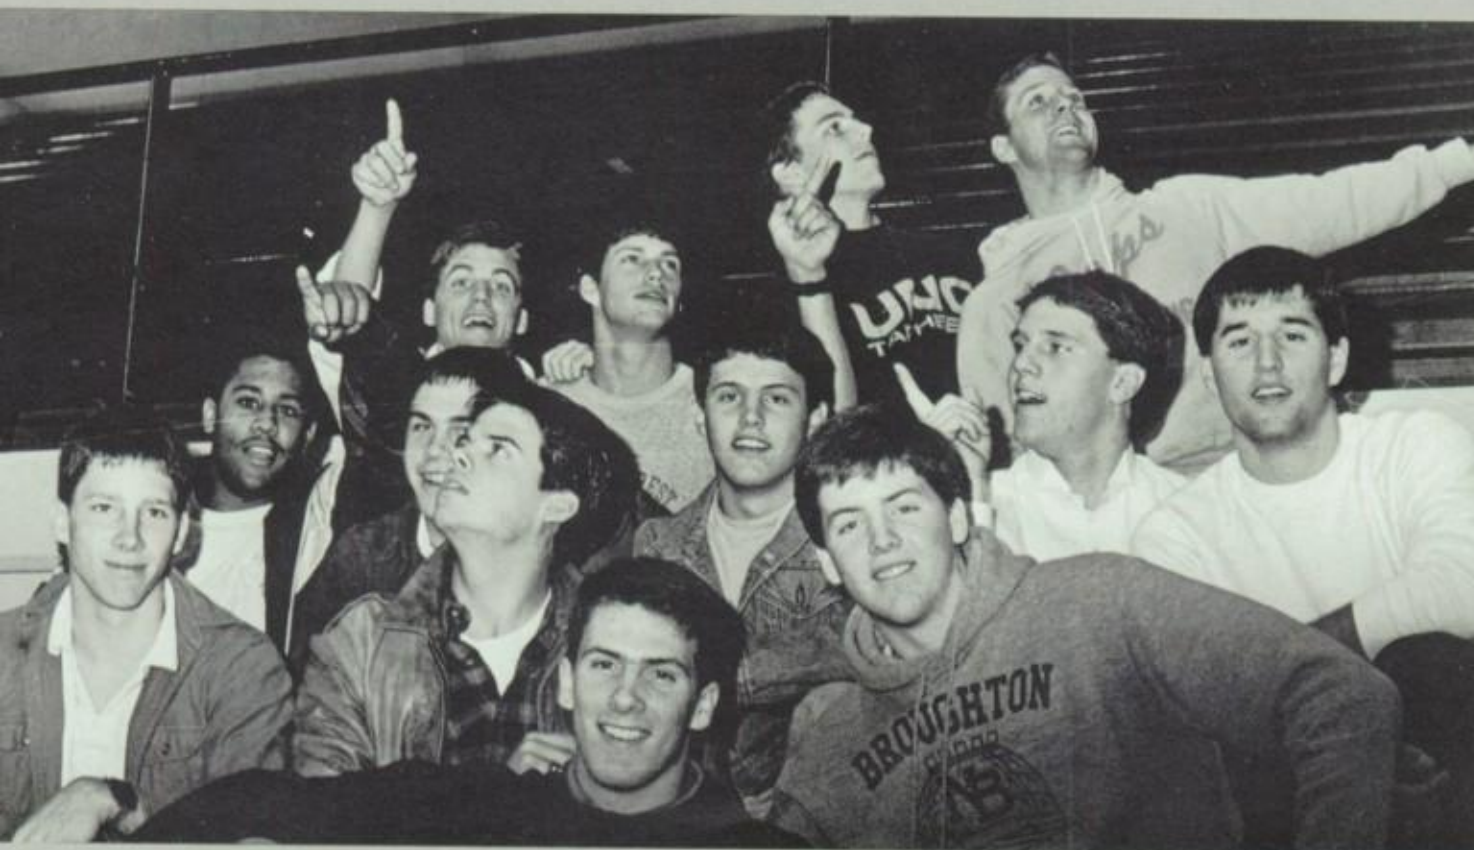

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS COMMITTEE: First Row — Kevin Cummings, Charles English, Henry Young, Steve Exum. Second Row — Jeana Johnson, David Head, Lance Miller, Wes Hamilton, Andy Brown. Third Row — Sara Wilson, Skip Coon, Tim Clougherty. Fourth Row — Laura Mills, Jeff Rival, Matt Brown, Markham Carr, Chuck Williams.

HOUSE AND GROUNDS COMMITTEE: First Row — Erin Barksdale, Caleb Smith, Jeana Johnson, Caroline Fry, Dana McCall, Suzanne Jordan, Laura Nowell, Benji Taylor. Second Row — Elizabeth Lee, Hugh Avera, Kristie Barksdale, Casey Hergett. Third Row — Jodi McKenzie, Linda Fisher, Sara Wilson, CeCe Bailey, Tom Laney. Fourth Row — Lee Hinton, Charles English, Wes Hamilton, Mark Hilpert, Devin Steele, John Cella. Fifth Row — Jeff Reval, Matt Brown, Chuck Williams, Johnnie McConnell, Hart Miles, Ken Johnson. Not Pictured — Leah Millar.

Directing Senior Jason Smith, Senior Hugh Avera helps set up the stage lights for a school function. Both the Stage Crew and Tech Crew help make the plays and production a success

STAGE CREW: First Row — Andrew Donadio. Second Row — Hugh Avera, Jim Wiley, Bennett Funderburk. Third Row — Charles English, Tim Clougherty, Skip Cook, Charlie Kennedy, Henry Young. Fourth Row — Jason Smith, Lance Miller, Chris Whitaker.

Minds Over Matter

The Science Club, Math Team, and Quiz Bowl teams are organizations for the academically oriented student. "The Science Club promotes good studies, has encouraged me to do better and has given me the drive to want more out of myself in science," explained Junior Raymond Perry. The Science Club visits N.C. State University to evaluate classes in science. With new ideas in mind, the club members are looking to get a tutorial program started to help all students.

The Math Team is a very competitive team that spent a lot

"It gives you the chance to challenge yourself to learn more."

Raymond Perry

of time getting ready for the National Math Test in the spring and the regional competitions. The members received weekly problems to compute and solve.

The Quiz Bowl Team gave its members a chance to exhibit their knowledge. They competitively participated in a combination of in-school as well as county-wide competitions. These competitions allowed the members to demonstrate their familiarity with important events and varied subjects. Advisor Mrs. Barnes encouraged the team to read frequently and helped them stay informed of current events and expand their knowledge into other areas.

You don't have to be a "brat" to be in these challenging clubs, but an intellectual. Competing with other schools, as well as each other, is tough work. The students deserve more than words can say.

MATH TEAM — First Row: Robert Brown, Jeff Vandercam, Ashleigh

Keener, Ben Eggleston, Jackie Mittlestaedt, Suzanne Jordan. Second Row:

Andy Pipkin, Tim Smith, Johnathon Bolch, Zach Johnson, Bill McNairey, Ford Shippey.

QUIZ BOWL — First Row: Robert Brown, Mark Boyd, Raymond Perry, Andy Este. Second Row: Bill McNairey, Johnathon Bolch, Rob Singleton, Ford Shippey.

Mrs. Burcher helps Freshman Kitty Meares on a Biology lab. Many students experimented with microscopes in science classes.

SCIENCE CLUB — First Row: Stephen Boyd, Alfred Winner, Tammy Cook, Raymond Perry, Second Row: Ray Smith, Eben Nash, Anthony Scott. Third Row: Antoinette Stewart, April Mial.

PAD SM

THAT FROM PARENT

A Contract for I Between Parent and The SADD Drinking

I agree to call you for how, from any place have been drinking has been drinking

Teenager

Parent

I agree to asked to to be at a

IT'S O.K.
NOT TO DRINK

TY ART

"I'm a student, and I'm proud to be against drunk driving!" This sentiment expressed by Junior Sarah Carlson was one shared by many students as the first year of SADD-Students Against Drunk Driving got underway. "It's a great organization, but it needs more support," said Junior Bill Buchanan. Building membership was a high priority for the charter group. Meetings during lunch and after school gained more and more participants as the organization gained publicity. Junior Julie Joyner explained, "It's an important cause. I don't feel it gets enough exposure though. I do know we need to get involved and do something about it."

Students tried to inform their peers of the dangers of driving drunk through shocking statistics and the December twelfth SADD day. T-shirts and bumper stickers bearing the SADD message were sold to raise funds for the group.

"SADD doesn't set out to tell students not to drink-that's their business. We just don't want them to endanger their lives or anyone else's by driving drunk," commented the club's advisor Ms. Sylvia White. Senior Angie Sikes summed up the goal of SADD by saying, "We know there's no way we're going to even begin to end the problem of drunk driving, but at least we know we are doing our part to help it."

IT'S O.K.
NOT TO DRINK

IT'S O.K.
NOT TO DRINK

ON OF MOTOR VEHICLE EXPIRES YEAR
87 392
USE ONLY

SADD: First Row-Jakie Philips, Julie Johnson, Paige Barefoot, Erin Tracey, Karen Kish, McClain Selden, Dana Daughtry, Stephanie Tardiff Second Row-Tom Laney, Lee Highsmith, Amy Peterson, Charlotte Gregory, Rob Sealey, Mark Brenner, Becky Carter Third Row-Kristen Thomasson, Ann Hiatt Fourth Row-Angie Sikes, Maureen Carlin, Lara Lovingood, Meredith Griffin, Sylvia White

OOPS! THIS IS ANOTHER OF THE PAGES WE HAD TO REDO THREE WEEKS BEFORE SCHOOL ENDED

Copy Sheet

THIS SHEET IS TO BE USED FOR ONE LAYOUT PAGE ONLY

SCHOOL BROOKTON HIGH PAGE 116 Sheet 1 of 1 JOB NO. 870435

PLEASE CIRCLE TYPESTYLE FOR THIS PAGE.

Korinna LATIN EXTRA CONDENSED

PICA ELITE

Linotext

Mellor

Metrolite

Optima

Palatino

Avant Book

Baskerville

Bodoni

Shell Roundhand

Souvenir

Times Roman

Monotype Script

Garamond

Helvetica

Nobody ever said it was going to be easy. New staff members were warned, but most laughed it off. Old staff members rolled their eyes at such youthful optimism while voicing vague grumblings over "Why I'm doing this again?" But when the year was over and the book was done, the shellshocked staffers were filled with a pride that words can't describe.

Staff members walked out of class the first day exclaiming "Homework! In yearbook? That's against the law!" But before the book could even start to be put together, staffers had to know how to write copy, use a cropper, draw three and four column layout, measure in picas, program a computer, and many other things that some ad-dled staffers just couldn't get it all together. Technical questions like "How, is it six picas to the inch, or six inches to the pica, or six characters to the pica, or six points to the character, or what?" left Editor Andy White muttering about moving to Canada. Assistant Editors Jon Chapman and Tresa Elguera usually jumped on him during his mad dashes for the window, and pinned him down as he wept.

Ah, the worknights. Seeing fifteen to twenty cars parked on the front lawn in front of trailer 503 until ten or eleven assistant editors, who had been waiting outside the door.

There were good times, though. Going out for pizza with Hunter Publishing representative Joe Allegood, and those worknights were fun in a perverted sense. Overall, it was a good experience, we'd do it again. To sum it up: When you say @#%*?!, you've said it all.

↑ JAKIE PHILIPS + MARK BRENNER

↓ BEGIN TYPING AT THIS LINE ↓

↑ MUST BE NEATLY TYPED. DOUBLE SPACE ALL COPY. NO HANDWRITTEN COPY WILL BE ACCEPTED.

☐ ITALIC

☐ BOLD

DOUBLE SPACE ALL COPY. NO HANDWRITTEN COPY WILL BE ACCEPTED.

SPECIFY UNDERLINE COPY WHETHER TO BE BOLD OR ITALIC.

DO NOT TYPE IN THIS MARGIN

70

84

AG 1987 LATIPAC STAFF
 EDITOR: ANDY WHITE
 ASSISTANT EDITORS: JON CHAPMAN, TRESA ELGUERA
 STUDENT LIFE: JAKIE PHILLIPS, MARK BREWER, NANCY SNYDER
 ADS: JENNIE JONES, LARISSA LEWIS, MARCI BERNSTEIN, MISSY STOUTT
 CURRICULUM: KELLY DAUGHTRY, LISA CAMPBELL, BECKY CARTER ORGANIZATIONS: DANA DAUGHTRY, MCCLAIN SELDEN, ALISON WICKHAM
 PORTRAITS: LINDA FISHER, WENDY MAY, APRIL MIAL, DE SMITH
 SPORTS: MICHAEL DICKINSON, LEIGH FORRIS, TOM LANEY, DERRICK RACEY
 PHOTOGRAPHERS: RANDY LEWIS, SCOTT CHAPMAN, ANDY BROWN
 STEVE EXUM, RICK KERNAN, NOT ME

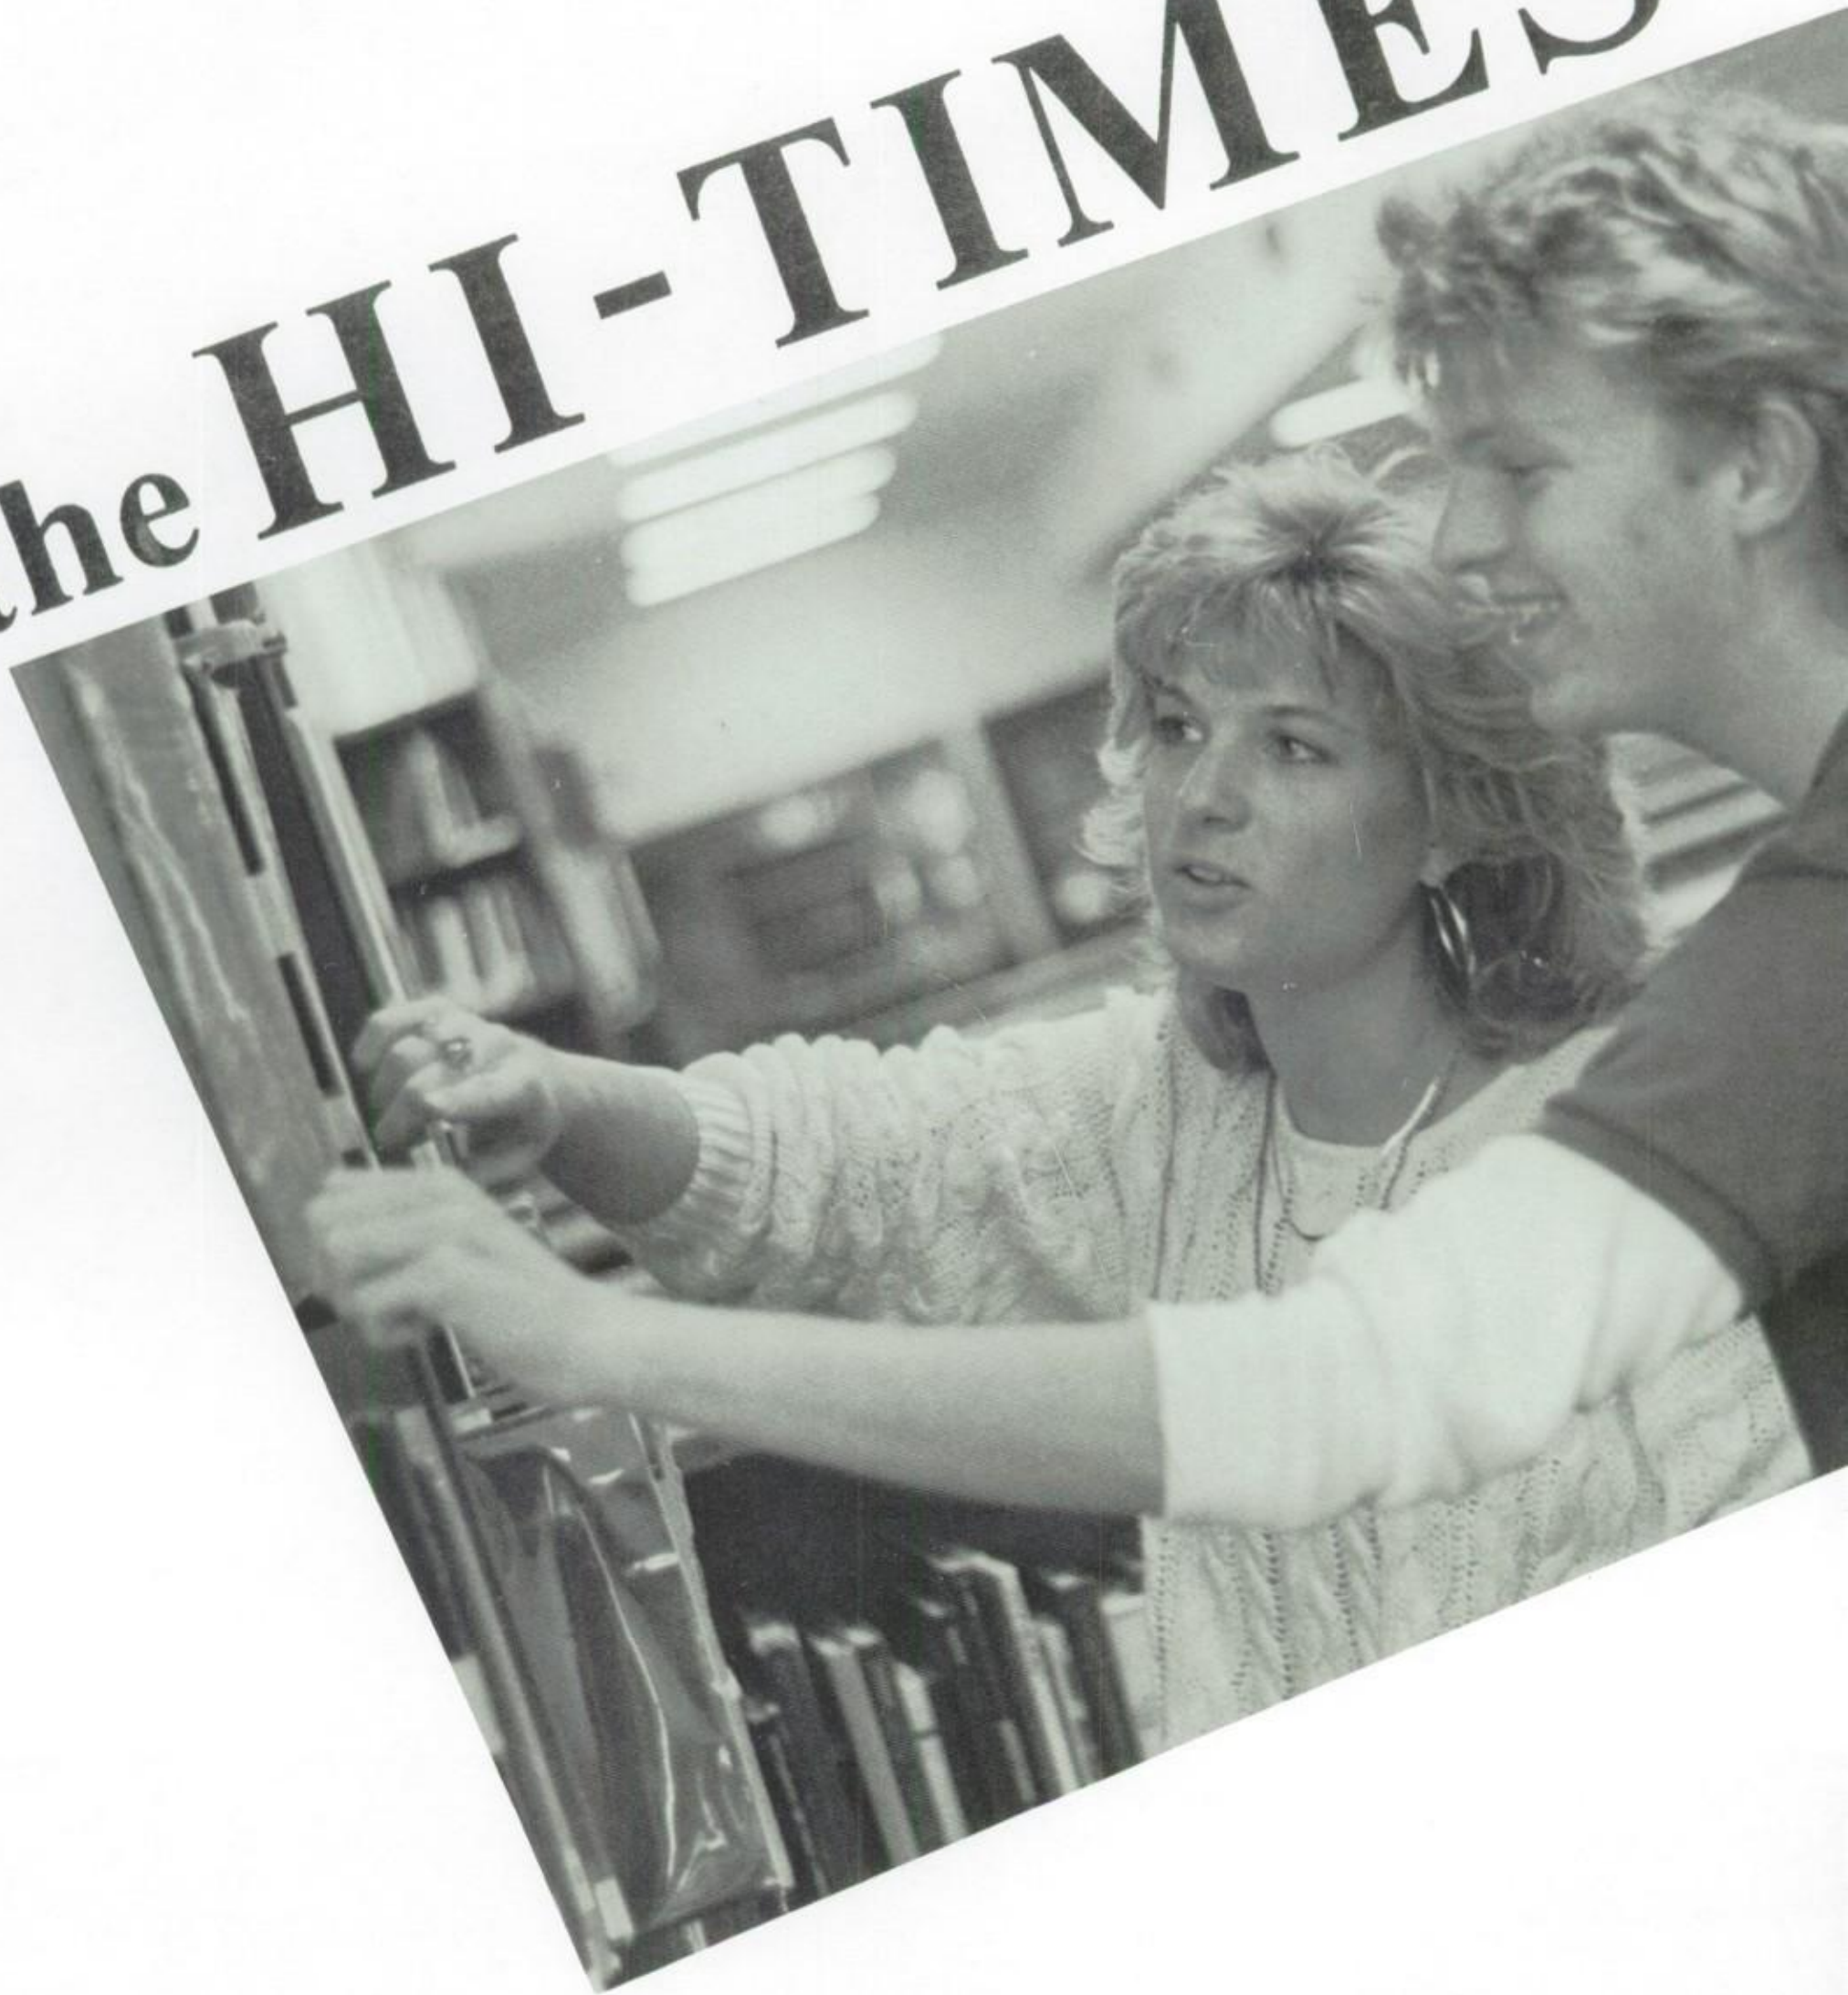

TOM LANEY
 LISA CAMPBELL
 ANDY BROWN

THE STAFF

the HI-TIMES

Copy Sheet

THIS SHEET IS TO BE USED FOR ONE LAYOUT PAGE ONLY SCHOOL BROUGHTON

PAGE 119 JOB NO. 435
Sheet 1 of 1

The following standards will be used if you prefer Headlines: 24 pt.
Folios or Page Nos.: 8 pt.

Please indicate Typefaces below beside each

PICA	5	10	15	20
ELITE	6	12	18	24

STANDARDS

I choose to use standards below ☐ Yes ☐ No
10 pt. — 2 point leaded
Identifications: 8 pt. solid or set to fit.

THE 1987 HI-TIMES STAFF WAS:

MANAGING EDITOR
KRISTEN GUILLOT

NEWS EDITOR
PENA WICKINS

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
MARTY MITCHELL

FEATURES EDITOR
ANGIE SIKES

SPORTS EDITOR
MAURLEEN CARLIN

GRAPHIC ARTISTS
LENZO BERRY
BEN DILLON

PHOTOGRAPHER
MICHAEL KORNEGAY

TYPISTS RENITA HUNTER
KENYA LANE ADVISOR

IZIAZ ANDRADE RACI DEWID
DEBBIE Sisson

THE REST OF THE STAFF
DARLA BROWN
JULIE FOLKEN
MARIA WATSON

MRS JANE NORTON
CHRIS CLARK
GINGER WOOD
KIM

THANKS, Y'ALL

AL INSTRUCTIONS

ACCURATE — CORRECTIONS COST TIME AND MONEY!

A

LCHEMY (AL'KE-ME) N. POWER OF TRANSFORMING SOMETHING COMMON INTO SOMETHING SPECIAL. SEE ALSO: AWESOME, EXCEL, SPEC
TACULAR, EFFORT, OUTSTANDING ENERGETIC, BREATHTAKING.

Words
Can't Describe
It

S P O R T S

During a break at swim practice, Mark Brenner catches up on his history homework. Because of the extra time school sports demanded, students were forced to discipline their time.

And they're off! At the shot of a gun, the cross country team begins a race. This meet determined that Broughton would be the conference champions.

120-Words Can't Describe It

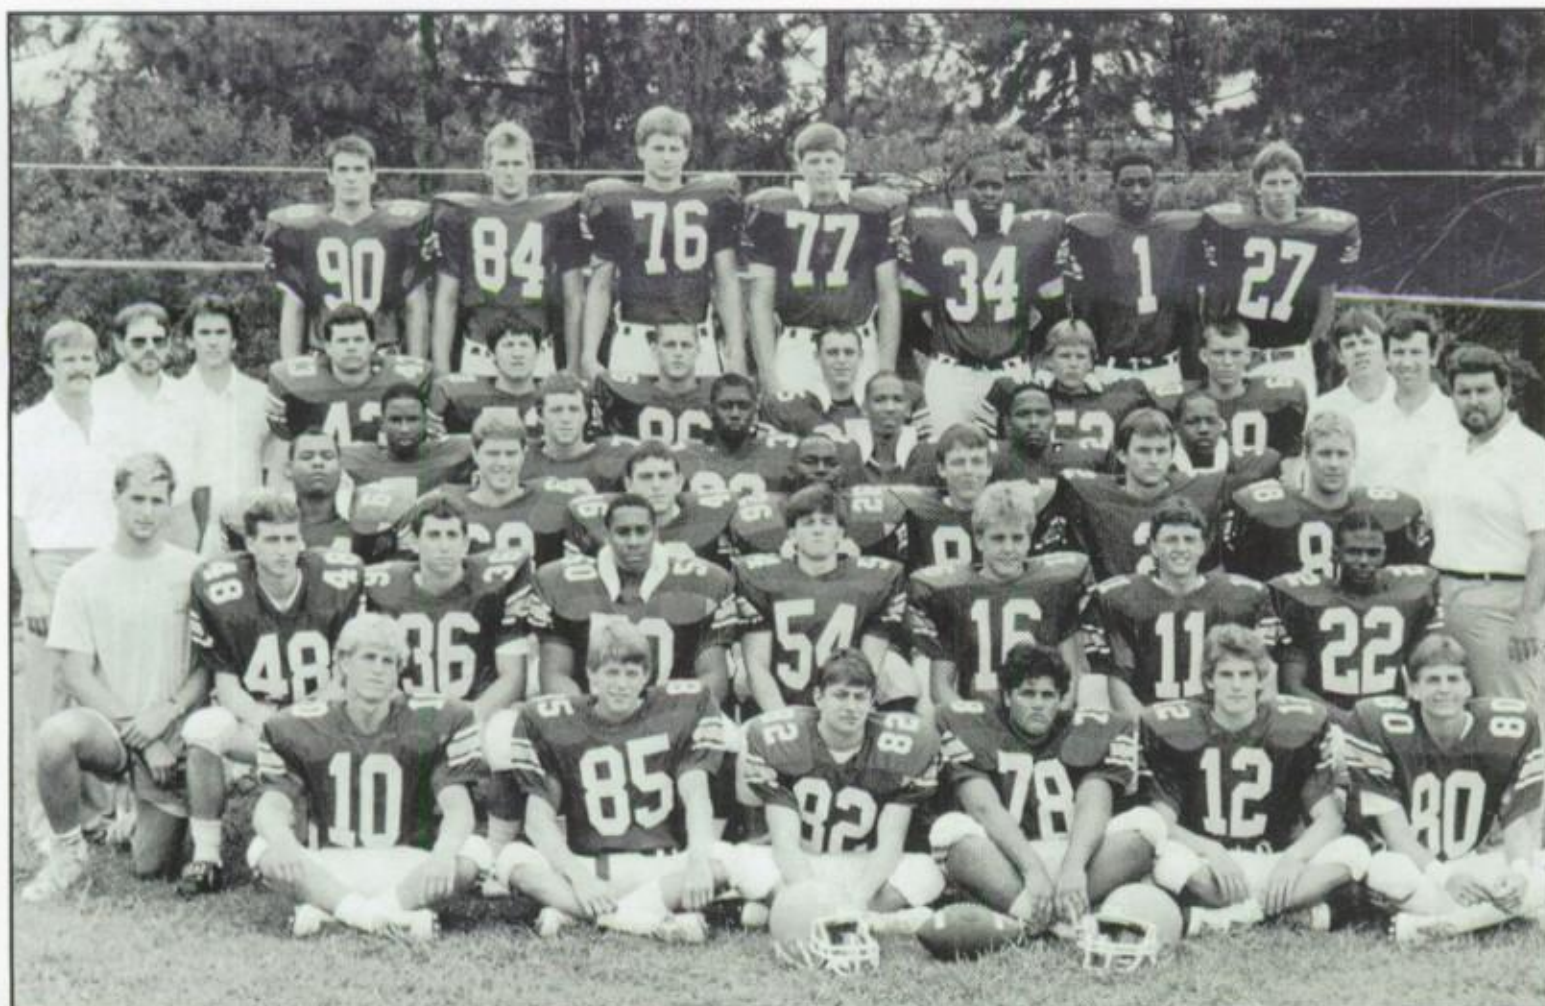

Preparing to return a serve, Sena Parish eyes toward the net. The girls tennis team played well this year.

A Positive Attitude Makes for a Winning Season

"This was a season that all the players could be proud of," remarked Coach Lee Thornburg. Who couldn't help but agree with this comment? It seemed that everyone was proud to talk about Broughton football this year. Coming back strong from last year's disappointing record of 4 and 6, the Caps finished 7 and 3, earning them respect from other conference teams. This year's team was heavily strengthened by returning players, Kevin Lancaster, Mike Smith, and Dennis Peebles. After winning the season opener and boosting the team and crowd's spirit, the players went on to complete a winning season.

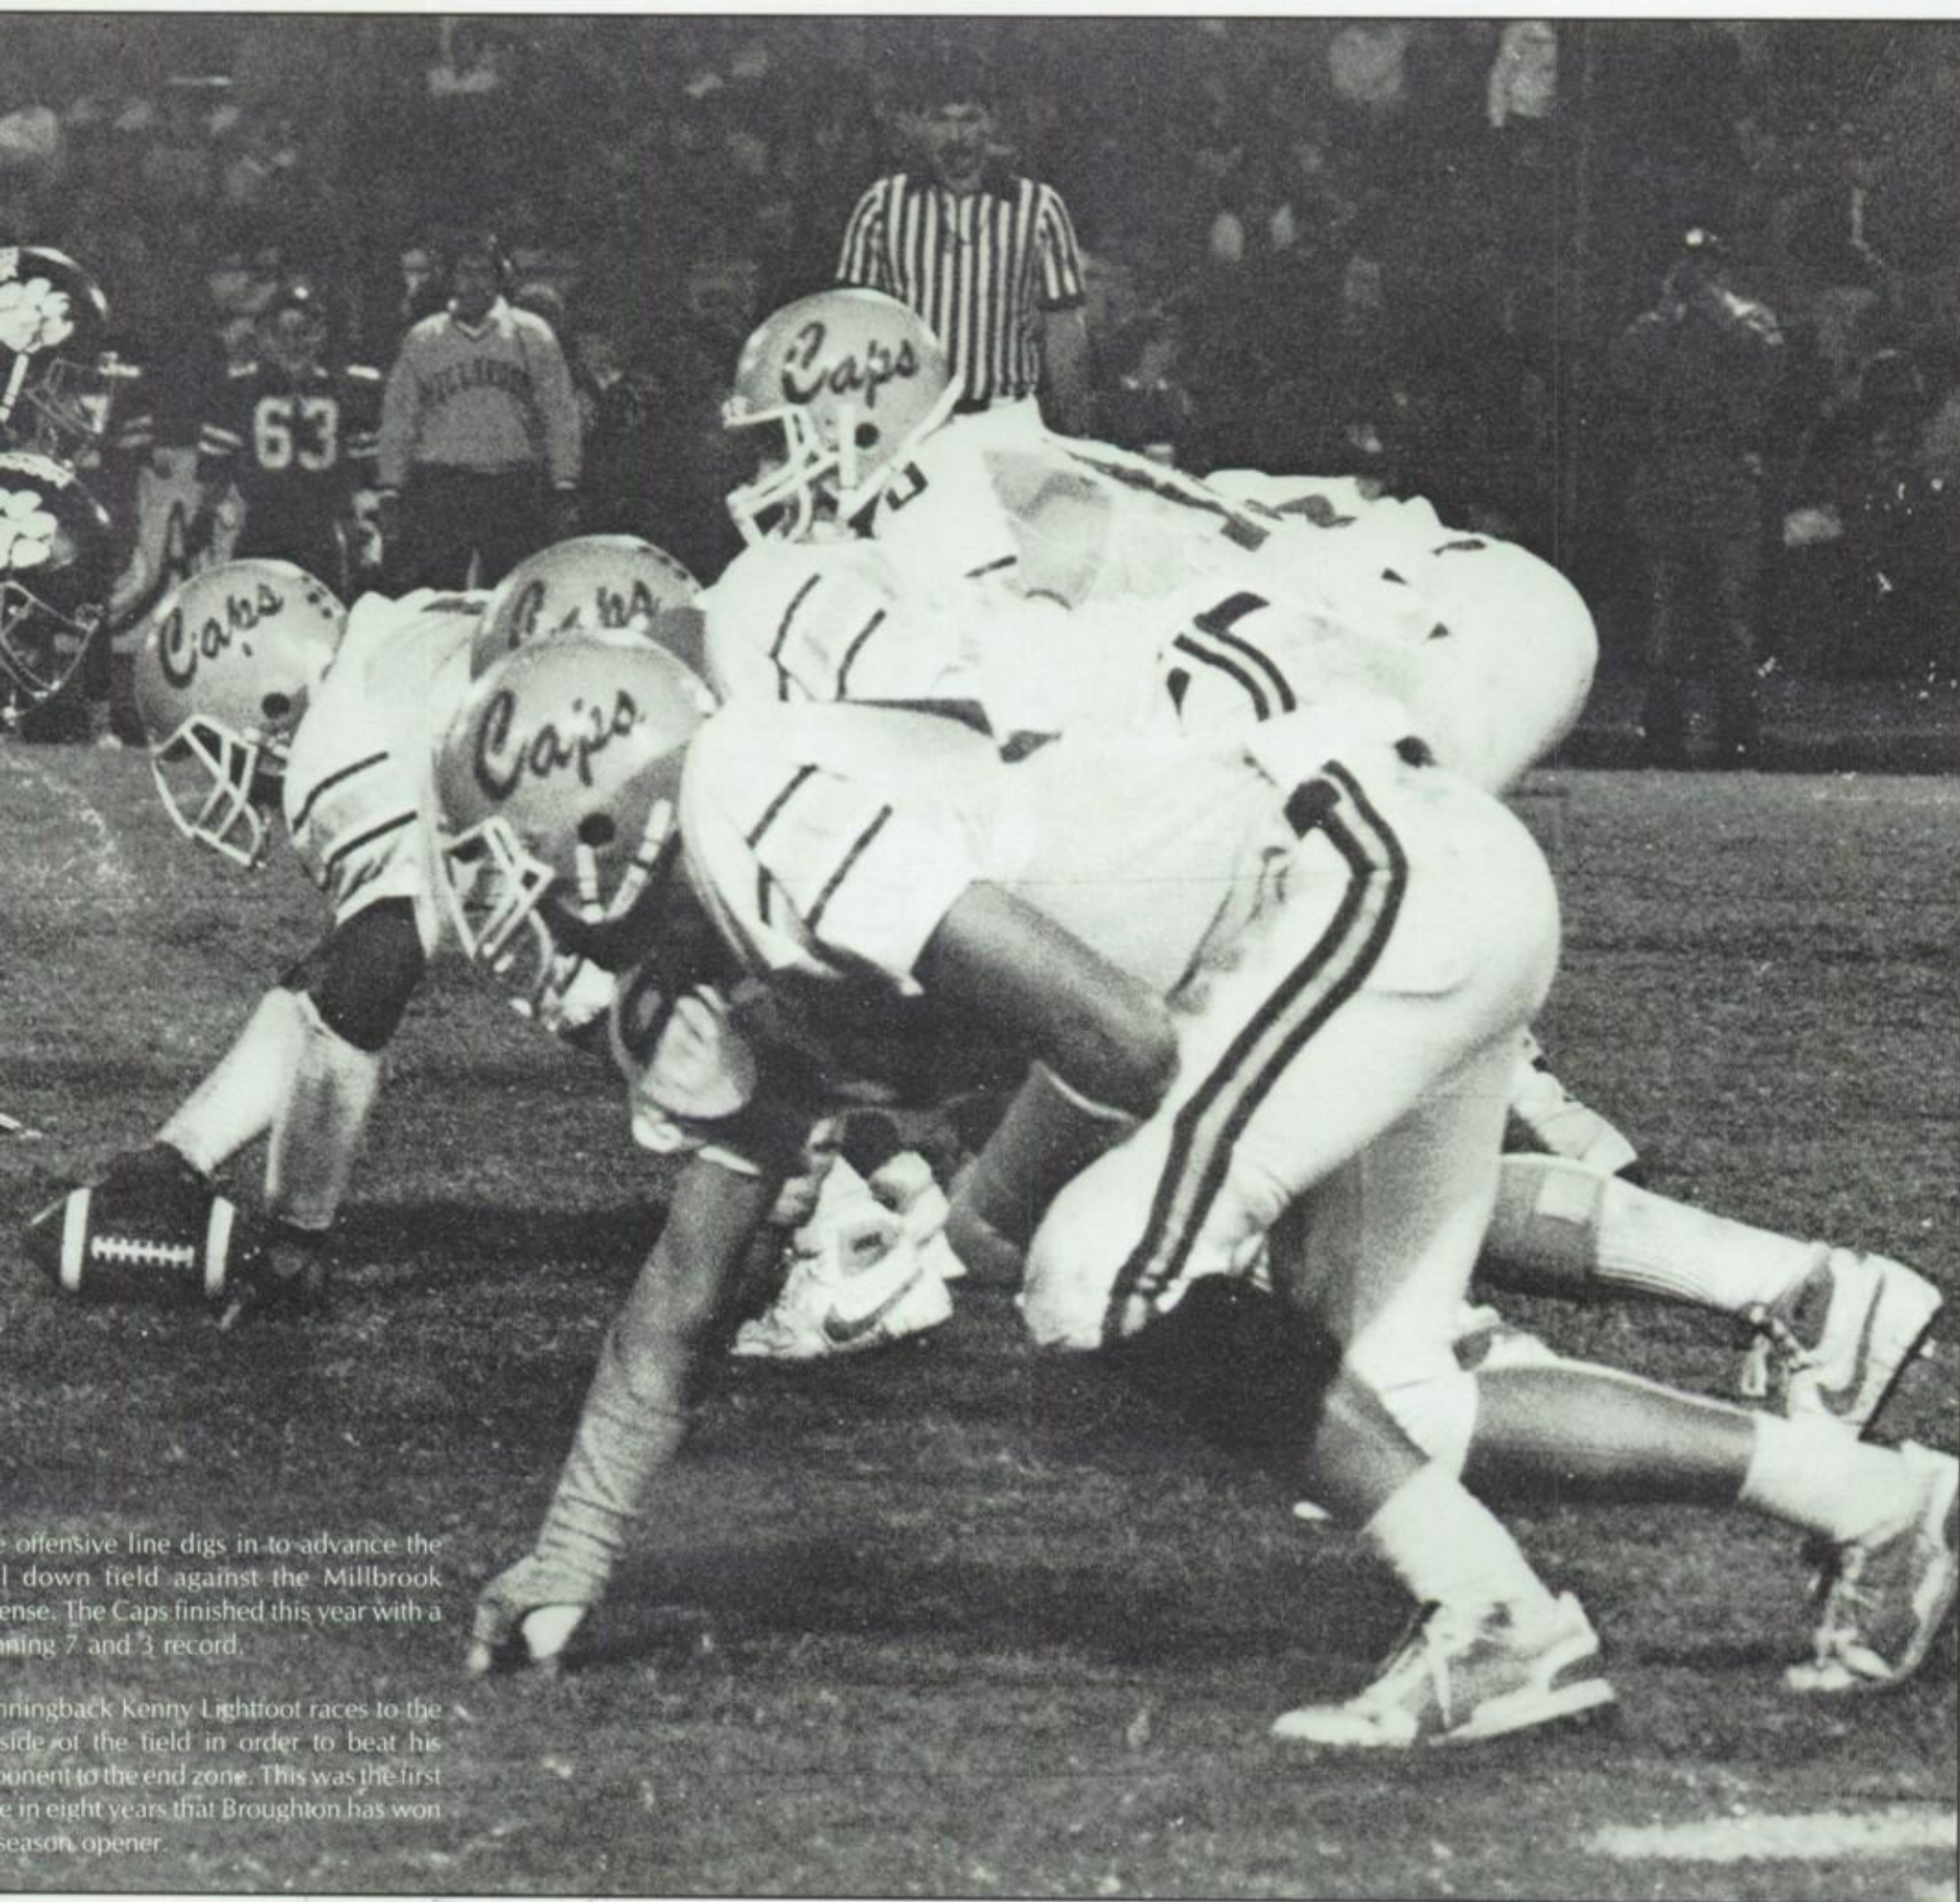

The Cap's morale was aided by the crowd's enthusiasm. "It's a lot easier to play the game when the students have a positive attitude towards our football team," commented Quarterback Kevin Lancaster. Under the coaching of Henry Trevathan the football team regained the self-confidence that it needed to establish itself as a major power in the Cap 9 conference. "This was the first time in eight years that we have won the season opener," boasted Center Charles English. With accomplishments like this, the team overcame the previous losing seasons and rebuilt the football program into a powerful force.

Varsity Football Team - 1st Row: Kevin Lancaster, Ricky Eisworth, Brian Edwards, Naryan Kapil, Ronny King, Jimmy Boykin. 2nd Row: Manager Henry Young, Johnny Reese, Doug Esposito, Charles English, Buzz Newman, Chris Samuels, Todd Ridge, Dominick McCoy. 3rd Row: Coach Henry Trevathan, Victor Glover, Charlie Kennedy, Pat Clougherty, Rhoderick Fleming, Lance Miller, Kemp Hunt, Chris Whitaker, Coach Mike Merrit. 4th Row: Coach Stan Causby, Pete Cheeks, David Pierce, Chris Moore, Dennis Peebles, Kenny Lightfoot, Kerwin Hinton, Coach Danny Bollick. 5th Row: Coach Jack Spain, Jason Kringe, Joey Sinnema, John DeAngelis, Tim Clougherty, David Head, Tom Cummings, Coach Larry Hoxie. 6th Row: Andrew Donadio, Kevin Cummings, Bret Batchelor, Bennett Funderburk, Mike Smith, Phillip Schuller, Hugh Avera.

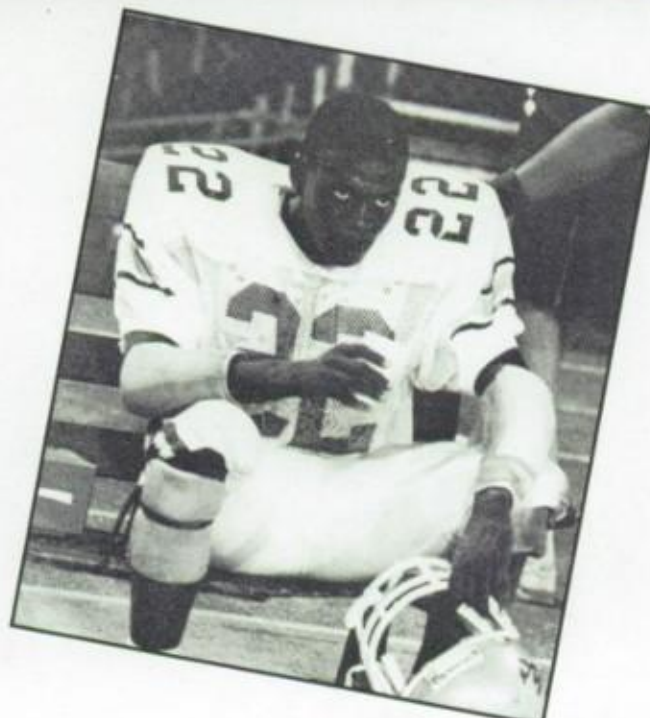

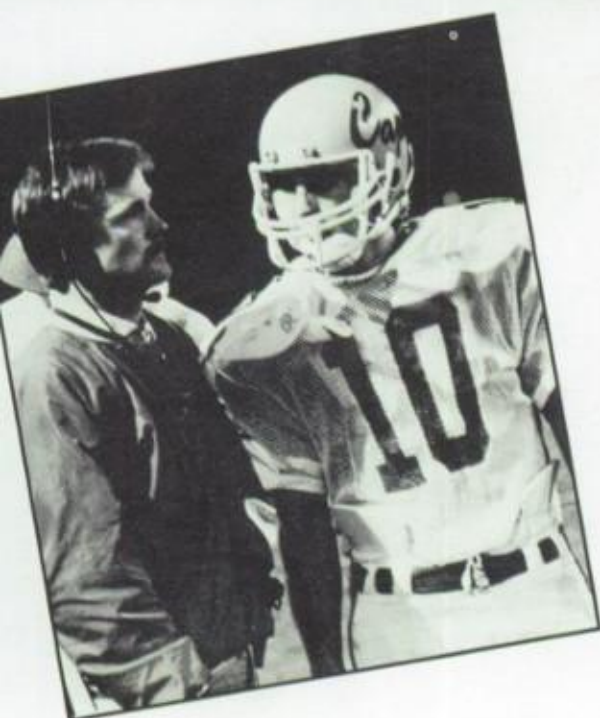

Coach Trevathan discusses which play to use next with Quarterback Kevin Lancaster. The team became a major force in the Cap 9 conference this year.

Taking a break from the action, Dominick McCoy gets a chance to check out the defense. The fans' support was very important to the attitude of the team this season.

offensive line digs in to advance the ball down field against the Millbrook defense. The Caps finished this year with a winning 7 and 3 record.

Runningback Kenny Lightfoot races to the end zone of the field in order to beat his opponent to the end zone. This was the first time in eight years that Broughton has won season opener.

1986 Varsity Football

BHS	Opponent
9	Lee Co.	6
10	Wilson Pike	0
21	Sanderson	0
37	Enloe	0
21	Athens Drive	27
13	Cary	12
3	Millbrook	28
6	Triton	0
0	Garner	7
14	SSS	7

Final Record: 7-3

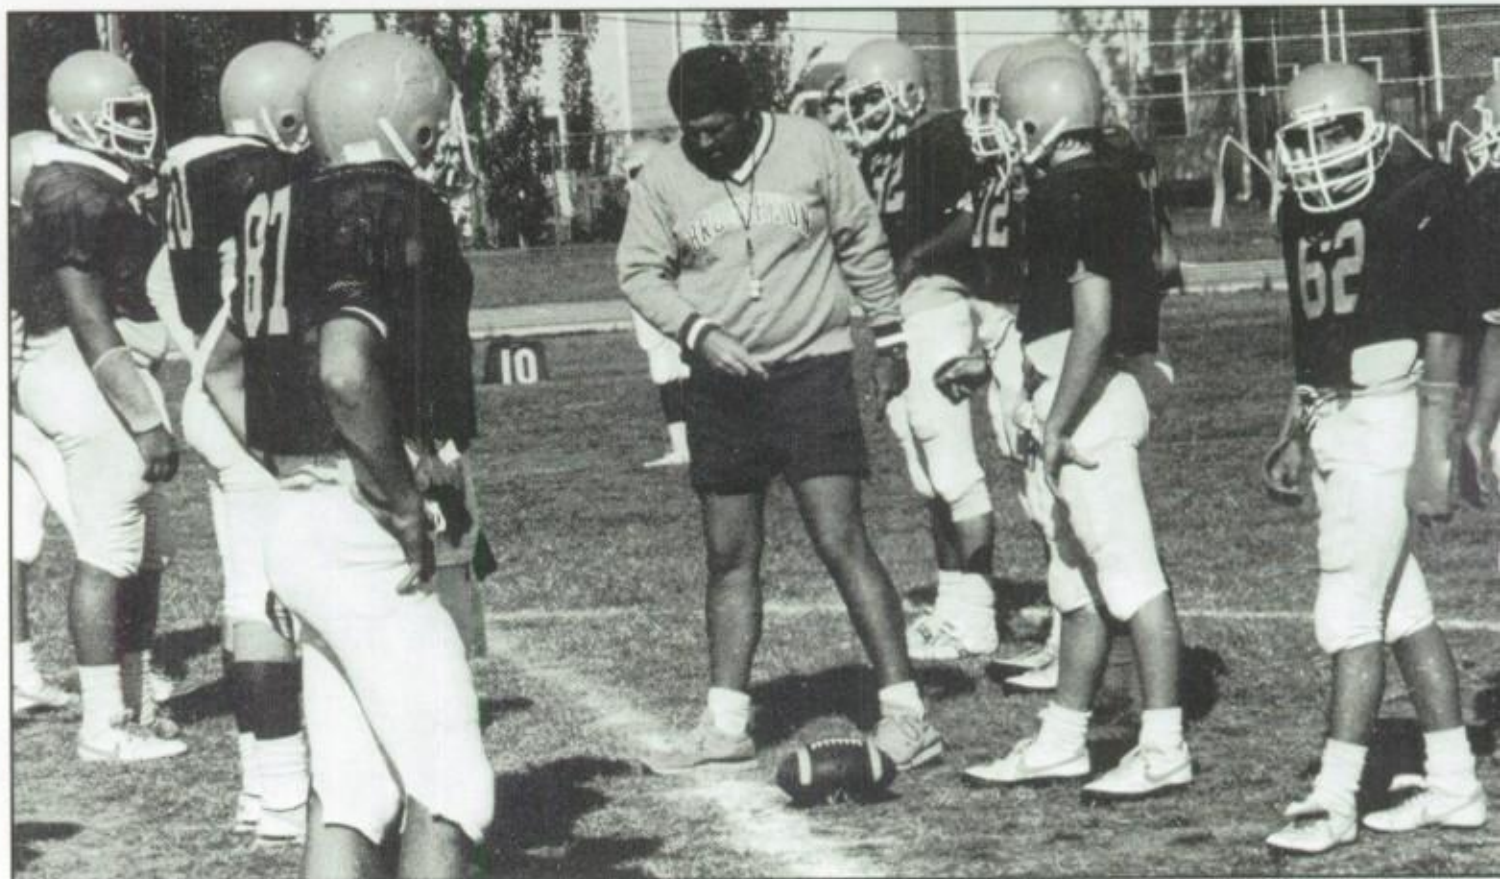

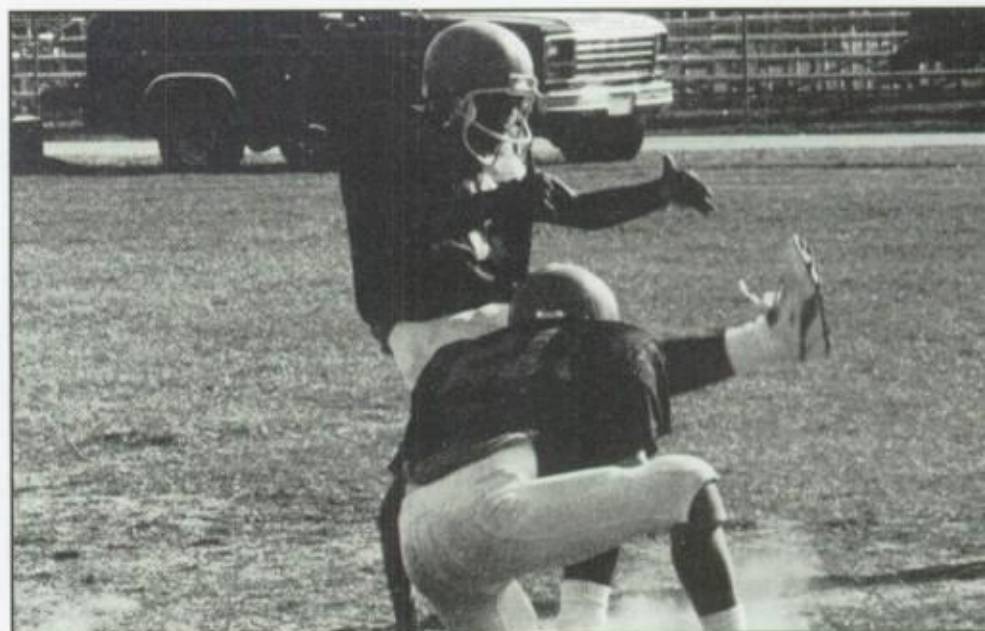

Getting New Talent Ready

This year's J.V. team seemed to be a strong club without much to show for it's accomplishments. "We were actually a lot better than our record indicated," remarked Quarterback Robby Crocker. Head Coach Brinkley Wagstaff was very patient this year which was important to the team. Many of the sophomores were very impressed with the performance of the freshmen recruits that ended up starting. Coach Wagstaff worked the players hard in order to ready them for varsity play next year.

Among the Cap's top starters were Quarterback Robby Crocker, Linebacker Richard Ketchie, Tightend Reed Fountain, and Runningback Rodney Ellis. Most of the players admitted that Coach Wagstaff had a winning attitude towards their game even though they were having a losing season. "We had a lot of talent but not the right results," was Reed Fountain's final summary of the season.

As Tom Jacobs keeps his head down while Rodney Ellis follows through on his place kick. Coach Wagstaff had a winning attitude toward their game even though they weren't having a great season.

J.V. players pay attention as the coach explains the defensive play. The team had several good freshmen players this season.

Junior Varsity Football-1st Row: Rodney Ellis, Tom Jacobs, Wes Andrews. 2nd Row: Mike Moore, Joe Meirer, Jon Wray, Robby Crocker, Shaun Simpson, Ernie Newkirk, Tom Sears. 3rd Row: Coach Lee Thornburg, Matt Hoyt, Richard Bolton, Robbie Peace, Tony Thompson, Chris Banks, Brian Holden, Coach Brinkley Wagstaff. 4th Row: Reed Fountain, John Smith, Wayne Bragg, David Humphery, Danny Lloyd, Matt Smith, Kendal Casper. 5th Row: Eddie Ransdell, Kip Klish, Trent Parks, Ken Harpence, Brad Lindsley, Chris Jurgens. 6th Row: Daryl Head, Richard Ketchie, Pete Bofjer, Brian Holder, Pat Simpkins, Eddie Eisworth. Not Pictured: Alexander Jones, Chris Butler, Roderick Williams, Teddy Burnette, Darrick Archibald.

1986 J.V. Football

BHS	Opponent
7	Lee Co.	26
6	Wilson Pike	21
12	Sanderson	14
28	Enloe	21
28	Athens Drive	0
6	Cary	27
6	Millbrook	35
7	Triton	26
12	Garner	28
0	SSS	24
Final Record: 2-8

Jimmy Worth concentrates on moving the ball downfield. The team's offense accounted for 23 goals during the season.

Brian Lynch quickly changes the momentum to his team's favor. Brian and his teammates played well in a 1-1 tie with Millbrook.

1st Row-Coach Rob Matheson, Mike Casey, Cade Metz, Charlie Morris, Jimmy Worth, Brian Lynch, Trace Grell. 2nd Row-Eric Gjertsen, Zeke Creech, Bill Duke, Jason Steele, Brett

Henrikson, Alan Whitehurst, Scott Cruikshank. 3rd Row-Jeff Leonard, Cliff Castelloe, Jason Jeanblanc, Joel Savitt, Jim Risley, Tom Aloï, James McLachlan, Randy Grisson

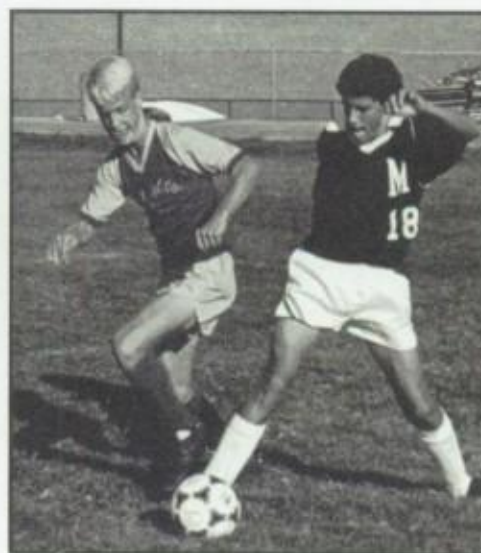

J.V. Caps Keep the Ball Rolling

Despite the fact that they had to do without the efforts of seven freshmen and sophomores who made varsity this year, the Junior Varsity soccer team still put in a respectable season. Under second year coach Rob Matheson, the Caps finished with a 4-7-1 final record.

The team had a key center combination of Jim Risely, Bill Duke, Mike Casey, Jason Steele, Brett Hendrickson, and goalie Jeff Leonard. Other J.V. standouts included Scott Cruikshank, Brian Lynch, and Zeke Creech.

All but one of the J.V.'s losses were by a one goal margin, and they racked up some impressive games during the season. Some of these include a 6-0 romp of Enloe, a 1-1 tie with first place Millbrook, and a close 4-3 loss to Sanderson. Commented right halfback Scott Cruikshank, "We lost a bunch of guys to Varsity, but still gave the season a lot of effort."

As Broughton engages in a big game against Millbrook, Zeke Creech moves to steal the ball away from his opponent.

1986 J.V. Soccer

BHS	Opponent
3	Athens	4
1	Millbrook	1
3	Garner	1
3	Sanderson	4
2	Cary	4
3	Enloe	1
2	Athens	3
1	Millbrook	2
1	Garner	0
1	Sanderson	4
2	Cary	3
6	Enloe	0
Final Record 4-7-1

Ashely Moore skies to head the ball to Stratos Paschaloudis and Asle Lokeem. The entire offensive line will return next year for the Caps.

1st Row-Dexter Morgan, Logan Watson, Bellamy DeRosset, Andrew Wilson, Clifton Carpenter, Gordan LeGrande, Panos Paschaloudis, David Morgan, Mark Beezley, Ashely Moore. 2nd Row-Stephen Conway, Kerrick Wison, Stratos Paschaloudis, Chad Zuehlke, Don Griffies, Matt Edwards, Markham Carr, David Allred, Michael Carlin, Asle Lokeem, Troy Legge, Pete Fredricks. Not pictured-Tom Castelloe.

1986 Varsity Soccer

BHS	Opponent
5	Lee Co.	0
1	Page	2
0	Athens	0
0	Millbrook	1
3	Garner	0
0	Sanderson	1
0	Cary	1
2	N. Durham	1
4	Enloe	1
0	Athens	1
0	Millbrook	1
7	Garner	0
0	Sanderson	1
1	Cary	0
1	Jordan	0
3	Enloe	0
2	Cary	1
1	Sanderson	2
Final Record 9-8-1

Put The Boot In

When practice started in early August, the varsity booters knew right away that the season would require total commitment. Under new Coach Marc Scruggs, the Caps practiced extensively, often twice a day until school started. As Senior Logan Watson observed, "The hard practices built up our endurance which helped in tough games."

The varsity squad was a young one this year with only five starters being seniors. Yet they were not as a whole inexperienced as most of the team had seen by the previous year. On the surface, the Caps 9-8-1 final record looks like an average season. However when you consider that every loss was by one goal, you come to see what a tough season they had. "We lack offensive thrust," commented Senior midfielder Mark Beezley half way through the year. This point became evident as the Caps lost six tough games by a score of 0-1.

The Caps had perhaps the conference's strongest defense, headed by co-captain Stephen Conway, sweeper Chad Zuelke, and All-Conference goalie David Allred. Additional defensive power was supplied by Markham

Carr, Troy Legge, Gordon LeGrande, and Matt Edwards. The defensive squad allowed only 11 goals to be scored all season, an average of 0.6 goals a game. This was due to hard, rugged play and the outstanding goal keeping skills of David Allred. Up front for the Caps were Stratos Paschaloudis, and leading scorer Clifton Carpenter. Midfield play came from Dexter Morgan, Ashely Moore, Mark Beezley, and Asle Lökkem, rounding out the Caps four, four, two attack. Good performances were also seen from Andrew Wilson, Michael Carlin, Bellomy DeRossett, and David Morgan who moved up from J.V. half way through the season.

Some of the Caps best games included a victory over Durham Jordan, the ninth ranked team in the state, and three hard fought 1-0 losses to number one rated Sanderson. The Caps also displayed fine efforts in a win over Cary, and three close losses to Millbrook. The varsity squad is graduating only a few seniors and although their absence will be felt, the team looks forward to a very successful season next year.

Intercepting a pass, Matt Edwards gains control of the ball, as Gordon LeGrande trails. The Caps defense allowed only 11 goals during the whole season.

Stopping a Millbrook attack, Mark Beezley heads the other way. Being a senior, Mark provided leadership for the team.

David Morgan soars towards the ball for a shot on goal. David was moved up to Varsity at midseason and contributed right away.

Smarts On Hand

"Experience," replied Senior Harriet Stephenson when asked what made the volleyball team special this year. With the return of only nine of last years team members and with the loss of only one senior, the volleyball team had more experience than they knew what to do with. Thirteen new members were added to the team and Coach Reginald Towns led them through two long hours of practice each afternoon as well as practices on most Saturdays. "It was a lot of hard work," sighed Junior Thelka Shultz, "but I played when I lived in Germany so I decided to stay with it." The practices helped the team to become better acquainted with each others playing styles and to work together as a whole. "The seniors showed authority by helping out those of us who needed it," remarked Junior April Mial.

With the help of Seniors

Renelle Risley, Carson Satterfield, and Harriet Stephenson, the team soon learned to adjust to the change of coaches. After helping with the volleyball team last year, Coach Reginald Towns found some experience in coaching volleyball before moving up to head coach this year. With good coaching and a lot of hard work they were able to reach the first round of the State Finals.

Junior Tracy Cate sets the ball to a spike. Junior April Mial prepares to come to aid. The team's strongpoint is that they all ways work together as a whole.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM - Front Row: Missy Lefort, Margaret Porter, Angel Rasette, Rachel Sanders, Renelle Risley, Kristie Narran, Leigh Ann Futtrell, Carson Satterfield, Becky Nichols, JJ White, Thelka

Shultz. Row 2: Coach Reginald Townes, Tonya Queen Mgr., Francie Kleiner, Jessica Few, Angie Simmons, Harriet Stephenson, Lisa Radford, Katie Ellis, Dana Batchelder, April Mial, Claire

Holroyd, Lisa Andrews, Tracy Cate, Amy Miller Mgr.

Not Pictured: Amanda Long Mgr.

After Senior Carson Satterfield recieved the ball she quickly prepares to spike it over the net. Spiking the ball enables the team to gain many valuable points.

During a short time out Coach Towns rounds up the team for a quick pep talk.

Even though the team is pushed hard they are encouraged to always have fun.

1986 Volleyball

BHS	OPPONENT
L 3-15, 15-12, 13-15	Cary
L 10-15 4-15	Millbrook
W 15-8, 15-9	Athens
W 15-10, 16-14	Sanderson
L 14-16, 11-15	Garner
L 15-7, 9-15, 4-15	SSS
W 13-15, 15-5, 15-17	Enloe
W 15-8, 16-14	Triton
L 11-15, 15-9, 8-15	Cary
L 4-12, 15-12, 2-15	Millbrook
L 7-15, 10-15	Garner
L 5-15, 9-15	Sanderson
L 11-15, 15-8, 8-15	Enloe
W 15-11, 13-15, 15-4	SSS
Final 5-9

As Senior Harriet Stephenson bumps the ball to a setter, Junior Katie Ellis anxiously waits to see if the pass is a success. Harriet Stephenson is one of the team's most valuable players.

Before the race, Sophomore Aimee Hadd and Senior Leah Millar discuss their strategies. Their talents added to the team's success.

Fast Times at Broughton High

Hard work, practice, getting in shape, and a good coach are the major factors needed to put together a good Cross Country team. This year the team, with its many talented runners, established a strong number one ranking.

"I sure didn't enjoy the running, but I loved the competitive spirit and it's an easy way to stay in shape," joked Senior Bill

McNairy. All of the hard work and after-school training fully prepared the runners for their upcoming meets. "I also had to do a lot of training before the season started to get in shape," complained Junior Dan Auman. The team didn't practice on weekends, but according to Sophomore David Wilson, nothing would have changed. "The new coach, Marci Gilbert, pushed the team to its outstanding victories. I think she made a big difference this year," grinned Junior Andy Pipkin.

The Cross Country team placed first over-all in the Cap Nine tournament and first in the sectionals. With the great effort that everyone put forth, the team was always a stride ahead of the rest.

Striving to keep up with the lead runners, Sophomore Kirk Hampton puts forth the extra effort which kept the team at the top of the conference.

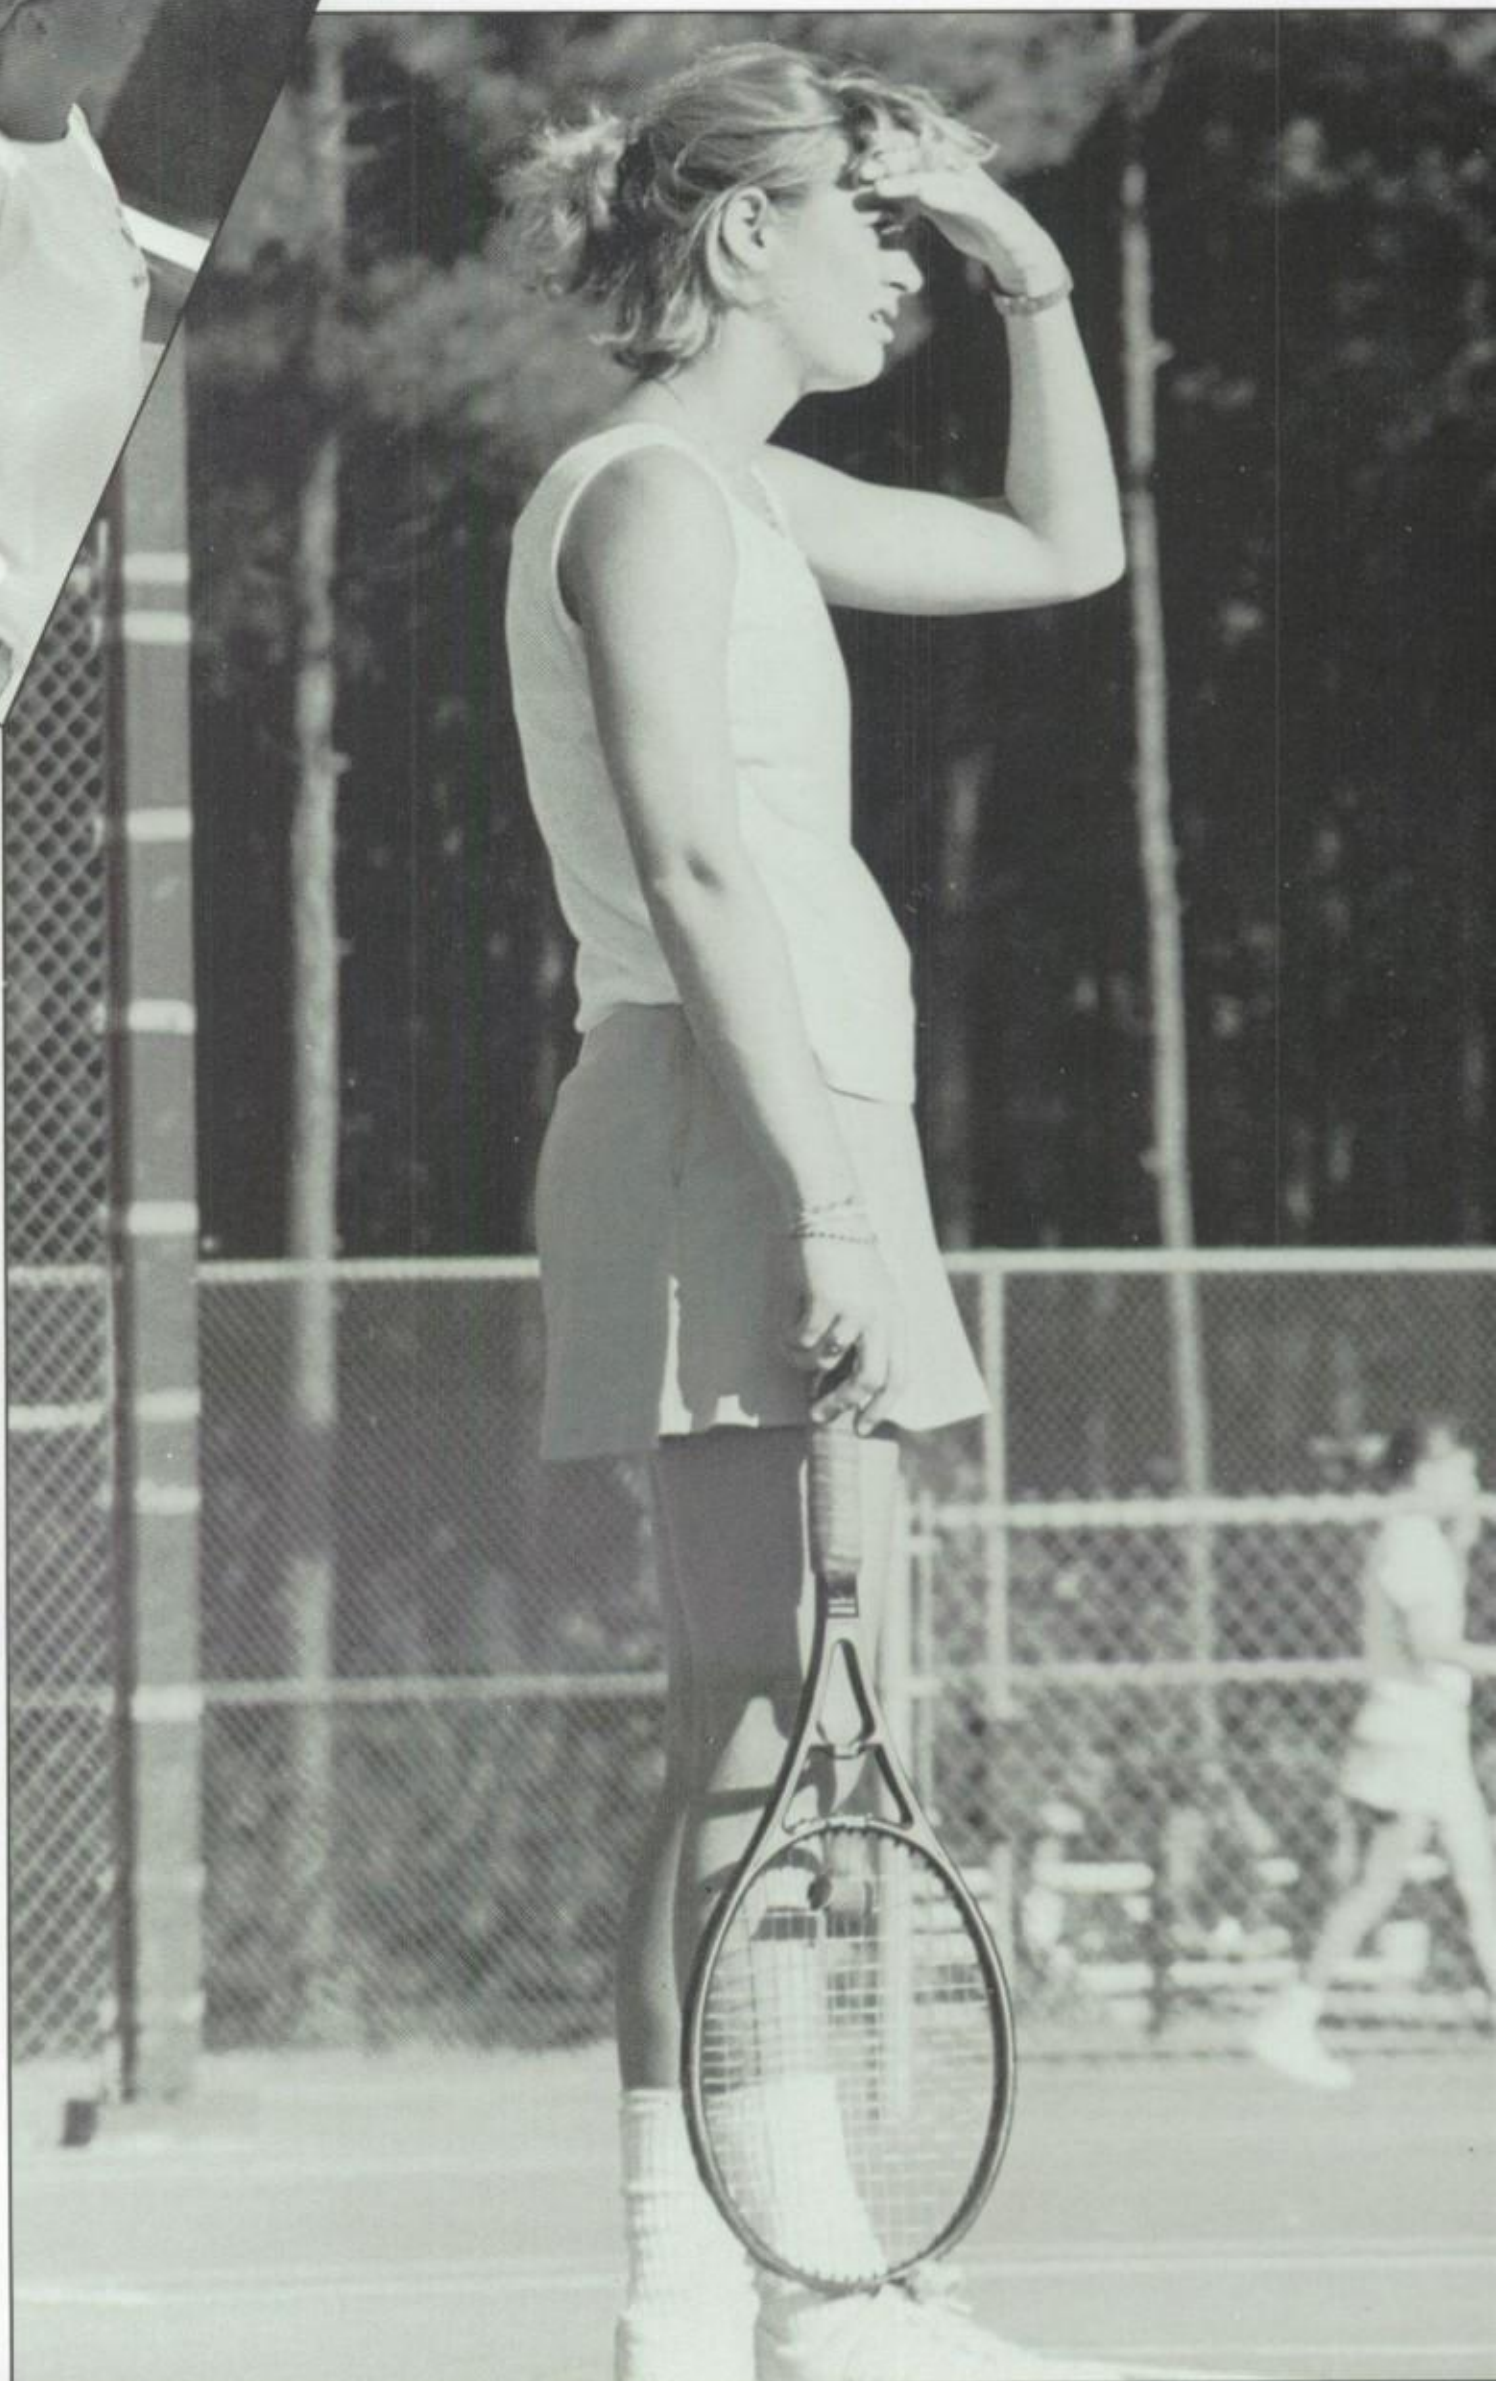

Cross Country-1st Row: Matt Karn, Chris Faust, Caroline Farmer, Niki Enrico, Marilyn Andrews, Robin Roseberry, Laura Nowell, Leah Millar, Jane Doggett, Amiee Hadd, Robin Cuthrell, Tina Elliason. 2nd Row: Mark Boyd, Jeff Watkins, Micah Cover, Parke Sanderson, Tim Pierce, Bobby Williams, Kirk Hampton, Kathleen Smith, Kim Hoang, John Cella, Al Winner, David Lynch, Marty Langley, Cal Hodgson, Hanns Baumgart, Rick Ramey, Brian Edwards, Stephen Boyd, Coach Marci Gilbert. 3rd Row: Stewart Shirey, Gordon Smith, Clay Herget, Jonathan Bolch, David Wilson, Ken Johnson, Matt Hamilton, Dan Auman, Andy Pipkin.

Winding up for the serve, Sophomore Margaret Bridger tries for an ace. Margaret's serves helped her to advance into the doubles' tournament.

Shading her eyes from the sun, Senior Sena Parrish takes a break between serves. Players not only battled their opponents, but often they had to fight the sun and the heat.

Love Those Girls!

The addition of new players to last year's girls' tennis team helped carry on their tradition of excellence.

Led by coach Steve Spivey, "The team did a great job practicing after school and on their own time," remembered Jenny Boone. "This year's coach made a big difference!" smiled Margaret Bridger.

A lot of work went into the excellence of the team. "I've been playing for three years and I still enjoy it!" grinned Meredith Hart. The fun and partnership pulled the team together and all of the team's work paid off. During competition, the team accomplished their goal of an undefeated season.

With the spirit that developed this year, the girls are looking forward to another superb year in 1987-88.

Concentrating on the ball, Sophomore Jenny Boone awaits an oncoming serve. Jenny's efforts this year advanced the team into the Cap Nine finals.

Girls' Tennis-1st Row: Allison Greene, Pam Davis, Laura Brooker, Pat Edwards, Meredith Hart, Margaret Bridger, Sally Scott Edwards. 2nd Row: Coach Steve Spivey, Beth Crampton, Izlar Andrade, Julie Nemitz, Sena Parrish, Jenny Boone, Laura Rieter, Robyn Goss.

1986 Girls Tennis

BHS	Opponent
8	Apex	1
3	Jordan	6
8	SAS	1
9	Enloe	0
8	Athens	1
7	Cary	2
5	Milbrook	4
9	Triton	0
8	Garner	1
Final Record 9-1

Coming up for a breath, Sophomore Lisa Brown eyes her destination point. Lisa put out an extra effort for the team.

Just Strokin' Around

5:15 a.m. Air so cold you can see your breath. Water as cold as a mountain stream. All swimmers experience this almost every morning, not only with the school team, but also with their private swim teams. For a novice swimmer, this schedule is dreaded. But the experienced swimmer has been through this so many times, it's almost a natural habit. Take it from Sophomore Lisa Brown, "All of the hard work pays off." Some swimmers do more than swim to keep in shape. "I lift weights at home," exclaimed Sophomore Jay Berenson.

With most of last year's members returning, the team's power was maintained. They made use of this power in their opening meets against conference rivals. The Cap-nine competitors gave the team many tough fights, but Broughton usually washed in another win.

When asked if she thought the team was over-confident, Senior Beth Shaw said she didn't think so. She pointed out that a swim team is difficult to maintain as a unit. It tends to be an individual effort, though everyone works with the team's spirit.

Pushing with all of her strength Andrea Millar tries to reach her goal. Many swimmers enjoy the breast stroke.

Not pleased with his time, Victor Bonito casts a disgusted look into the air.

Swimming; 1st Row — Jay Berenson, Thomas Caves, Eric Teague, Mark Brenner, Stephen Reville. 2nd Row — Coach Melissa Cole, Kim Walker, Catherine Shaw, Wendy McCloughy, Jody McCloughy, Carson Satterfield, Courtney Whitaker, Allison Gerig, DeAnna Keen. Back Row — Victor Bonito, Louis Watta, Bart Satterfield, Laura Rinne, Maureen Carlin, Lisa Brown, Jennifer Scott, Beth Shaw, Tim Watson. Not Pictured — Chris Whitaker, Andrea Millar, Shaney Currin, Megan Currin.

Vaulting to the Top

Practice, practice, and more practice! Two hours a day, four days a week the gymnastics team strove to stay the best. Leading the team with full force to defend the state title were Seniors Wendy McCloughy, Holly Mercer, and Heidi Berenson. "We have a definite chance to make it as long as we stick together," responded Junior Sarah Tierney enthusiastically.

Teamwork was also another factor in the success of the gymnastics team. "You feel as if you have the whole team behind you on every event," commented Senior Holly Mercer.

The team as well as Coach Clare Boyd agreed that practice, teamwork, and sheer determination to change helped lead the team to the State Championship Meet.

Showing practice makes perfect, Junior Sarah Tierney executes a well balanced handstand. All gymnasts had practice for two hours, three days a week.

With sheer concentration, Senior Wendy McCloughy achieves a successful scale on the balance beam. Most of the gymnasts agree that the beam is the most difficult event on which to be judged.

Awaiting the finish of the last routine, the team prepares to hear the final scores from the judges. The team won almost all of their meets with scores well above their competitors.

Freshman Jennie Philips builds up her last amount of strength as she prepares to dismount. All the gymnasts agree that the bars require the most amount of strength.

1986-1987 Gymnastics Team: First row: Chris Ruggles, Jodi McCloughy, Linda Fowler, Jenni Philips, Sarah Tierney. Row

2: Christy Parker, Wendy McCloughy, Katie Blalock, Holly Mercer, Penny Skinner.

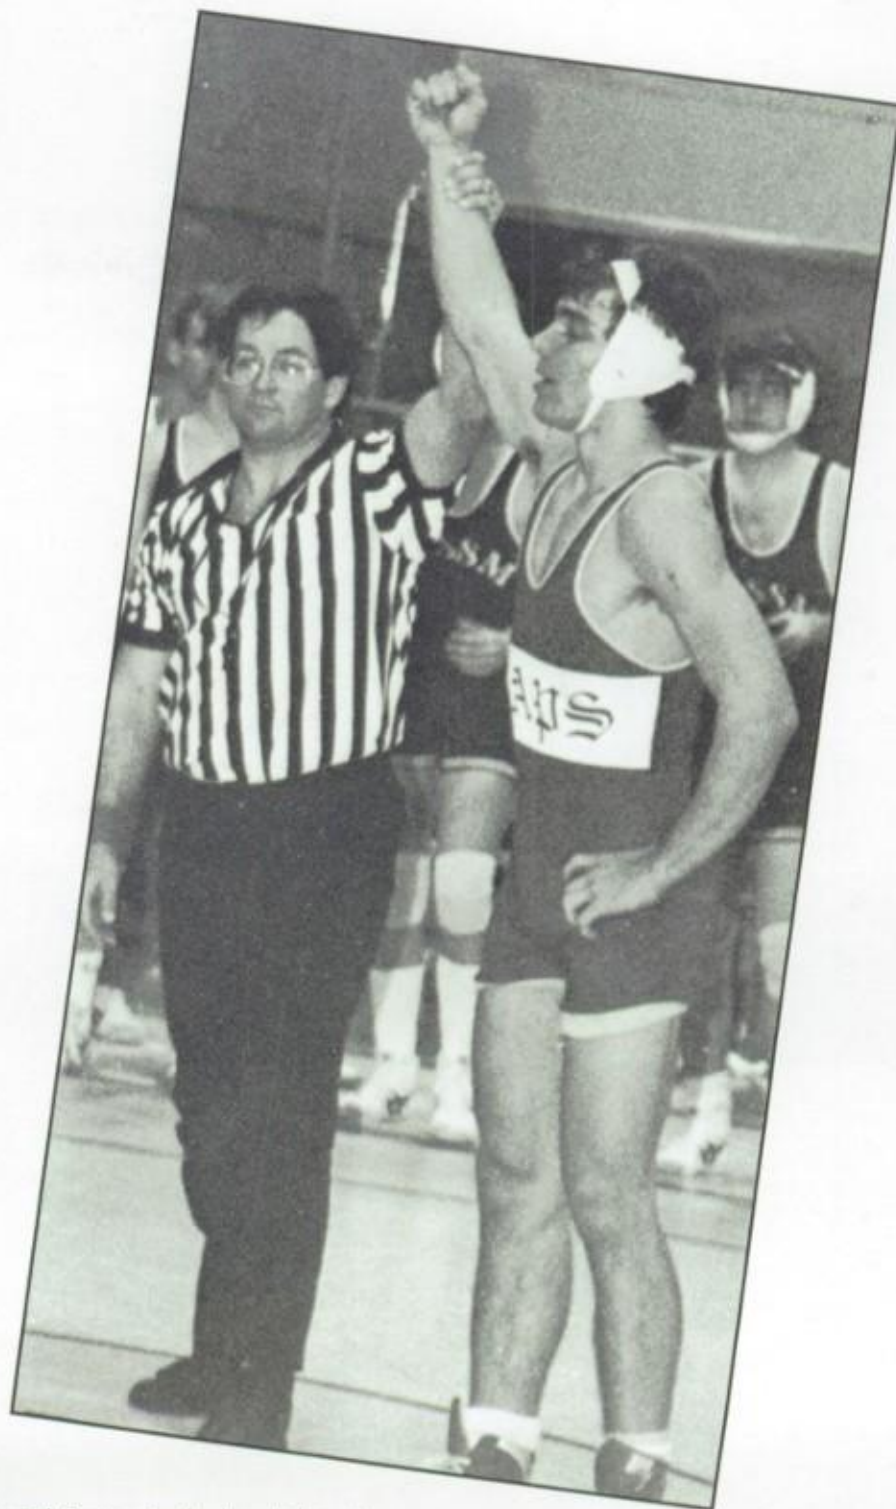

Wrestlers Throw Down

As the season began Coach Steve Spivey was pleased at the large turnout of wrestlers. Coach Spivey was surprised, though, to find out that few of the thirty-five team members were newcomers. Experience became one of the team's greatest factors.

Practice two or more hours, six days a week gave the team a chance to strengthen their wrestling abilities and skills. "Practices were hard but they were well worth the sweat," commented Senior Billy Allen.

The team was led throughout the season by Seniors Joe Rowland and David Constantino with the help of Junior Steve Bryant and Freshman newcomer Pete Rowland. The leadership given by these people helped the team to become closer and to perform with more precision in each match.

Senior Ed Burton is declared the winner after a hard and strenuous match. All matches are won by either pins, amount of points, or by the referee's decision.

As Junior Steve Bryant finishes one of his matches, he contemplates his moves for his next opponent. Many wrestlers concentrate on ways to better their techniques in wrestling after each match.

1986-1987 Wrestling Team: First Row: Jerry Holloway, Allen Crone, Michelle Fuquay — Mgr., Steve Bryant, Chris Samuels, Lee Hinton, Tom Jacobs, Jeff Dewar, John Allen, Pat Murphy, Jack Morrissey, Emilia Gutcen — Mgr., Stacey Vandenoorn — Mgr. Row 2: Joe King, Chris Donochod, David Constantino, Clark Green, Julian Mordecai, Walter

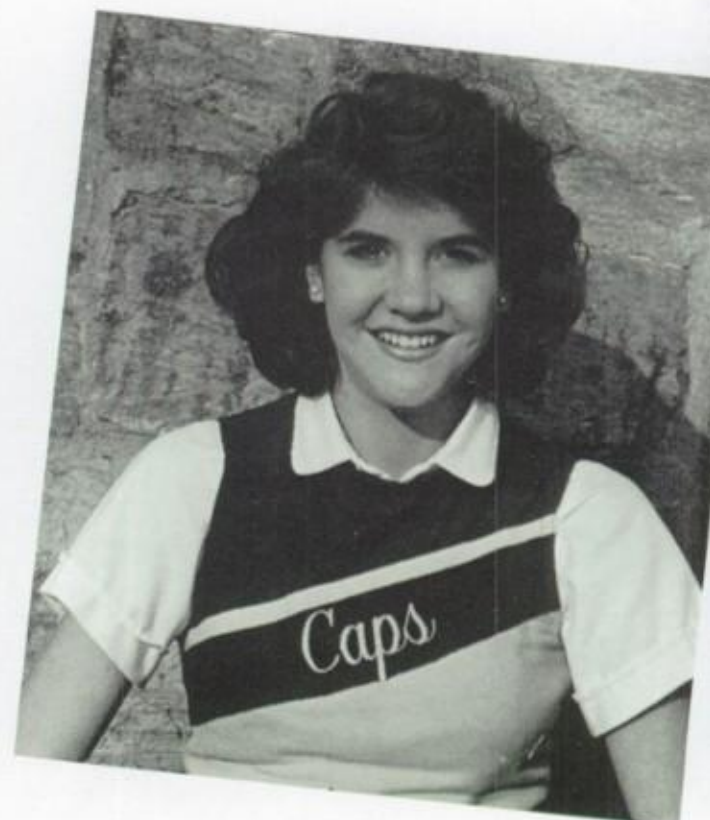

Daniel, Rick Crumpler, Scott Sinor, Mark Randolph, Pete Rowland, Mike Taylor, Coach Steve Spivey. Row 3: Allan Whitehurst, Danny Lloyd, Chad Rasette, James McLachlan, Robbie Peace, Teddy Burnett, Ed Burton, Rod Davis, Asle Lokken, Jeff Piggot, Ken Shirey, Matt Wallace.

"I say Broughton, you say Caps." Whether or not you wanted to get into the cheer, you couldn't help hearing the unsurpassed support this year for all the athletic teams. "Are you going to the game tonight, cause we really need you to be there?" echoed Junior cheerleader Lori Lynn almost everyday on the way to school. Not only did the girls cheer at the games but their positive support and informative comments usually produced a sizeable crowd at each event. Many students who didn't hear the announcements could rely on the cheerleaders to inform them of the game time.

Under the leadership of Senior Holli Dail the squad perfected many of the usual formations and cheers. Even though the girls are not allowed to form pyramids due to Dr. Jewell's policy, their enthusiastic dance routines to the upbeat music of "Louie Louie", "Respect", and "Great Balls of Fire", kept the crowd alert and involved in the game. "That's the kind of music everyone can get into and its very easy to dance to." said Sophomore Christy Harris.

Unfortunately Junior Sharon Watters suffered from a shoulder injury and had to leave the squad after the fall. Suzanne Jordan filled Sharon's spot and fit in quickly and easily after getting most of the routines down within a few weeks. Without the support of the cheerleaders perhaps Broughton's athletic teams wouldn't win as much but the girls aren't going anywhere and neither are our winning seasons.

I say Broughton . . . You say Caps

J.V. Cheerleaders: 1st Row — Jana Soward, Lisa Pitlard, Claire Perkins, Ashley Frye, Larissa Rogers. 2nd Row — Ann West, Alison Morgan, Kristie Fields, Angela Kelly, Erin Bishop. 3rd Row — Chaunte Saunders, Julie Hamilton, Shannon Singleton, Sheri Smallwood. Not Pictured — Sheri Jordan.

Christy Harris pauses to watch Holli Dail perform a perfect aerial jump. The girls weren't allowed to form pyramids but they performed several exciting dance routines.

Varsity Cheerleaders: 1st Row — Tracy Stonaker, Christy Harris, Renee Young, Audra Doughty. Back Row — Lori Lynn, Anna Dunn Fonville, Holli Dail, Jeana Johnson, Suzanne Jordan, Erica Payne. Not Pictured — Sloan Bridger.

Coach Debbie Freeman instructs her team during a time-out. Her coaching expertise was definitely felt during the year.

1987 Girl's Varsity Basketball

BHS	Opponent
51	Lee County	49
67	Wilson Fike	27
66	Sanderson	13
49	Millbrook	46
51	Lee County	39
58	Triton	47
40	SSS	34
57	Apex	39
55	Wilson Fike	40
49	Athens	45
49	Enloe	55
39	Cary	46
55	Garner	43
55	Sanderson	32
55	Millbrook	20
44	Triton	54
38	SSS	65
65	Athens	44
45	Enloe	33
39	Cary	76

Girls Varsity Basketball: 1st Row — Leigh Ann Camp, Katrina Walker, Cindy Balentine, Marilyn Andrews, Rebecca Nichols, D. Dickerson. 2nd Row — Coach Debbie Freeman, Mgr. David Glenn, Andrea English, Kristy Dunn, Katie Ellis, April Mial, Amy Tugman, Mgr. Laura Rinne.

The Tradition Continues . . .

Girl's basketball has become a near institution at Broughton High School. In the past three years the girls team has lost only six games and strolled to two state Championships. This year's team tacked on to that remarkable record, losing seven games during the regular season and reaching the sectional semi-finals of the State Tournament. The Lady Caps returned this year with three of last year's starters. With the team's experience and some great direction from new coach Debbie Freeman, they defeated opponents all season long. Behind April Mial, the conference's leading scorer, the Caps finished second in the conference. Mial, an All-Conference selection, averaged 21 points a game to pace the team to their 17-8 final record. Seniors Kristy Dunn and Amanda Tugman provided leadership and scoring strength, while Cindy Ballentine executed the offense at the point guard position. Guard Leanne Campbell rounded out the starting line-up. Katy Ellis and Marilyn Andrews also played well for the team.

The team beat conference leading Enloe in the Cap-9 tournament to advance to the championship game against Smithfield Selma. Although they lost the game, they secured a spot in the State Tournament and gained needed confidence after a midseason slump. The girls then won their first game in the state tourney over Durham Jordan before losing in the Sectional semi-finals to Scotland. Forward Amanda Tugman predicted early in the season, "We have a lot of talent and leadership qualities and a new coach who really knows her stuff. We should go far." She was right.

April Mial rises up to grab the rebound. Mial was an All-Conference selection for the second straight year.

Forward Kristy Dunn delivers a fast break lob to her teammate. Kristy finished the season as the leading rebounder and second in scoring.

Senior Cindy Ballentine reaches for a steal against Garner. Cindy's leadership and experience helped her run the point guard position very effectively.

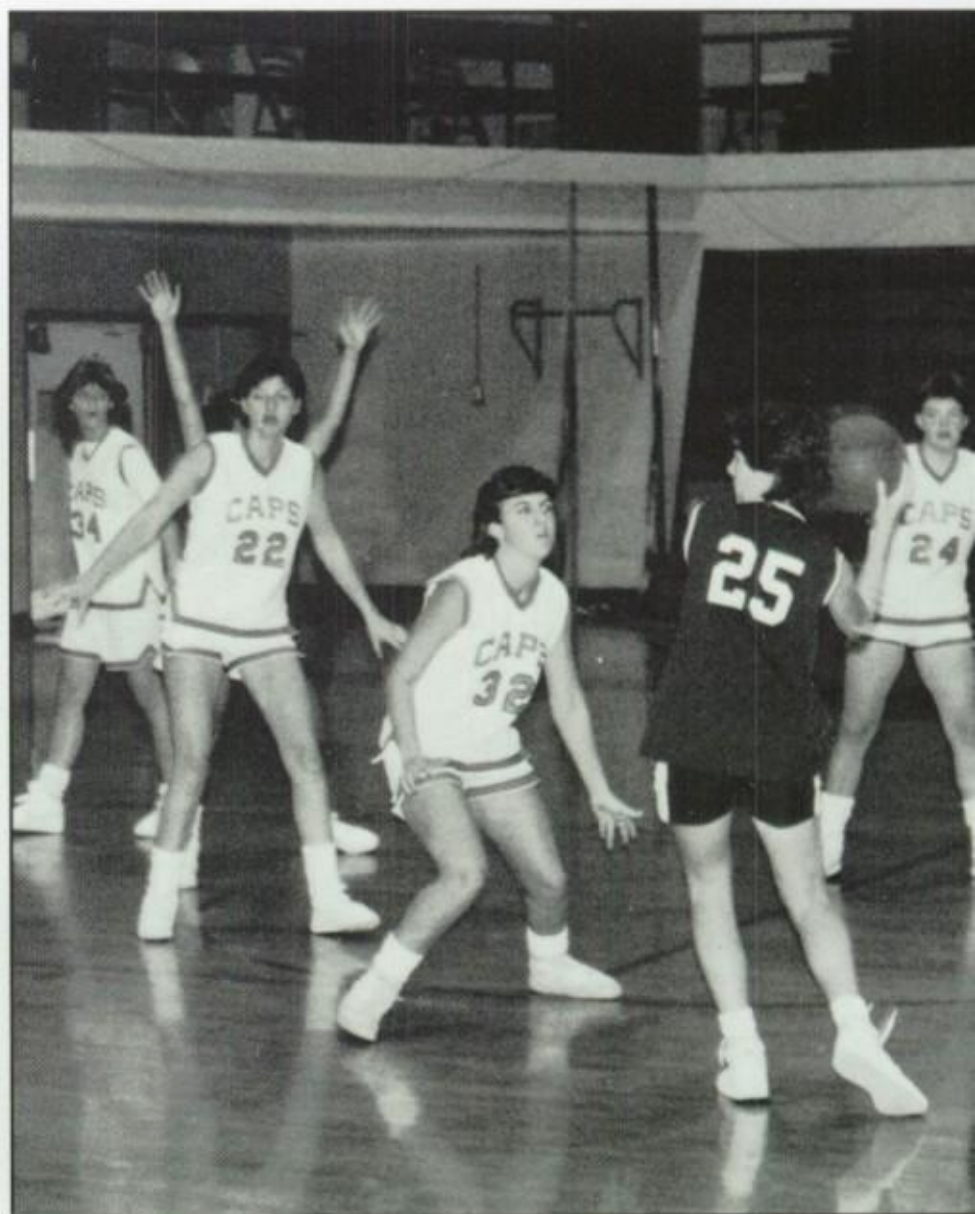

Sharpening skills for Future Play

This year's J.V. Girl's team was under the new coaching of Debbie Harris, a highly regarded coach from Louisiana. Her major goal for the season was to ready the girls for varsity play. "Our major asset is having everybody contribute to the game but we need to put it all together," commented Alice Hubbard. The girls were hurt by a few injuries before the season and two girls had surgery. Despite the setbacks the team pulled their resources together to begin a strong season. Returning players included Mary Ann Wrench, Dee Walker, and Stormie Forte. "Watching their improvement is the most rewarding aspect," said Coach Harris. Ball control and shooting were the main weaknesses at the beginning of the year but by the end of the season the girls were quite experienced in both skills.

J.J. White guards her opponent step for step in order to keep her from getting inside. The team was plagued by injuries before the season began.

Alice Hubbard confronts the Sanderson guard while the rest of the team stay tight zone. Coach Harris enjoyed watching the girls' improvement.

142-J.V. Basketball

1987 J.V. Basketball

BHS	Opponent
19	Sanderson	17
19	Millbrook	36
37	Triton	38
41	Chapel Hill	45
28	SSS	34
—	Chapel Hill	—
33	N. Nash	37
30	Athens	36
26	Enloe	36
—	Cary	—
—	Garner	—

J.V. Girl's Basketball; 1st Row — Christy Morris, Dee Walker, Anne Brunson. Back Row — Mary Ann Wrench, Stormie Forte, Alice Hubbard, Susan DeGumba, Kim Stephen, Ashley Taylor, J.J. White.

Superior Court

The 1986-87 J.V. team conquered the beginning of the season with strong wins to give them high hopes for the games ahead. With these games past, the team shaped up to achieve their goal of a top-placed ranking.

With not many players returning from last year's team, and a new coach, the team of mostly freshmen had to build up their strength. "I played for West Millbrook last year and I got most valuable player," said freshman Brian Burton. "I've been playing since I was little." The new players had experience, but had to learn to work together. "I also played in Jr. High. The practices are a lot harder now though," complained Freshman Trey Cheek.

Along with their regular team practices, many players did a little bit of extra practice. Players like Sophomore Fred Rusher took advantage of the near-by gym. On Saturdays and after school, one could find many people in vacant gyms, or even in their own backyards practicing to perfect their old moves or making new ones.

These players had a dream to fulfill...The dream of one day seeing themselves on T.V.

Looking for the open man, Rodney Freeman tries to pass around an Enloe defender. The game was tough, but the Caps came out with the win.

1987 J.V. Basketball

BHS	Opponent
57	Wilson Fike	71
48	Lee County	59
57	Wilson Fike	71
55	Sanderson	49
45	Millbrook	55
51	Lee County	57
45	Triton	64
47	Smithfield	46
39	Athens Drive	49
67	Enloe	55
57	Cary	73
50	Garner	62
59	Sanderson	52
43	Millbrook	45
62	Triton	57
62	Smithfield	54

J.V. Boy's Basketball; 1st Row — Trey Cheek, Fritz Spence, Rodney Freeman, Chris Graham, Fred Rusher, Brian Burton, John Bono. Back Row — Coach

Stan Causby, Mgr. Abdul Baker, Robert Mitchener, Derrick Lovelace, Ronald Wilson, Ernie Davis, Mike Savage, Mgr. Rick Ramey.

Scoring an easy layup, Robert Mitchener shows what one can do with a lot of practice.

Playing Above The Rim

Forward Jeff Smith weaves for a reverse lay-up. Jeff finished sixth in the conference in points scored a game.

Jonathan Lotz pivots for two points. With his height and determination he amassed 112 rebounds this season.

There was no question about how good Broughton's Varsity Basketball Team was last year. They came as close as possible to winning the state championship while rolling up a 18-4 record during the regular season. Graduating however were Kevin McNamara, Tommy Atkinson, Kelvin Page, and Gary Mattison, four of the starting five. So this year would be a rebuilding year for the team, right? Wrong. Led by coach Marshall Hamilton, the Caps showed what teamwork and balance are all about en route to a 19-5 record and some suprising upsets along the way.

Power forward Bernard Terrell provided the needed offensive power, averaging a conference leading 17.4 points a game. Senior point guard Dennis Peebles who had limited varsity experience coming into the season ran the point guard spot like a four year starter. Jonathan Lotz, the Caps 6'8" center returned more aggressive to spur the rebounding game. Providing consistent play and impressive game end confidence was Kemp Hunt, while starting forward Jeff Smith added further offense and finished sixth in the conference in scoring. David Allred, Mike Smith, and Warren Avery also put in good performances as did Cal Hodgson and Ken Johnson.

The team posted some exceptional wins over the likes of Millbrook, Enloe, and Cary, but their greatest achievement this year was winning the prestigious Raleigh Times Tip Off Tournament. With an assemblage of some of the strongest teams in the east, Broughton appeared only to be hosting the event with super play and determination the Caps advanced to the championship game against famed DeMatha High School of Maryland. Understandably Broughton was a little intimidated before the game. "We went into the game with the attitude of just having fun because we had nothing to lose," said Kemp Hunt. However once the game began the Caps knew they could win. With excellent play from tournament MVP Bernard Terrell and Dennis Peebles and solid free throw shooting from Kemp Hunt, Broughton stunned the heavily favored DeMatha 17 points. Coach Hamilton commented on the game "possibly the greatest win since we have been at Broughton." Coach Hamilton recieved more than this year in being named to assistant coach under Kan coach Larry Brown for the United States Junior Men's team. The team will play in the World Championships this summer in Borneo, Italy. He had been chosen earlier to the honor of participating in the Olympic Festival to be held in N.C. this summer. Congratulations to Coach Hamilton and the team on a great year.

Congratulations

Regular Season Champs!

Varsity Basketball: 1st Row — David Allred, Dennis Peebles, Kemp Hunt, Warren Avery, Chris Bender, Jeff Smith. 2nd Row — Coach Marshall Hamilton, Bernard Terrell, Cal Hodgson, Jonathan Lotz, Ken Johnson, Edward Dunn, Mike Smith, Mgr. Keown.

Remind you of anyone? Bernard Terrell slam dunks against Enloe.

Dennis Peebles executes the Broughton fast break. Peebles took over the point guard spot this season and averaged 11 points and 7 assists a game.

State Champs!!

Graduation left tough shoes to fill for this year's seniors. With one thing on their minds, the team's intensity increased in practices so they could carry on Broughton's good name in baseball. At the beginning of the season, the unfamiliar faces made it hard for the team to play together, but Coach Wagstaff pushed and trained the young men to work together and help each other. "There were a lot of new players on the team that I had to get to know and learn to work with", stated Sophomore Pat Clougherty. But Senior Clark Womack pointed out that he knew most of the players, so it wasn't very hard for him.

If the team can work together and play as a team, the season will strike some more W's in the win column for this year's team and Broughton's overall record.

(The following has been excerpted from the News and Observer)

Broughton High's baseball team wrote the final chapter of its season in typical fashion.

The Caps came from behind.

Broughton defeated Asheville A.C. Reynolds five to two before one thousand fans to win the deciding game of the Class 4-A State Championship Series. The Caps won the second in a best of three series, coming from behind in the final game as they had four times previously in the State Playoffs.

It was also the second state title for Coach Brinkley Wagstaff, having guided Garner to the title in 1978. "There's just not an adjective I could use to describe this feeling," Wagstaff

While playing "pepper," Junior Andrew Davis keeps his eyes on the ball. "Pepper" is played to practice bunting and learn better coordination.

During warm-up, Senior Clark Womack throws one to his teammate as Sophomore Pat Clougherty looks on. The warm-up is very important to loosen up one's throwing arm.

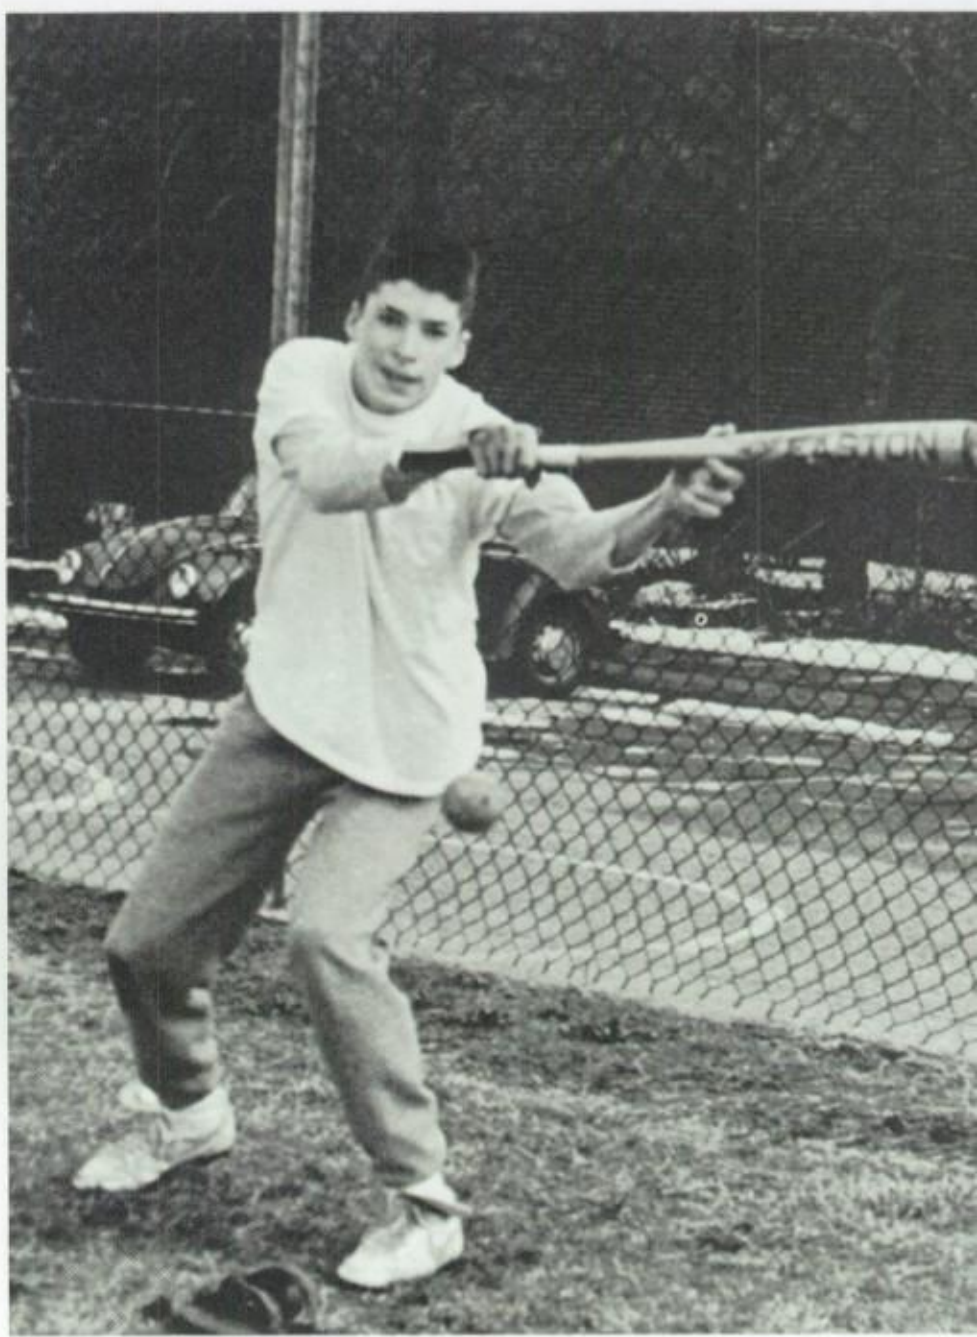

said.

Broughton, which finished 21-9, a school record for wins, had been picked to finish seventh in the Cap 9 regular season by a pre-season coaches poll. But the Caps won the league title to advance to the state playoffs which they moved through with some nail-biting wins.

Key players in the final game included pitchers Clark Womack and Jason Smith who combined for a six hitter; Pat Clougherty, Doug Esposito, and Kevin Cummings who each had solo home runs. Esposito was also chosen series MVP.

Womack, who started

†;khfsba

1st Row: Mgr. Mark Terdik, Cullen Nicholls, Andy Lester, Chris Samuels, Matt Cox, Ken Akers, Andrew Davis, Brad Pickard, Doug Esposito. 2nd Row: Mgr. Parker Taylor, Lance Miller, Pat Clougherty, Jason Smith, Chris Bender, Johnny McConnell, Larry Lancaster, Mgr. Raymond Perry. 3rd Row: Mgr. Roberto Agnolutto, Charles Miller, Clark Womack, Phil Thomson, Kevin Cummings, Lloyd Clark, Tommy Emory, Mgr. Tommy Neil.

Sports

The Raleigh Times

Seniors hoist the NCHSAA 4-A baseball state championship plaque following 5-2 victory over Asheville Reynolds in deciding game of best-of-three series

Times photo by Chris Seward

ream comes true for believing Caps

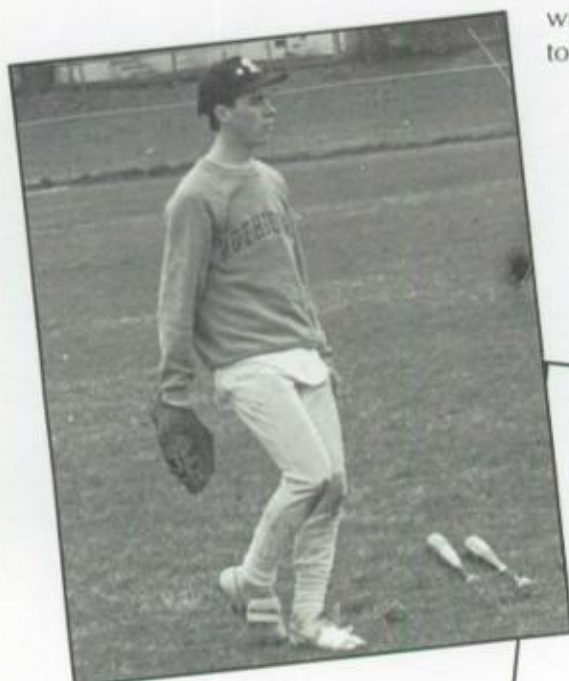

Into the Swing of Things

As the J.V. Baseball season started, once again the team had to work with a new coach. The team has had four different coaches in four years, which makes it hard for team members to have a strong unity. Or so you would think. Coach Robert Matheson quickly brought the team together and took control. Despite getting off to a rough start, including weeks of snow and ice, practice was held almost everyday and scrimmage games were played on Saturdays.

With the improvements that were made on the team last year, all the returning players had a chance to show the freshman newcomers all the right moves. Of course they were not unbeatable but they did become more stable and were able to overcome all of the obstacles put in front of them.

Sophomore Joe Grainger looks on at the other team members during practice. Each team member takes turns practicing with Coach Matheson so they can get used to his coaching styles.

Freshman Charlie Morris keeps his eye on the ball after a long run into the outfield. Running is a main part of each practice.

After quickly catching the ball Freshman Matt Faucette prepares to throw the ball back to the infield. During practice the team works on their fundamental skills.

1987 J.V. Baseball Team — Row 1: Rick Ramey, Charlie Morris, Wes Andrews, Joe Grainger, Coach Robert Matheson. Row 2: Ollie Meece, Matt Faucette, Matt Rastelli, Pete Rowland, Brett Henrikson, James Graham, Rob Sealey. Row 3: Fred Grissom, Ricky Wasewich, Trey C. Simpkins, Rob Masterson, Steve L. Todd Stevens.

On the ball

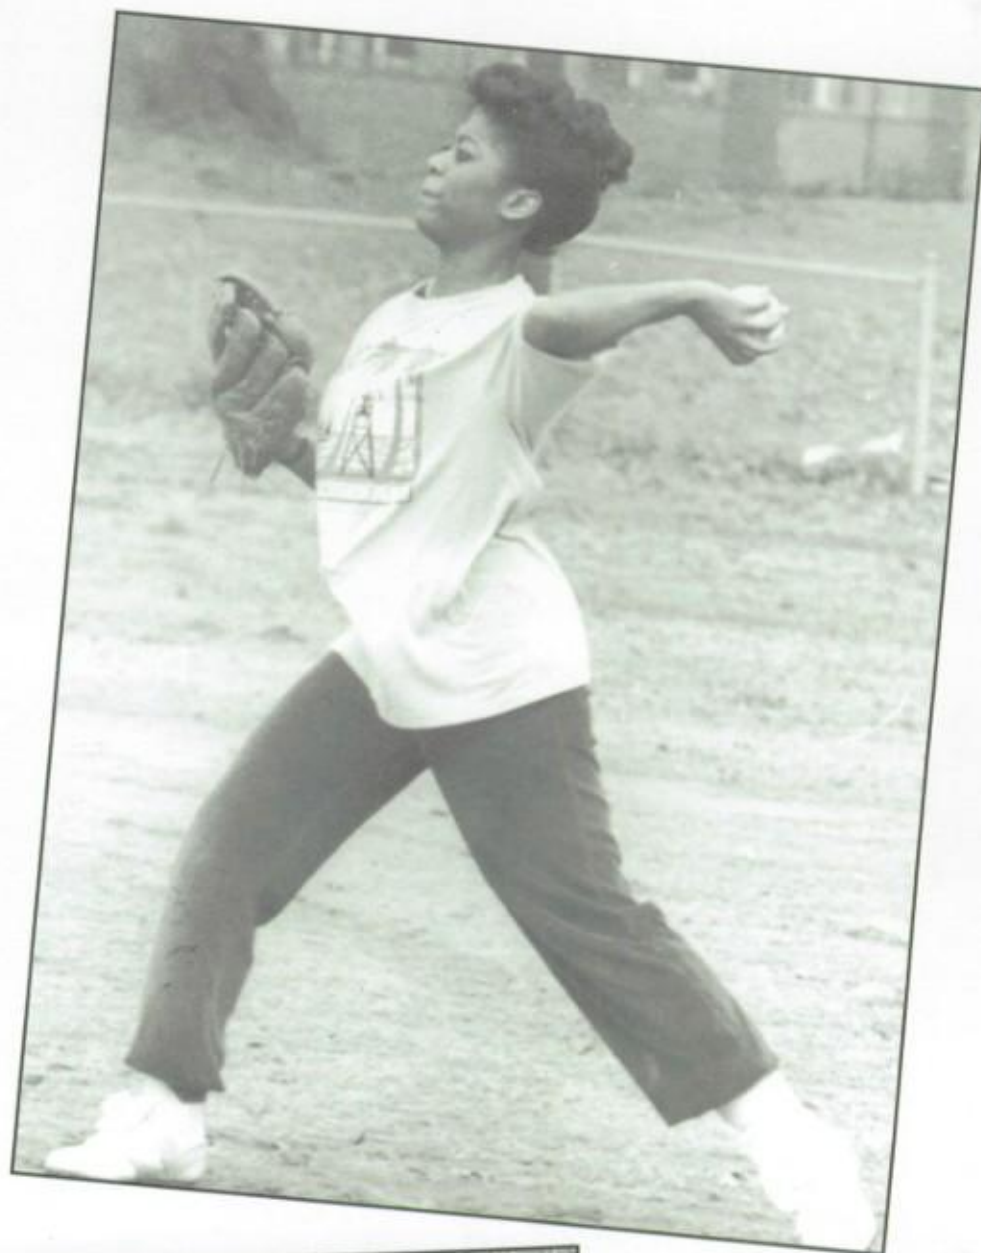

Softball proved once again to be as popular as ever with well over thirty girls showing up for practice. Coach Debbie Harris was a new addition to the team in replacing former Coach Jackie Harrison. Coach Harris concentrated on key strategies and helped the Caps to have a more positive attitude toward their playing.

From the beginning, the team focused on fundamentals. With a more experienced field of returners, including Seniors Cindy Ballentine and Kristy Dunn, they could claim to have their basic skills down pat. These people were able to help first time players during practices and help make improvements that would show to be valuable in the rest of their season.

Sophomore Shelley rains steps forward to catch an oncoming ball. The team practiced on catching and hitting during many practices.

Junior Phylicia Williams quickly throws the ball toward home plate. Speed and accuracy are major factors in playing softball.

Junior Denise Wilson tosses the ball to home plate as practice slowly comes to an end. The softball team practiced most every day for two hours and on Saturdays.

Softball Team — Row 1: Angela [unclear], Amanda Harris, Kristi Narron, [unclear] Ballentine, Denise Wilson. Row 2: [unclear] te, Debbie Holliday, Lisa Andrews, [unclear] Ann Wrench, Shelley Raines, Lee

Ann Kemp. Row 3: Coach Debbie Harris, Kelley Knight (Mgr.), Amanda Tugman, Tuan Chunn, Scott Kennedy (Mgr.), Katrina Walker, Phylicia Williams.

Using his legs, Senior Devin Steele pushes, while Senior Clark Green pulls the mats, and Senior Will Ellington is just there for the ride.

Before practice, runners stretch in unison. Stretching makes sure that no one will pull a muscle.

Left In Our Tracks

After school, the weight room was filled with track members as they toned and built their muscles for the upcoming season. Then they went out to the track for conditioning and training. "I spent one and a half hours on the track every day after school", complained Sophomore Angela Simmons. The team stretched their muscles and headed around the track for their daily run.

The season invited many new members to join, and many did. In the past few years, Coach Fellow track members compete with each other during the practice laps. Their smiles show that one can have fun while he works.

Towns has done a great job coaching the talented team, and this year was going to be no exception. Many experienced runners returned to the team to help meet the team's expectations. "I ran last year, and the team looks pretty good," stated Sophomore Michael Young. "I've run for four years and I feel like I'm more experienced than many of the other runners," boasted Senior Eddie Hicks.

Next year is going to be another great year for Coach Towns and his team. With a lot of younger runners returning, the team can boast their record once again.

Row 1: Ivo Van Hilvoazde, Edward Hicks, Maylon Rowland, Alse Lokken, Chris Moore, Devin Steele, Jimmy Boynton, Caroline Farmer, Jackie Mittelstaedt, Kristie White, Kenny Lightfoot, Davio Finch. Row 2: Yolanda Haisell, Robert Hill, Kerry Williams, Jonathan Wray, Jacquell Sanders, Rhonda Wagner, Kendra Cover, Brandy Fisher, Tina Ellington, Lane Doggett, Nikki Enrico, Jessica

Hamilton. Row 3: Kirk Hampton, Gordon Smith, Joseph Jones, Darryl Head, Roderick Taylor, Jennifer Thomas, Katrina Van Cleave, Kris Benckle, Stormie Forte, Aimee Had, Connie Zaytoun, Robin Rodeberry, Tony Thompson, Kevin Trenner, Eddie Eiswitch, Charles Bell, Chris Butler, Charles English, Clarke Greene, Walter Dula, Micah Cover, Charles Lundberg,

Wes Quazniance, David Head, Karen Friberg, Shawn Sampson. Row 4: Chris Faust, Jeff Watkins, Preston Aidrioge, Jasen Steele, Leah Mallar. Row 5: Rick Kierman, Bobby William, Dan Auman, Matt Hamilton, Tim Pierce, Andy Pipkin, Bennett Funderburk, Jonathan Bolch, Ted Burnette, Coach Trevaian, Bred Baichelor, Tim Clougherty, Thomas Cummings, Roderick Williams.

Leading the pack, Senior Maylon Rowland strives to finish his final lap. Two laps around the outside fence were required before practice began.

Reaching Their Goal

Using a shoulder charge, Jodi Cochran races for the ball. The girls enjoyed some very warm weather during tryouts and practice.

Priet Stephenson cocks her leg as she kicks into the ball. The girls began practice after a week of snow.

Beth Shaw concentrates on her ball control as she dribbles downfield. Coach Clyde Brown led the team to a successful season.

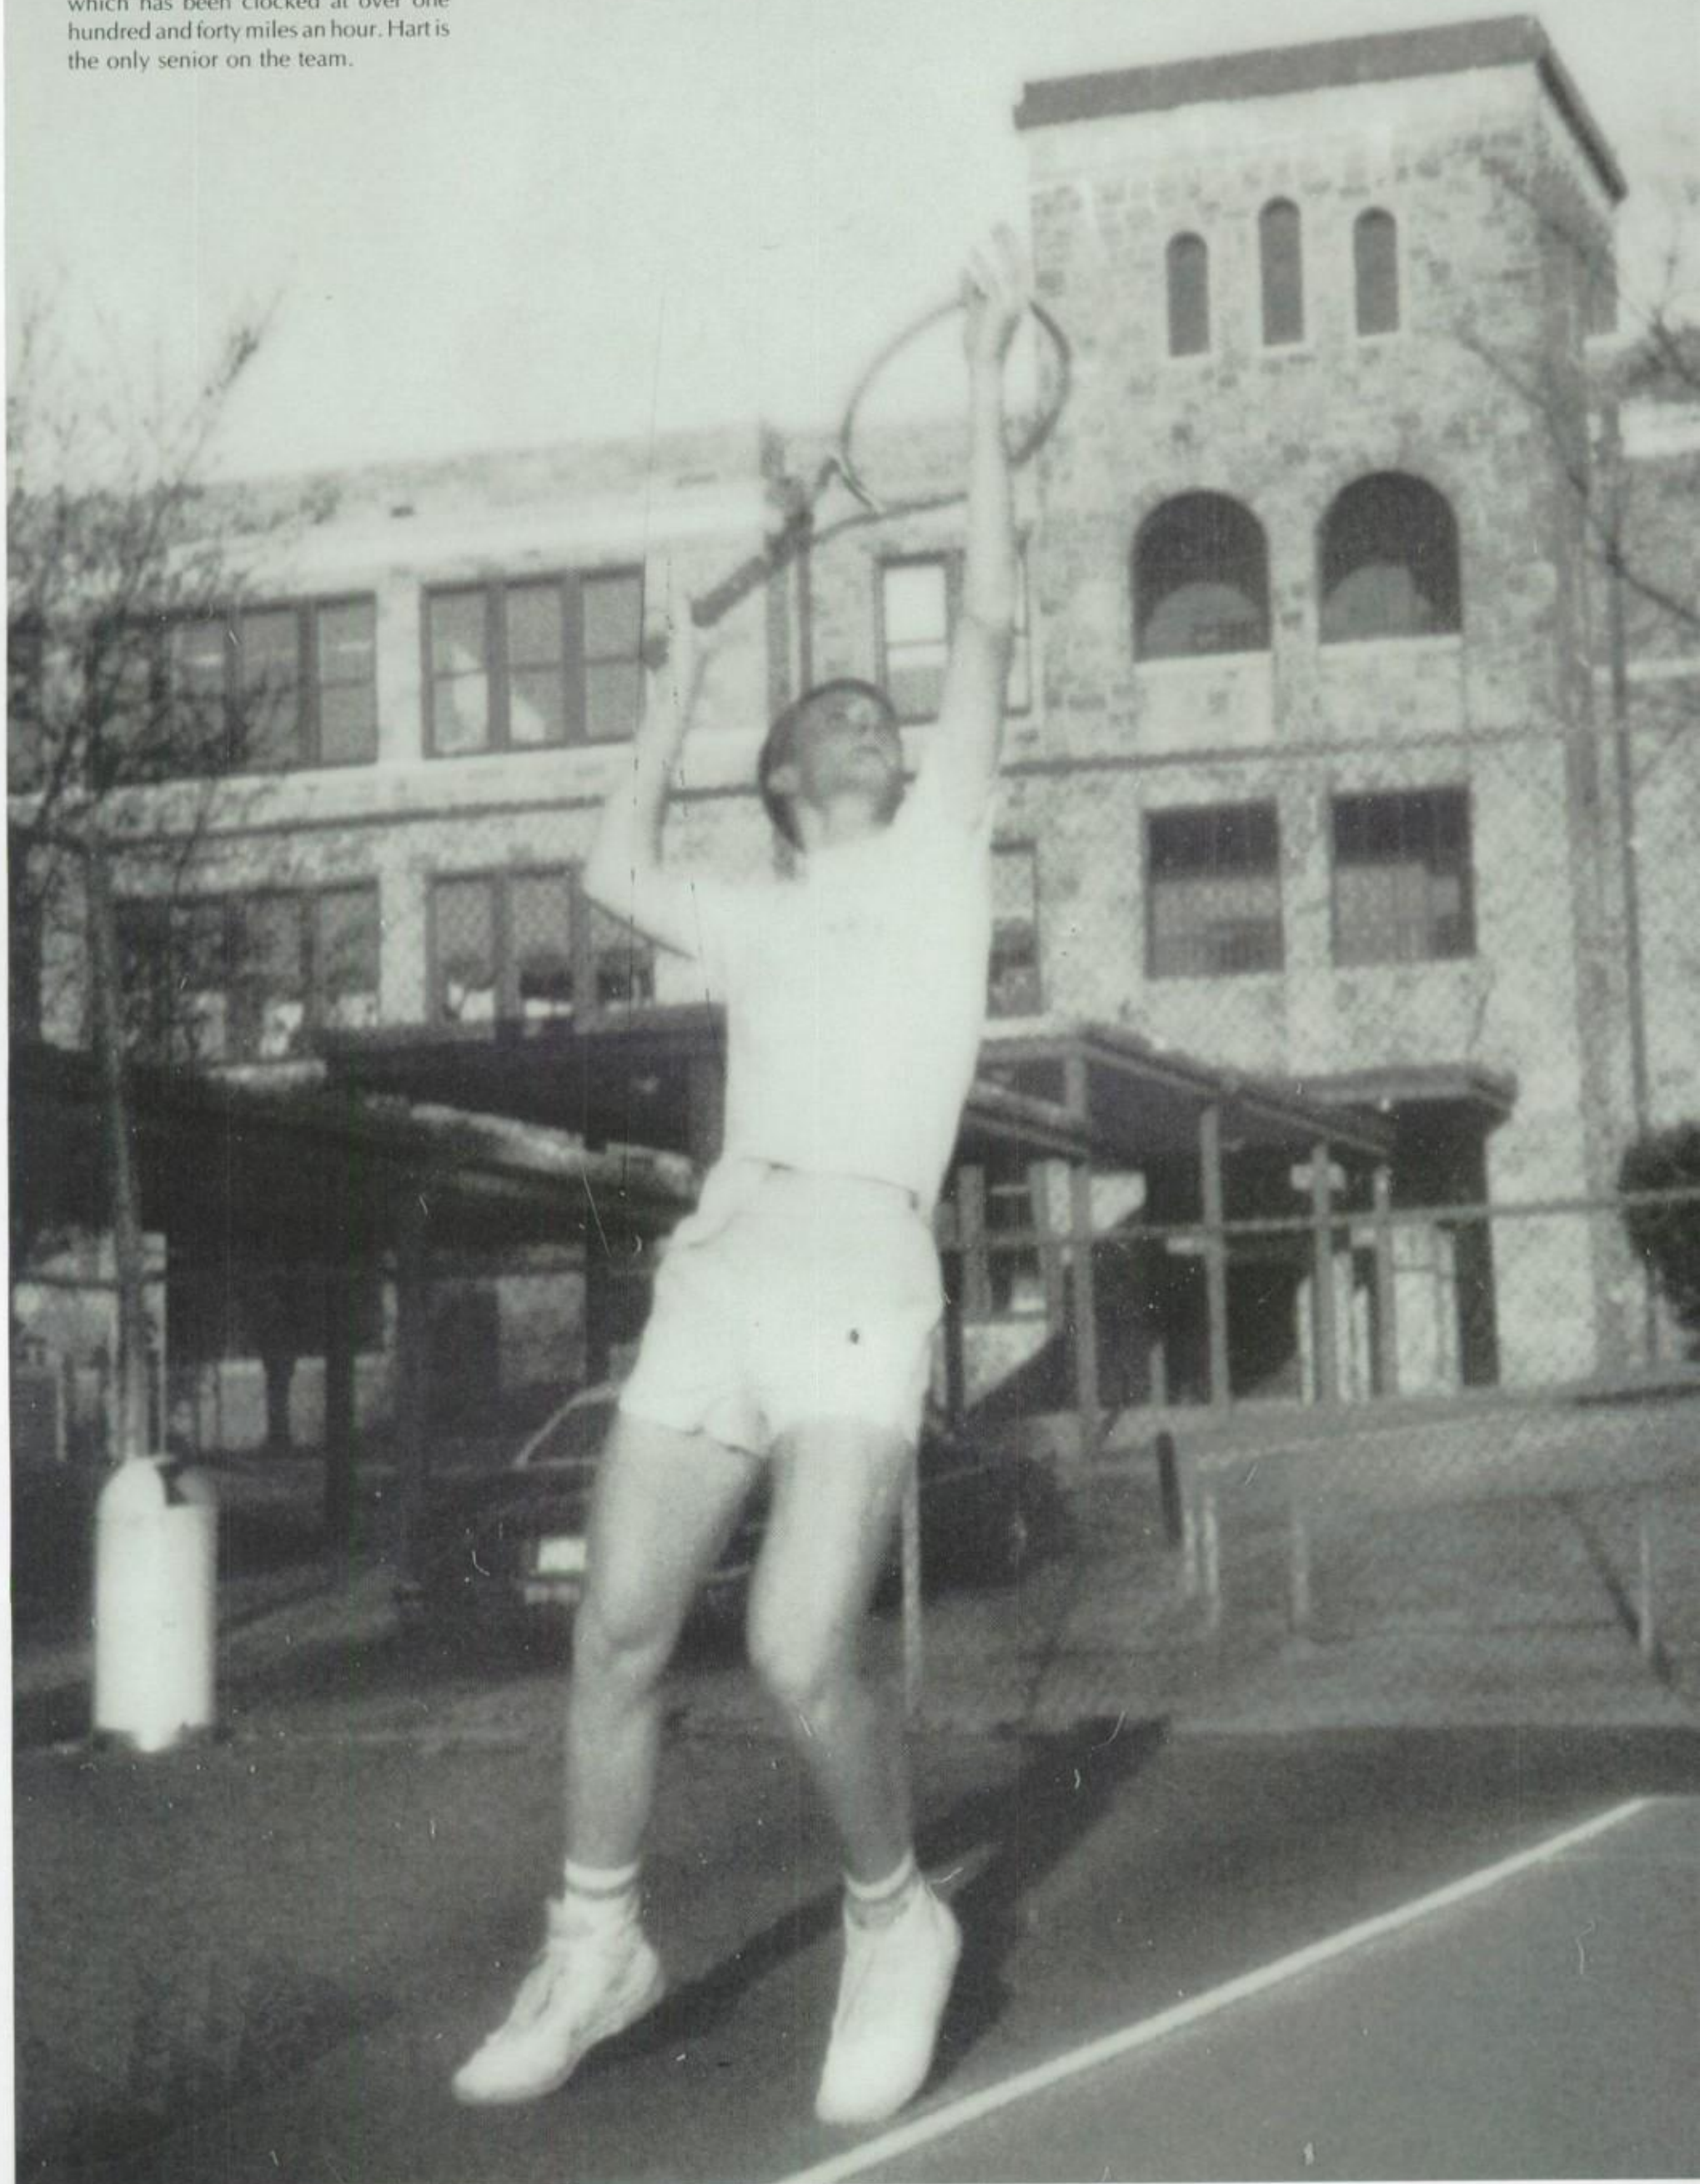

Girls Soccer

(Team in alphabetical order): Tracy Cate, Jody Cochran, Jennifer Corey, Simmons Covington, Susan Dearborn, Diane Dickerson, Katie Ellis, Jessica Few, Andrea Harris, Abbie Hendricks, Louise Hogan, Julie Johnson, Kelly Knight, Anna Pahl, Lisa Radford, Renelle Risley, Carson Satterfield, Donna Schmitz, Danitza Serracin, Beth Shaw, Kerry Stitzinger, Laura Wagner, Crystal Williams; Managers — Mary Caruso, Alison Gerig, Donna Mullins, Leeann Ruggles.

The Lady Caps began season practice a little late this year, because of a week of snow, but they didn't allow it to hinder their performance. The soccer team was centered around returning Seniors Maria Watson, Beth Shaw, Louise Hogan, and Cammy Worth. With Coach Clyde Brown directing the plan of attack, the girls finished well in the Cap 9 standings. Practice concentrated on endurance and the perfection of basic skills. "Soccer is a blast and we have a great time in practice," said Maria Watson. The team had a great season in every aspect on the field and off.

Hart Miles delivers his blistering serve which has been clocked at over one hundred and forty miles an hour. Hart is the only senior on the team.

Serving Up Winners

With the addition of national-ranked freshman Marshall Burroughs and Swedish exchange student Jonas Hendre, this year's tennis team is possibly the best ever assembled at Broughton. Returning are four members of last year's all-conference team: Senior team captain Hart Miles, Juniors Peter Burroughs and Doug Faucette and Sophomore Phil Gruber. Along with Chris Henry, another talented junior, the team breezed through matches to win the conference title for the fifth straight year.

The team lost only two players last year, and since all of this year's top seeds have been playing since they were freshmen, the team was very experienced. Coach Steve Spivey capitalized on this talent and the team finished second in the state tournament. More incredible than that is the fact that the Broughton tennis team has not lost a conference match since 1984. And with only one senior on this year's squad, Broughton tennis should flourish for years to come.

Following a forehand, Doug Faucette quickly ends the point. Doug played the fourth seed at Broughton.

Boys' Tennis — Front Row, Marshall Burroughs, Scott Noon, Phil Gruber, Peter Burroughs, Back Row, Doug Faucette, Jonas Hedre, Cal Hodgson, Chris Henry, Coach Steve Spivey (Not pictured — Hart Miles, Jeff Allen, and Chris Clark)

Marshall Burroughs follows through during pre-match warm-ups. Marshall, a freshman, is ranked 21st in the nation for his age.

Aiming For Par

"We have a lot of talent. If we can develop it, everything should go smoothly," said second year golf coach Phil Ratliff. On one hand, last year's team lost no seniors, but the fact that only three golfers returned this year shows the team's youth, and the team was understandably inexperienced and inconsistent at the start of the season. However, as the team was set and the season progressed, the team gained confidence to become a formidable opponent.

Along with the returning talents of Bill McNairy, Will Hubbard and Dexter Morgan, the team possessed one of the state's top girl golfers, Kim Byham. Kim won many tournaments this summer and was not intimidated at all by having to play with guys. Freshmen Trace Ferrell and Cameron Lewis showed promise for future teams while Juniors Kyle Prairie, Tripp Dean, and Patrick Gallagher, along with senior Hofler Williams helped provide needed leadership for the squad.

Fortunately, the golf team had no trouble in securing a course at which to play. In fact, the team was able to use two courses, Lochmere and Raleigh Country Club. This accounted for a smoother tryout process and better practices which enabled the young team to get some much needed victories.

Tripp Dean anticipates the outcome of his putt during tryouts. Tryouts were more organized this year than in the past.

Tripp Dean anticipates the outcome of his putt during tryouts. Tryouts were more organized this year than in the past.

Hofler Williams demonstrates the correct technique for following through. Hofler, a senior, provided leadership to the young team.

Golf Team — Left to right, Patrick Gallagher, Kyle Prairie, Bill McNairy, Cameron Lewis, Hofler Williams, Will McDaniel, Kim Byham, Will Hubbard, Trace Ferrell, Stephen Reville. (not pictured — Trip Dean, Ken Johnson, Dexter Morgan, Jim Capps)

Time Out

WHATEVER, THE UNDER-CLASSMEN, WEEBLES, and CAPTAIN ROMANCE. What do all these words have in common? Nothing, right? Wrong! All these names and many more represent intramural teams. Whether it was football or basketball, people gathered in great numbers not only to play but to play in their free time. Intramurals has been one of the most popular extracurricular activities since Mr. Mike Kral began the program in 1974. The intramural program allowed students not participating on a school team a chance to come together and work as a whole. Intramurals also gave the students a chance to be relieved of the pressures from the everyday life of school.

The flag football championship game was very exciting with SHOTGUN beating out the URVILES by double elimination. In the fall, many teams gathered to participate in basketball. The league got off to a great start with over twenty teams participating. Although there has been a greater number of teams in the past, the league didn't let that stand in their way of having a outstanding season.

Junior Michael Dickinson waits anxiously for Junior Dan Kesler to make his shot. Teams practice as well as play on weekdays and on Saturdays.

Senior Charles Miller looks on in awe as Scotty Harris makes an amazing dunk shot. Intramurals helps to promote participation of students not participating on a school team.

Senior Lloyd Clark makes a long pass as team members prepare to catch the ball. The intramural program helps students relax from the pressures of school.

Senior Thomas Castelloe blocks Junior Tim Pierce. Intramurals helps team members work on their sportsmanship as well as togetherness and team work.

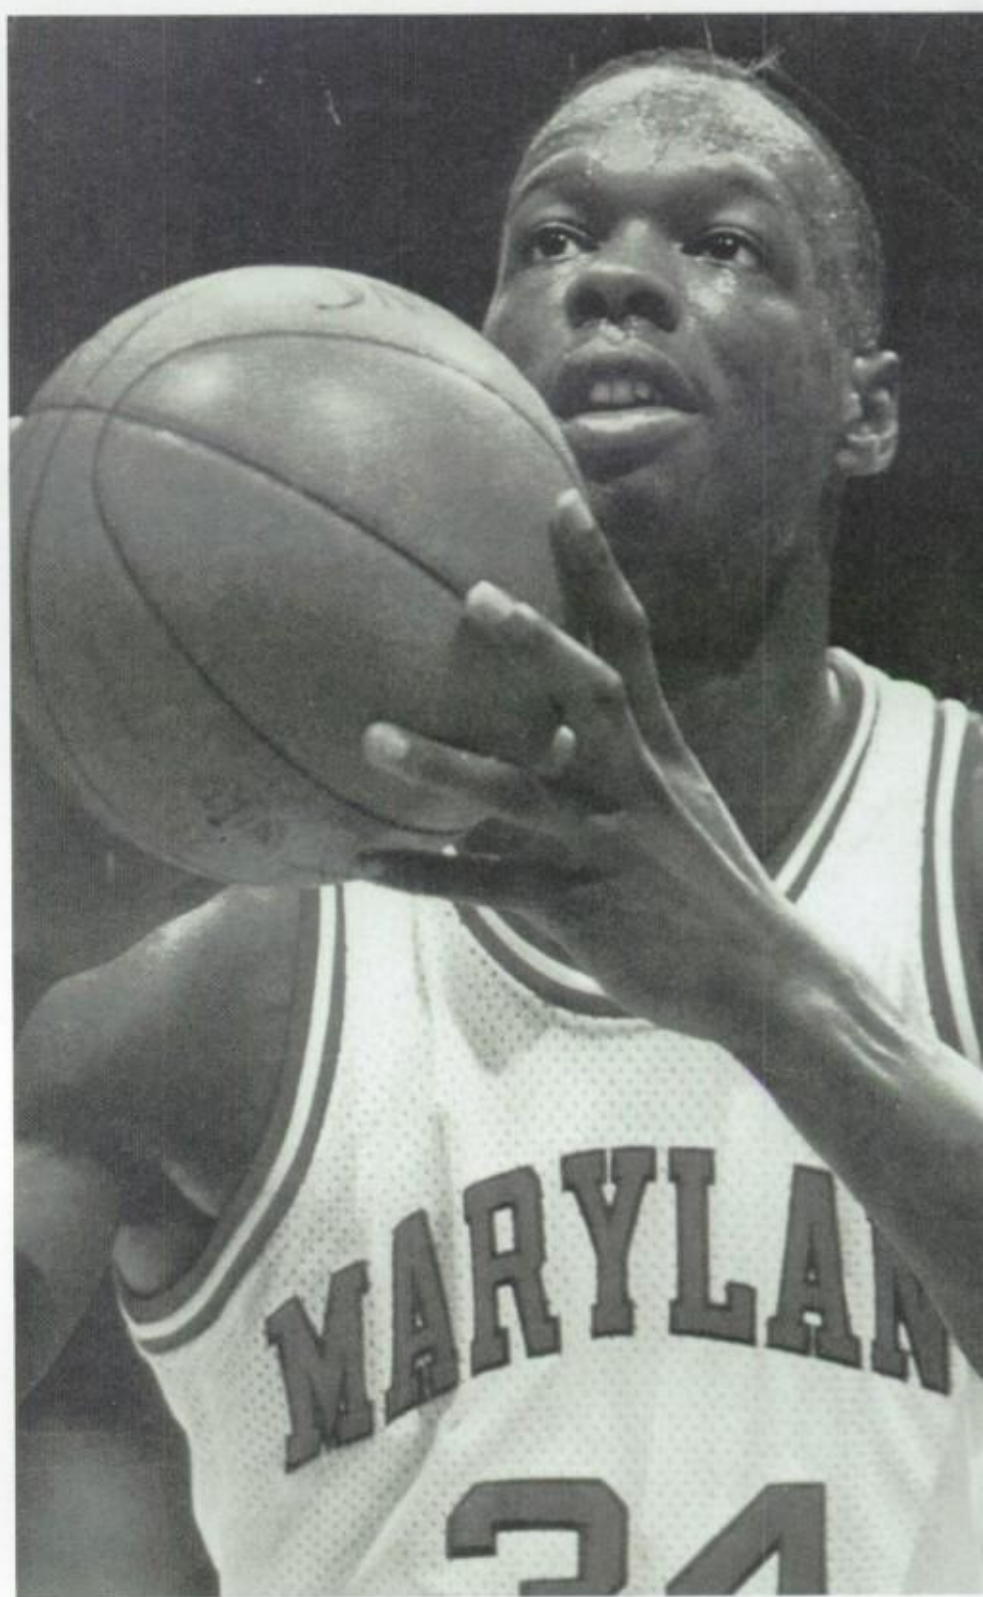

No O.T. after O.D.

Help keep our sports clean. It might sound like a commercial to you but this comment probably is more realistic to some. The unsuspected death of basketball star Len Bias came as a shock to the nation this past summer, and caused many people to think twice before trying such illegal drugs as cocaine. Only a few days after signing a contract with the Boston Celtics, Len Bias died from trying cocaine which had a lethal reaction with his body's chemistry. Shortly after his death, football player Don Rogers of the Cleveland Browns also ended his career by taking cocaine. The American public resorted to stiff drug testing programs in many professions.

Perhaps the nation took the issue too far by requiring college athletes to pass drug tests. Oklahoma's Brian Bosworth was suspended and unable to play in the Sugar Bowl after tests showed he had been taking steroids which he claimed were prescribed by his doctor. Is it right to keep players out of sports because of drugs? Well it may seem cruel and unfair, but do we want our children looking up to drug addicts or true advocates of health and fitness which epitomize sports? Maybe we would still be watching Len Bias dunk. Maybe his mother would still be watching him play. One thing's for sure, he'd be saying NO to drugs.

Basketball star Len Bias concentrates on sinking his next foul shot. His death, a result of cocaine, shocked the country.

Oklahoma's star Brian Bosworth crushes his opponent. Bosworth was suspended for the use of steroids.

A tired Don Rogers looks troubled. A prime example of his cocaine related death.

The view of a friend, as Len Bias' body is carried out of his apartment.

C

HARISMATIC ADJ. (KAR-EZ-MAT-IK) PERSONAL QUALITY AROUSING EN-THUSIASM; SEE ALSO: FASCINATING
CHARACTER, CREATIVITY, LIVELY NEAT, GROOVY, TEMPORAMON CHARMING, GLAMOROUS, ALLURING APPEALING, MAGNETIC, BE-WITCHING, FASCINATING, CHARAC-TER, CREATIVITY, LIVELY, NEAT

Words

Describe

Can't

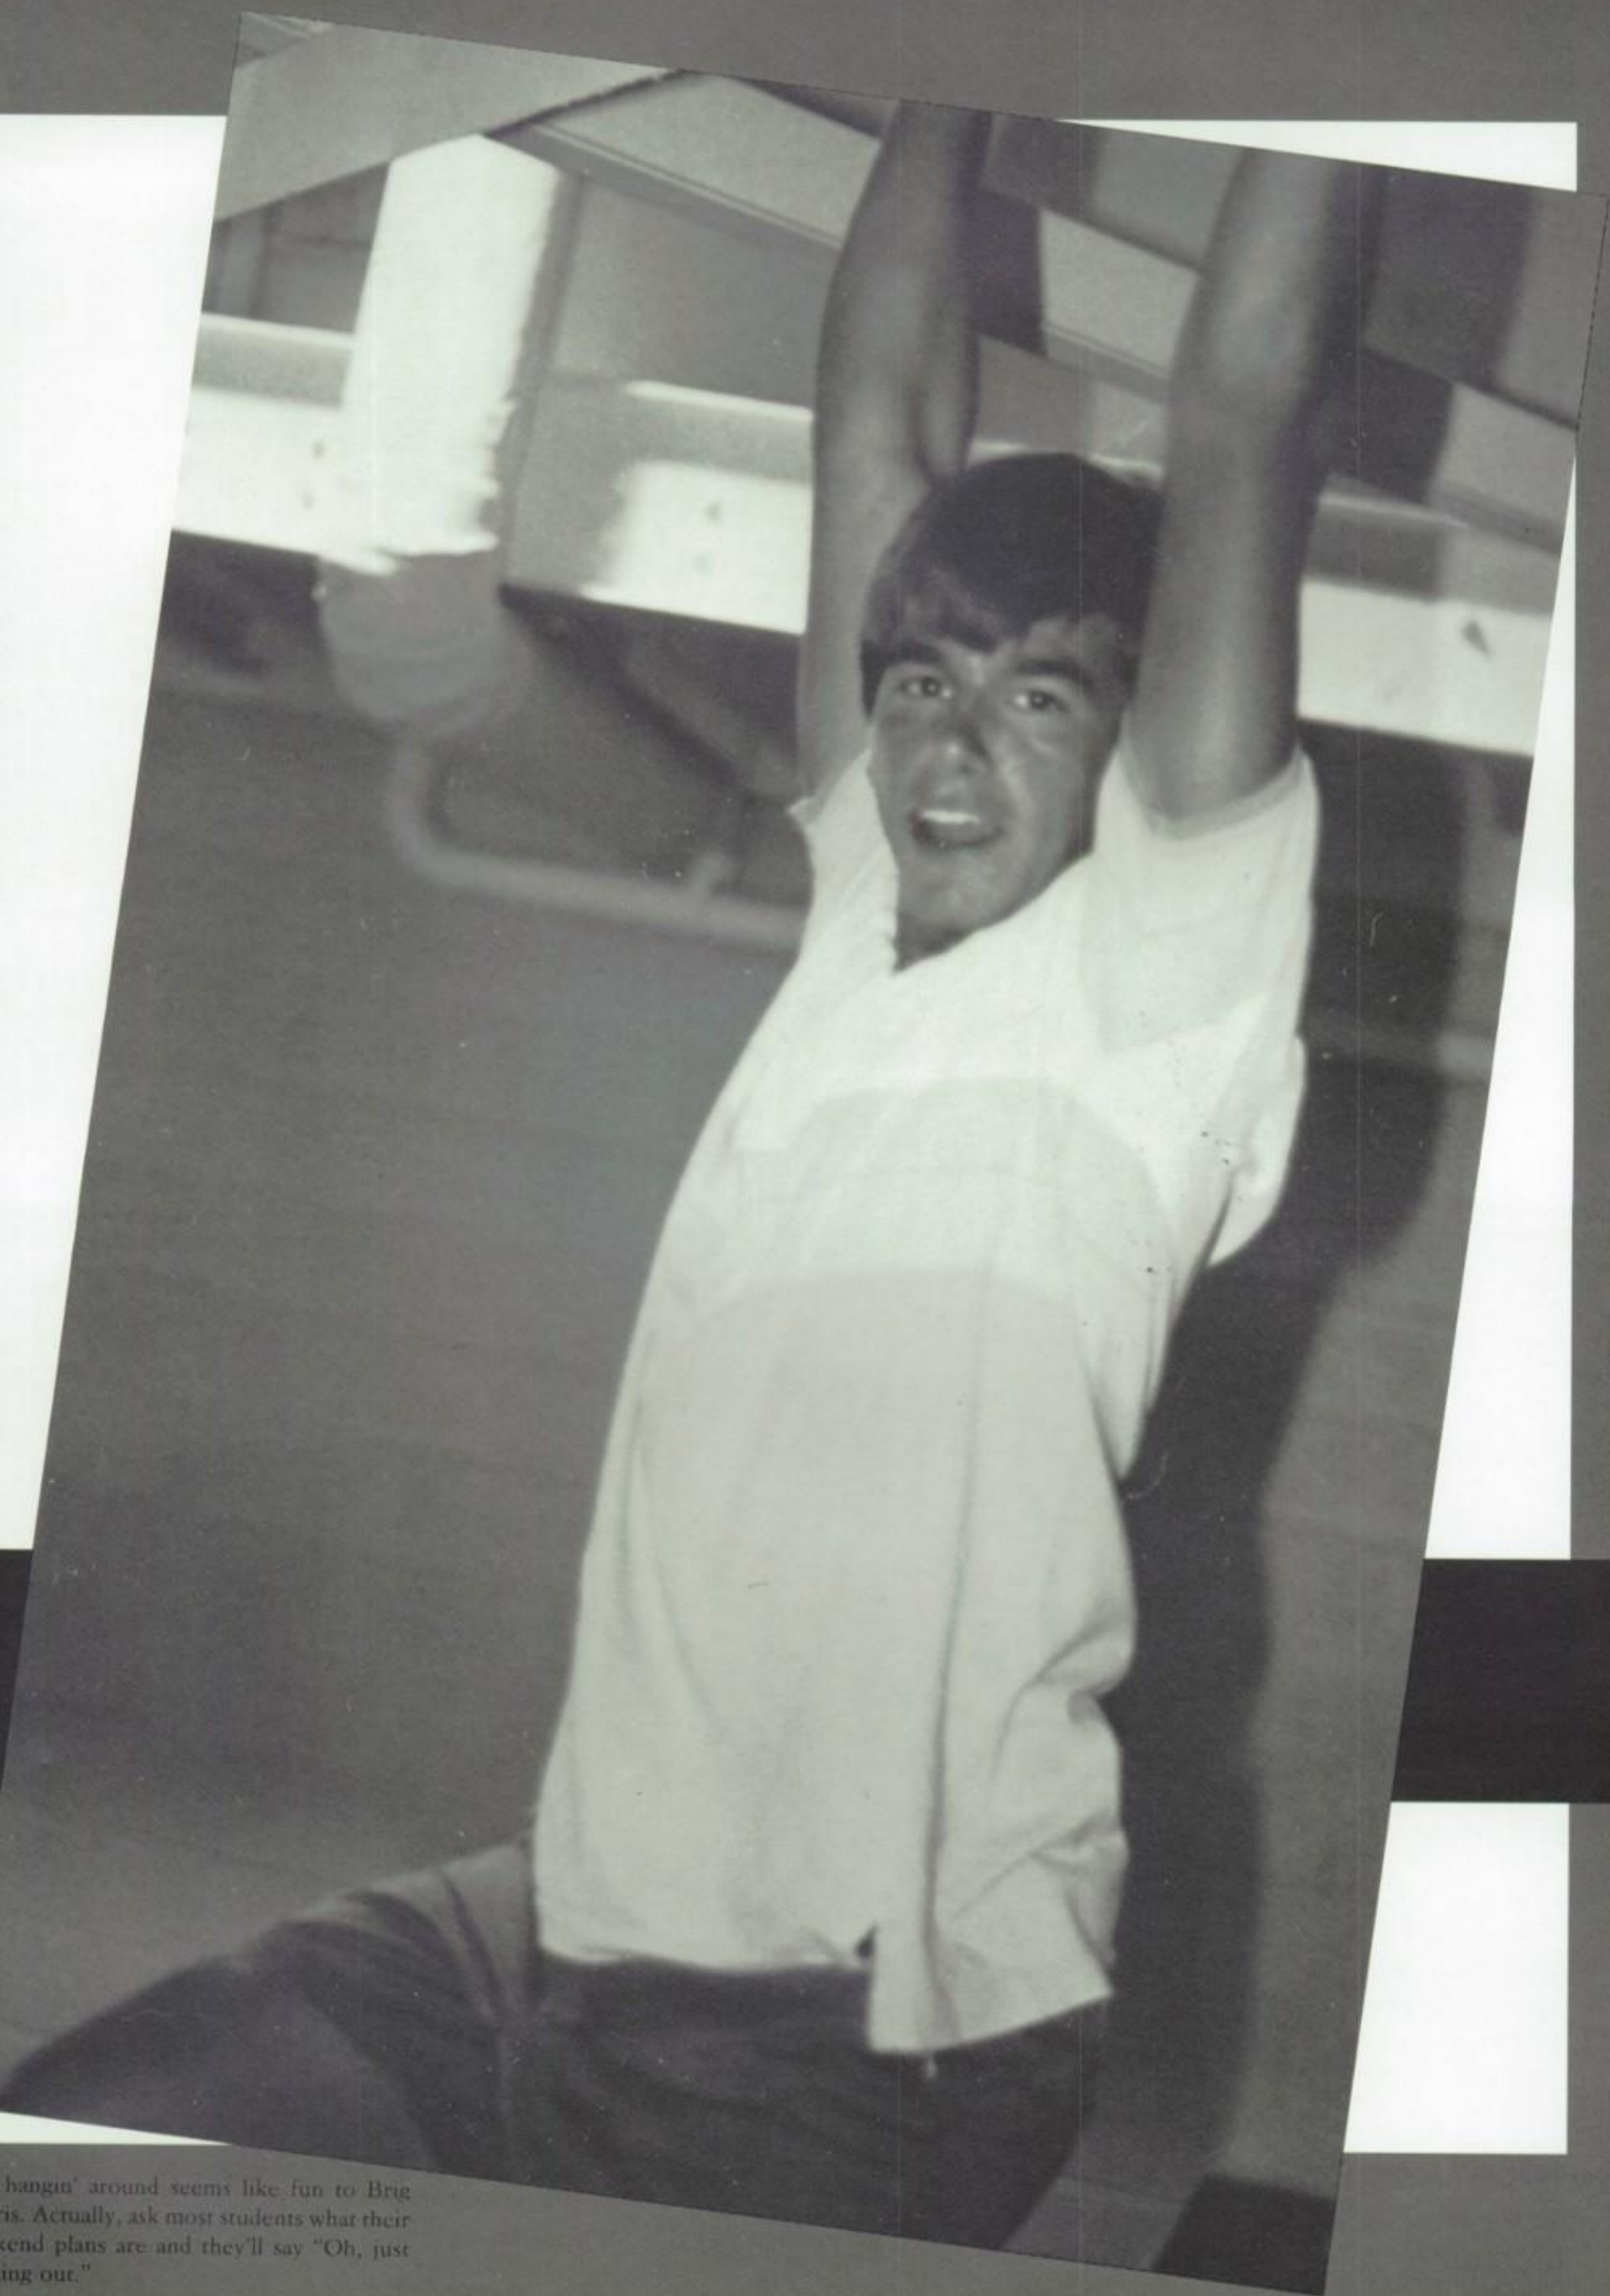

It

PORTRAITS

Judging from Mrs. Lynne Misenheimer's expression, maybe an apple for the teacher isn't such a bad idea, after all.

Students need rest whenever they can get it, and the floor is as good a place as any judging from Chris Brantley's serene expression.

hangin' around seems like fun to Brig is. Actually, ask most students what their kend plans are and they'll say "Oh, just ing out."

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING:

Next?

"We've been number one and we'll be number one," cheered Senior Powder Puff player, Carson Satterfield. The girls of 1987 stomped on to their final victory in the last powder puff football game of their high-school career. These girls have never been defeated! The name powder puff leads you to believe that it's whimpy football that prissy girls are playing, but as Beth Crampton so well stated, "Nobody thinks girls can play football but it's rough and we are out there breakin' bones!" "It helps everyone to have more spirit for homecoming because everyone loves to see girls fight," commented Tracy Spencer. Karen Nowell remarked that it wasn't easy and they weren't out there in a popularity contest. "You gotta be good!" "We are out here to prove that we can do things guys do! Ya know, women's lib kind of stuff" said Daria Ervin. Harriet Stephenson agreed and said, "It's a chance for the guys to watch the whole lot more! It gives them all girls in action at Gregson!" How tough you are is not the only qualification for a powderpuff player. "Your attitude is just as important as your ability," remarked Laura Rennie. Powder puff football is not only a game to these girls, it means a a chance to prove themselves as real athletes. Yet, it brings the girls of 1987 closer together as a class. They are all out there with 'sweat, blood, and tears' because "people expect us to win," remarked Jim Wiley, Powder Puff coach, "and we're gonna live up to their expectations." saying "Victory is our goal!" Victorious they were, with a 26 to 0 final score against the junior girls.

Senior powder puff players Marilyn Andrews, Harriet Stephenson, Rosalind Jones and Beth Crampton plot out their winning strategy. Their concerns were not only to win the game, but to be good sports.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Ken Akers
Billy Allen
David Allred
Doug Anderson

Marilyn Andrews
Izlar Andrade
Shane Angley
Hugh Avera

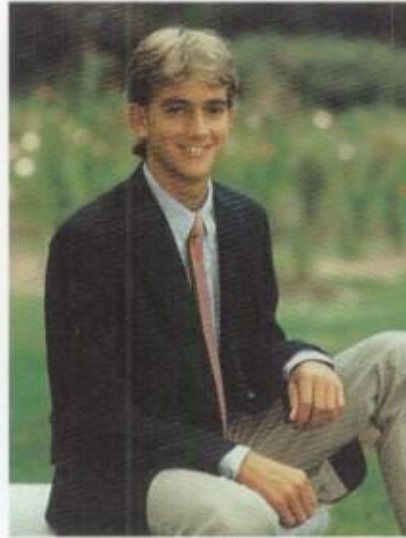

Robert Axtell
Shahinaz Ayoub
CeCe Bailey
Junior Bailey

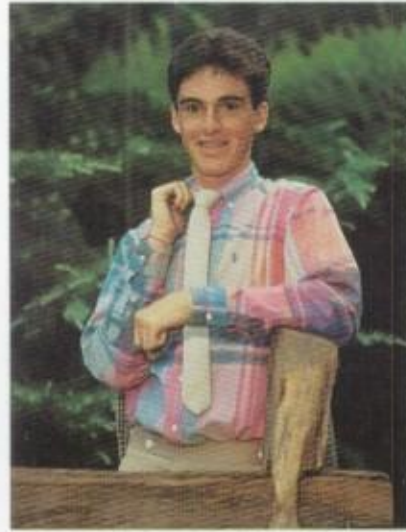

Cindy Balentine
Steven Ballentine
James C. Ballinger
Angela Barefoot

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Rich Barefoot
Kristi Barksdale
Brett Bartholomew
Cyndi Barton
Bret Batchelder
Christy Batts
William Beaty

Jim Beck
Mark Beezley
Cathy Bell
Charles Bell
Katy Bell
Heidi Berenson
Marci Bernstein

Amy Bishop
Allen Black
Lisa Bianchi
Mark Boyd
Greg Boykin
Jimmy Boykin
Eric Bradsher

Susan Bremington
Mark Brenner
Curt Brewer
James Brewington
Amy Brickhouse
Lynn Britt
Mary Broughton

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING:

College Knowledge

In the dark back corners it lurked, piles and piles of glossy info. enveloped in a single brochure, letter, or handbook. Yes, it was the sometimes interesting yet often boring college mail. "Tons of mind altering omnipotent nonsense," was how Gregg Lee described it.

Most of the feelings on the subject proved to be negative. "College mail is a waste of time and money," said Lloyd Clark.

Many also felt that the correspondence they received from colleges had no effect on their decisions. As Pete Stahel commented, "A brochure from a college isn't going to make me want to go there."

"Most of the colleges that send stuff aren't too hot anyway—I haven't heard of half of them. Besides, most people already know where they want to go," explained Mary Shaw.

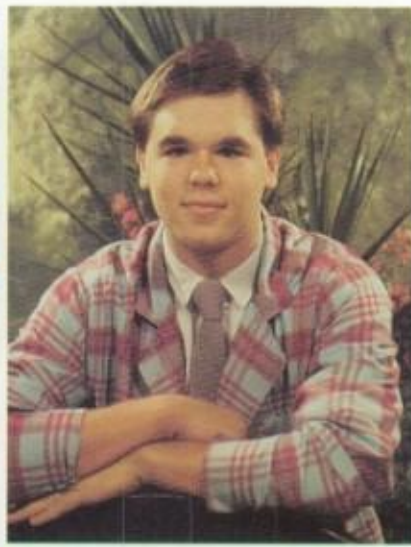

Finally it seemed that colleges weren't the only ones who sent information. As Tom Laney joked, "The Armed Forces send more stuff than everybody else combined. It's bothersome."

class of 1987 class of 1987 class of 1987 class of Frantically searching for something of interest Julie Sparboe and Cece Bailey toss out several boring brochures. Mail started pouring in for most seniors the beginning of their junior year.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Andy Brown
Darla Brown
Jody W. Buck

Vicky Buffalow
Markus Buhr
Susan Burchall

Ed Burton
LeeAnn Camp
Lisa Campbell

Meredith Campbell
James Capps
Dennis Carey, Jr.
Maureen Carlin
Peter Carlson
Markham Carr
Rebecca E. Carter

class of 1987 • class of 1987

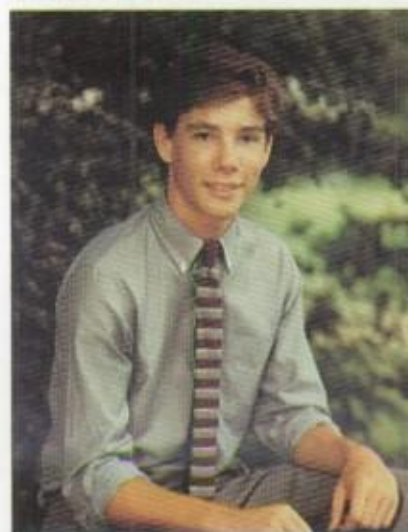

Traci Carter
Carol Carver
Thomas E. Castelloe
John Cella
Jon Chapman
Jess Chappell
Pamela D. Chavis

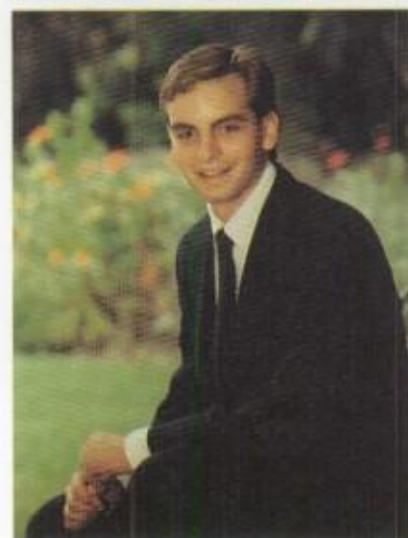

Meg Chenery
Anna Cho
Melanie Chrisp
Christina Cicerto
Chris Clark
Lloyd Clark
Natalie J. Clark

Jon Cochran
Linda Coggins
Tommy Collinsworth
Chan Conrad
David Constantino
Stephen Conway
Mark Cover

Matthew Cox
Beth Crampton
Larry Creech
Allen Crone
Harold Crump
Rick Crumpler
Kevin Cummings

class of 1987 • class of 1987

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING:

Government Schooling

"May I have those interested in attending Boys' State or Girls' State or Governors' School, please see Mrs. Thompson," and that's where it all began.

Petra Wiggins, Caroline Farmer, Stewart Harris, Harriet Stephenson, Caroline Frye, Michelle Roberts, and Benji Taylor were among the students who attended Girls' State. While Bret Batchelder, Andy White, Stewart Shirey, Clark Womack, Ray Smith, Mark Brenner, Hart Miles, Jess Chappell, Jon Chapman, Kevin Lee, Will Ellington, Charles Bell, Bill McNairy, Allin Foulkrod, Rob Singleton, and Clark Greene were the students that attended Boys' State along with other students from different schools.

Although students spent only a week away, they learned quite a bit about our government. Boys' State was located in Winston-Salem at Wake Forest University, while Girls' State was located in Greensboro at UNC-G.

During the first few days each group was divided into the Nationalists and Federalists then into four cities and four countries. Then officers such as the mayor, county commissioner and lieutenant governor were elected. Wednesday was the day in which state officers were elected. Those who didn't get elected into an office were put into the House of Representatives. "This was the part of the game that was a fun and interesting way for students to understand the function of government and how its set up," concluded Clark Womack.

Broughton Seniors did well in the elections. Rob Singleton held the position of State Treasurer, in which he had to devise a budget that the state had to go by. Harriet Stephenson was the mayor of her city.

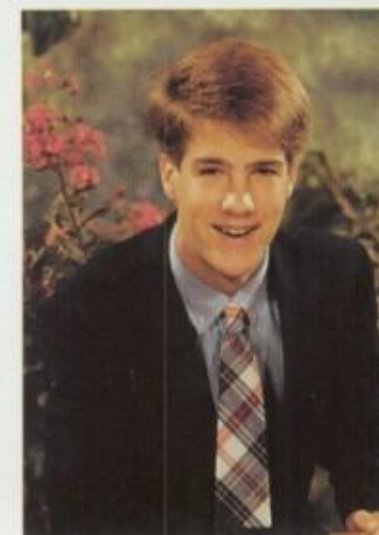

Governors' School was a six week program to which only a selected few were admitted. The selected few were Kent Perry, Bret Batchelder, Andy Estes, Belinda Watkins, Gordon Stephenson, and Bill McNairy. "It was like a regular school. We attended classes such as Science and English. We played intramural sports. Even though we have seminars, we have plenty of time to ourselves," stated Bret Batchelder.

"Fulfilling" was one way that Rob Singleton described his experience. "It was so nice to get to know everybody," as Caroline Farmer put it. But Bret Batchelder summed it up as "a once in a lifetime experience!"

class of 1987 class of 1987 class of 1987 class of

First row: Leah Miller, Caroline Farmer, Kevin Lee, Bret Batchelder, Hart Miles, Mark Brenner, Andy Estes. Second row: Petra Wiggins, Harriet Stephenson, Jess Chappell, Jon Chapman, Benji Taylor, Charles Bell, Caroline Fry, Bill McNairy, Belinda Watkins. Not pictured: Che Coker, Will Ellington, Kent Perry, Michelle Roberts, Gordon Stevenson, Stewart Shirey, Ray Smith, Clark Womack, Andy White, and Stuart Harris.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Meghan Curran
Chris Currie
Dale Currin
Miko Curry

Holli Dail
Mike Davidson
Regina Davis
Meg Deal

John DeAngelis
Derek DeBank
David DeBosky
Jill Dembicks

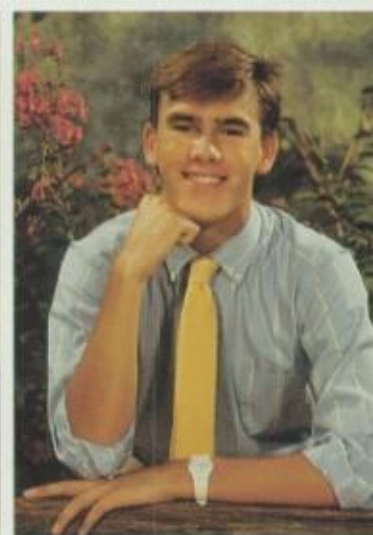

Penn Dillon
Lisa Dingman
Don Donochod
Charlotte Duke

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Keysha Dunn
Kristy Dunn
Tanya Dzuba
Virginia Eagles
Cindy Edwards
Ricky Eisworth
Andrea Ellers

Tresa Elguera
Michael Eli
Will Ellington
Hans Enders
Daria Ervin
Andy Estes Faith Eury

Barry Evans
Norm Evans
Paula Falcone
Caroline Farmer
Andy Feldman
Andy Felton
Stephaine Ferrell

Mary Hampton Ferrell
Leigh Ann Ferris
Linda Fischbach
Linda Fisher
Julie Folken
Allin Foulkrod
Kathleen Franklin

class of 1987 • class of 1987

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING:

A National Experience

"I talked with girls from Alaska, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, New York... and expanded my knowledge on how other states are run," stated Harriet Stephenson about her experience at Girls' Nation. "I had so much fun there that I wouldn't have wanted to do anything else for that week."

Can you imagine spending one week of your summer with ninety-nine other girls from across the nation?

Girls' Nation was an all expense paid trip to Washington D.C., which was held from July twelfth through the nineteenth. The trip to and from Washington D.C., plus expenses were paid by the American Legion Auxillary.

The highlight of the week was when President Ronald Reagan spoke to one hundred girls in the Rose Garden. "The experience was incredible!"

Both representatives served their state as senators the entire week. They had to write a bill, a resolution and in sessions they fought to pass laws by following parliamentary procedure.

"Like I said before, I had a wonderful time!" Harriet summed up her week by saying, "After going to Girls' Nation and spending the time that I spent there, I realized that government policy isn't all that boring."

class of 1987 class of 1987 class of 1987 class of Harriet Stephenson was honored with the opportunity to attend Girls' Nation. She was one of the two girls that represented North Carolina along with other girls throughout the country.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Leslie Franklin
Pete Frederick Caroline Frye

Dean Fuqua
Meredith Garr
Frederick Garloff

Mark Garloff
Tony Gerardi
Jennifer R. Gibbs

Takaaki Goto
Crissie Giersch
Matthew Gilmore
Katie Graves
Andrea Green
Clark Green
Christy Grimsley

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Kevin Guerl
Susanne D. Guss
Dionne M. Hackett
Abraham Haileselassi
Yolanda Halsell
Gary Hansen
Carla G. Harris

Kim Harris
Robert Harris
Stewart Harris
Craig Harry Maurice Hayes
Charles Haywood
Sharon Hazouri

Lorraine Henderson
Jonas Hedre
Lora Henrick
Casey Herget
Melissa Herring
Edward V. Hicks
Edward Hicks

Lee Highsmith
Lee Hinton
Michelle Hodge Star Hobson Tweed Hoffman
Louise Hogan
Graham Holland

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING:

Abroad View

"Everyone was very friendly to me, especially the guys," exclaimed the female exchange students as they soon discovered that foreign males like the American girls. Many students who traveled abroad this past year had a lot of new and excitedly different things to learn. "It was difficult to communicate at first, but my host family helped me out," said Marty Mitchell.

Along with Marty, Mary Shaw, Kim Thigpen, and Erica Payne also spent one month in France this summer.

They all seemed quite surprised at the similarities between cultures. "When I got to France I expected the fashions to be totally different, but they weren't. I was sort of disappointed," explained Mary Shaw. "At least the food was a new experience." Mary explained further that the food seemed complicated to make, yet turned out to be very simple.

Amy Peterson was fortunate enough to spend her whole year in France. "This trip has influenced the rest of my life; it wasn't just a fun tour abroad."

Amy hoped that she would incorporate French somewhere in her career.

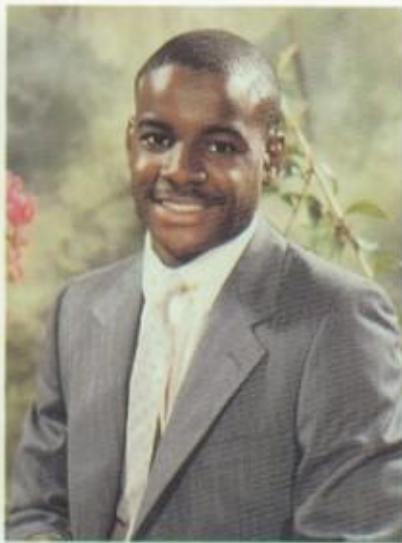

Amy, Marty, Kim, and Erica have learned something from their travels that they will long remember. "I had a great time because it was fun yet it was a learning experience at the same time!"

class of 1987 class of 1987 class of 1987 class of Enjoying a dish of escargot with her French family, Marty Mitchell has a taste of another culture. Marty spent one month as a foreign exchange student in Toulouse, France.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Alan Holliday
Kemp Hunt
James M. Hunter
Renita Hunter

Rebecca Isbell
Barbara Jackson
Charles E. Jackson
Chris Jackson

David Jezik
Timothy Johnson
Ivey Johnson
Otha Johnson

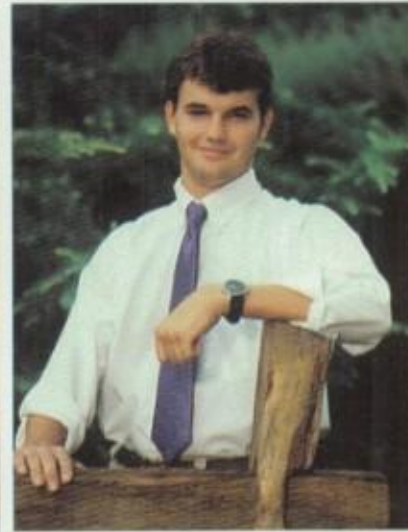

Patrick Johnson
Dottie Jones
Elizabeth Jones
Jennifer L. Jones

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Rosalind Jones
Stephen W. Jones
Deborah Jordan
Rob Jordan
Jenkie Joyce
Gigi Karam
Ashleigh Keener

Justine Kelly
Andrew Keravuori
Anne Kincaid
Ronnie King
Michael Kinney
Nancy Ko
Bonnie Koehler

Michael Kornegay
Meg Korte
Jason Kring
Shelley Kubeny
Wallace Lambert
Larry Lancaster
Kenya Lane

Teresa Lane
Tom Laney
Daron M. Lawrence
Shannon Lawrence
Royce Laws
Phillip Laymon
Gregg Lee

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING: Stylin' Crafts

"Not everyone can do this!" says Senior Miller Vick. What is this special talent? Making earrings of course! Miller started her jewelry art with necklaces made of brass beads and wooden animals. When these went out of style she began to make earrings. "I just make a pair to match whatever I'm wearing," laughed Miller. These earrings are made of thick watercolor paper and acrylic paints. Once she has chosen the shape and painted the paper, she could add extras such as, beads, rhinestones, silver, copper, gold, strips of scouring paper, and mirrors or metallic paper.

When the earring backs are attached to the earrings, the job is done. "One pair of earrings may be anywhere from fifty cents to one dollar to make," Miller explains. Sabine took her earrings to "To Be Continued..." at Crabtree Valley Mall to be looked at. "The sales lady was so nice that she offered to sell them with her creations." "My earrings usually sell at about sixteen dollars a pair," said Sabine. Of course Sabine gets half of this expensive price. Sabine summed it all up by saying, "I love art! It's a fun way to make money!"

class of 1987 class of 1987 class of 1987 class of Enjoying the spotlight, Miller Vick and Sabine Moore proudly show off their unique earrings. Homemade earrings are becoming more and more popular.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Kevin Lee
David Lepere
Joey Leveille

Dayan Levi
Larrissa Lewis
Randy Lewis

Sara Lewis
Sue May Lewis
Timothy Littrell

Chris Long
Melissa Long
Reneé Love
Asle Lokken
David Lynch
Michelle Mack Salathiel Mack

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Chad Magers
Susan Majors
Suzy Marlin Shane Martin

Kelvin Marshall
Andra Matlock
Wendy May Dana McCall

Kim McCallister
Wendy McCloughy
Amy McCluney
Domonic McCoy

William McDowell
Christy McDuffie
Jodi McKenzie
Bill McMairy

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING:

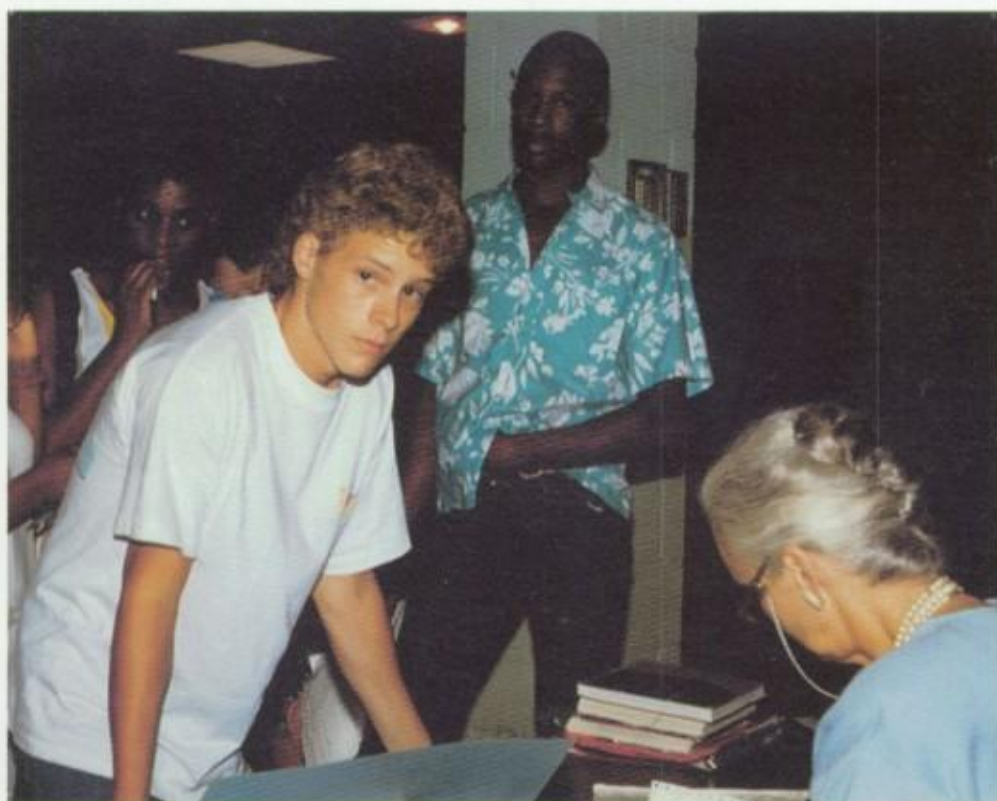

Take it or Leave it

Confusion, Frustration, drowsiness, and a down right pain in the you-know-what, are just a few of the interchangeable feelings that take place at Broughton's famous Drop-Add session. Any unfortunate person who has been through the agonizing experience of Drop-Add knows how irritating it can be standing in a line of three-hundred seniors one day and four-hundred freshmen, sophmores, and juniors the next two days, anxiously awaiting a new schedule.

What is Drop-Add? "It was gay!" Angel Rasette laughed. Jim Wiley, senior of the macho class thought, "It was great! I met a lot of girls standing in line!" The lines were long, the people were grumpy, and the time was going by slow. Most seniors waited in line for four hours. Whoever got to the front of the line was lucky. Once the lines started to get fat, it started to get hot. "We were literally sweating," said Senior, Becky Carter. Though it was hot and not so hot at the same time, Drop Add was a necessary evil for some.

Frustrated and bored Jerry Jeffries waits for the reply of his new schedule. Drop-Add is a tedious process few seniors would want to go through.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

class of 1987 • class of 1987

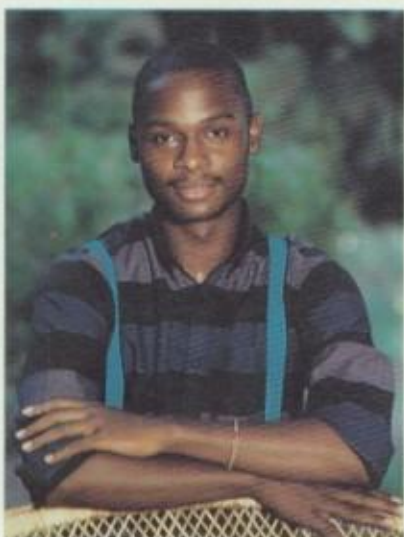

Tom Meehan
Kim Mehlich
Kimberly Melton
Holly Mercer
Evie Merrick
Kirstin Meriwether
Monique Merriweather

Michael Messner
Jean Metz
Cheannell Mickens
Hart Miles
Janet Millar
Leah Millar
Brent Miller

Charles Miller
Laura Mills
Tuowan Milvooade
Marty Mitchell
Melissa Mitchell
Jackie Mittelstaedt
Chris Moore

Sabine Moore
Julien Mordecai
Gwendolyn Morgan
Tony Morgan
Jacquelyn Mullins
Kevin Murrell
Juanon Myers

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Rita Nagakuni
Julie Narducci
Eben Nash

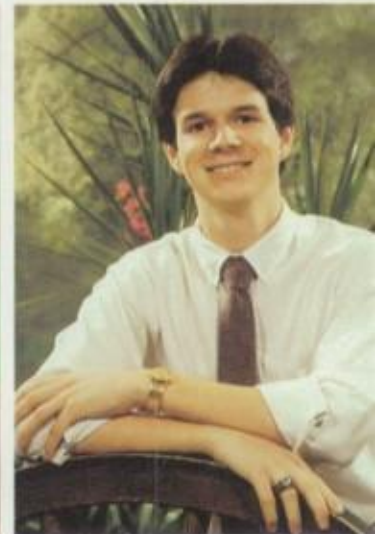

John Nelson
Paul Nelson
Bridger Newman

Chris Newton
Thomas Nichols
Karen Nowell

Laura Nowell
Gena Nuttle
James O'Connor
Karyn Oestreicher
Ivan O'Neal
Rick Oestrich
Joe Orander

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING: Picture Perfect

You wake up and realize that today is the day you've been waiting for. Senior Portraits are being taken. You rush around wildly trying to achieve that perfect look, practicing your smile in the mirror before leaving home.

Senior portraits were taken over summer vacation and everyone arrived in a frenzy, not knowing what to expect. "Look

class of 1987 class of 1987 class of 1987 class of natural? I don't lean on trees!" joked Harriet Stephenson. Girls were brushing their hair and touching up their makeup while guys straightened their ties. "I just spent hours on my hair and they messed it up," whined Susan Tull in a laughing manner. Although everyone seemed worried, it was a happy kind of worry and laughter and smiles were passed from person to person.

Straightening a necklace for Linda Coggins, the photographer prepares to take her senior picture. Photographers reminded everyone of the small details that make a good picture even better.

Picture day, the first real activity as seniors, excited the class of '87 about the coming year and made us realize that we were finally seniors.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Jason D. Outlaw
Jeanine Palumbo
Felicia Parker
Sena Parrish
Erica Payne
Scott Pearce
Crystal R. Peebles

Dennis Peebles
Shannon Peery
Paige Pernell
Kent Perry
Amy Peterson
Brian Peterson
Scott Philbrook

Jack Phillips
Jakie Phillips
Brian Philpot
Kelley Pleasants
Michael Pollock
Deanna Pollard
Jennifer D. Powell

Russell Privette
Catherine Prygroki
Gwendolyn Pulley
James Quaintance
Tonya Queen
Mark Randolph
Johnny L. Reese

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Tom Reichstetter
Bobby Richardson
Crystal Richardson
Karen Richmond

Sharon Richmond
Laura Rinne
Renelle Risley
Michele Roberts

Felicia Robertson
Angela Rouse
Joe Rowland
Evan Sanchez

Todd Sanders
Aian Sanderson
Carson Satterfield Hunter Scott

lass of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING:

Don't Look Back

During the last four years Broughton has gone through many changes in administration, in the student body, and in the very appearance of the campus. As far as administration, we've seen positions shuffled, added, and removed. From the shuffling of counselors to the loss of

Mr. Teel to Garner High School, administration underwent major changes. In the past years, the student body had many policy changes. The school day was extended fifteen minutes, and for the first time seniors will be taking exams. In addition, trailers began to overrun the front lawn, and improvements such as new windows and paint gave the campus a new look.

How did these changes affect students? Most students adjusted well. "The front lawn looks like a trailer park, but I know we needed space," commented Tracy Spencer. "There have been so many changes that I can't remember them all, but it's all for the best," noted Lisa Dingman. Students took the changes in stride and made the best of all situations.

class of 1987 class of 1987 class of 1987 class of Changing classes on the front lawn, students gather at what seems to be a construction site. Trailers were still being erected after school was in session.

class of 1987 • class of 1987

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Jenifer Scott
Willie Selby
Lulit Semunegus
Danitza Serracin
Jonathan Serxner
Elizabeth Shaw
Mary Shaw

Scott Shepherd
Ford Shippey
Stewart Shirey
John Shutt
Angela Sikes
Marianne Sikes
Steva Sims

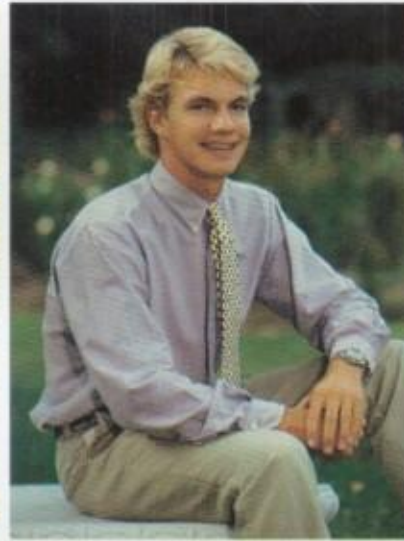

Rob Singleton
Scott Sinor
Debbie Sisson
Caleb Smith
Jason Smith
Ray Smith
Roger Smith

Soni Smith
Kim Solomon
Sara Solomon
Andrea Sommer
Julie Sparboc
Ray Spence
Tracy Spencer

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Judi Stafford
Pete Stahel
Brenda Stancil

Connie Stanley
Devin Steele
Gordon Stephenson

Harriet Stephenson
Antoinette Stewart
Missy Stoutt
Pearl Surles
Benji Taylor
Kimberly Tenai

Christopher Terdik
Kim Thigpen
Ajaratu Thomas
Scott Thomas
Kristen Thomasson
Yolonda Thompson
Susan Vaughn

class of 1987 • class of 1987

DESCRIBING:

Upward and Outward

Repelling off a steep mountainside, Curt Brewer risks the dangers for the fantastic view. Even with its strenuous activities, Outward Bound continues to be one of the most popular summer programs for high school and college age students.

No T.V. No phone. No Hardee's. Sounded like a teenager's purgatory. Actually three Broughton students braved the comforts of civilization and participated in the Outward Bound program for four weeks last summer. Curt Brewer, Groves Willer, and Randy Lewis hiked, repelled, canoed, and climbed in the mountains of North Carolina. They were mixed with teenagers from across the country and as Curt commented, "You really had to keep open-minded when you met people from all over, especially New Yorkers."

The students were constantly challenged to try new skills; to dare to do the dangerous. "At one point we were hiking up to 27 miles a day," commented Groves.

And as Randy said, "Try balancing on a beam 60 feet up in the air with the sun in your eyes."

Near the end the students went on a solo expedition for two days with only "a hunk of cheese and a granola bar." For two days they were totally self-sufficient. Kurt summed up the entire experience when he said, "Outward Bound really made me appreciate everything I have and it made me see things in a different light."

class of 1987 • class of 1987

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Clifford Torrence
Amanda Tugman
Susan Tull
Camilla Turner
Melanie Turner
Patrick A. Upchurch
Teri Vandenboom

Ed Vandenboom
Miller Vick
Ivo van Hilvoorde
Grant Walker
D. Paul Walker
Charlene Wall
Teresa Walters

Belinda Watkins
Bryant L. Watson
Maria Watson
Tim Watson
Wanda M. Watson
Alison Weatherman
Yvonne Wennen

Princess K. Whitaker
Andy White
Kristie White
Scott White
Petra Wiggins
Jim Wiley
Noel Wilkinson

class of 1987 • class of 1987

Angela Williams
Hofler Williams
Rodney Williams
Sarah Wilson

Sara Winkler
Catherine N. Winters
Dennis Wofford
Clark Womack

Kim Wood
John Worsley
Cammy Worth
Elisa Wright

Desiron Young Henry Young Janet Zimmerman

DESCRIBING:

The Pit of All Evil

It was your senior year. It was a time for memories to be made. Yet walking up that long, black strip on the first day of school you seriously wondered if any respect would come to a senior who still parked in the pit.

"I love my car. Therefore I don't park in the pit." Mark

Brenner

"If the Wake County School Board had to park in the pit they'd do something about it."

Amanda Tugman

"You just can't imagine how cold it is when it's raining and the wind's blowing — it's as cold as running naked in the snow."

Andy Estes

"I used to park in the pit. Now I get to school at 7 in the morning to park on the strip." Ray Smith

"I've got a senior parking place. I get up at 7:00 A.M." Jimmy Ballinger

"Providence sent senior parking places." Marcie Bernstein

"A man can look no farther than his moira. My moira is not to park in the pit." Randy Lewis

"The pit is a dangerous place. I have to pay extra insurance just because I park there." Jon Chapman

"The reason why there are so many Jeeps at Broughton is because you need four-wheel drive just to get out of the pit." Bret Batchelder

"The pit eats cars. Last year my car got hit nine times and this year it burned up. I just got a new one — I hope it's not still hungry." Andy White

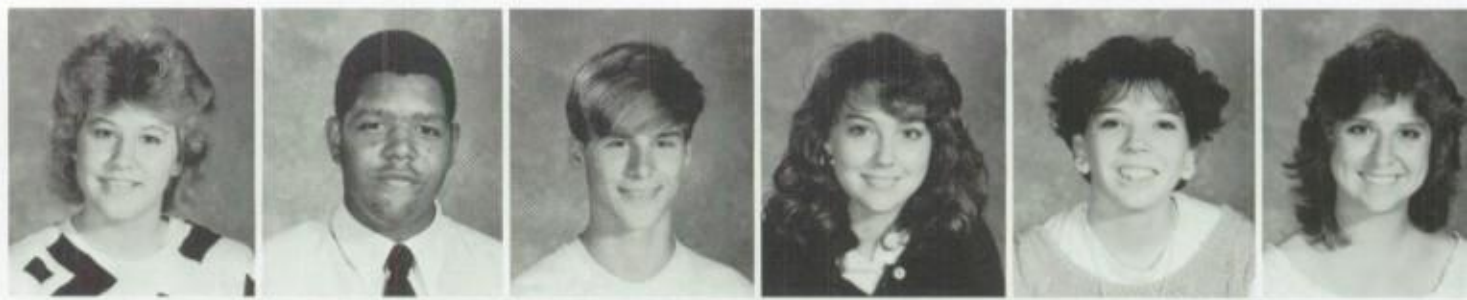

"The pit is a travesty and a disgrace to fine parking lots across this great nation." Hart Miles

Jodi McKenzie skillfully maneuvers out of the maze of cars in the pit. Newly licensed drivers were intimidated by the chaotic congestion at 2:35.

class of 1988 • class of 1988

Barbara J. Allen
Calvin Allen
Jeff Allen
Karen Allred
Mary Andrews
Stephanie Amodilh

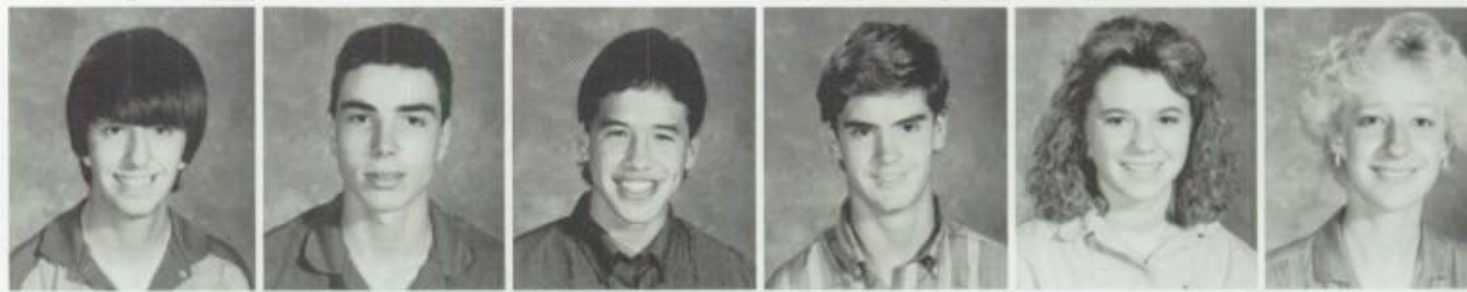

Dan Auman
Warren Avery
Judy Bahl
Paige Barefoot
Erin Barksdale
Van Barnette

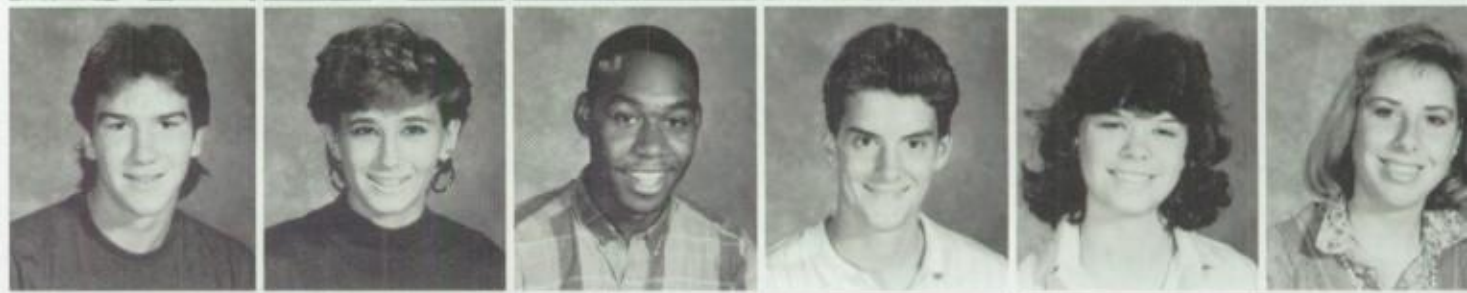

Andrea Baron
Brad Barron
Heather Baughan
Hans Baumgart
Elizabeth Battle
James Battle

Brian Beasley
Brian Beck
Chris Bender
Bill Benson
Christine Berger
Barbie Bernhard

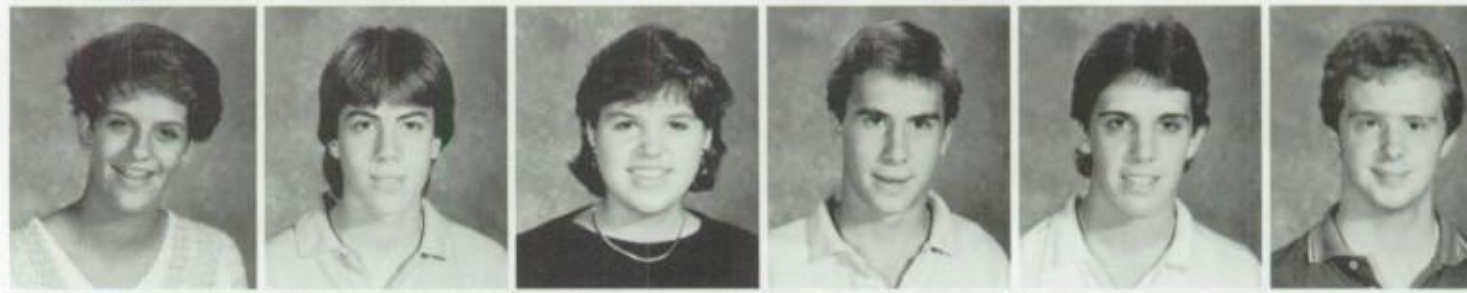

David Blackwell
Christina Boatwright
Tony Bobbitt
Jonathan Bolch
Katherine Boney
Barbara Bond

Stephen Boyd
Jamie Brailsford
Chris Brantley
Sam Brewer
Steve Brian Lisa Briggs

Lora Brooker
Ed Brown
Lucy Brown
Matt Brown
Steve Bryant
Bill Buchanan

Tony Buckner
Peter Burroughs
Jon Byers
Martha Cannon
Belinda Cao
Michael Carlin

Class of 1988 • class of 1988

Changing Scenes

Exchange students at Roughton come from all over the world. These students are away from their home and family. How do they make it? Well, the families they live with are a big help.

Each exchange student is placed with a family who is suited for them. "I loved my host family. I don't know how I would have made it without them," said Senior Amy Peterson who spent last year in France. "It's fun helping a foreigner learn about American customs," said Sophomore Derrick Racey. His family hosted an exchange student last year. "We try to match the student to a family they can get along with, according to their profile," said Phyllis Elguera who places exchange students in the Raleigh area.

School is a big part of an exchange student's American experience, but the time they spend with their host families also makes up a large part of their life in a new country. It takes a special family to take in a foreign student and host families deserve lots of credit.

Eating an authentic French dinner, Senior Amy Peterson discusses her plans with her mother and both of her host parents. Exchange students sometimes become very attached to their host parents.

Chantal Carlson
Sarah Carlson
Tim Carrington
Blair Castelloe
Tracy Cate
Thomas Caves

Vincent Chalmers
Wanda Chavis
Pete Cheeks
Tim Chew
Gerrelyn Chunn
Tim Clougherty

Joanna Cochran
Caroline Coffey
Shonda Collins
Skip Cooke
Johnetta Cotten
Micah Cover

Emily Cowlins
Lindsay Cox
Holly Crane
Lisa Crenshaw
Michelle Cress
Glenn Crickmoor

Tom Cummings
Shawn Cunningham
Mike Curlee
Laurie Cuss
Robin Cuthrell
Chrystal Dail

class of 1988 • class of 1988

Nicole Dailey
Chris Dale
Missy Daniels
Rachel Dassinger
Tom Dassinger
Dana Daughtry
Kelly Daughtry
Andrew Davis
Pamela Davis

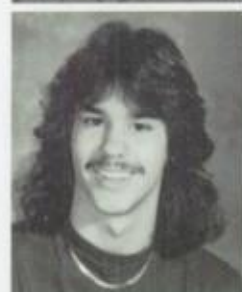

Dean Tripp
Joyce Debnam
Ty Dembicks
Mike Devault
Traci Dewid
Diane Dickerson
Michael Dickinson
Shannon Dixon
Andrew Donadio

Chris Dooley
Drew Doves
Nicole Dubay
Walter Dula
Billy Duncan
Hillman Duncan
Kim Dunemann
Jenni Dunlop
Stephanie Dunston

Chris Dupree
Elizabeth Edmondson
Brian Edwards
Matt Edwards
Teri Edwards
David Elliot
Katie Ellis
Beth Ellwanger
Melissa Emory

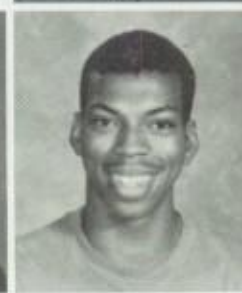

Thomas Emory
John Emrich
Andrea English
Charles English
Shelton Ennis
Doug Esposito Bret Evans
David Evenson
Steven Exum

Ian Fairweather
Cyndi Farmer
Doug Faucette
Trina Fenton
Lucy Ferdon
David Fitzgerald
Rhoderick Fleming
Chris Foldesi
Kim Fong

Anna Dunn Fonville
Mark Foulkrod
Wayne Fowler
Kim Fowlkes
Meghan Francis Colby Freeman
Gordon Freeman
Karen Friberg
Cynthia Fulbright

Deborah Fuller
Jennifer Fuller
Bennett Funderburk
Leighanne Futrell
Patrick Gallagher
Jack Gambino
Courtney Gantt
Kristin Gay
Vonda Gay

class of 1988 • class of 1988

Double Trouble

Brothers and sisters are the object of many kinds of emotions. You love them. You hate them. You confide in them. You spy on them. Sometimes siblings are very close. They have that special bond that was begun at birth, when they were born only minutes apart. "I know I'll never be alone. I will always have a best friend!" said Anthony Moore about his twin brother Hudson. "Sure we are competitive and sure we fight, but so do other brothers and sisters!"

There were several sets of identical twins in all grade levels posing a particular problem for substitutes, but even full time staff were not immune to these difficulties. Several pranking twins switched classes, unknown to their teachers. The only catch was when they forgot to switch clothes. "I don't really mind when people mix us up. You get use to it, and now I'll answer to either name," remarked Sara Solomon.

Fraternal twins also carry a special closeness. Panos and Stratos Paschaloudis have the same friends and they remained very close friends, yet Panos remarked, "We still compete in sports and women."

Even dresses the same, the fraternal twins, Dana and Kelly Daughtry, already show differences. As they grow older, they obtain different looks and personality.

Class of 1988 • class of 1988

Capital Punishment

The following is a re-creation of an actual event. The names have been changed to protect the innocent...and the guilty.

Time:7:58

Scene of the crime:Room 325

Arresting officer:Mrs. Mezero

Perpetrator:Lisa Dongle

Mrs. Mezero:"Do you have a note?"

Lisa:"No."

Mrs. Mezero:"Lisa, this is your twenty-eighth tardy!"

Lisa:"Not in a row!"

Mrs. Mezero:"I'm going to have to give you detention."

Time:8:51

Place:Homeroom

The morning announcements began with, "Will the following people please report to Ms. Balkar." As the name Lisa Dongle was broadcast, she snapped out of her daydream.

Time:8:57

Lisa dragged herself down to Ms. Balkar's domain of doom. Lisa said to herself, "Detention? That's a little harsh, I was only late twenty-eight times!" She entered and heard the offenders being sentenced guilty without a trial. She was next. She managed to squeeze out her defense, but before she could finish, she was cut off.

Mrs. Balkar:"What day do you want it?"

Lisa:"But..."

Mrs. Balkar:"What day do you want it?"

Time:2:46

Place:Detention Hall

Room:101

Lisa entered full of dread. She scanned the social scene, rolling her eyes. She took a seat at the back of the class and opened up her backpack and took out her

English homework. Then she proceeded to do something totally wild and unpredictable. She studied for two hours in total silence. To her surprise, detention proved to be very productive.

Making use of their free time, Je Joyce braids a thread bracelet. Martha Lee finishes her homework. In two hour detention hall students have plenty of free time to do various things.

Amy Geron
Tricia Gessner
Kellie Gibson
Chrystal Gilmore
Charlie Ginger
Krystal Glenn

Angela Gomes
Vincent Goodman
Claire Gookson
Denise Goodwin Worth Goodwin
Kelvon Graham

Meredith Graham
Eric Gray
Johanne Green
Charlotte Gregory
Walter Gregory
Don Griffies

Travis Grimes
John Growney
Kristen Guillory
Greg Gulick
Sharon Guthrie
Candice Gutierrez

class of 1988 • class of 1988

Sally Hadley
Jodi Haire
Chris Hall
Gavin Hall
Terrance Hall
Matt Hamilton

Wes Hamilton
David Harrell
Brig Harris
Grace Harris
Jay Harris
Kendall Harris

Steve Harris
Thresa Harris
Patrick Harrison
Charlyne Hartpence
Chip Hartzog
Kim Hauser

Donovan Hawfield
Jennifer Hawks
Darlene Hayes
David Head
Markus Hecker
Chris Henry

Robert Hill
Melissa Hinnant
Jeff Hinton
Ann Hiott
Chris Hobby
Ann Hobson

Cal Hodgson
Karl Hokanson
Brian Holder
Marie Holden
Will Holder
Camille Holland

Derek Holland
Brianna Holmes
John Holmes
Michele Holt
David Horton
Anthony Howell

Will Hubbard
Sandra Hulkup
Melissa Hunt
Chester Hunter
Eleanor Hunter
Brian Jacobson

class of 1988 • class of 1988

Kim James Marci Jankowitz
Carla Jefferson
Joanne Jeffreys
Ann Johnson
Clark Johnson

Jeana Johnson
Jennipher Johnson
Jeremy Johnson
Julie Johnson
Ken Johnson
Monique Johnson

Angela Jones
Anna Jones
Joseph Jones
Katherine Jones
Kim Jones
Sherwood Jones

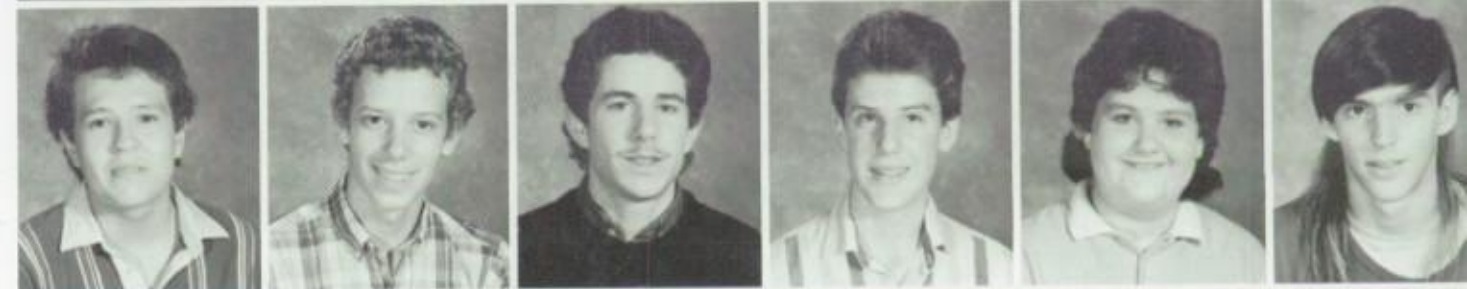

Tracey Jones
Suzanne Jordan
Julie Joyner
Carla Jefferson
Amelia Johnstone
Donna Jones

Narayan Kapil
Todd Kellison
Leigh Kemp
Charlie Kennedy
Scot Kennedy
Tammy Kenney

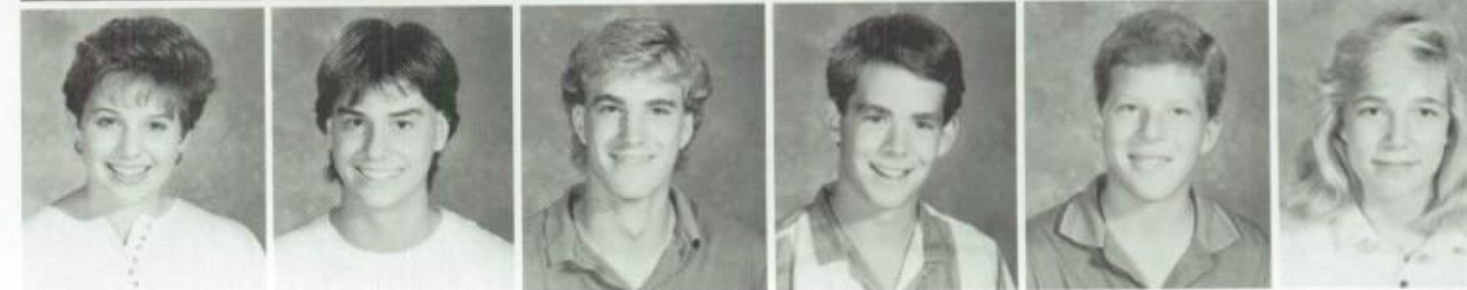

Alex Keown
Daniel Kesler
Rick Kiernan
Joel Kilgore
Karen Kirk
Nathaniel Kirkman

Karen Kish
Francie Kleiner
Christy Knight
Christine Koger
Amy Kotlas Brad Krieger

Karen Ksih
John Lack Kevin Lancaster
Marty Langley
Jamie Law
Sharon Leach

Class of 1988 • class of 1988

Monday Night Madness

It's a Monday night. Where are you? Tuned into "Kate and Allie," or maybe "Scarecrow and Mrs. King?" Maybe even attempting homework? If you answered none of the above, chances are good you might have been found at the Raleigh Parks and Recreation Department attending a Raleigh Youth Council meeting. The Raleigh Youth Council is a city sponsored organization made up of area high school students interested in community and government involvement. Senior Dennis Carey felt, "RYC helps teenagers get really involved in their city and keeps them informed about government and what is affecting their lives."

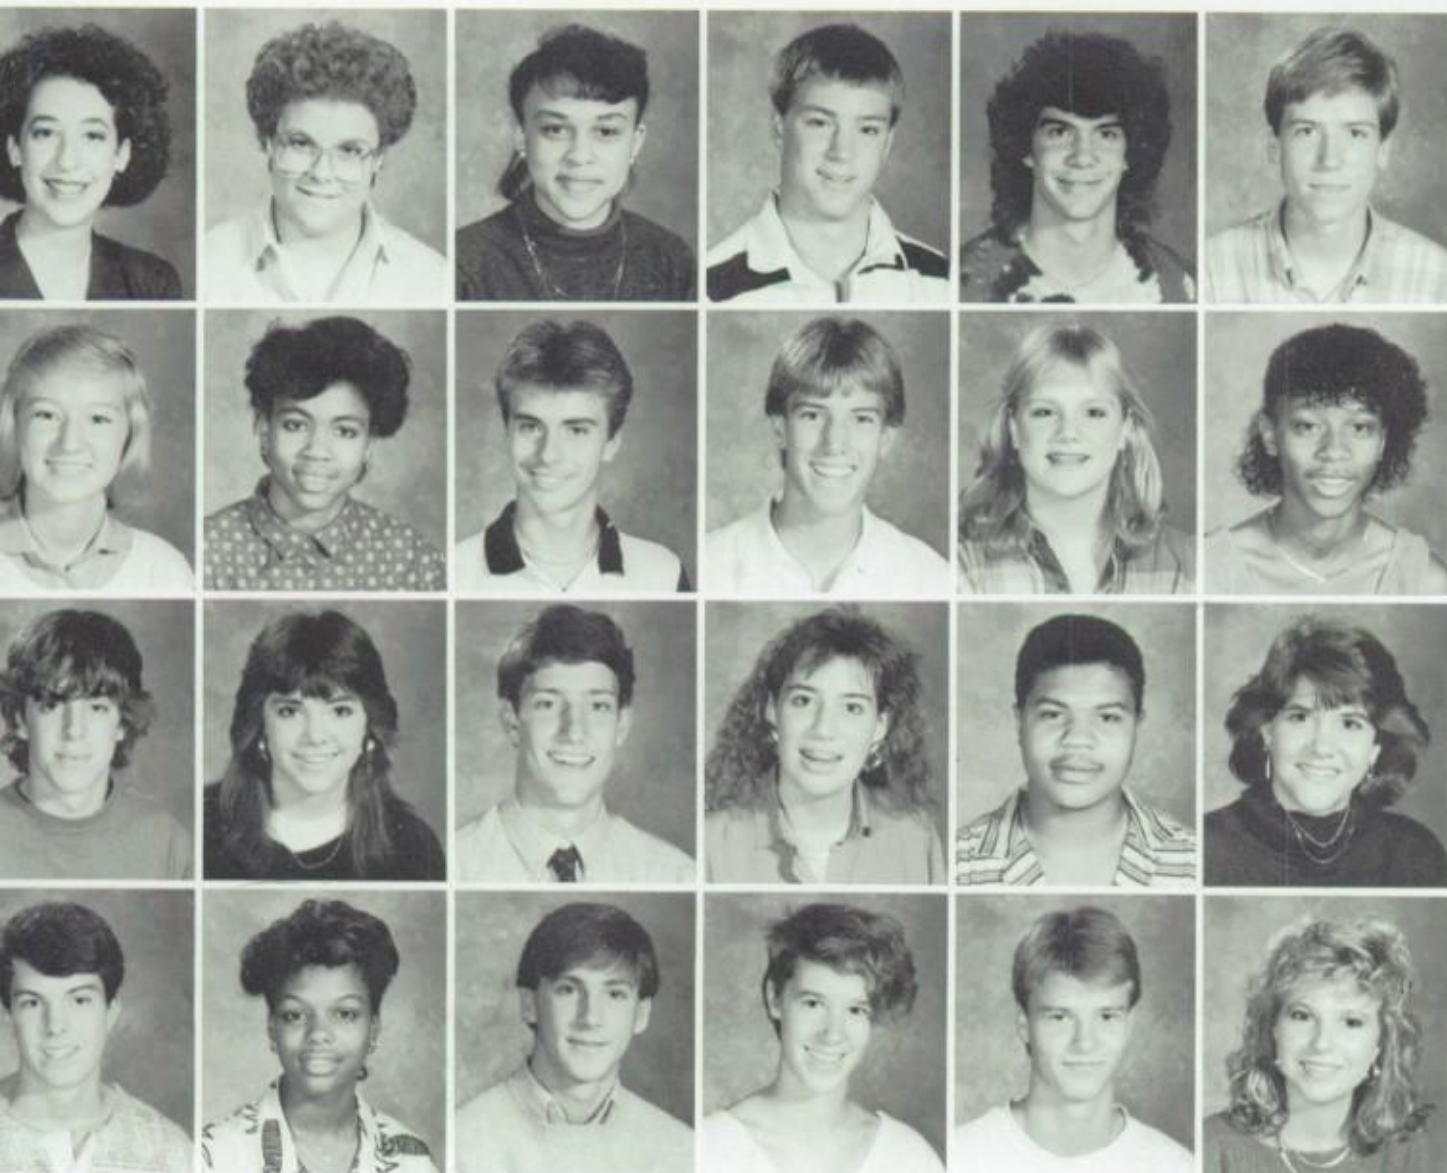

RYC, as commonly called, is involved in three major aspects of the community. As well as sponsoring Youth Legislative Assembly, a mock state general assembly, and Student Government Month where students paired up with city officials to study their jobs, the RYC did several service projects. This year RYC fasted for Wake Hunger Relief and raised money while drinking diet soft drinks and chewing sugarless gum. They also began work on founding a multi-purpose Teen Center for all services relating to teenagers.

"The best thing about RYC is that everything we do involves volunteering. It gave me a way to become involved when I really wasn't sure how to begin," commented Sophomore Laura Wyrick.

RYC provided Raleigh's high school population with a chance to gain an overall insight into their city and local government activities. As Tanya Dzuba summed it up, "RYC is the most rewarding experience I've found since I moved to Raleigh last year."

"Dancing in the streets," Seniors Mark Brenner and Caroline Frye enjoy the Soc-Hop sponsored at the Electric Company Mall. Money raised from activities such as this went to charities throughout the Raleigh area.

Pam Leden
Elizabeth Lee Lativla Lee Troy Legge
David Leonard Andy Lester

Gina Johnson
Latresia Lightfoot
Stig Lima Mark Lindsay
Leah Littleton
Beverly Lockhart

Bridger Loftin
Kimberly Long Johnathon Lotz
Lara Lovingood
Billy Lucas
Lori Lynn

Steven Macomber
Monica Malone
Brad Manifold
Michelle Martin
Randy Mason Courtney Mauldin

ng describing describing

Eating In

The phrase "lunch at school" definately brings about mixed emotions. Most people seem to gag when asked about the dreaded lunch at school. But the food does get eaten so it really must be edible. The lunch period in high school is much more independent than before in lower grades,so many different things happen during lunch.

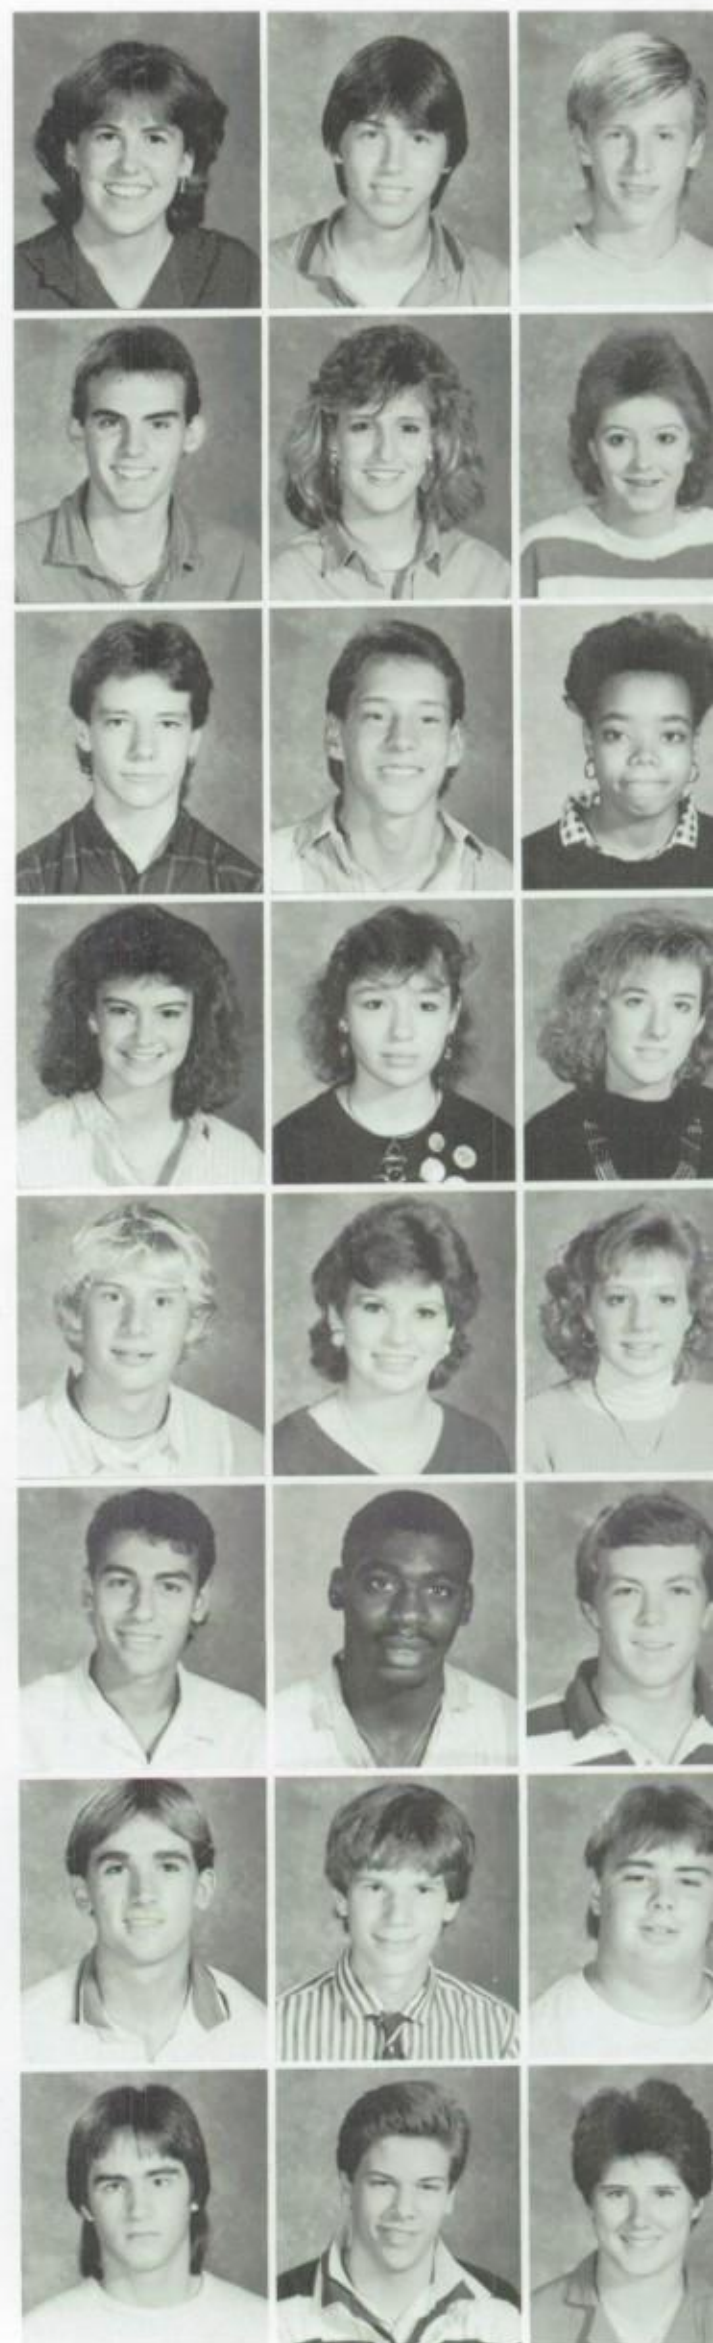

Freshman Suzy Leach said "I like lunch. I get to do my homework and I'm not in class." Many others feel the same way. Junior Stephanie Tardiff commented,"It's a good time to be with your friends and it's a needed break from school work."

"It's all right. Sometimes it can be really boring, but I look forward to the day when I have Senior lunch!" remarked Junior Jimmy Sarantos. Other people feel that the underclassmen lunch periods need a lot of help. Sophomore Donna Curtis felt that it was too crowded and they needed new tables and chairs.

While most people eat, some do other things,too.Freshman Shannon Brown spends his time socializing in Mr. McBroom's room, Sophomore Hoan Cao does her homework, and Junior Mark Jackson sleeps. Actually, the lunch period has more to do with social activities than it does with eating.

Tim Harris, Victor Bonito, and John Allen stop to talk to Ann West. Students were often found socializing while waiting for lunch lines to shorten.

Class of 1988 • class of 1988

Mary May Tim Mcallister
Robbie McCarthy
Leshia McClain
Mike McLamb
John McConnell
Mary McCullough
Scott McDaniel
Yolanda McGill

Eric McNeill
Kinsey McWilliams
Laura Meyer
Scott Meyer
Nancy Mezzanotte
Lance Miller
Tim Mock Sharon Molden
Monte Montague

Michael Mooney
Anthony Moore
Cynthia Moore
Hiwatha Moore
Hudson Moore
John Moore
David Moreland
Dexter Morgan
Jason Morgan

Melissa Morris
Chloe Morrison
Leslie Murray
Michelle Muse
Lisa Narducci
William Neal
Cecelia Newman Stephen Newton
Mike Nichols

Cullen Nichols
Katheryn Orr
Susan Ostling
Will Padget
Lauri Page
John Palko
Lynn Parramore
Tammy Parrish
Panos Paschaloudis

Statos Paschaloudis
Raymond Patterson
Davis Pearce
Guy Percy
Lisa Permar
Raymond Perry
Victoria Perterkin
Steve Pickard
Shaun Pierce

Tim Pierce
Andy Pipkin
Ronald Pittard
Wendi Pittilo
Hope Pittman
Al Pollard
Stacy Pollard
Pat Poole
Margaret Porter

Greg Powell
Kyle Prairie
Elizabeth Price
Beth Pridgen
Lynne Priest
Meredyth Pritchard
Mike Pritchard
Wes Quaintance
Abe Quinn

Class of 1988 • class of 1988

describing describing describing descr

Lisa Radford
Shelley Raines
Allen Ralph
Bob Ramseur
Angel Rasette
Dane Ratliff

Marsh Ray
Sara Raynor Banning Reed
Jeff Reibel
Veda Renfrow
Stephen Reville

Christy Rich
Demetria Richardson
Jeffrey Ridge
Susan Rivers
Robert Roberson
Lisa Roberts

Suzy Roberts
Jeff Robertson
Alisha Robinson
Tracie Rogers
Chris Rouse
Andrew Royall

Michael Ruggles
Scott Runyon
Chris Samuels
Parke Sanderson
Jimmy Sarantos
Daryl Sasser

Bill Satterfield
Tareck Sbati
Guy Schnitzler
Benjamin Schroeder
Thekla Schultz
Karin Schwartz

Anthony Scott
Bruce Scott
Rob Sealey
McClain Selden
Zema Semunegus
Diana Sexton

Rob Sharer
Beth Shimmel
Ben Sides
Fess Sikes
Nicole Simmons
Eric Simon

Class of 1988 • class of 1988

g describing describing describing de

Trade Secrets

Many career minded Broughton students got ahead this past year by taking vocational courses. Two of the most popular, Architectural Design and Masonary taught the basics of planning and building structures from a simple wall to a building as complicated as the Radisson Plaza.

In the Architectural Design course, students learned to draw blueprints, foundations, floorplans, and elevations to scale. Though it seemed some students were in Architectural Design because of scheduling conflicts, many felt like it was worth the background knowledge. Most of the Architectural Design students planned to go into fields of engineering, building, and architecture."

Carefully pouring water into his trough, Calvin McCallister forms just the right mixture. Students were initially surprised at the technical aspects of masonry.

Other careers, including engineering gained useful knowledge in Broughton's masonry course. Students mastered laying brick and block well and by the end of the second year course could lay up to seven or eight bricks a minute. Most students agreed that "there was a lot more to the class than it seemed." Sophomore Daryl Williams commented, "It's best to learn a trade. This will always give me something to fall back on."

Ian Simpson
Joey Sinnemx
Penny Skinner
Angela Smith
Catherine Smith
De Smith

Jeffery Smith
Laura Smith
Nancy Snyder
Elizabeth Sparrow
Tony Spence
Courtney Spooner

Russell Spry
Winn Stahel
Tracy Stallings
Verlinda Stallings
Alyssa Stenberg
Chris Stephenson

Michael Stephens
Jeraka Stevens
Tommy Still Jennifer Stiteler
Kerry Stitzinger
Tracy Stonaker

class of 1988 • class of 1988

Sarah Stone
Angela Stratford
Becky Stuch
Mike Swaringen
Suzanne Szlaius
Stephanie Tardiff
Joanie Taybron
Eric Teagle
Eric Teague

Peggy Teng
Catrina Terrell
Ivan Terry
Laura Terry
Tony Thomas Nicole Thorpe
Sarah Tierney
LaTanya Tinsley
Juliana Trest

Kelly Tucker
Lisa Tucker
Julie Turner
LaMont Turner
Vickie Turner
Leslie Tyner
Kristen Tyson
Jimmy Underwood
Mike Vanhalen

Wayne Varsel
Glenn Veasey
Brian Vincent
Guy Vioaglione
Alex Volodarsky
Laura Wagner Katrina Walker
Kim Walker
Dina Walker

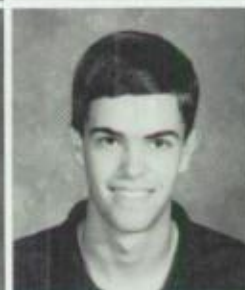

Arlene Wall
Sharon Walters
Michael Ward
Heather Watkins
Kendra Watkins
Louis Watta
Camden Webb
Kellie Welborn
Chad Weisser

Mark Westphal
Richard Wetherbee
Chris Whitaker
James White
Vonzile Whitley
Lori White
Maura Wiggs
Denise Wildon
Lisa Wilkins

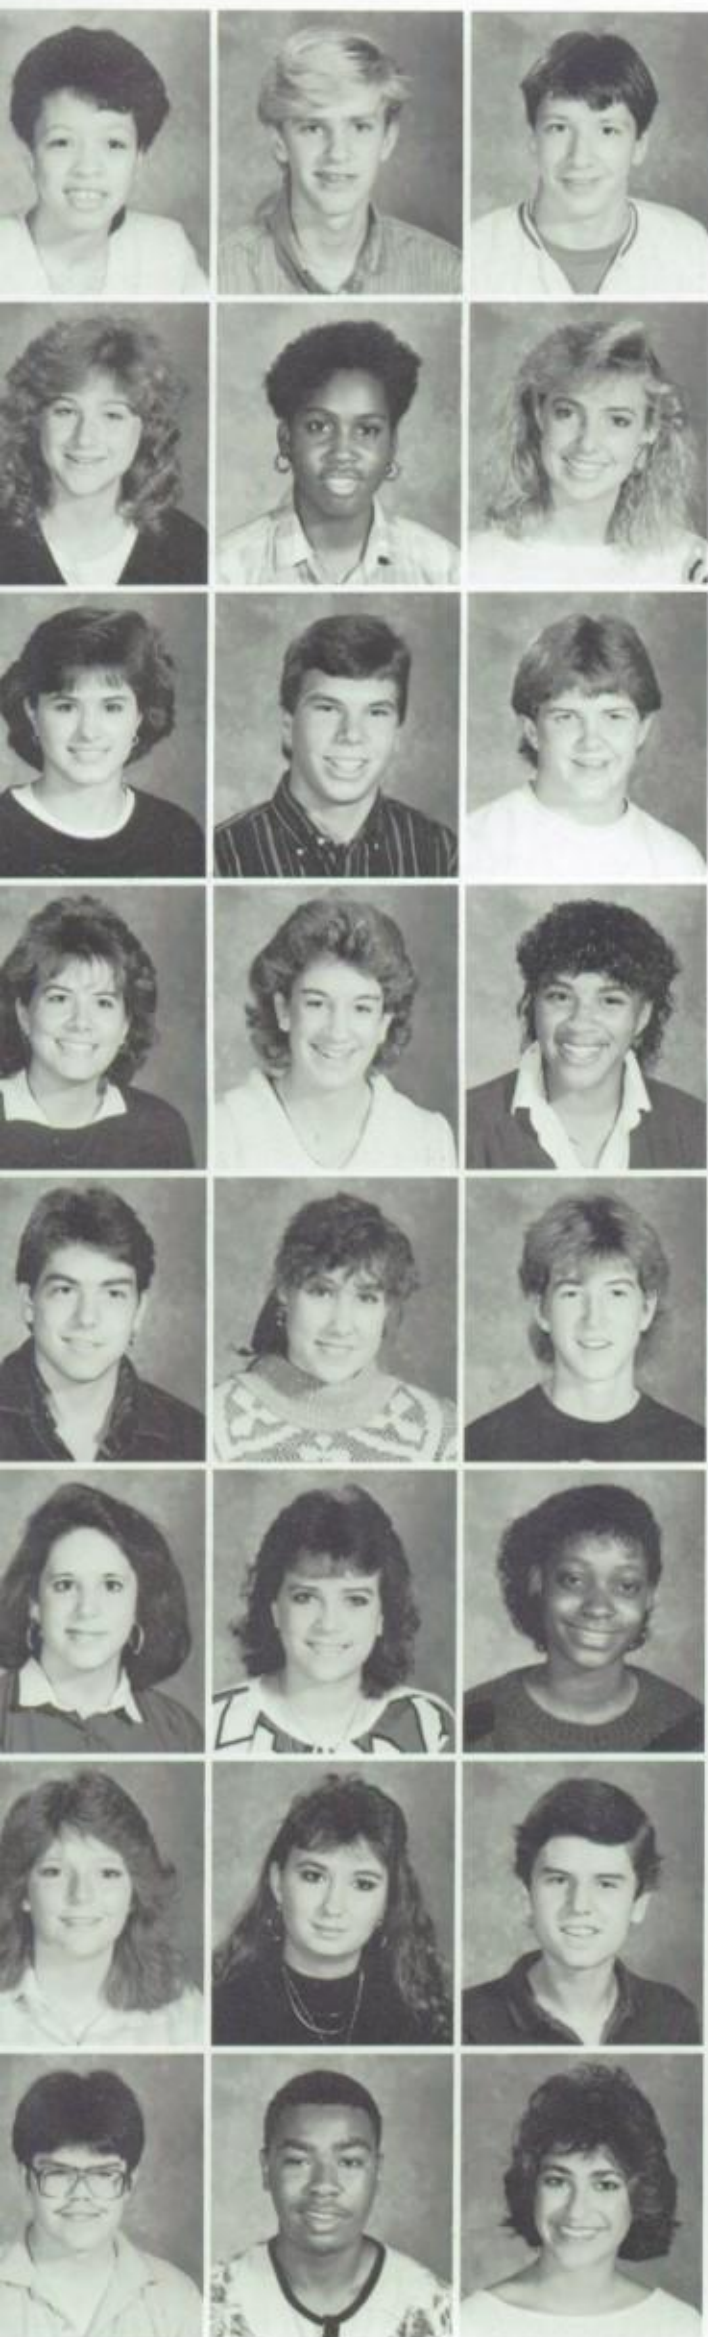

Bobby Williams
Chuck Williams
Crystal Williams
Phylcia Williams
Vaughn Williams
Kerrick Wilson
Tina Wilson
Alexa Winstead
Charles Winstead

Dawn Wiszowaty
Eric Wondergen
Woody Woodall
Jason Yates
Graham Young Rita Young Steven Young Tracey Young
Connie Zaytoun

describing describing de Take Note

Getting better grades, believe it or not, is important to lots of Broughton students. For this reason, many students take advantage of the How-to Study course offered at our school. Mr. Rudder is in charge of this program, and students are let out of regular classes for a group of sessions with him. The faculty hopes that this crash course in studying will help students bring up their grades.

"It really helped me," said Senior Carol Carver. Students learned about when and where to study. "We learned how to take better notes," said Freshmen Buddy Deal. Among the skills students learned were how to find a good place to study and how to budget time for studying. Most students felt it was a worthwhile program.

What would make students take a course like this? "My teacher said it could help me raise my grades," commented Senior Brian Philpot. Some students simply wanted to get out of class a few days but got more than they bargained for. "I have to admit, I'll probably do better in class now," revealed Senior Cindy Barton. The How To Study course helped many Broughton students this year.

Directing students on how to find a good place to study, Mr. Rudder attempts to help students make better grades.

class of 1989 • class of 1989

Kris Adams
Roberto Agnoulutto
Wes Akers
William Aldridge
Tom Aloï
Darrell Alston
Phillip Anderson
Scott Anderson

Malanie Anouilh
Stacey Arginsky
George Avamidis
Nader Ayoud
Abdul Baker
Liz Barnett
Kevin Bartley
Tammie Bass

Dana Batchelder
Karen Beasley
Chris Becoat
Alison Bell
Michael Bellflower
Melissa Benoit
Jay Berenson
Beth Bernstein

Michael Bianchi
Chris Black Mark Black
Katie Blalock
Jason Bogart
Michael Boles, Jr.
John Bond
Jenny Boone

Pete Botjer
Emily Boxley
Wayne Bragg
Sabrina Breed
Tanika Brewington
Cameron Bridger
Margaret Bridger
Sloan Bridger

Kevin Brodie
Kim Brown
Lisa Brown
Robert Brown
Tiffany Brown
Steve Brueggeman
Chris Bruner
Timothy Bryant

Melanie Bullock
Teddy Burnette
Eddie Burton
Tonya Burton
Brooks Butler
Kimberly Byham
Belinda Bynum
Candi Byrd

Dapheny Byrd
Stephen Cahoon
Harris Campbell
Hoan Cao
Clifton Carpenter
Roz Carter
Charles Casteen
Clifton Castelloe

describing describing describ You Are What You Eat

Want to be a gourmet cook? Want to know how food affects your body? Want to know how sports and foods work together to make you a healthier and happier person? If so, there is a course just for you!

Nutrition for the athlete is a course designed for the physical and nutritional fitness of all students, including the athlete. Research has shown that when students and adults become interested in physical activity, they also become more interested in other aspects of their life-style, particularly nutrition. Hofler Williams began lifting weights and was taking Nutrition for the Athlete. "It helped me to establish good eating habits and a nutritional diet to go along with my work-out. I also learned to like vegetables and now I eat a salad with my dinner."

One purpose of the course is to help dispel the myths and misconceptions associated with nutrition for physically active individuals. The course is designed to provide nutritional information and work in "the athlete's kitchen." Hofler added that the class was a bunch of fun. "We fixed food and even took a trip to the grocery store. I was surprised because we made cookies, too! They were great." This course not only taught about food, but to cook also. If you like to eat, this might be the perfect class for you.

In order to stay in shape, Hoffler Williams spends several afternoons lifting weights. He found exercise is just as important as eating right.

describing describing describing descri

Playin' It Up

Well, it wasn't quite around the world, but far enough to matter. This summer seventeen students and three chaperons, including history teacher Mr. Steve Gardner, left the Raleigh-Durham airport on June 13th for Europe. "I thought we were going to die. Not only was it the 13th but we were flying TWA. We didn't know who was a hijacker or not!" commented Junior Lindsay Cox.

Their first day was in London, England. Some sites that attracted these tourists included the House of Parliament and Buckingham Palace in London. "We even saw the Queen!" explained Junior Michael Dickinson.

After England the group traveled to France. In Paris they stayed at the Fiapod. "It was terrible!" said Junior Nicole Simmons.

Junior Kristen Gay agreed, "We were so used to staying in nice hotels-the Fiapod was the worst! The beds consisted of a board with a thin piece of foam and a small foam pillow. The accomadotons were terrible and there was very little privacy."

But Paris also held many pleasant memories for the group. "My favorite thing was the Eiffel Tower at night," remembered Junior Robin Cuthrell.

The third country they visited was Switzerland, another group favorite. Commented Lindsay, "We also ice skated in an outdoor rink-it was so funny to see Mr. Gardner try to skate."

The final three countries the group visited were Italy, Austria, and Germany. A few were amazed with the gold roofs in Italy.

Many had complaints about the trip. "Whenever we asked for ice the people got mad," complained Junior Lori Lynn. Julie Joyner also commented, "Everywhere we went we had to pay to use the bathroom."

"Overall the trip was great. When it was time to come home we were out of control and so excited to be going home to a normal civilization!" laughed Kristen Gay.

Belting out the blues, Chris Whitaker accompanied by an adept Michael Dickinson on the guitar. The student brought a little American rock-n-roll to this hotel hall in Paris.

Katrina Champion
Scott Chapman
Stephen Chivetta
Tonya Chrisp
Tracy Chrisp
Pat Clougherty

Eric Coidan
William Colbert, Jr.
Dyan Coleman
Tamatha Cook
Thomas Cook, Jr.
Jennifer Corey

class of 1989 • class of 1989 •

Jason Cooper
Shannon Crabtree
Sean Creasy
Zeke Creech
Robby Crocker
Amy Crooks

Al Crowder
Shaney Currah
Donna Curtis
Stephanie Dare
Cosancha Davis
Deanna Davis

Denise Davis
Diana Davis
Phillip Davis
Seanna Davis
Buddy Deal
Susan Dearborn

Sampson Debnam
Alex De Grand
Susan Degumba
Susan Dekarske
Bellamy deRosset
Matt Denson

Mike Devos
Amanda Dill
Jane Dixon
Traci Dixon
Mona Dolen
Audra Doughty

Carrie Dow
Jennifer Downey
Bill Dube
Carrie Durden
Joe Dydula
Jay Easley

Jackie Eastman
Casey Eatman
Keith Edgerton
Sally Edwards
Todd Eidson
Melissa Elliotte

Donnie Ellis
Eddie Elswirth
Connie Ennis
Mary March Exum
Hadley Eure
Beverly Eyerman

class of 1989 • class of 1989

Keith Fairweather
Sabrina Farrar
John Faust
Tesa Ferrell
Tracey Ferrell
Tony Finger

Suzanne Fiske
Patrick Fleming
Robin Fleming
Dede Flournoy
Stormie Forte
Reed Fountain

Lynda Fowler
Roselyn Frazier
Alice Fuller
Catherine Fuqua
Michael Gaffney
Curtis Gaither

Cheala Garland
Leigh Gavin
Kimberly Gerald Michelle Geremina
Julie Gibson
Karen Gleen

Julie Glick
Nicole Gore
Joe Gorlesky
Robyn Goss
Jeremy Gould
James Graham

Joe Grainger
Richard Grant
Alison Green
Jessica Gregory Matt Gregory
Oris Griggs

Marlayna Grossman
Robert Gruber Aimee Had Gene Haigh
Cedric Hall
Tiffany Hall

Jomo Hamlet
Ashley Hand
Nathaniel Hankirson
Scott Hardesty
Angie Harris
Christy Harris

describing describing describing describ

All Nighters

A man donned in black crept across the front lawn of Broughton High School. His eyes moved to the trailers as he contemplated what to steal. Then from seemingly nowhere came a hideous noise.

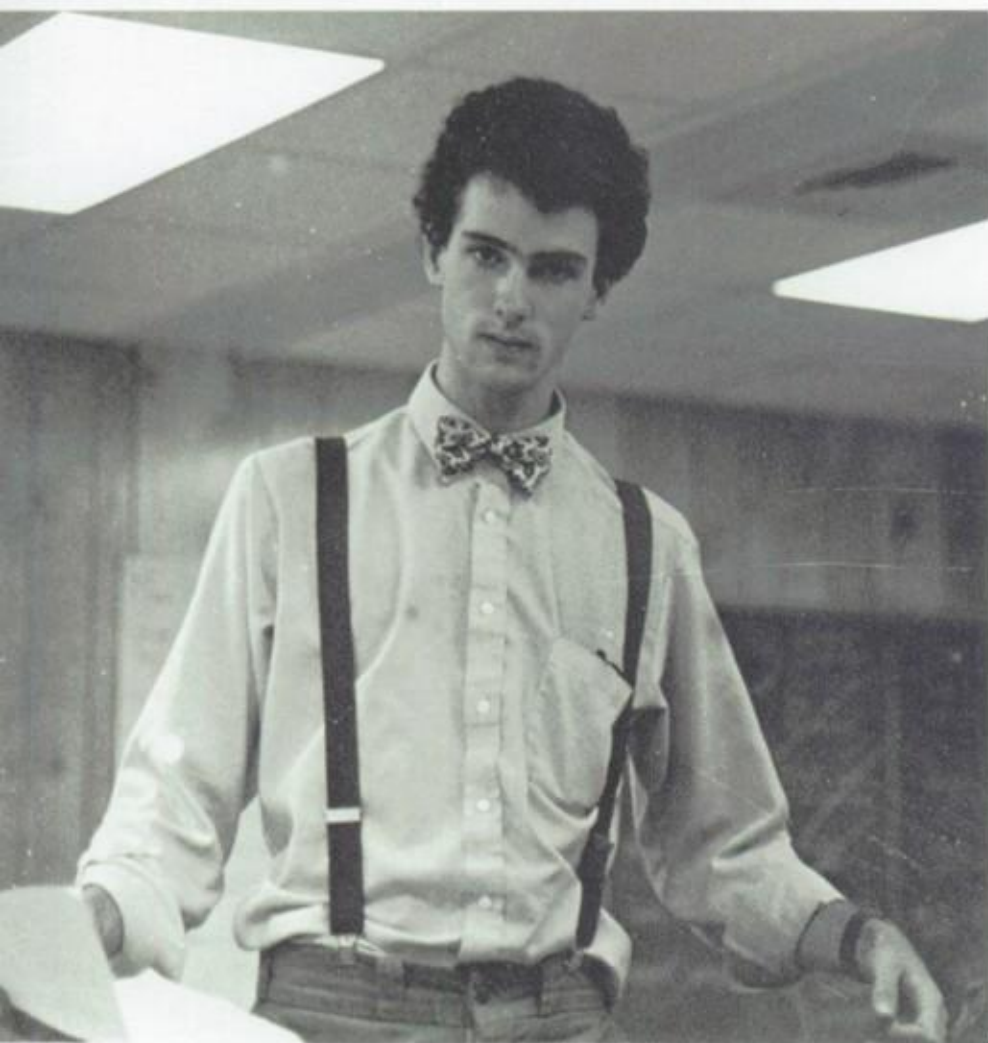

"AAGGGHHH!!"

Following the noise, he came to one trailer, number 503, that was bright with lights and blaring music. The sound of typewriters, cursing voices, and continual moans and groans filled the air. Peering in the back window, he saw an angry mob of Latipac-ers. They were all over; on desks, sitting at desks, on the floor, in the closet, everywhere he looked he saw them.

Why were these people in a trailer, at school, after dark? "'Cause we're lunatics!" screamed Linda Fisher. Screaming was common among this group. "Help me," whined assistant editor Tresa Elguera as she sat with a Ho-Ho box on her head. "The box is the only thing that saves us," said Marci Bernstein as she danced atop the desks to the Rolling Stones. These Latipac-ers spent many late nights and weekends at school to meet their deadlines. Editor Andy White joked, not entirely kidding, "Parents? What are those? I think I used to have a mother, but I haven't seen her in weeks!" But in the end, the work paid off. The pride of putting together a yearbook that is viewed by the entire student body is incomparable and, as De Smith put it, "It was worth the extra effort!"

Pursing his lips to keep from exploding, Editor Andy White explains the basics of layout to a distressed staff member. The tact required to insure that no-one had a nervous breakdown was immense, and negotiations were often tense.

class of 1989 • class of 1989

describing describing describing desc

Having A Ball!

"I've always wanted to be a Deb, so I asked a couple of my teachers to nominate me" chuckled Dionne Hackett, "and look at me now... I'm a Deb!"

This is how most girls felt before, during, and after making their debuts. The experience will follow them throughout their lives.

"First we filled out applications and those who were accepted were notified," recalled Wanda Watson. One of the requirements was selling tickets to raise a minimum of $350. Some of the money raised would be used in the tuition to the college they wanted to attend.

The girls attended a series of workshops where they learned how to conduct themselves in an interview and how to match make-up with their clothes.

Although the girls recieved tips on make-up and fashion, they also got tips on waltzing and ballroom dances. "The best part about the whole experience was when the guys tried to get the steps together. They would always end up on the girls' toes. One guy was doing so badly, that the girl he was dancing with fell!" laughed Melanie Chrisp.

"It was a very time consuming process," commented Catherine Winters, "but you get a chance to meet others and be a part of society. I thought it was fun!" Many girls shared this feeling and when it was over, it was well worth their time.

Work wasn't the only preparation neccesary. The night before the Ball at Saint Augustine's college, there was a Pre-Deb Dance where friends and family members of the Debs had fun.

The next morning the girls went back to Civic Center to wrap up last minute details. "We were there until we perfected it," began Wanda Watson, "and we were there a long time."

Around 6:30 the girls were on pins and needles, but yet this was the proudest days of all days and not just for Debs. "The worst part for me was waiting for two hours before the show," sighed Petra Wiggins.

Suddenly it was time! Interlocking were the hands of father and daughter as they walked down the aisle.

"Mommy" may have sold the tickets and might have closed out the last minute details, but it was daddy who escorted his daughter in front of society.

After being called to the spotlight, Renita Hunter remembers that momment. "It felt great! The way I felt, so important, the dress I wore, the way my father looked in his tux, and my mom in her gown. That night especially was the best!"

For future Debs, Antoinette Stewart would like to give some advice. "Be dedicated. I know it is a lot of hard work, but it's worth it because it's a great learning experience. The Ball is to me, the first real step into womanhood. That's the place and time in which the real you comes out." But as Petra Wiggins concludes, "It's a memory you will always cherish."

1st Row: Catherine Winters, Daria Ervin, Kim Harris 2nd Row: Petra Wiggins, Patricia Chavis, Dionne Hackett, Renita Hunter, Antoinette Stewart 3rd Row: Desiree Young, Wanda Watson, Monique Merriweather, Gwendolyn Pulley. Not pictured: Melanie Chrisp.

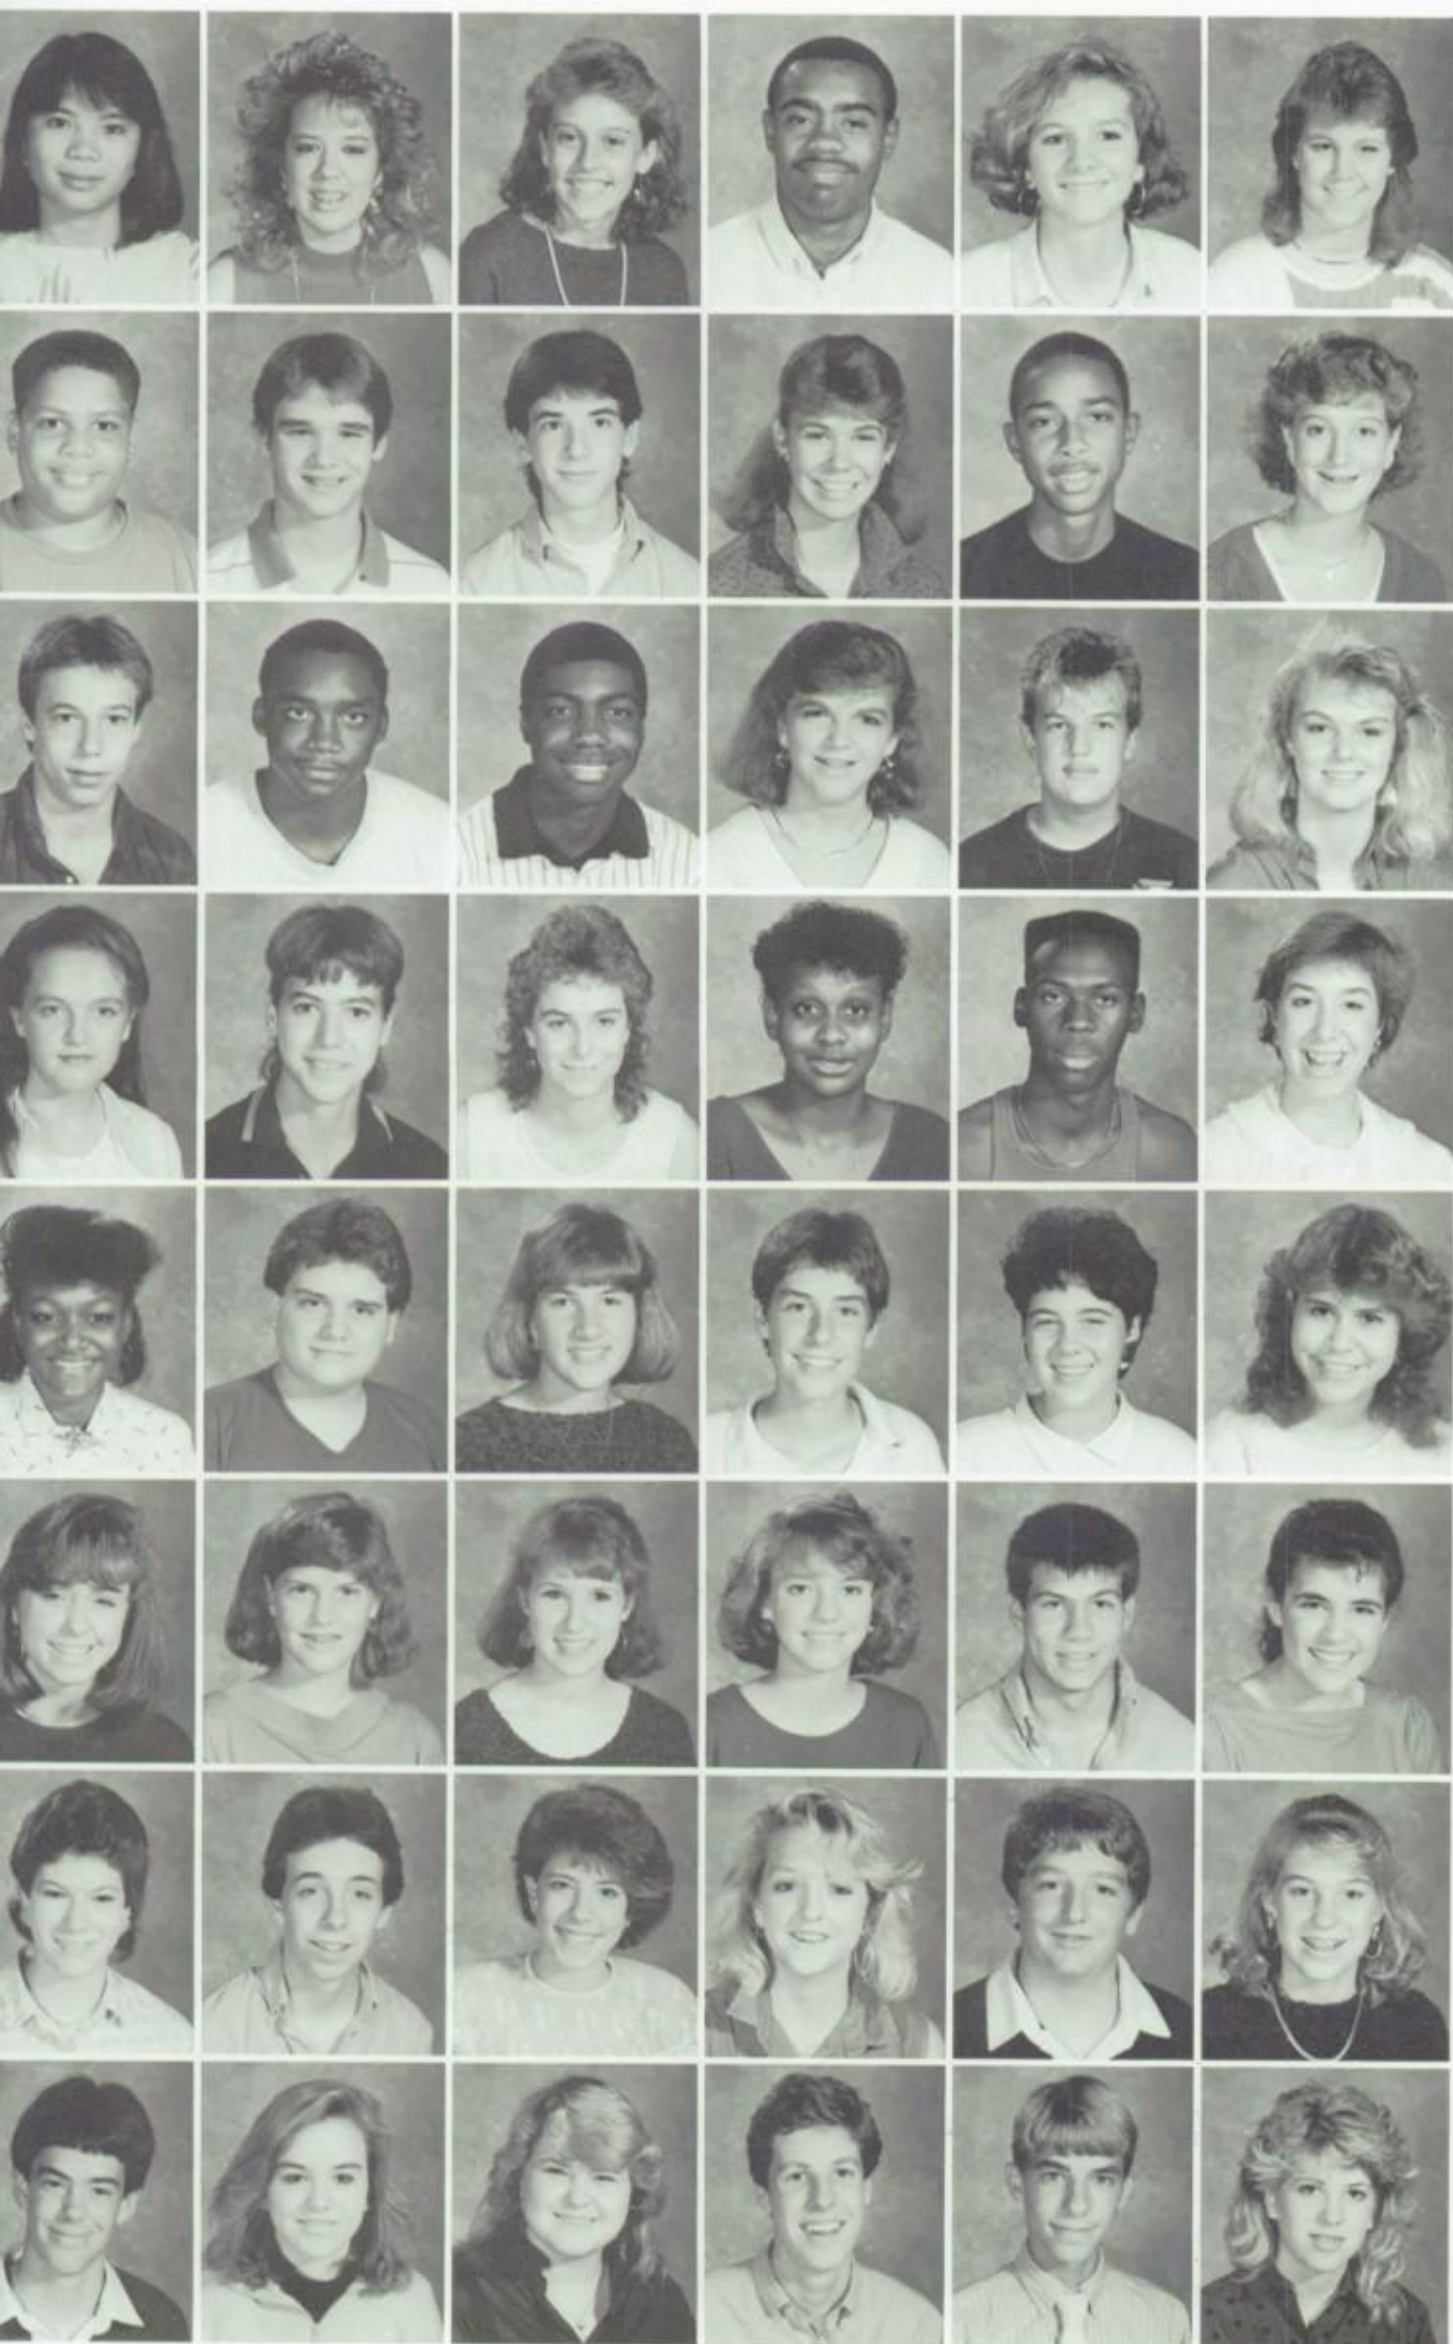

Jaime Harris
Mary Harris
Meredith Hart
Dristle Haynes
Chuck Hensey
Peyton Highsmith

Charlotte Hill
James Hill
Beth Hilliard
Mark Hilpert
Kerwyn Hinton
Mark Hite

Class of 1989 • class of 1989 •

Kim-Tien Hoang
Karen Hodnett
Jennifer Hoffman
Jerry Holloway
Elizabeth Holmes
Denise Horstmann

Langston Horton
Matthew Hoyt
Jon Hudson
Jennifer Huggins
Marcus Hunter
Kathy Ide

Thomas Jacobs
Andre James
Montague James Sara Jarrett
Jason Jenkins
Briles Johnson

Cheryle Johnson
Larry Johnson
Melanie Johnson
Nona Johnson
William Johnson
Neville Johnston

Shannon Jones
Jack Joseph Jeanette Jurkiewicz
Matthew Karn
Tonya Kaylor
Julie Kellander

Angela Kelley
Lisa Kelley
Kathrine Kennedy
Laura Kennedy
Richard Ketchie
Kelly Kiernan

Kristy Kikendall
Bobby Kilmartin
Donna King
Carmen Kinney
Andy Kleiner
Kelly Knight

Robbie Knox
Martha Lee
Sherry Lee
Charlie LeFort
Gordon LeGrand
Maddy Lewis

class of 1989 • class of 1989

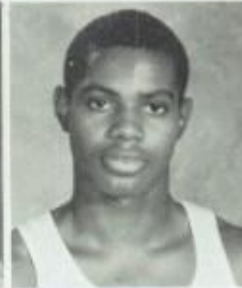

Steve Lewis
Trudy Lightbourne
Michelle Lindholm
Danny Lloyd
Jeffrey Leonard
Amanda Long
John Lovelace
Jennie Lozan

Chris Lucas
Dan Lumsden
Jay Magers
Marian Magiros
Callina Manley
Sellina Manley
Howdy Manning
Steven Markovsky

Deidre Martin
Mike Martin
MacGregory Massenburg
Jacqueline Matt
Kelvin Matthews
Wendy Maxwell
Felisha Mayo
Byron Mays

Gwen McCalop
Dana McCann
Terry McCann
Annie McCarty
Adam McClellan
Frank McCracken
Jeff McCreary
Margaret McDowell

James McLachlan
Theresa McLeod
Ayla McNally
Lena McNeil
Calvin McWilliams
Roderick McWilliams
Joseph Meierer
Kelly Mellage

Sherry Mendenhall Dandy Mera
Andrea Millar
Amy Miller
Melissa Miller
Shannon Miller
Noah Milnet
Robert Mitchener

Ken Mizell
Laura Mohr
Carolyn Monroe Ashley Moore
Sharka Monroe
Shannon Morgan
Jason Murphy
Kim Murray

Jeanelle Myers
Kristi Narron
Tommy Neal
Lisa Nelson
Julie Nemitz
Dan Newkirk
Rebecca Nichol Bonnie Oakes

describing describing describ On Tour

Total dedication: it's a quality many talk about but few have. Even fewer get national recognition for it; yet for Broughton students Lisa Brown, Tim Watson, Alin Foulkrod, and Suzanne Jordan, national recognition has come with total dedication to their talents. As baton twirler Suzanne commented, "You must stay determined and keep your goals in sight."

Suzanne attained her highest goal as Majorette Queen of America in 1986. After competing against the top twirlers in the country, her previous seven hours a day practice seemed vital. Once Queen, Suzanne traveled to New York, Ohio, and even twirled in Tampa Bucs and Detroit Lions football games. "After winning, I knew the sacrifices had been worth it," she said.

Sacrifices were also made by Senior Tim Watson and Sophomore Lisa Brown as they swam in competitions throughout the United States. Lisa, with only one other swimmer from Raleigh, traveled to Texas to compete in the Olympic Festival. Out of the three events she was in, she scored in each one. After being in the Junior Olympics for seven years, she scored in the top ten in four events this past year. Tim also competed in a meet in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, last summer where his relay team was first in the nation. Lisa found that one of the many rewards "Was that you get to know people from all over." Tim also added, "It really teaches you discipline because the swimming itself sometimes gets old fast."

Senior Allin Foulkrod gained achievement not in a sport, but from his dedication to DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America). He won his highest honor when he received the National Marketing Supervisor Medal. Each state sends its winners from DECA. A million members nationwide compete for this medal. Allin also served as North Carolina DECA's vice-president but went beyond the normal duties. Several times a month he leads workshops of up to five hundred people. Allin usually speaks on how a positive attitude and enthusiasm are traits needed as a leader. His speeches have received so much attention that he is constantly in demand to perform across the country. He summed it up by saying, "The experiences I've had have been more than worth it. I've never regretted a minute of it because I learned from both my successes and my failures."

Waving her United States flag, Lisa Brown happily smiles at the camera. Lisa frequently traveled across the United States to compete.

describing describing describing descri

Useful Operations

This year at Broughton two students participated in a very important activity known as Operation Raleigh. These two students dedicated a lot of time to this program, and they both feel that they got something back.

What is Operation Raleigh? "It's kind of like a short term Peace Corps," explained Senior Stewart Shirey. This summer he traveled to foreign countries to learn about other customs and help the people of these countries. "It's a lot of hard work but it makes you feel like you've really accomplished something," said Junior Cal Hodgson. All of their hard work helped many others, and they also gained experience and understanding for themselves

Stewart and Cal aren't finished yet. They are still going to do more traveling to places such as Australia to help people there. It takes a special kind of person to be willing to devote their time and work to improve someone else's living conditions, and Cal and Stewart are those kind of people.

Displaying their friendliness, Junior Cal Hodgson, and Senior Stewart Shirey strike a pose. They will be traveling to foreign countries this summer.

Rusty Oates
David Ogden
Meg Olson
Jennifer Ott
Anna Pahl
Pam Pantin

Josh Parker
Katherine Pate
Angela Pearce
Julie Peckham
Wayne Penny
Claire Perkins

class of 1989 • class of 1989 •

Clifton Perkins
Jeremy Perry
Marilyn Perry
Eric Peterson
Jason Peterson
Keri Pharr

Renn Phelps
Brad Pickard
Ben Pollock
Jenny Poston
Martina Powell
Derick Racey

Michelle Ragland
Adora Ragsdale
Sean Randolph
Chad Rasette
Matthew Rastelli
Kerima Rawat

Khydron Rayborn
Faye Reade
Christy Reed
Laura Reep
Johnathan Reid
Stephanie Richardson

James Risley
Dan Roberts
Gwen Robinson
Teresa Rodgers
John Roebuck
Robin Roseberry

Pete Rowland
Christin Ruggles
Fred Rusher
Sue Jett Russler
Rommel Salgado
Chaunte Sanders

John Sanders
Scott Sanders
James Savage
Joel Savitt
Nikki Scandalois
Donna Schmitz

Joanna Scott
Raceal Scott
Traci Seeley
Sally Self
Heinza Seltmann
Jason Sexton

Class of 1989 • class of 1989

Reggie Sexton
Todd Shamel
Catherine Shaw
Jason Shaw
Carla Shepard
Steven Shuler
Scott Simmon
Angela Simmons

Angela Simmons
Shaun Simpson
Anna Singer
Elaine Singletary
Shannon Singleton
Sheri Smallwood
Becky Smith
Billy Smith

Edward Smith
Kathleen Smith
Sonya Smith
Tim Smith
Jackie Snelling
Jana Soward
Bertha Spence
Thomas Spence

James Spencer
Ken Spencer
Marietta Stancil
Rodney Starling
Jason Steele
Benny Stewart
Andy Stiteler
Kathleen Sulzen

Aimee Sweatland
Craig Tallman
John Taylor
Melinda Taylor
Mike Taylor
Roderick Taylor
Gregg Teague
Vasserie Teasley

Nancy Teitrick
Kim Telfair
Marc Terdith
Amy Tess
Constance Tharpe
Jennie Thomas
Jennifer Thomas Missy Thomas

Jennifer Thomasson
Ashley Thompson
Nathan Thompson
Tony Thompson
Lori Thorpe
Susan Tolson
Erin Tracy
Kevin Trenner

Adam Trusty
Kristi Tucker
James Turner
Joey Turner
Kathy Turner
Marui Upchurch
Ricky Ulasewich
Roberta Vance

describing describing describ The Rhythm of the Game

Running onto the center floor, they take their positions. The music starts and they move to its pulsating beat. Swinging their arms to left and right, their feet respond with some dance steps. They turn and smile for the audience; suddenly the gym is lit up for the halftime jam!

The Capettes are the highlight of halftime during every home game that the Varsity Boys play.

"Dancing is our thing and we're happy that we've got this chance to turn it out" said Demetria Richardson, vice president of the Capettes.

"The thing that makes this year different from last," stated Joanie Taybron, president of the Capettes, "is that throughout the auditions, we were looking for school spirit, voice projection, and of course, rhythm."

The Capettes were founded last year; but due to poor management, they folded. Having a sponsor and a set of judges that didn't choose a girl based on height or friendship, made a world of difference. The new management consisting of a sponsor that was always there, a dedicated vice president and president, a patient choreographer and of course, the spirited dancers were given credit for the group's success.

The Capettes practiced in the mirror room of the Girl's Gym, for about one and a half hour a day afterschool. With LaTonya

Tinsley the girls practiced until they got it right. "I love to dance and I was glad that Joanie picked me to instruct the Capettes. I'm having a lot of fun!"

Although they wear purple and gold outfits, the school isn't a sponsor. "Ms. Jenkins is our sponsor and sort of like the head of the group; she buys the outfits for us," commented Demetria Richardson.

Concludes Joanie Taybron about the Capettes, "I started the Capettes again because I liked the idea of them last year. There have been some changes to make this year's group better. We've come a long way to get where we are now and hopefully the success will continue."

The Capettes: Sponsor: Ms. Jenkins, Lashondra Hamilton, Angela Summons, Chandra Crews, Tamika Brewington, Choreographer: Latanya Tinsley, President: Joanie Taybron, Andrea Harris. 2nd row: Nona Johnson, Carla Spears, Raquel Sanders, Lisa Staten, Ronda Wagner and Vice president: Demetria Richardson.

class of 1989 • class of 1989

describing describing describing descr

On the Road Again

Imagine four Greyhound buses, thirty-two chaperones, over one hundred high school students. Could it be spring break? No, too many chaperones. Actually, this was one of the many trips the Broughton band went on this past year. From North Carolina and neighboring states all the way to St. Petersburg, Florida, the Golden Regiment competed against top high school bands from across the country. Yet, as Freshmen, Richard Campbell commented, "The competition was exciting but the real fun was the actual trip."

Band students definitely didn't let the bus ride get boring! The seniors, with the best pick of seats, seldom saved room for the freshmen who chose from the leftovers. With an excess of grapes, Pringles, and Skittles many of these munchies found their way thrown across a loud bus. Loud, of course, from the Pink Floyd, Beatles, Boston, and even a tune off Joey Leville's harmonica blaring in the background. As Senior Greg Lee said, "We sit in the back of the bus, listen to jam, and talk about Mr. Bill and other administrators."

Next came the hotel-and with that the most fun-the hotel restaurant. Most businesses panicked at the sight of so many hungry teenagers. "One time the restaurant was short of help so some of us started busing tables. The workers were so grateful that they closed that night and came to watch us perform," explained Junior Laura Wagner.

After weeks of grueling practice up to thirteen hours a day, the competition and trip were always rewarding. As Junior Anne McChesney summed it up, "Even when we don't win there is just this positive high after doing your best. It makes everything worth it!"

Getting just an air-fluff Senior Robert A. and Junior Jeff Hinton have some fun laundrymat on a recent band trip. B students liked to let their hair down competitions.

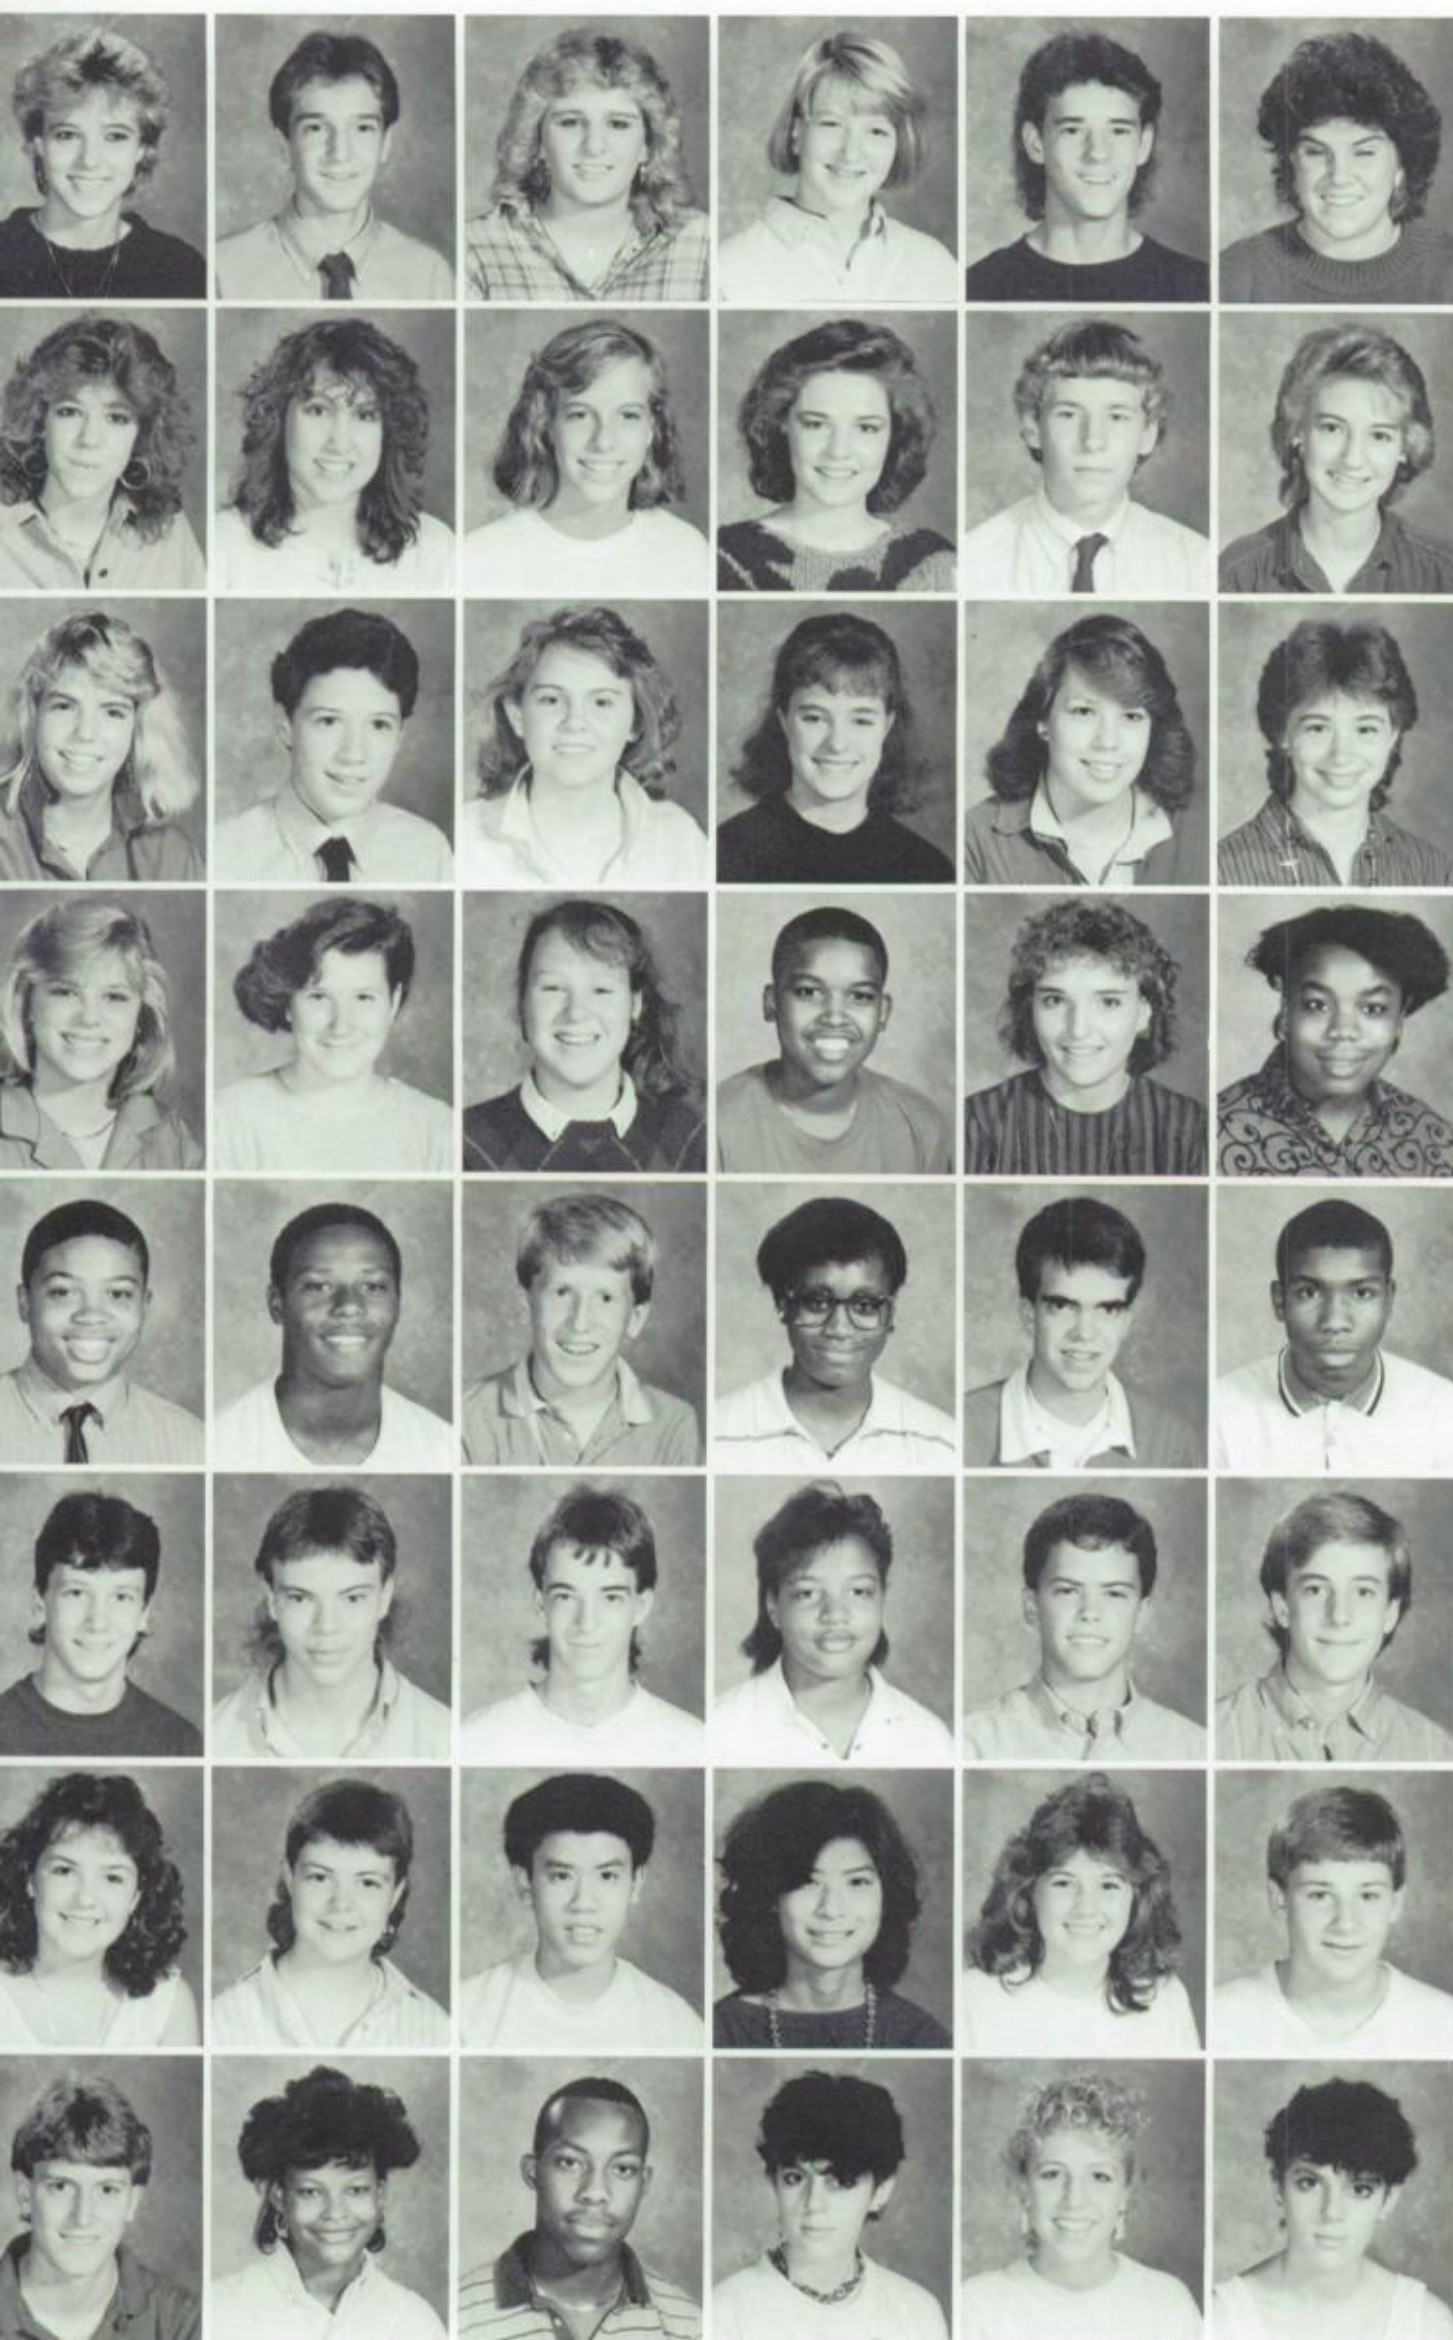

Katrina van Cleave
Tom Vassallo
Andre Vonson
Martin Wachtel
Allsa Waerlop
Amy Walker

Dee Walker
Hester Walker
Stephen Wall
Matt Wallace
John Walters
Lesley Warren

Class of 1989 • class of 1989 •

Robin Waters
Jeff Watkins
Cathy Watson
Courtney Watson
Squirrel Weatherspoon
Katheryn Weaver

Virginia Weems
Kellie Welborn
Kelly Wells
Rebecca West
James Westbrook
Stephanie Wheeler

Ashley Whicker
Alan Whitaker
Christy White
Emily White
Jessie White
Kim White

Allison Wickham
Lynn Williams
Michelle Williams
Orlando Williams
Tara Williams
Tiffany Williams

Walter Williams
Joseph Williamson
Andrew Wilson
Angela Wilson
David Wilson
Jesse Wise

Jeff Wofford
Charles Wood
Ross Woodall
Dansra Woody
Tommy Worth
Bill Wright

Jennifer Wright
Mary Ann Wrench
Eric Wu Laura Wyrick
Jennette Yates
George York

George Young
Kim Young Michael Young
Jessica Zieger
Cathy Zimmerman
Jessica Zugu

class of 1990 • class of 1990

Allan Acton
Anthony Adams
Beckey Adams
Marty Adams
Rhonda Adkins
Carrie Allen

John Allen
Ryan Allen
David Allred
Jeremy Ames
Ann Anderson
Wes Andrews

Claudia Angeli
Darick Archible
Jimmie Arrington
Brian Attayek
Mike Baffi
Frances Bailey

Thensla Bailey
Amy Baithrow
Chris Baker
Kelly Baker
Chris Banks
Patrick Barkley

Geoff Barndt
Bonnie Barnes
Jack Barnes
Tracey Barnes
Jeanne Barton
Andrea Bassett

Daphne Bazemore
Dawn Beard
Jennifer Beasley
Kris Bencke
Clifford Bennett
Tommy Benton

Christian Bernhard
Susie Bickley
Juliana Bird
Tom Bird
Erin Bishop
Eric Bland

Otis Bland
Drista Blanton
Tamara Blanton
Hunter Bock
Mark Bodenhagen
Richard Bolton

describing • describing • describing • des

The Big Chill

It was six A.M. as you dragged yourself out of bed. The radio played innocent tunes as you switched the dial from WRDU, WLLE, WTCG, WDCG. Finally, you found a news report on (of all stations) WYYD. The fated news had arrived, "Wake County Schools will be closed today due to inclement weather conditions."

This was a familiar scene for Broughton students this past winter. The extra "vacation" days stretched out over a week at times and caused numerous delays. Yet somehow, with all this extra time on their hands, students managed to find something to do.

Hurling a snowball at his favorite comrade Junior Mark Jackson frolics in the snow during fourth period lunch. With arctic temperatures continuing the accumulated snow lasted days after classes were cancelled.

Some more industrious people went so far as to make money out of the frozen accumulation. Junior Mike Ruggles commented, "I made big bucks pushing cars up a hill near my house."

While Senior Julie Sparboe added, "I built a lift at the local sledding hot spot and charged exorbitant prices."

Still others took advantage of the break from school and took off for the mountains and skiing. Seniors Beth Shaw and Casey Herget traveled to Hot Springs, Virginia where Beth said, "I tackled the expert slopes, taking out three people in one swipe. It was great!" But Senior Charles Bell found the budget saver slopes of Scotland Road near North Hills just as challenging.

Laid-back seemed to describe the majority of students. Most, as Junior Scott McDaniel said, "Slept, ate, and slept more." Eating appeared to be a favorite activity. Junior Darrel Walker "roasted marshmallows" while Senior GiGi Karem "made snow cream." Freshmen Eric Thomas and Joseph Williamson even found time to go to a few "snow parties." Yet Senior Hart Miles looked ahead as he "just prayed that they wouldn't take Spring Break away!"

Victor Bonito
Virginia Boyette
Scott Brain
Samantha Brennan
Susan Brenner
Margaret Briggs

Keith Brouillard
Thomas Brinley
Ginger Brown
Jacquelyn Brown
Shannon Brown
Susan Brown

class of 1990 • class of 1990

describing • describing • describing • des A Summer TIP-Off

The SAT turns to an inevitable reality for most high school students. Surprisingly it seems to be such for a few junior high school students also. Students who place high enough on the SAT qualify for a program called TIP, Talent Identification Program. TIP is a three to six week summer camp in Durham, North Carolina, located on the Duke University East Campus. The agenda consists of six hours of class, one hour of study hall, and two hours of planned week-end activity daily.

The classes are very advanced high school courses in a broad range of subjects that consist of music, creative writing, languages, science and mathematics. Many of the courses are ones not available in high school. TIP is offered to rising eighth through eleventh graders and if the students successfully pass the course they receive a high school credit.

"I wasn't really excited about going because I thought that it would be a camp for geeks and smart people like that," Kitty Meares commented, "I found out that there weren't only geeks attending, but pretty girls and hot guys, too." Ben Eggleston remarked that the program was very organized and they always tried to offer a lot for everyone to do. "We stayed busy and had a lot of fun playing frisbee, going to the movies, the mall, or the pool. They made a relaxed atmosphere to balance out our study schedule." In agreement with the other students that attended the program, Jeff Vanderkam stated, "It is a very intense summer workshop, but it is also a lot of fun." Soo Kim expanded on that by saying, "It was a valuable experience and a wonderful opportunity, and I can't wait to go back next year!"

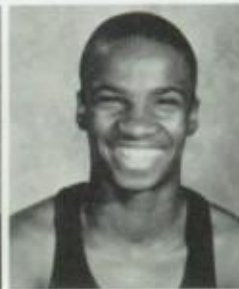

1st Row: Soo Kim, Kitty Meares. 2nd Row: Ben Eggleston, Jeff Vanderkam.

Mark Brownce
Annette Brunson
Laura Bryan
Sheryl Bryant
Anita Buch
Wayman Bunch

Kim Burke
Ricky Burnett
Marshall Burroughs
Brian Burton
Richard Caldwell
Ashley Campbell

lass of 1990 • class of 1990

Richard Campbell
Mary Carraway
Martha Carroll
Lisa Carter
Mary Caruso
Michael Casey

Kendall Casper
William Casteen
Anne Cella
Brian Chandler
Lynn Charlton
Troy Cheek

Cari Childers
Seab Chumura
Randy Cicuto
Mavis Clark
Ben Clifton
Lisa Cline

Kara Conely
Heather Connell
Jimmy Connell
Trent Conrad
Coria Copeland
Kim Costello

Kendra Cover
Simmons Covington
Brandy Crabtree
Chanda Crews
Jennifer Culberson
Scott Cuukshand

Walter Daniel
Chad Davis
Eric Davis
Ernie Davis
Jennifer Davis
Brooks Denmark

Chris Desha
Wanda Devone
Jeff Dewar
David Dillon
Jeanna Dockery
Chris Dodd

William Dodds
Jane Doggett
Chris Donochod
Lisa Duckett
Bob Dunn
Danielle Dunn

class of 1990 • class of 1990

Darian Dunn
Filiz Durmaz
Cassandra Echols
Pat Edwards
Ben Eggleston
Julie Ellington

Margaret Ellington
Patrick Elliott
Rodney Ellis
Tina Ellison
Tom Ellison
Kristin Emory

Nicholas Enders
Danny English
Ivey Ennis
Nicole Enrico
Lorin Evans
Jill Eyerman

Erika Fabiano
Greg Fansler
Jennifer Farr
Matt Faucette
Marilyn Faulk
Tamara Federici

Beth Freezor
Sally Ferdon
Trace Ferrell
Jessica Few Christi Fields
Brandy Fisher

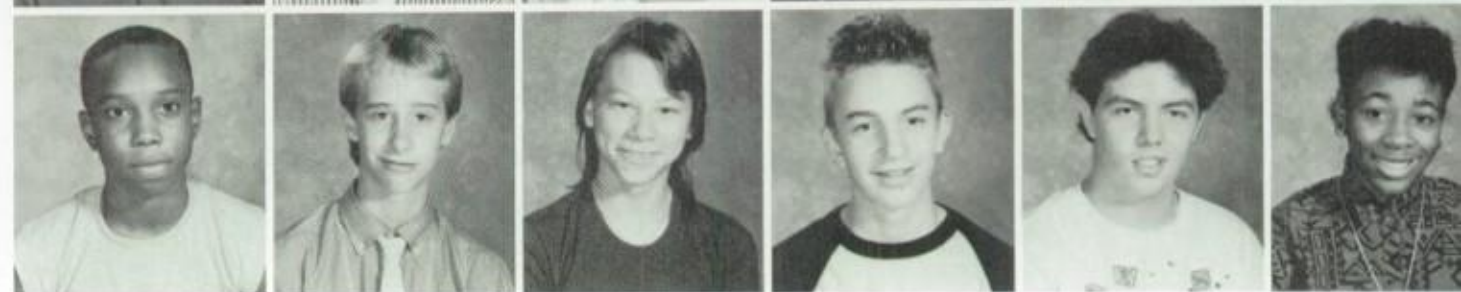

Ashley Frye
Michelle Fuguay
Richard Funderburk
Camille Gaddy
Joseph Garner
Will Garrabrant

Tabori Gerald
Allison Gerig
Eric Gjertsen
Angela Gilbert
Bridget Goodson
Greg Grady

Chris Graham
John Gramhausen
Dave Granger
Justin Gray
Jason Green
Tonya Gregory

describing • describing • describing • des
‘One Common Interest’

Concluded Ray Smith, "By being a page, it gave me the opportunity to talk with the Senators, Judges, and Representatives and if I could do it again, I'd definitely do it!"

Ruben Guiterrez
Angela Gupta
Emilia Gutkin
Robert Hagwood
Demusha Hall
Stephanie Hall

describing • describing • describing • de

Governor's Aids

You missed a whole week of school and it's excused. You even got paid. The catch (for some) was when the males had to wear a coat and tie while the females wore skirts. Yet for many Broughton students, Governor and Senate Paging justified a week's make up work and even the long eight to five days. Said Junior Katherine Boney, "It was well worth the time I missed."

Pages differed from those that worked in the North Carolina Senate, and those that worked while the Legislature was in session. Most were recommended by various political leaders in the county, teachers, or even "by my Dad's best friend." Pages representing counties from across the state met in Raleigh for an entire week. "It was interesting to mix with kids from across the state," agreed Freshmen Ben Eggleston and Senior Andy Felton. Andy even met "one guy from Lizard Lick."

The pages were kept busy as they constantly ran errands and delivered messages for the representatives. From their work and contacts with lawmakers, most, as Senior Monique Merriweather commented, "really got a working knowledge of the government and how it's run."

And finally it seemed like the experience was not only educational but, like Junior Connie Zaytoun laughed, "Well, the money didn't hurt too much either."

Filing information Freshman Ben Eggleston works between Session and committee meetings in the Legislature Building. Out-of-town pages stayed in private homes in Raleigh and many came with their own car to "check out the capital city's night-life."

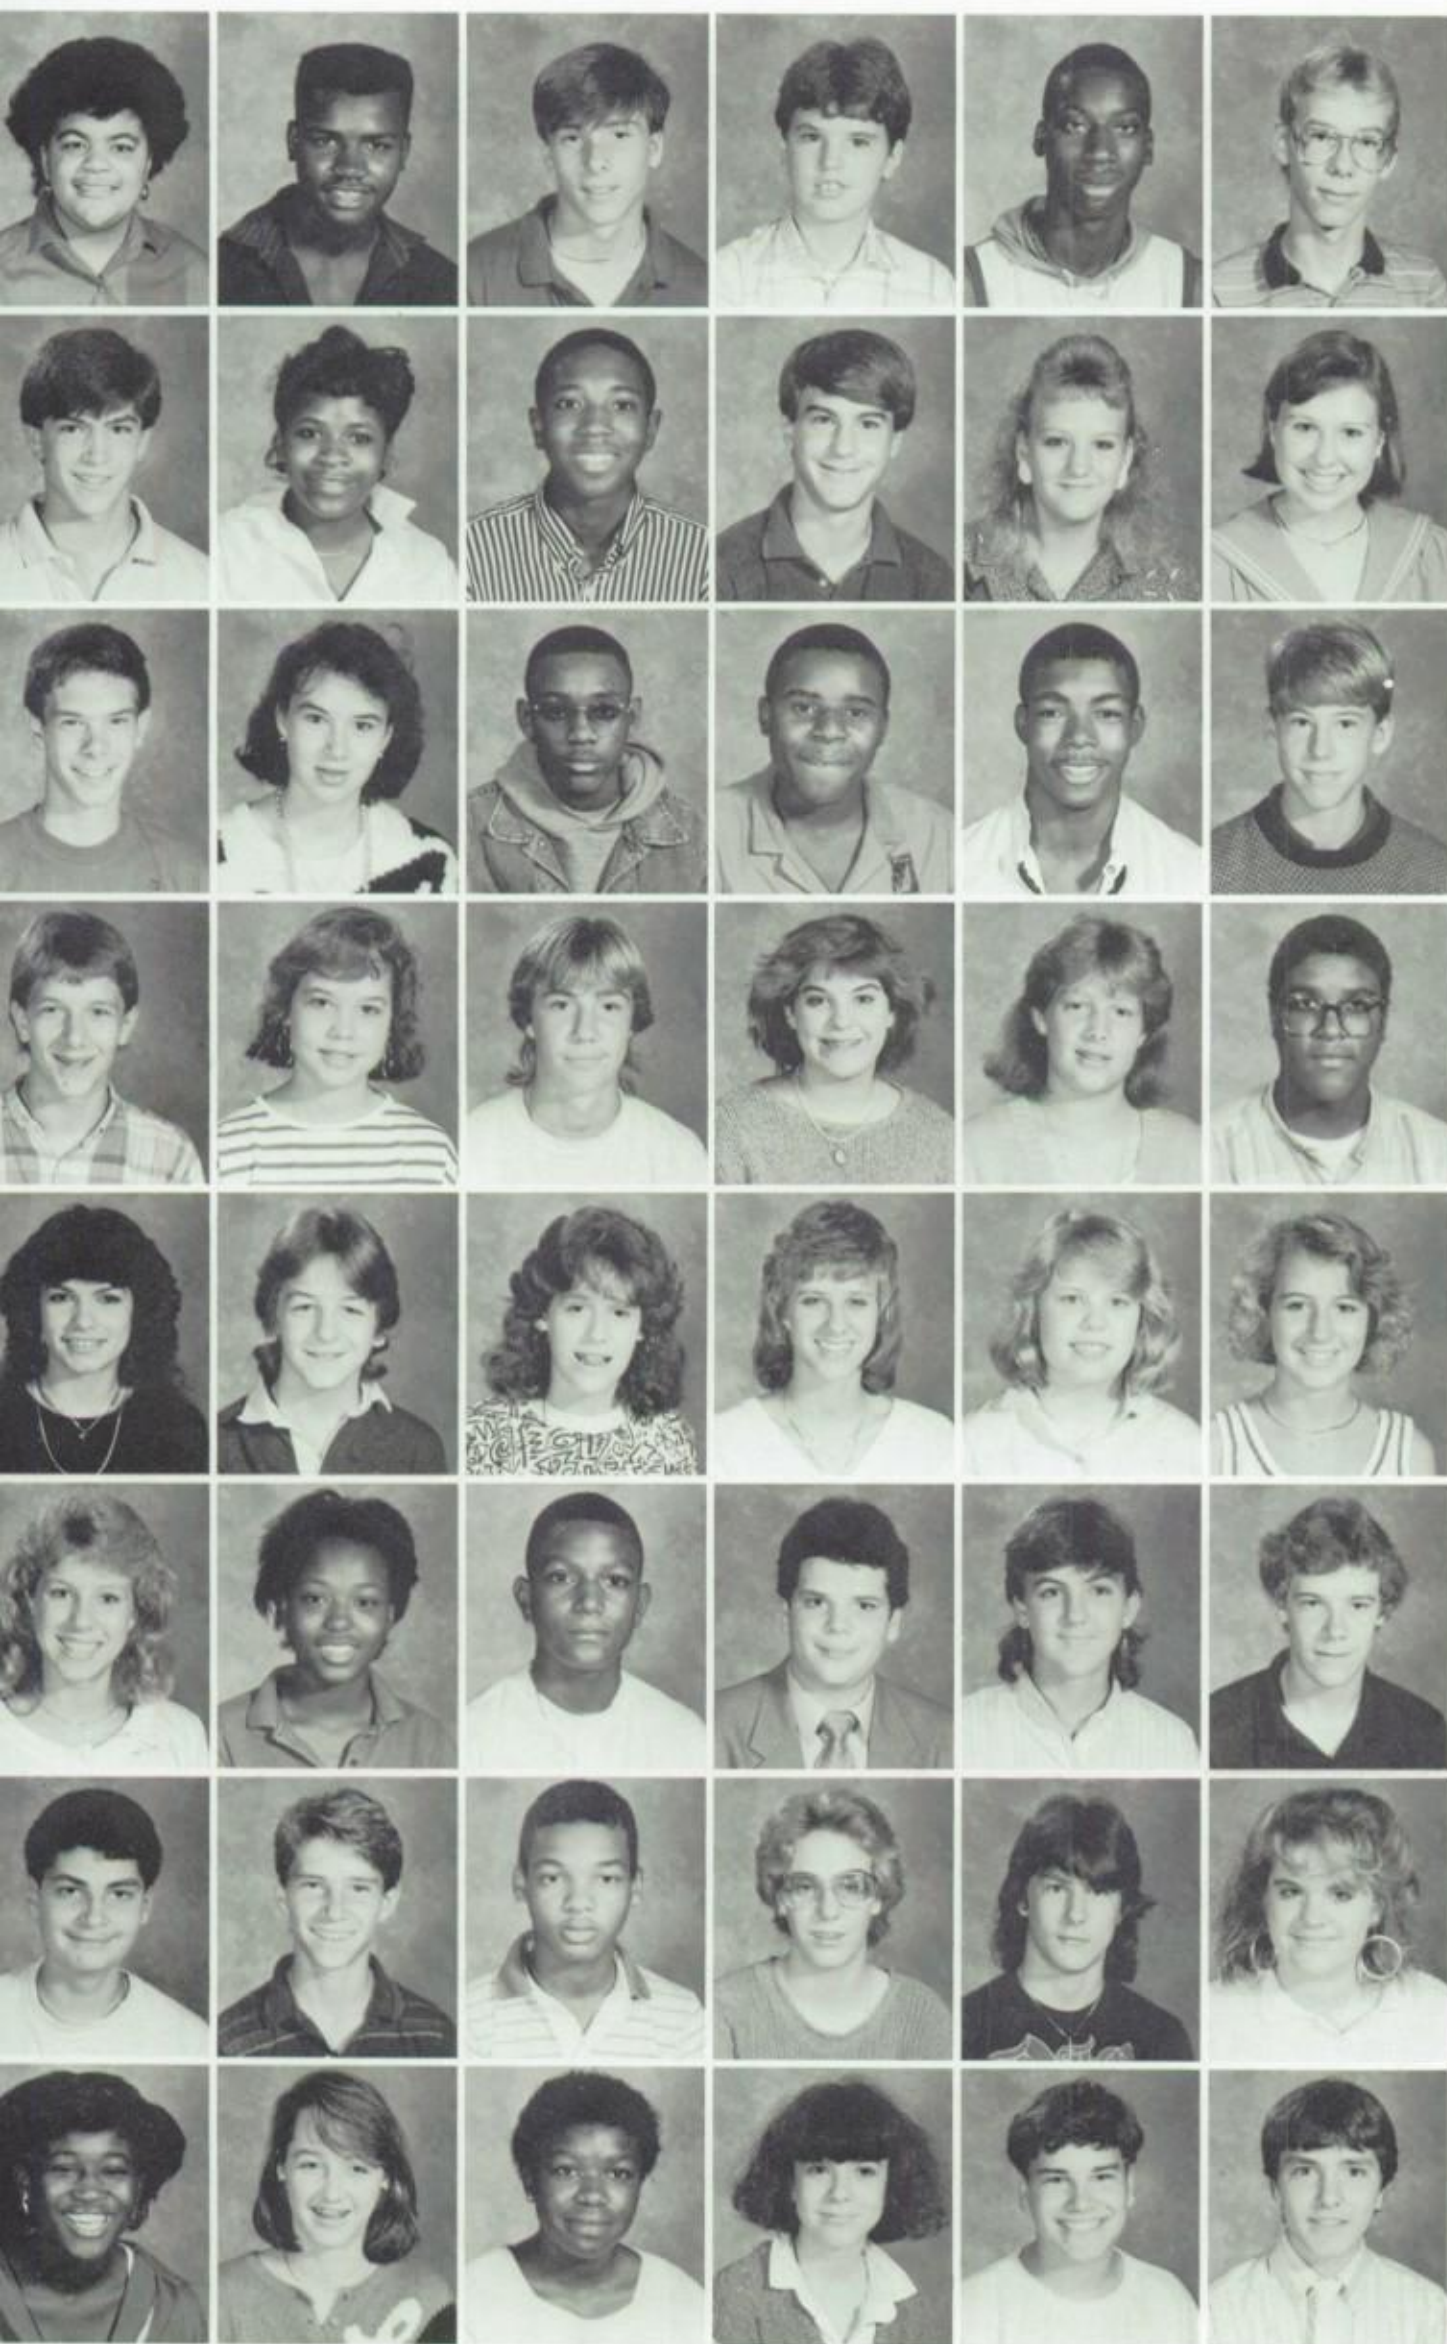

Jessica Hamilton
Julie Hamilton
Lachandra Hamilton
Chris Hampton
Andrea Harris
Aundrea Harris

Donna Harris
Kenneth Harris
Pamela Harris
Thurston Harris
Tim Harris
Tracie Harris

class of 1990 • class of 1990

Vida Harris
Roderick Harrison
Ken Hartpence
Adam Hatch
Alton Hayes
Donald Hayes

Darryl Head
Larhonda Hemby
Morisseau Henly
Brett Henrikson
Kristi Hensley
Cartyle Herbert

Clay Herget
Amber Hester
Tyrone Hicks
Travis High
Lavette Hintin
Peter Hoag

Karl Hoffman
Kelly Hoffman
Todd Hoffman
Kristie Hoffstetter
Kristen Hokanson
Brian Holdea

Debbie Holliday
Gregg Holler
Selana Holmes
Claire Holroyd
Susan Holshouser
Heather Hooker

Karla Horton
Tammy Houston
Christopher Howard
Michael Howard
Alice Hubbard
Jon Hudson

Eric Hume
Dave Humphrey
Shawn Hunter
Kari Ingram
Jon Jackson
Mary Jackson

Tammie Jackson
Weldon Jackson
Shach Jacobs
Wendy James Lulce Jarin
Jason Jeanblanc

class of 1990 • class of 1990

Jerry Jeffreys
David Jenkins
Kim Jenkins
Mary Jenkins
Indy Johnson
James Johnson

Josh Johnson
Kim Johnson
Melanie Johnson
Alexander Jones
Andy Jones
Cheryl Jones

Chris Jones
Jennifer Jones
Kim Jones
Malachi Jones
Rosalie Jones
Shae Jones

Shari Jordan
Chris Jurgens
Nicole Jurovics
Deanna Keen
Erin Kesterson
Joo Kim

Soo Kim
Joe King
Tim Kirkman
Robert Koger
Michael Lambert
Tina Lamm

Traer Latham
Jerel Law
Suzie Leach
Garland Lee
Missy Lefort
Nathan Lepere

Derrick Lovelace
Cameron Lewis
Ray Lindholm
Brad Lindsley
Philip Lingle
Robert Liv

Gary Locklear
Frederick Long Jennifer Love
Brian Lynch
Kelley Maness
Edward Marsden

Class of 1990 • class of 1990

describing • describing • describing • describing

What's Your Excuse?

The buzzer on Kathryn's alarm clock sounded very similar to the fire drill at school. She lay in bed and debated to herself whether she should ride the bus to school with all her other freshmen friends or stay at home and save herself the humiliation. Her mother made her decision for her; Kathryn was going to school. She hated riding the bus. She hated it worse than doing her homework.

On her way out the door her footsteps seemed shorter and shorter. She couldn't seem to walk any further. She quickly sat down and thought of ways to get out of riding the bus. She could easily tell her mother that she missed it by one second. Then her mother would have to take her to school, but that seemed too easy. Kathryn had to think of something good!

"I've got it!" she whispered to herself, trying not to let anyone know what she was up to.

She ran inside, picked up the phone, and called her friend, Chip. A feeling of relief ran through her. She smiled to herself when she thought of her killer idea working, and almost laughed to herself. Suddenly, a nervous panic took control of her body. Her heart pounded. Her body shook. Her hands were sweating, as Chip's mother answered, "Chip has already left for school, honey."

What was she going to do? How was she going to get to school? Would she have to experience that feeling of all eyes directed on just her when she stepped off the bus? NO! Before she could answer any of those questions, her bus rode off into the sunrise.

Bart Norman smiles for the camera unaware that his friend, Chris Dodd is soon to put a wad of gum in his hair. Pranks and pranksters usually kept the ride to and from school from being too boring.

Ben Martin
Dwanda Martin
Jacqueline Martin
Vanessa McBride
Calvin McCalister
John McCann

Larry McClaw
Jodi McCloughy
William McDaniel
James McFadden
Angela McGhee James McKay

class of 1990 • class of 1990

describing • describing • describing • de

Excuse This Interruption

Think back into your homeroom days. What is your most vivid recollection? Is it the frenzied minutes of your Spanish homework completion? Is it the girl behind you that braided your hair? Or is it your homeroom teacher screaming at the top of her lungs telling you to be quiet during announcements? Yeah. . . you remember those announcements! Weren't they something?

Every single school day, without fail, Ms. Walker (or someone else in her place) began the homeroom period with the same line: "May I have your attention, please, for morning announcements?". That's when the lists began. They notified us of club and committee meetings, bade us to the office, congratulated us for victories and thanked us for our efforts. They advertised elections, class candy sales, spirit links, and asked us for our prom ideas. Some of the announcements were nothing but informative. Others were quite entertaining. There were raps and rhymes and musicals. Some were loud; some were mild.

On Wednesday we got twice as many. But just in case we didn't catch'em, they came on again in the afternoon. Announcements were a Broughton fact of life. As Sophomore Eugene Hayes commented, "The only people I know who listen to announcements are the people who see me in the hall and tell me I was called to the office."

Deciphering a messy student announcement, Ms. Elvia Walker warns, pleads, and reads information to the student body. Guest announcers included Mr. Rudder, Ms. Currin, Ms. Lovelace, and Ms. Becker.

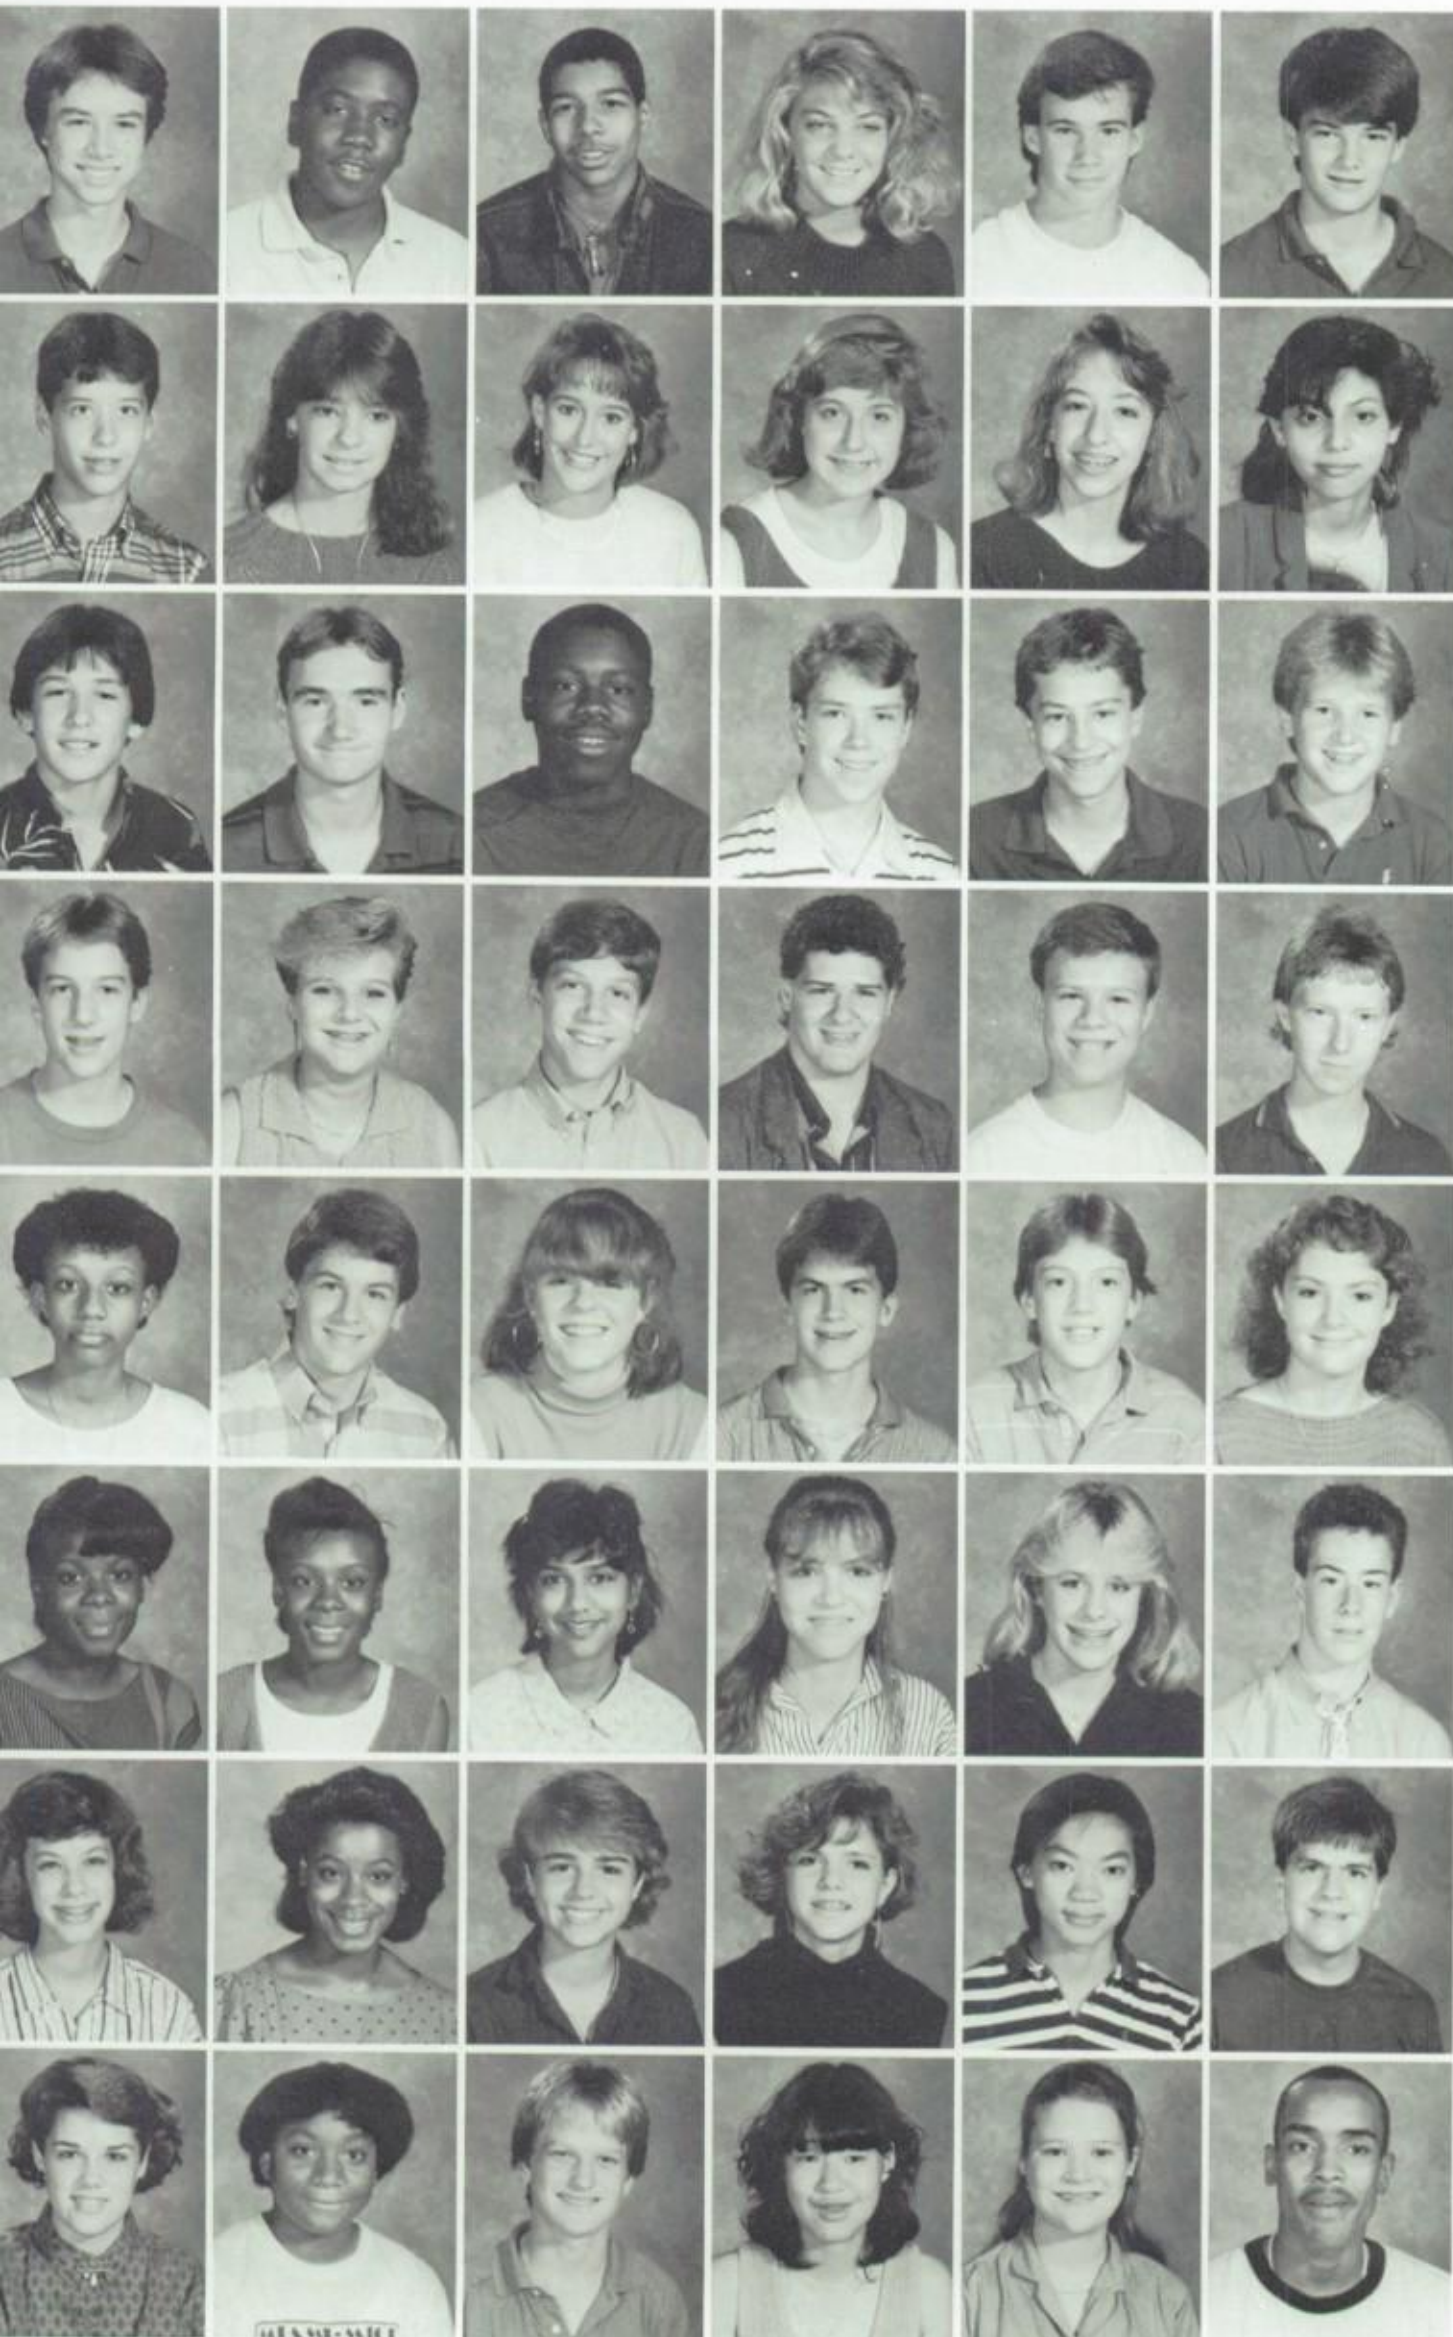

Michelle McLeod
Robert McMahan
Kitty Meares
Ollie Meece
Cade Metez
Janie Miles

Catherine Mitchell
Meredith Mizell
Jeff Mock
Vonne Montague
Shannon Moody
Allen Moore

lass of 1990 • class of 1990

Chad Moore
Mike Moore
Ted Moore
Allison Morgan
David Morgan
Jack Morisely

Charlie Morris Christy Morris
Lisa Morris
Donna Mullins
Leigh Mullen
Soledad Mundz

Patrick Munley
Freddie Murray
Benjamin Newkirk
Lee Newsome
Daniel Noland
Scott Noon

Bart Norman Misty Olive Troy Oller
John Orr
Patrick Overton
Timothy Owens

Nikki Palmer
Trent Park
Christy Parker
Nathan Parker
Kyle Parshall
Theodora Parsons

Eugenia Partin
Katrina Partin
Kalpana Patel
Yvonne Pattee
Karen Pausharpe
Robby Peace

Nikki Perry
Tiffany Perry
Jennifer Philips
Jenny Phillips
Phan Phuc
Jeff Pigott

Lisa Pittard
Renee Pointer
Ben Pollock
Julie Potak
Sarah Preston Kevin Pretty

class of 1990 • class of 1990

Chisley Price
Katie Price
Tracy Purdee
Kim Radfoad
Rick Ramey
Fred Rand

Eddie Ransdell
Jimmy Reese
Adam Reeves
Jason Rehberg
Rick Renner
Christiel Rhem

Bea Rhew
Evan Richardson
Stacey Richardson
John Roberson
Todd Robertson
Larisa Rogers

Ashlee Roll
Chad Ross
Kara Ruebesam
Leigh Ann Ruggles
Petie Rushel
Clark Russell

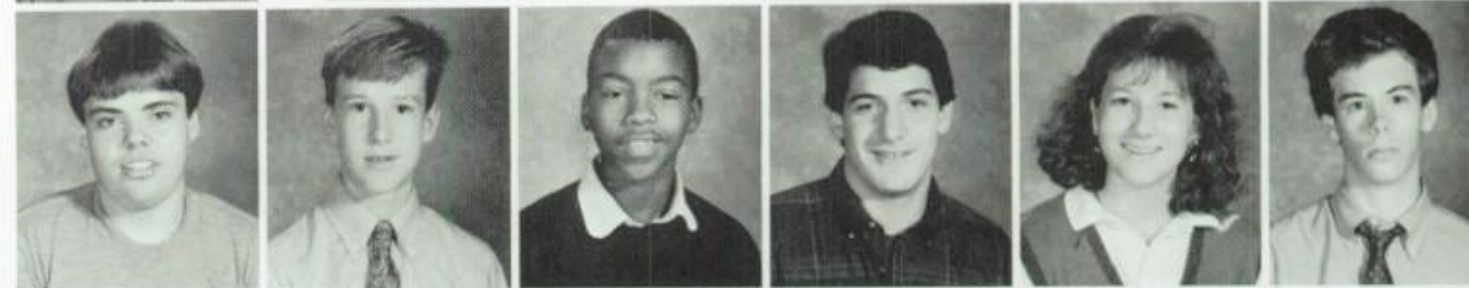

Bobby Saaler
Reda Salgado
Lois Sanders
Racquel Sanders
Bart Satterfield
Lynne Scarboro

Thomas Sears
Ann Seldon
Nicole Sellers
John Sharp
Melanie Shekita
Cricket Sheperd

Kenna Shirey
Will Shirey
Timothy Signal
Patrick Simpkins
Hollis Singleton
Gordon Smith

Matt Smith
Mike Smith
Tara Smith
Tina Smith
Julee Snyder
Virginia Sparrow

class of 1990 • class of 1990

describing • describing • describing • describing

Flaunt Your Personality

Fads, they come and go, but what would life be without them, especially high school life. Who could forget Rubik's cube or jams, or even jellys? Every year they come and go and this year we had our share.

One of the more popular items was odd key chains. A glance at somebody's keychain could practically tell you their personality and life story. Keys could hang from almost anything; small pictures of friends, rope knots, small plastic hands, or all three. "I can clap my hands and my keychain will beep", said Senior Caroline Farmer. Senior Stephanie Ferrell commented that "With a bigger keychain, I can find my keys faster." There was no doubt that a unique keychain was never more than a glance away. "The best thing is that they're not all the same," noted Senior Lisa Dingman.

Bumper stickers were also very big this year. From "Bad Dog: I brake for nothing" to just plain "Chill", you would see a bumper sticker on almost every car. "It makes my car different," said Senior Carol Carver. Bumper stickers said everything and nothing. SADD stickers said something important and could be spotted on many cars. Other stickers advertised things such as surf boards like "Hot Buttered" or "Maui." No matter what they said, bumper stickers certainly made cars more interesting.

Many people changed the appearance of their bedrooms also. One of the more popular items were orange street cones and, of course, street signs. Stop signs and speed limit signs donned many walls. "What else would I put on my walls, except for my Lamborghini posters," stated Senior Scott Philbrook.

Personalized cups were another fad that took off this year. Many people carried cups with such things as "Class of 87" or names of friends. "I'll keep mine so I can remember things about high school," said Sophomore Sherri Smallwood. Cups that are used for drinking now will be used for remembering in later years.

Every year fads come and go but they aren't usually forgotten. This year fads let people's imaginations go wild, and that's what makes a fad a fad.

Taking notes in Anatomy class, Senior Larissa Lewis displays her odd pencil. Original pencils were a big fad this year.

Darlene Spears
Martha Spears
Trevis Spruil
Lesea Staten
Kim Stephens
Renee Stephenson

Todd Stevens
Kellie Stewart
Maggie Stewart
Ernie Stitzinger Rico Street
Kelly Stuart

class of 1990 • class of 1990

Kevin Sullivan
Cindy Swinarski
Andra Taylor
Ashley Taylor
Melissa Taylor
Mike Taylor
Jennifer Taynton

Tracy Tehrani
Chris Thomas
Phil Thompson
Katie Titchner
Chris Thomas
Brian Torrence
John Troan

Raymond Tucker
Meg Tuttle
Amy Ussery
Stacy Vandebloom
Jeff Vanderkam
Dee Vick
Michelle Virtue

Suzanne Virtue
Rhonda Wagner
Todd Wahler
Russell Walford
Daryl Walder
Ryan Walton
Jo Ellen Waters

Alison Watta
Heidi Weaver
Rodriguis West
Laura Wheless
Courtney Whitaker
Joe Whitaker
Clinton White

Gerald White
Alan Whitehurst
Cedrick Wiggs
Trina Wilkes
Chad Wilkins
Gray Williams
Jeffrey Williams

Kerry Williams
Warren Williams
Ronald Wilson
Yolonda Wimbush
Alfred Winner
Thomas Witherspoon
Troy Wood

Ashley Wooten
Jonathon Wray
Joseph Wright
Cynthia Wright
Ann Henley Yelverton
Stephanie Yost
Chad Zuehlke

describing • describing • describing Getting The Mechanics

"Now one thing you've got to understand is that usually when people think of Auto Mechanics they think of the image of those grease monkeys. That's not what it's all about. Usually girls are scared to take this course because they are afraid of getting their nails dirty. I've been teaching this course for a while and my nails are clean," smiled Mr. Hew Dorsett.

This is how most girls felt about the course, but then there are some exceptions. One exception was Cynthia Arrington, the only girl in the Auto Mechanics class. "I wanted to learn about cars so that if it was to break down, I'd know what to do."

Mr. Dorsett wished that there could be more girls involved in his course. "I welcome them. I believe that girls should know as much, if not more than a guy when it breaks down and they are stranded." Robert Mitchener said, "I was kind of surprised to see a girl in this class but it doesn't matter to me. It's a lot of work and if a girl can hang, then let her go for it." Most guys feel the same way.

The cars that are worked on are usually a donation of some kind. Sometimes the cars belong to a parent, the students or just someone who needs their car to be fixed. But don't think that just because some cars are fixed by students that they can go and become a mechanic after high school. "After high school if a student wants to be a mechanic, they should go to a technical or regular college to finish training," acknowledged Mr. Hew Dorsett.

All year through the students weren't always in the garage. At a certain time of the year, the students traveled to Atlanta, Georgia, where the General Motors Corporation is located. They also traveled to South Carolina, where they learned to rebuild parts.

"As I said before, girls in the class seem to give the guys incentive to work harder so that the girls won't make them look bad. And with that a true fact, then maybe a lot of girls should sign up so that these guys will work harder," laughed Mr. Hew Dorsett.

Carefully studying parts under the hood, Senior Otha Johnson and Sophomore David Evenson gain experience. Students sometimes bring in their klunkers to be worked on during the class period.

faculty • faculty • faculty • fa

describing describing describing descri

With Chrome shining in the sun, Mrs. Crowder's Mercedes-Benz sits placidly in the teacher's parking lot. Few cars as nice as this are driven in student parking lots — perhaps because of an excess of inexperienced drivers and a lack of parking ability.

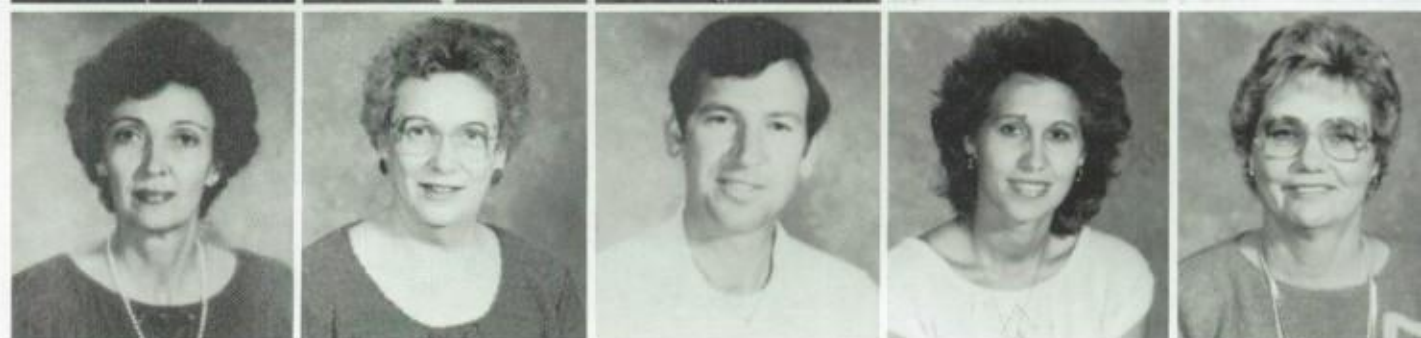

Karen Adams — Spanish, French, French Club
Sharon Ayers — French, French Club Barbara Baird — Business Education James Baker — Science Maureen Banker — Art, Art Club

Judy Barker — Math, Varsity Cheerleaders, Senior Class Advisor Ann Barnes — Librarian Kathleen Becker — Assistant Principal, Student Congress Advisor Anita Bell Library Aide Audrey Benrud — Social Studies

Sherry Biggerstaff — Business, Data Processing Betsy Bizzell — Social Studies Daniel Bolic — Driver Education, Assistant Football Coach Cindy Braboy — Special Programs, Junior Class Advisor Margaret Braswell — Secretary

g describing describing describing des Capital Transit

It's 3:00 on a Friday afternoon when you climbed into the family station wagon. As you placidly drove down St. Mary's Street you saw a whir of metal fly past you. You have just been dusted by Mrs. Davis in her gold '65 Pontiac Tempest. Nicknamed "Pessie," Mrs. Davis's car has over 111,000 miles on it and "will go as fast as I want her to." She commented, "People always get out of my way when I go by!"

Teacher's cars showed almost as much character as cars in the student parking lots. They varied from tanks to luxury autos and each showed a little something about the owner.

Ms. Jones said her '76 Gremlin, "Known by close friends as Girly" suffered from many parking lot mishaps. She said, "Students used to ask for rides see my car and then the excuses would start flowing."

On the other hand, many students probably would have opted for a ride in Mrs. Crowder's new 1986 Mercedes-Benz. After her previous '85 300ZX this was her "yuppie compromise to a Porsche."

It seemed like many teachers had once had interesting cars even though they now had settled for more practical methods of transportation. Mr. Rudder once whizzed through town in his convertible Austin-Healey while Mr. Murdoch drove his sister's '49 Ford. "The brakes didn't always work so with one hand I used a bottle of brake fluid (since the brakes were on the floorboard) and with the other hand I steered!" he said.

And finally Mr. Ratliff used to pick up girls in his jeep and on weekends he even went four-wheeling. Next time you head out with your friends to go four-wheeling at Lake Raleigh, be sure to give Mr. Ratliff a call.

Nanalee Britt — French, French Club Advisor
Margaret Brown — Math, Math Club
Clyde Browne — Math Girl's Soccer Coach
Clotilde Burcher — Science, US Club Advisor
Stan Causby — J.V. Boy's Basketball Coach, Industrial Arts, Assistant Football Coach, Drafting

Sandy Chappell — Guidance
Wynn Cherry — English, After School Assistance, Latin, Co-Latin Club Advisor, Yearbook Advisor
Miroslava Christesen — English
Archie Clark — Science, Science Club Advisor
Nancy Clark — Foreign Language

Elizabeth Clarkson — English
Ava Closs — English
Goldie Coates — Home Economics, Home Economics Department Head, Service Club Advisor
Gail Colbert — Special Programs, Special Programs Department Head
Melissa Cole — Science, Swim Team Coach

aculty • faculty • faculty • fa

describing describing describing descri

Words of Wisdom

"Man, I'm so tired of hearing her say that all the time!" you heard under muttered breath. Here are just a few of the possibilities it might have been!

Mrs. Clark, "Cross the line, change the sign."

Mrs. Smisson, "This is not a democracy. Quit kicking me in the shins!"

Mrs. Nutt, "No more of this Mickey Mouse stuff or New Math! Don't try to change the plan of salvation! Good glory Miss Agnes!"

Mr. Gunter, "Where's a LATIPAC photographer when you need one? That restores my faith in the concept of Mathematics."

Mrs. Lloyd, "Sign the book."

Mr. Ratliff, "Wait till the last day of school."

Mrs. Barker, "Put your name on the board."

Ms. White, "Call me Ms."

Mrs. Ayers, "It's not that I don't trust you."

Mr. Murdoch, "Mitosis is."

Mrs. Schwall, "I was read in 'People' last week..."

Miss Sommerville, "Get on sheet of paper."

Ms. Lineberger, "Specific ly..."

Coach Hamilton, "Too l

Susan Cothran — Secretary Lori Cottle — English Laura Crook — Math Susan Crowder — English, Dance Club Advisor Jane Currin —

Claudia Daniel — Social Studies Mary Davis — Social Studies Jerrie Dearborn — Math Kay Diehl — English H.L. Dorsett — Auto Mechanics

Wanda Easley — Foreign Language, Spanish, Spanish Club Advisor Julie Efta — Latin, Latin Club Advisor Elizabeth Elder — Science Deborah Freeman — Physical Aid Education, Varsity Girl's Coach Steven Gardner — Social Studies, Boy's Tennis Coach

g describing descri

re not in the Advanced P.E. ss."

Ms. Burcher, "If you sit in the ek of the room bring your at."

Mrs. Walker, "What day you nt?"

Filling students in on the lively past of Claudius, Mr. Ratcliff speaks with compassion about his iron chicken. His classes often started with, "I want to inform you of the latest developments with Claudius."

Josephine Gibson — Spanish Marci Gilbert — Physical Education, Cross Country Mattie
Goode — Guidance Iris Griffith — Guidance
Aide Stephen Gunter — Math, Chess Club,
Homecoming Advisor, Math Team Advisor

Bonnie Gupton — Advancement Counselor Al
Gurganus — German, German Club Advisor,
Marshall Hamilton — Physical Education,
Boy's Varsity Coach, Athletic Director Sue Hel-
fert — Attendance Aide Eloise Hilliard —
Business Education, Business Education Department Head, COOP Advisor, Afro-American History Club Advisor

Shirley Hinton — Math Donna Holt — Science
Katherine Hooper — Distributive Education,
DECA Advisor Larry Hoxie — Social Studies,
Assistant Football Coach, Assistant Baseball
Coach Nan Hudson — Home Economics,
HERO Advisor, Service Club Advisor

faculty • faculty • faculty • fa

describing describing

Full of smiles, little Steve Gardner hardly looks like a social studies teacher. When Steve Gardner was young, all he wanted to be was grown up.

Wilma Jenkins — English Broughton Players and Composition Advisor Richard Jewell — Principal Theron Keen — Industrial Arts Teresa Kirkpatrick — Science Michael Kral — Social Studies, Intramurals

Sybil Lay — Librarian Elizabeth Lewis — Spanish, Spanish Club Advisor Beth Lineberger — Science Paula Long — Business Education Naomi Lovelace — Science, Honor Society Advisor

George Macqueen — AFROTC Linda Mahan — Guidance Rob Matheson — Science, Boy's J.V. Soccer Coach, Freshman Class Advisor Beth Mauzy — Social Studies Kraig McBroom — Music, Drama, Fine Arts Department Head, Choral Ensemble Advisor

lty • faculty • faculty • faculty describing describing describing describ

Playing School

What did you want to be when you grew up? Did you want to be an astronaut, a ballerina, a cowboy, or maybe even a school teacher?! Teachers had ambitions when they were children, just like everyone else.

Kathleen Becker wanted to be a trash collector. "The trash collector had a horse, so I assumed that if I grew up to become a trash collector I would also have a horse!"

Tom Newsome said, "I wanted to be a farmer because I grew up on a farm." He commented, "I was in high school when I became inspired by one of my teachers to become a teacher."

Lynne Misenheimer had dreams of becoming a lawyer and never getting married or having children. She stated, "I wanted to be an independent woman!" Marcus Scruggs on the other hand, imagined becoming a cop. "The reason being," he said, "was so I could go around and yell at everybody. So I decided to become a teacher instead!"

Some people always knew what they want to do and they are doing it! Karen Adams stated that she always wanted to be a French teacher. "When I was a little girl I use to speak in a foreign language when we were playing school!"

Kathy McGowan — English Michael Merritt — Social Studies, Assistant Football Coach Carol Meszaros — Social Studies Debbie Miller — Spanish Lynne Misenheimer — English

Roscoe Murdoch — Science, Science Department Head Kathy Myers — Sophomore Class Advisor Thomas Newsome — Industrial Arts, Wood Shop, Vocational Department Head Jane Norton — English, High Times Advisor Jacqueline Nutt Math, Math Department Head

Jane Paige — Spanish, Spanish Club Advisor, Foreign Language Department Head Cynthia Pickett — Home Economics Glenda Pollard — Math Ann Pupa — Special Programs Phil Ratliff — Social Studies, Golf Coach faculty • faculty • faculty • f

describing describing describing descr

Hamilton's Hoopla

If there could be an Honor Society for faculty members many names would come to mind. Broughton's teachers constantly did above and beyond their call of duty without even a thought of recognition. Yet this year two of Broughton's faculty, Coach Marshall Hamilton and Ms. Sylvia White earned special coverage as teachers and leaders of excellence.

Coach Hamilton was named as the assistant coach for the United States Junior Men's team in this summer's World Championships. Traveling to Bormio, Italy Hamilton will coach the best college sophomores, freshmen, and top high school players in the country. "The idea of working with players like J.R. Reid (of UNC) is very exciting," Hamilton said. "This is probably the greatest honor I have ever received."

English teacher Ms. Sylvia White earned the backing of our own faculty as Broughton's Teacher of the Year. She then competed with teachers from across the county to win the Wake title. As a professional Ms. White stays in teaching "because of the personal reward, the satisfaction of knowing I made a difference in a child's life."

With traces of long over teaching excellence award becoming more common teacher's like Ms. White Coach Hamilton will soon be recognized. While for now the new "inductees" have been "virtually walking on air" as White commented.

Jeffery Richardson — Music, Band Helen Roberts — Science, Sophomore Class Advisor Louie Ross — Guidance I and E John Rudder — Assistant Principal Bob Sandford — Transportation Supervisor

Helen Schwall — English, Honor Society Advisor Lou Service — English, Drama Club Advisor Ermalinda Sharpe — English Beth Sherrill — Science Sally Smisson — English, Winged Words Advisor

Joanne Smith — Vocational Education, JTPA Helen Sommerville — Math, J.V. Cheerleader Advisor Steve Spivey — Physical Education, Girl's Tennis Coach, Wrestling Coach Alice Sprinkle — Math Linda Stroud — Science

ulty • faculty • faculty • facu scribing de

Ruth Thompson — Guidance, Guidance Department Head Dorothy Thornburg — English
Reginald Townes — Physical Education, Volleyball Coach Cheryl Upchurch — Book-keeper

Babs Vonbiberstein — English Brinkley Wagstaff — Physical Education, Physical Education Department Head, Varsity Baseball Coach
Elvia Walker — Assistant Principal Teresa Ward — Math Judy Waters Math, Science

Eugene Weeks — AFROTC Karen Wells — Math Kathy White — Social Studies Sylvia White — English, SADD Advisor Jean Williams — Math

INVENTORY (IN'V N -TOR'E)
 PERIODIC SURVEY OF ALL GOOD
 IN STOCK. SEE ALSO: THINGAMAJI
 CLEARANCE, MONEY BACK GUARAN
 TEE, 3 MONTH WARRANTY, NO EX
 CHANGES, C.O.D., ALL SALES FINA

Words
 Describe Can't
 It

ADVERTISEMENTS

Because of the lack of tables at Char-Grill, Markham Carr, Caleb Smith, Derek Debank, Ed Burton, and Brent Miller enjoy their food in the back of Markham's van.

Taking advantage of a sunny day, Sharon Hazouri, Maria Watson, Stephen Conway, Tom Meehan, Cammy Worth, Gigi Karan, and Osle Lokken enjoy lunch outdoors at Char-Grill.

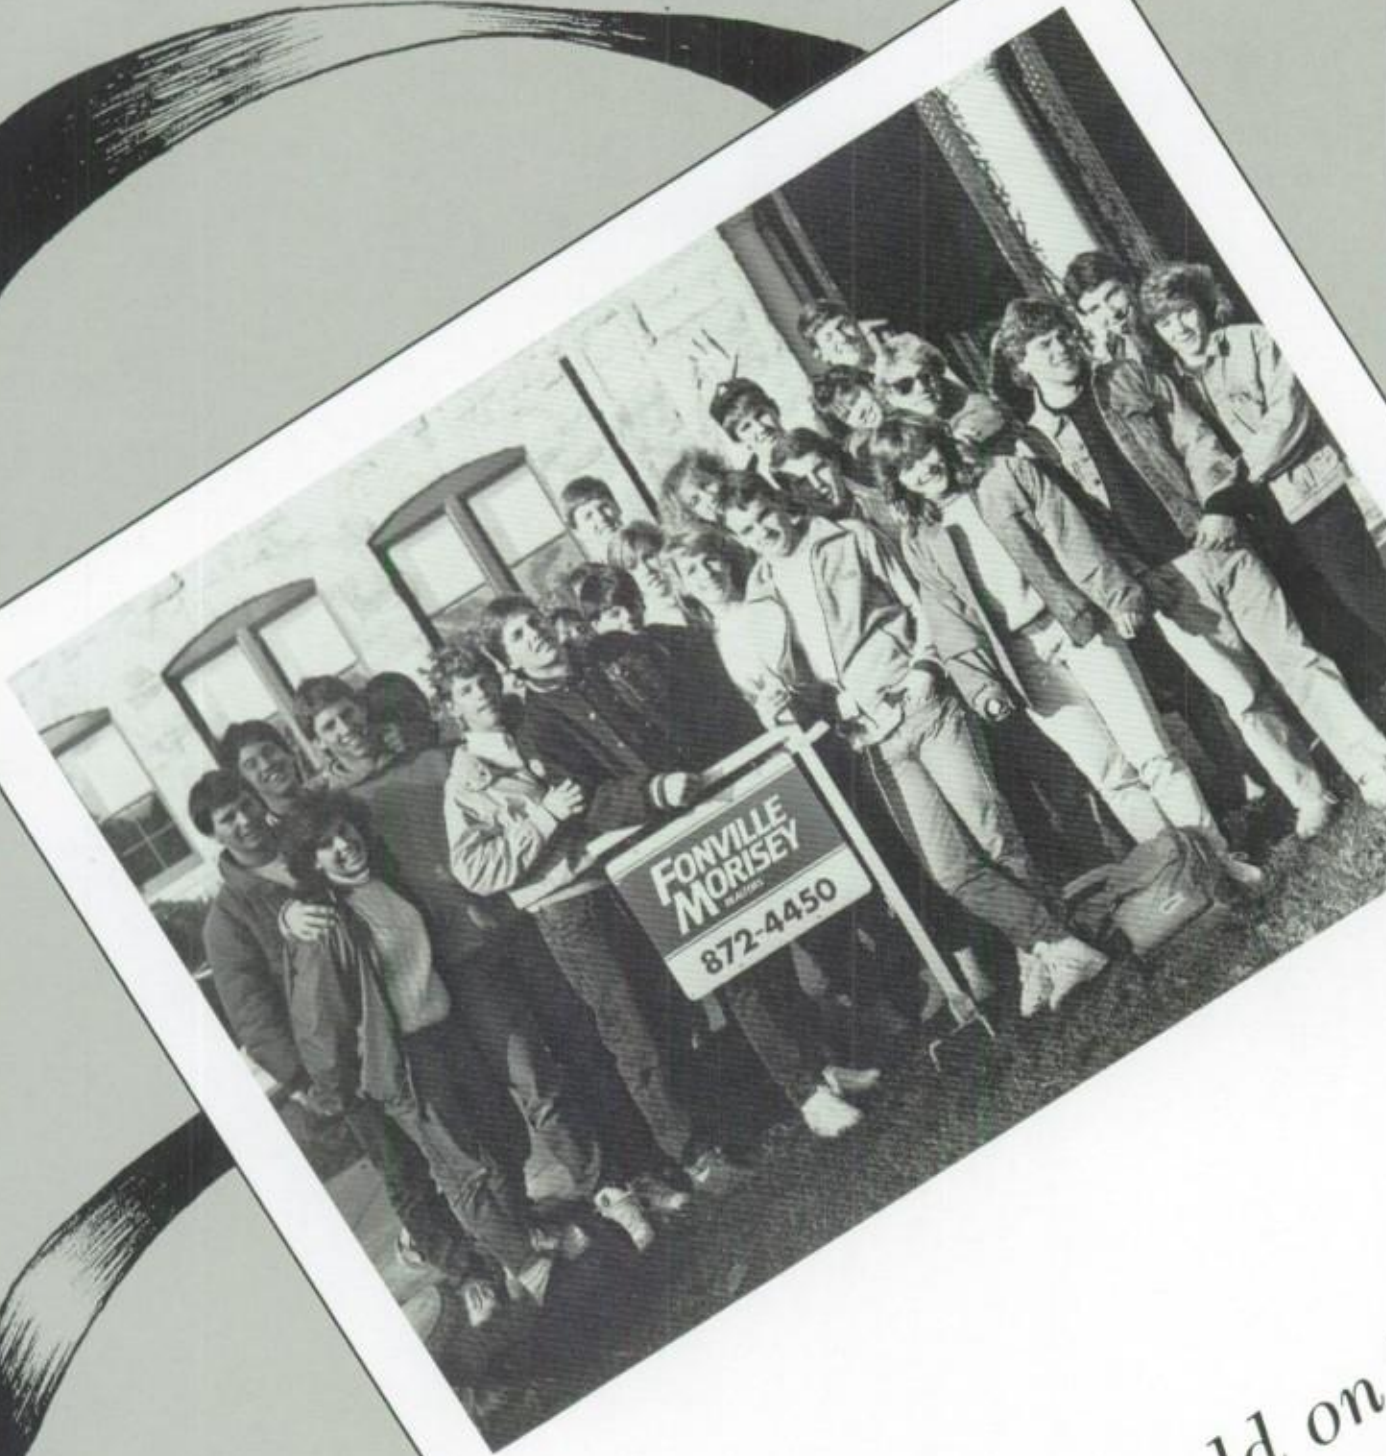

...ing being late to seventh period,
...wart Shirey, Jess Chappell, and Jon
...pman rush through their meal at Hec-
...in Crabtree Valley Mall.

COMMUNITY DRUG STORE

RICHARD WIMBERLY
600 S. Blunt St.
Raleigh, N.C. 27601

"I'm sold on Fonville Morisey!"

Leon's

The Best in Delicatessen Foods
Take Out - Eat In - Party Catering
Cameron Village
Across From The Subway
STEVEN A. ROWE
Proprietor
832-8015

WHAT'S THE BEST
BURGER IN RALEIGH?
And the survey said . . .

- Fat Daddy's
- Char-Grill
- McDonald's

CONNIE ZAYTOUN — CLASS OF '88

The End of a Legacy

Marie Zaytoun Howard — '69
Dr. Mary Paula Zaytoun Steele — '70
Joanne Zaytoun Penny — '71
Carol Lynn Zaytoun Foster — '73
Nancy Zaytoun — '74
Dr. Henry S. Zaytoun Jr. — '76
Michele Zaytoun — '79
Ellis Zaytoun — '80

Sponsored by Dr. Henry S. Zaytoun orthodontist

Negatives, Plates, etc.

VILLAGE GRAPHICS

515 ST. MARY'S STREET • (919) 833-7972
RALEIGH, NC 27605

A congenial atmosphere makes dining out fun for the whole family!
The Family Favorite from the High Chair Up

Balentines
CAFETERIA AND CONFEDERATE HOUSE
Cameron Village
Raleigh, N.C.

THE LAST WORD:

"I eat Chicken Tenders."

— Stephanie Wheeler

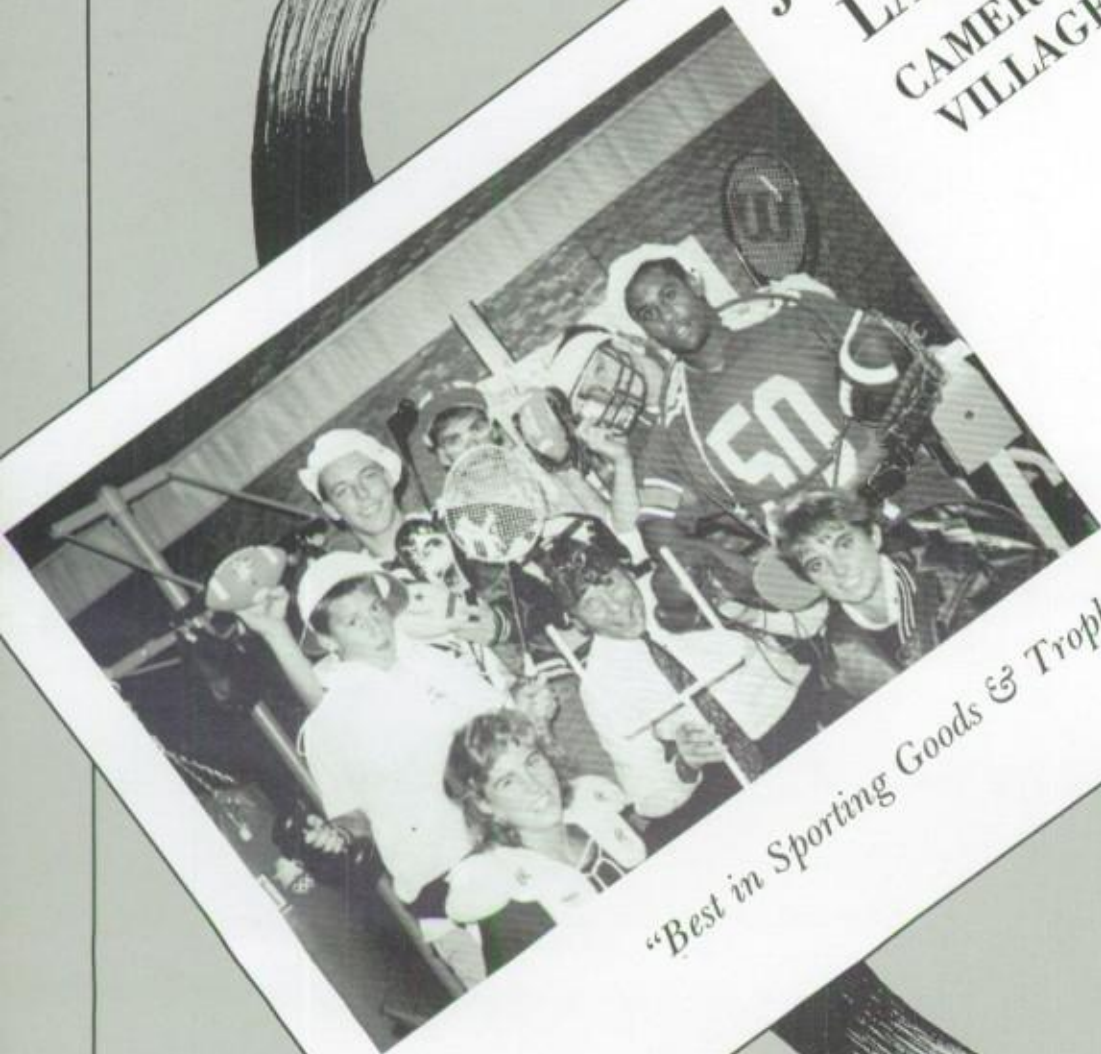

"My dad's — they're free!"

— Jennie Jones

ANSUN CORPORATION

"The place to go for all your real estate needs."

JOHNSON-LAMBE CAMERON VILLAGE

"Best in Sporting Goods & Trophies"

COMPLIMENTS OF

Wachovia Bank & Trust

DRY CLEANERS

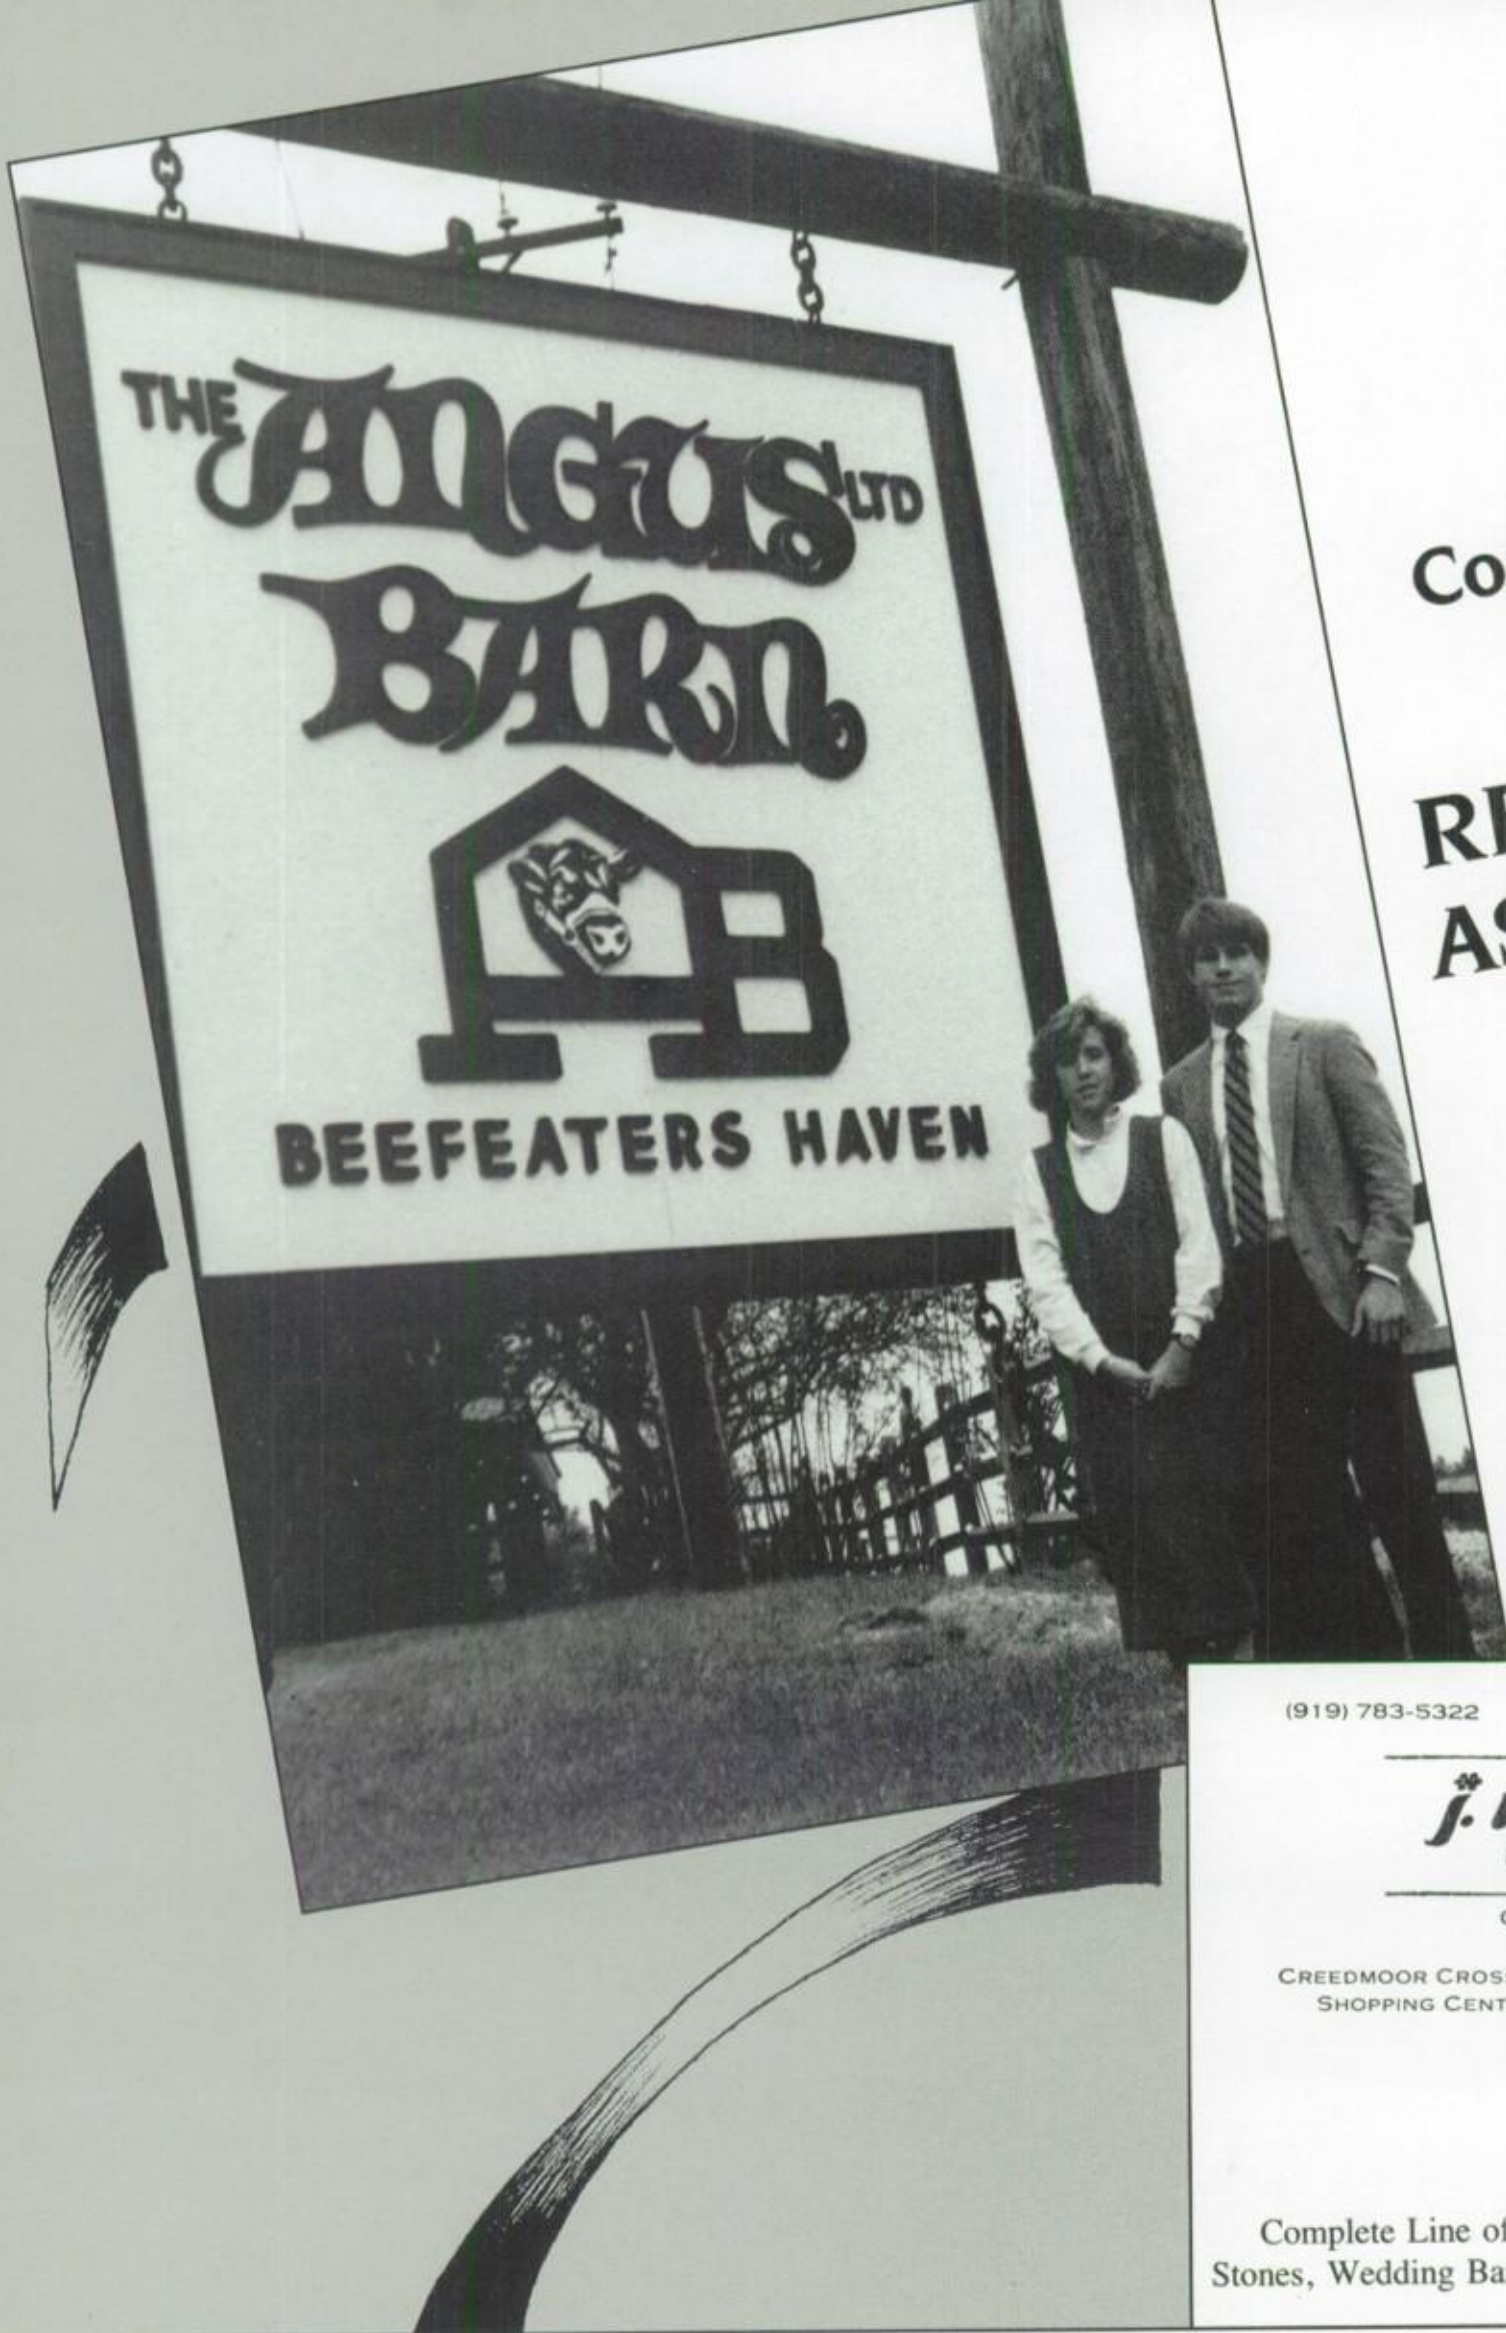

(919) 847-0444
8815 Six Forks Road
Raleigh, North Carolina 27609

(919) 787-3244
3075 Medlin Drive
Raleigh, North Carolina 27606

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE SENIOR LUNCH SPOT?

And the Seniors said:

- Pizza Hut
- Hamburger Hut
- Olde Time Hot Dogs

Compliments of N.C.
RESTAURANT ASSOCIATION

(919) 783-5322

JIM UNDERWOOD

j. underwood
FINE JEWELRY

CUSTOM DESIGN AND REPAIR

CREEDMOOR CROSSINGS
SHOPPING CENTER

5645 CREEDMOOR ROAD
RALEIGH, NC 27612

Complete Line of Loose & Mounted Diamonds, Colored Stones, Wedding Bands, 14k Jewelry, Cultured pearls, watch

WHO HAS THE BEST ICE CREAM IN RALEIGH?

And the survey said . . .

- Baskin Robbins
- Steve's
- Heart's Delight

2402 Hillsborough St.

Cuts, Perms, Friendly Service
Convenient location. Near McDonalds.

Walk-in/appointment.

Students Welcome

Phone number 821-4259

ENVIROTEK

Laney Builders, Inc.

Suite 200, The Oaks Of Fairview
2607 Oberlin Road
Raleigh, NC 27608
Phone (919) 782-7821

T.M.Q. — Beanwing, cat Freshmen year —
B.T., S.H., D.P. — 4 years. Unbelievable! Trips.
2 suitcases per day — P.P. Too many bruises — Party. Who took it? Lost a Quarter! — Test in Kral? What test? — Learn to drive, what?
During lunch? Funny! — US S.B. at M.B. — Graduation!!! The Best of Times.

L.A.F.

THE LAST WORD:

"Vanilla Ice Milk from Harris Teeter."

— Ken Johnson

"If it's ice cream I'll eat it!"

— Larissa Lewis

BROUGHTON GROUP 'AGIP' GOES ON 1986 INTERNATIONAL TOUR!

LONDON, PARIS, SWITZERLAND, ROME, VENICE, MUNICH

The band before their world premiere in Paris.

The Band

S. Gardner — agent
E. Byrum — road manager
K. Gardner — stage manager lead vocals

Will Hubbard
Michael Dickinson
Chris Whitaker

backstage crew

Michael Ward
Alex Keown
Tim Chew

back-up vocals

Julie Joyner
Robin Cuthrell
Lindsay Cox
Holly Byrum
Lori Lynn
Holli Dail
Beth Shimmel
Nicole Simmons
McClain Selden
Martha Cannon

Lead vocals in rehearsals.

Band with opening act, 'Matt' in London.

Rehearsals in Switzerland.

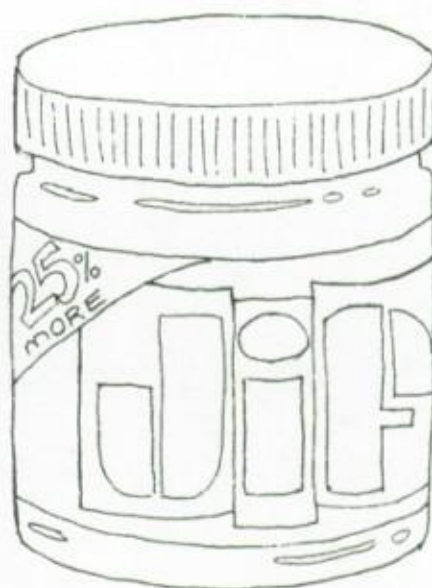

Getting busted!

Wellcome

a tradition in the production of quality pharmaceuticals.

Burroughs Wellcome Co.
Research Triangle Park, N.C. 27709

D & K & Step & Connie

REMEMBER JIFF?!

Love Me

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE RADIO STATION?

And the survey said . . .

- WRDU 106FM
- WKNC 88FM
- WZZU 94FM

1986-1987 HONORS AND AWARDS

NORTHWEST GUILFORD MARCHING INVITATIONAL — Greensboro, N.C.

Rating of "Superior"
2nd Place Band — Class A Best Rifles
Best Featured Twirler

LYNCHBURG CLASSIC — Lynchburg, Virginia

Rating of "Superior"
2nd Place Band — "Open" Class
Best Percussion

GARNER BAND DAY — Garner, N.C.

Rating of "Superior," 2nd Place Band — Class AAAA, 1st Place
Featured Twirler, 1st Place Flags, 2nd Place Rifles, Best
Over-All Color Guard.

WESTERN ALAMANCE BAND CONTEST/FESTIVAL — Elon College, N.C.

Rating of "Excellent"
1st Place Drum Major
1st Place Featured Twirler
2nd Place Percussion

CARY BAND DAY — Cary, N.C.

Rating of "Superior"
3rd Place Band — Field Show — Class AAAA
Best Drum Major — Class AAAA
Best Parade Band — Class AAAA
Grand Champion Parade — 1st out of 50 competing bands
Reserve Grand Champion — Field Show and Parade

WITH GRATEFUL APPRECIATION, WE RECOGNIZE THE FOLLOWING WHOSE ASSISTANCE AND COOPERATION MADE OUR PARTICIPATION IN THE 66TH FESTIVAL OF STATES A REALITY:

1987

NORTH CAROLINA REPRESENTATIVE
66th FESTIVAL OF STATES
ST. PETERSBURG, FLORIDA

AMERICAN AIRLINES
BAHLEN, INC. — AUSTIN FOODS
BARBOUR TRUCK RENTALS
BELK HUDSON LEGGETT COMPANY OF RALEIGH
BORDEN, INC.
BRINLEY'S GRADING SERVICE
CITY OF RALEIGH
CAPITAL SCREENPRINTING CAROLINA POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY
A.J. FLETCHER FOUNDATION
GOLDEN CORRAL CORPORATION
MR. AND MRS. STU HALE
KEEBLER COMPANY
KERR DRUGS
MR. AND MRS. RUSSELL H. LEE
McDONALD'S
NORTH CAROLINA ASSOCIATION OF BROADCASTERS
NORTH CAROLINA NATIONAL BANK
NORTH CAROLINA PEANUT GROWERS ASSOCIATION
NORTH CAROLINA TRAVEL AND TOURISM
OWENS-MINOR SURGICAL SUPPLY
PATTERSON GROUP
PEPSI COLA BOTTLING COMPANY
PINE STATE
RALEIGH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
RALEIGH OFFICE SUPPLY COMPANY
RED LOBSTER
RYDER TRUCK RENTALS
SIR WALTER RALEIGH CHEVROLET
SPARKS PRESS
SOUTHEASTERN SCREENPRINTING
SOUTHERN FINANCIAL SERVICES
UNITED STATE OLYMPIC FESTIVAL
— NORTH CAROLINA AMATEUR SPORTS
WACHOVIA BANK AND TRUST
WINN-DIXIE, INC.
RALEIGH FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN
H. & S. CITRUS INCORPORATED

D
B
A

DeLuise Brokerage Agency

John A. Deluise, Jr.
(919) 850-9622

P.O. Box 31471 • Crabtree Valley Mall •
Raleigh, NC 27622

Village Opticians
Two Locations

Bryan Bld. Suite 236
Raleigh NC 27605
(919) 828-2078
Mon-Fri 9:00-5:30

Bill Barbour

7455 Six Forks Rd
Raleigh, NC 27615
(919) 848-3585
Mon - Fri 9:00 - 8:00
Sat 10:00 - 2:00

WHAT'S THE FIRST THING YOU NOTICE ABOUT THE OPPOSITE SEX?

And the survey said . . .

— eyes
— body
— face

Best of Luck to the Class of '87 from the Senior Girls!

Congratulations

to the Class of 1987

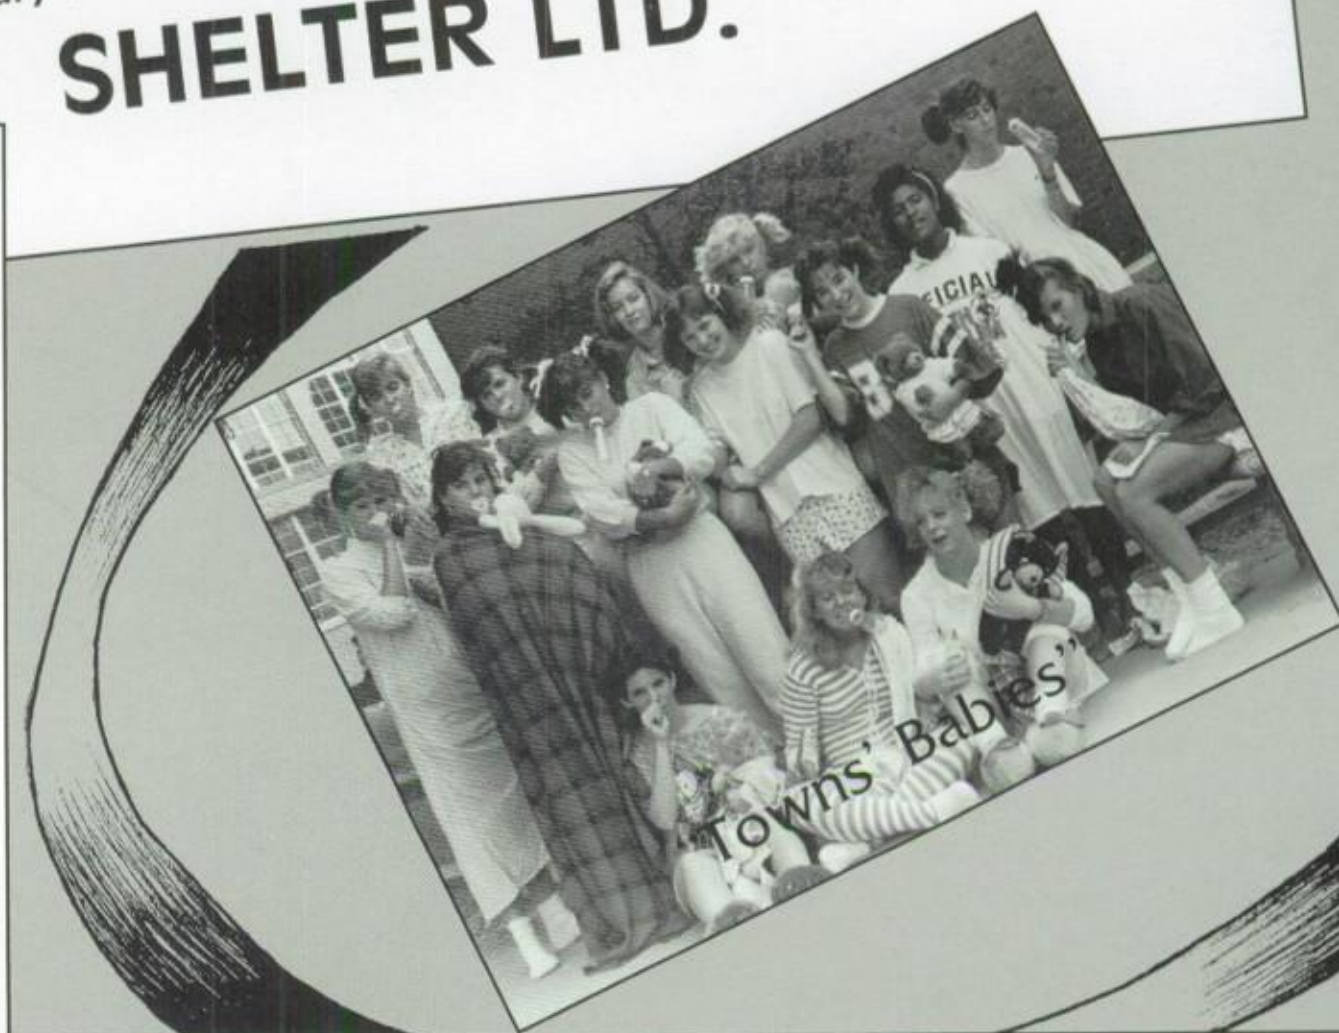

(especially to Mary Hampton Ferrell)

SHELTER LTD.

RACEY & SOUTHERLAND BUSINESS CONSULTANTS

- Meeting Facilitation
 - Human Resource Development
 - Interpersonal Communication
- 848-9665 848-8880
Raleigh, N.C.

OUT OF A

- Prom Queen
- Basket Case
- Criminal
- Jock
- Brain

Most Broughton students are either a

- Basket Case
- Jock
- Brain

THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT

ROYALETTES

School of Baton 4015 Spring Forest Rd.
Raleigh, N.C.
Debby Royal Lasater
Director
876-1341

Suzanne Jordan
"Majorette Queen of America — 1986"
"Shari Jordan
"Junior Miss Majorette — 1986"

THE LAST WORD:

"Existentialist."

J. Efta

"I do not feel that the categories describe me."

— Amy Biathrow

VIC FISHER INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.
1201 WAKE COUNTY OFFICE BLDG.
RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA 27602
833-1673

CONGRATULATES THE CLASS OF 1987

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE COMIC STRIP?

And the survey said . . .

- Bloom County
- Garfield
- The Far Side

We Start Where Other Salons Finish.

hair by nature's way

At hair by nature's way the health of your hair is all important. This is not always true at other salons and your hair may be in worse shape when they finish than when they began. But not at nature's way, we use the highest quality products, the latest treatments, and we guarantee that your hair will not only look better but be more healthy, start to finish.

BY APPOINTMENT ONLY

304-C West Millbrook Rd. Jefferson Square, Raleigh 848-9500
2524 Hillsborough St., Raleigh 833-9326

1401-F East Maynard Rd., Cary 469-3102

612 Glenwood Ave., Raleigh 834-1101

LOST CAUSE

Intramural Champs
Thanks Mr. Kral

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE CEREAL?

And the survey said . . .

- Froot Loops
- Captain Crunch
- Frosted Flakes

PHI CHI ETTES

"New Board of Directors takes over at H&M Diversified"

John D. McConnell, Jr.

H. & M. DIVERSIFIED INVESTMENTS, INC.
SUITE 100, THE OAKS OF FAIRVIEW
2600 FAIRVIEW ROAD
RALEIGH, N.C. 27608
TELEPHONE 919/781-4212

CRABTREE VALLEY DRY CLEANERS & LAUNDROMAT

EXPERT DRY CLEANING — ONE DAY SERVICE LADIES &
MENS ALTERATIONS, LEATHER & SUEDE DRAPPERY
CLEANING, WASH DRY FOLD SERVICE, SILKS

782-7935

CRABTREE VALLEY SHOPPING CENTER
OPEN 7 AM-10 PM MON.
THRU SAT., SUN. 1 PM-6 PM

4 SALE (maybe not)
1973 INTERNATIONAL—HARVESTER School Bus
N.C.P.S. WAKE COUNTY
Number 652.
Has Big Block V8 ENGINE.
W/ ONLY (1) 93,634 miles
GOOD RUNNING COND.
SEATS 67, H.S. ONLY 36
ANY REASONABLE OFFER
don't call me, I'll call you
J.S.

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE SOAP OPERA?

And the survey said . . .

- General Hospital
- One Life to Live
- All My Children

Shag Connection

Dance Lessons

Wes May Madeline May

832-5468

Phil Jones
Pam Jones

John R. Dickinson,
Jr., MAI, SRA

Dickinson Appraisal & Realty Co.
Specializing in Real Estate
Appraising and Financing

P.O. Box 18541
Raleigh, N.C. 27619

Phone: 782-5652

Leather House

Cameron Village Shopping Center
427 Woodburn Rd
Raleigh, NC 27605
Phone 834-6747

A. Tucker Renfrow
834-6746

...FLOWERS, BALLOONS, INTERIORS AND MUCH, MUCH MORE...

R A L E I G H Ophthalmology
& Surgical Eye ASSOCIATES

"Favorite"

"Eastern N.C."

North Hills Shoe & Luggage Repair

Keys Made — Men's New "FD" Shoes
367 North Hills Plaza
787-3542

THE LAST WORD:

— "One Life to Die." — Yolanda
Halsell

— "As My Stomach Turns." — Dayan Levi

Art Club

The Looking Glass

hair salon for that look of class . . .

Connie Adams
Karen Hobgood
Virgie Davis
Debbie Bass

*invite you to visit our new full service salon conveniently located at 5205 Oak Park Rd.
in the red barn — upstairs*

Call or come by for an appointment and take advantage of our specials.

MONDAY - SATURDAY

783-6665

Donald C. Jones
Landscape Architect

*P.O. Box 30453
Raleigh, N.C. 27622
(919) 781-2460*

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE CLOTHES STORE?

And the survey said . . .

- The Limited
- Belk
- Thalhimers

FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES

BILL HAIRE

HAIRE & ASSOCIATES FOOD BROKERS

919.848.6594

9028 O'Neal Rd.
Raleigh, N. C. 27612

James C. Hart, D.D.S., P.A. and Staff

Keep on Smiling

CONGRATULATIONS

CLASS OF '87

Classique Antiques

Phyllis and Gene Vail

CAROLINA ANTIQUE MALL, RALEIGH
WILLOW PARK MALL, DURHAM

WHAT'S THE BEST SPRING BREAK SPOT?

And the survey said . . .

- Atlantic Beach
- Myrtle Beach
- Wrightsville Beach

AIM HIGH

Spring Break '87

Robin, Amelia, De, Kim, Pam, Sarah

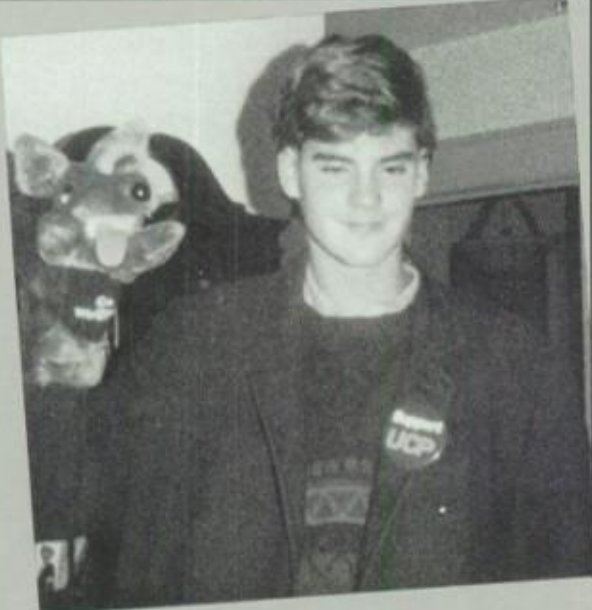

THE BOTTOM LINE

Jess Chappell, Paul Nelson, Matt Thomas, John Worsley, Kent Perry

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE SUMMER SPORT?

And the survey said . . .

- Volleyball
- Water skiing
- Surfing

PASS-OUT-PRIVILEGE OR PUNISHMENT? OH — THE CRIBAGE, SUGAR HI'S, MC CHILL, AND NO! I'M SAVING MYSELF FOR THE MARINES (A SMALL GROUP OF BIG MEN) BANNANNA BOOTS, HOW MANY DO I OWE YOU? AND LATER DAYS . . . APAPLEXIES, NO, NO, NO, NO, NO, TRINA'S (SUGAR COOKIES AND TRESA IN THE CLOSET), MISSY COLA (WOULD YOU STUDY FOR AN AP HISTORY EXAM?) BUTTER, BUTTER, BUTTER, AND STROKE. I'M TOO F — COOL FOR THIS (GENESIS), OH NO, THAT'S A COP, AND ALL THOSE EYES . . . YO YO YO YO . . . KICK AS —, EVERYTHING'S A THOUGHT IF YOU THINK ABOUT IT, AND WE'D STAY ANOTHER YEAR, BUT WE AIN'T GOT DA TIME.

WEEKENDS WERE MADE FOR . . . TACO SMELL (THEIR STRAWS ARE PACKED TOO TIGHT), B'M BLUE CAMARO, BUTFLEX, SMACK, TROLLEY STOP, MYRTLE BEACH, WOOL SOCKS, KRISPY KREME AND THE CCC, PEPI LOPEZ, A/C, RED GATORADE, LEMONS IN THE CATFOOD AND YES LEE, TODD CAN DRIVE HOME. A THOUSAND TASTES OF A MEXICAN SUNRISE, ICING ON MARY'S FINGERS, THE SEARCH FOR A NON-GRAY GLICK, AND CHANEL FOR MEN. HALLOWEEN AND THE FREDDY FINGERS, WARM FUZZIES — AND BY THE WAY, PARTY AT BILL'S HOUSE 2 YRS, 6 MOS CAN MAKE YOU SO DIFFUSED, AND MCGOBLINS ON THE FLAGPOLE — TRESA MISSED THAT BUT THEN AGAIN SHE FOUND THE KETCHUP ON THE TABLE AT FP BEFORE MISSY DID . . . A MINUTE AND A HALF FOR BEEF, PLACIDNESS, RAW MEAT AND EXTRA CHERRIES AT THE MELTING POT (AND DON'T FORGET THE WAITER . . . MISSY'LL POINT HIM OUT) 5 ON THE COUCH, BEARS ALL AROUND (LISA WILL DO ANYTHING FOR A BEAR) AND LET'S GO MESS UP TRESA'S ROOM. IS THIS DOMINO'S? CAN I GET 3 DRINKS? OKAY, A PIZZA TOO! FIRKYTOODLE, TRESA'S ROOM. IS THIS DOMINO'S? CAN I GET 3 DRINKS? OKAY, A PIZZA TOO! FIRKYTOODLE, TRESA'S ROOM. IS THIS DOMINO'S? CAN I GET 3 DRINKS? OKAY, A PIZZA TOO! FIRKYTOODLE, TRESA'S ROOM.

TRE! HOW DO YOU SAY GOODBYE? ALL THE SAT. NITES, ALL THE LATE NITE CALLS. I'LL ALWAYS BE THERE. LIFE? IT'S EITHER CHERRY RED OR MIDNIGHT BLUE. (LOU GRAMM) RED DEFINATELY. "THINGS CAN ONLY GET BETTER" (ELTON JOHN) THEY DID AND WILL. REMEMBER ALL THE GOOD TIMES, THE CARING, THE HELP, WE'LL NEVER BE APART. THAT'S IT! YOU DON'T SAY GOODBYE. TO THE ONLY REAL BLOND I KNOW DINGY, YOU AND YOUR INTERESTING COMMENTS IN ANATOMY YOU? A PRINCESS? W/VCR MOVIES AND "I'M PUTTING MORE THAN IT CALLS FOR" NOT TO MENTION "I SAW A REAL LIVE . . . " "LIFE IN THE FAST LANE." WE TRIED! OFF TO FIND FUN AND MAYBE AN EDUCATION? "PLAY US A SONG YOU'RE THE PIANO MAN, YOU'VE GOT US FEELIN' ALRIGHT" (BJ) SOON LI YOUR "RENAISSANCE EYES" (DON DIXON) WILL SEE ME AGAIN. TO THE ONE GUY WHO HELPED ME MAKE IT THROUGH, YOU AND YOUR WOOL SOCKS, PYROMA-

NIA AT THE MELTING POT, AND, YES YOU CAN EMBARRASS ME!! MUD WRESTLING AT SHELLY LAKE — SO MANY MISSED CHANCES — "I AM SUPER-MAN" . . . (REM) . . . I WISH . . . I ONLY TOOK 8 AND I'M "COMFORTABLY NUMB" (PINK FLOYD) I STILL SLEEP W/ DARBY (MY BEAR) AND I'LL "NEVER SAY GOODBYE" (BON JOVI) TO FREDDY FINGERS AND YO, WHITE RAP AND 7 1/2" — STRANGE SHADOWS ON THE TENT AND YO BE AILIN — THANKS FOR EVERYTHING . . . AND JP . . . THANKS FOR THE HUG WHEN I NEEDED IT. TO ALL MY FELLAS — SNM AND BUTFLEX, WHAT A GROUP! YOU'LL ALWAYS BE IN MY MEMORIES, ALWAYS. SA-FRIENDS, TRACE! THUMPER AND RED SHIRTS. GAD-LUTE THE AIR FORCE. SO MANY MEMORIES. GOOD-BYES ARE IMPOSSIBLE. STEPH, I ALWAYS WANTED TO BE TOUGH LIKE YOU. ONE DAY WE'LL BE PROFF. DRUMMERS TOGETHER . . . TO-GETHER . . . TO MY BLAZER MAN — SPARKS FLY FROM HIS FINGERTIPS (EAGLES) I MISSED YOUR CALLS AND YOUR SMILE. LETTERS DON'T STOP AND NEITHER DO FRIENDSHIPS . . . LATIPAC BUDDIES, YOU ENDED MY DAY W/A SMILE . . . THANKS BYE.

YUM, THAT DESCRIBES IT. Scribes everything I ever FOR THIS SCHOOL, THE PEOPLE I AND MORE. DESPITE WHAT WE S I KNEW THAT WE CARED, AND THAT WHAT GOT ME THROUGH IT. THINGS CHANGED SO FAST. I NE MEANT TO LEAVE ANYONE BEH AND IF I HAVE, I'M TRULY SO. STEPH, I GUESS MAYBE IT'S BE THIS WAY. I'M SORRY I COULDN THERE AS MUCH AS YOU NEEDED M TRACY, I HOPE I'VE DONE SOMETHAT WILL MAKE YOU SMILE WHEN LETTING ME BE RAUNCHY, FOR BEING THERE. BRI, YOUR EYES STILL GORGEOUS, AND THANKS FOR TAKING CARE OF ME. LI — WE WASN'T ALL THAT EASY, BUT WE MADE IT THROUGH. CLOSER T EVER. TROUBLED PHONE CALLS AND CHEER-ME-UP DINNERS, FI THAT SPOKE OF HONESTY AND CARING, AND THOSE OCCASIONAL SPOKEN WORDS THAT TOLD ME EVERYTHING I NEEDED TO HEAR. GLE AND 4 A.M. TRIPS TO FAST FARE. (POWDERED DONUTS AND A GI NEHI — RENNAISSANCE EYES THAT YOU ARE, AND WE'LL ALWAYS THE HIGH LIFE, TOGETHER. BYE DINGY, BUT JUST FOR NOW. CRUNCH MAN — (2 A.M. CHICKEN CHUNKS, BAKED POTATOES, ICE CREAM) WO DON'T KNOW WHERE OR HOW TO BEGIN. FLORIDA, THANKSGIV CHAPEL HILL, VICTIM OF LOVE, WISH ME A DREAM, AND TEENAGE WA LAND. BON JOVI, 4 A.M. PHONE CALLS, BARF-BAG LETTERS AND THE MATE GOOBER (R.S.) AND THE GOLDFISH. CAROLINA WINDS — AND A WON'T BE EITHER. MY STOLEN BLANKET THAT MAKES ME FUZZY-COZY, A SEARCHES, SHARED JOURNALS AND POEMS (HOMECOMING & WHAT KI — I NEED A WORD — AND I DO. A VERY SPECIAL ONE, JUST FOR YOU, F YUM. TO THE WOOL SOCKED MEN IN THE JACUZZI, WHAT A BLAST! J THANKS FOR THE TALK ON THE BEACH — IF YOU REMEMBER IT, AND FLYING HOME FROM W'VILLE & MANY ETC.'S. A SPECIAL THANK YOU T WIPERS WHEN IT RAINED & LOVE WHEN I WAS COLD, WIND SH YOU. HEY MR. BUTTER MAN — 7 1/2" IS A LOT FOR ONE MAN, DON'T SH IN ONE PLACE. FINALLY TO THE GUY IN MY CHARACTER SKETCH, THERE'S MUCH LEFT TO SAY, I JUST WANT TO STARE AT YOU UNTIL YOU KNOW HOW I I LOVE YOU. AND EVERYONE — WALK LIKE AN EGYPTIAN & NEVER SAY GOO — ME. LATIPACKERS THANKS. P.S. MARITAL STATUS?

WHAT? OH MY GOD! OUR SENIOR YEAR. (YES, THAT INCREDIBLE ABILITY TO DISTINGUISH THE OBVIOUS.) I WONDER IF I'LL REMEMBER THIS AS JUST ANOTHER YEAR. NEVER. I'VE SEEN TOO MANY PEOPLE BECOME TOO MANY THINGS TO CONSIDER IT ORDINARY. I KNOW I MISSED OUT ON SOME THINGS, BUT I ALWAYS DID WHAT I THOUGHT I HAD TO. I HOPE I DIDN'T LOOSE TOO MANY MEMORIES. WHAT TO SAY? — FOR ANY ONE WHO KNOWS ME, JUST LISTEN TO MY CHRISTMAS TAPE (THANX PRU. YEAH, I KNOW, NO CHARGE) AND YOU'LL HEAR EVERYTHING I'VE EVER WANTED TO TELL YOU . . . FOR THE CUTE LITTLE BLOND: I WISH I HAD SOMETHING TO SAY, BUT IT'S ALL WRAPPED UP INSIDE, YOU'RE NOT BEING LEFT BEHIND — WE'RE ALL JUST MOVING ON, BUT NOT AWAY. SCREAM A LITTLE, AND REMEMBER A VERY PRETTY CARPET . . . SWEETIE — I LOVE GRADUATING WITH YOU. THANK FOR NOT LEAVING ME BEHIND . . . BILL . . . I HAVE YET TO FIND THE WORDS . . . FOR BRIAN'S EYE'S AND TEASING, PHIL'S DISCUSSIONS AND SCOTT BEING SCOTT — I APPRECIATE THEM ALL AND I LOVE YOU . . . OF MORGANTON? NO, RALEIGH! TO ANSWER YOUR QUESTION, TRE, YOU'RE NOT WEIRD, JUST ADORABLE. THANK FOR LETTING ME BE ANGRY. CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES, COLLEGE LISTS, MUNCH RUNS. START THINKING ABOUT YOURSELF, BUT DON'T FORGET ME — I NEED YOU TO MAKE ME REALIZE WHAT I ALREADY KNOW "THESE ARE THE DAYS TO HOLD ON TO." PLEASE DON'T HIDE IN A CLOSET, AND ENJOY BEING FUZZY UNTIL THE HAZE CLEARS . . . HOW DO YOU PUT INTO WORDS AN ENTIRE YEAR OF MEMORIES? NOT WITH TEARS BUT WITH A HEAVY SIGH AND A FAINT SMILE. FROM BTBB TO THE TTJA — HERE'S TO THE CAPITAL CITY CLUB. BRAD STILL OWES ME 2 KRISPY KREMES AND TRESA, DRINKS, POPCORN, AND A MOVIE TICKET. NEVER MIND, KEEP THEM AND REMEMBER ME . . . BY THE WAY, RENNAISSANCE EYES, I DO KNOW YOU . . .

Jeremy and Josh

It doesn't matter — we're seniors!!

FALLON'S FLORIST

700 St. Mary's Street
828-3134

Homecoming, Queen of Hearts, Prom, Dances

Askew-Taylor Paint Store Inc.
110 Glenwood Avenue
Raleigh, N.C. 27603

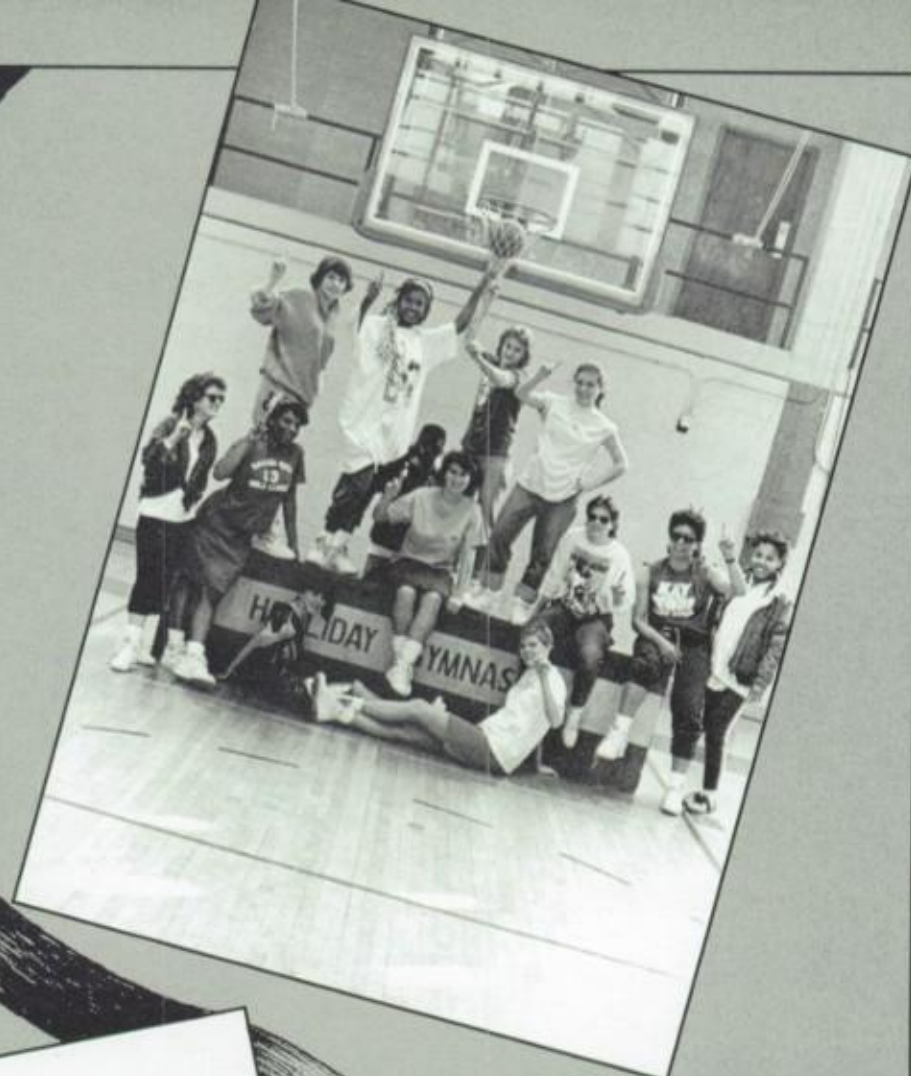

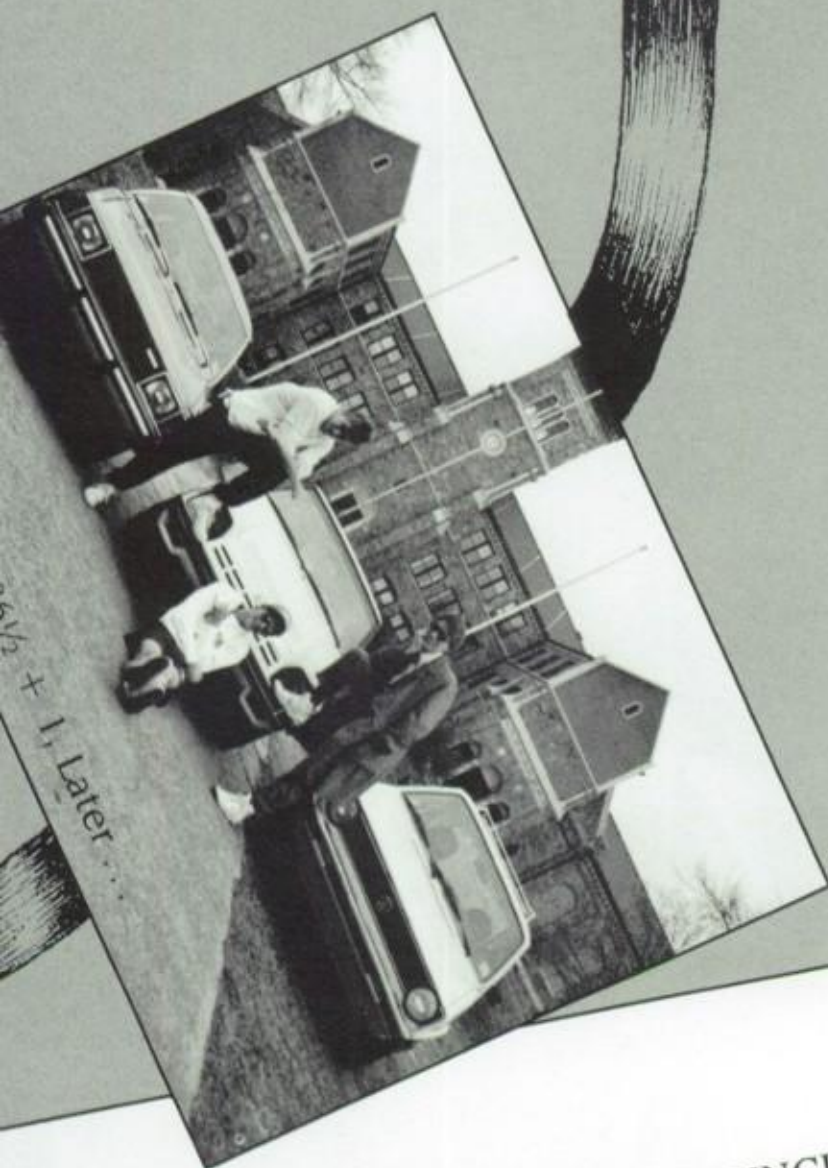

WHO IS YOUR FAVORITE ACTRESS?

And the survey said . . .

- Kelly LeBrock
- Cybill Shepard
- Nancy McKeon

The Franchise

DEDICATED TO THE:
CLASS OF '87, SENIOR CLASS COUNCIL, EXECUTIVE CABINET, LATIPAC STAFF, HI-TIMES STAFF, CROSS COUNTRY TEAM, SWIM TEAM, DIVING TEAM, ELECTIONS COMMITTEE, AND ANYONE ELSE AT BROUGHTON WHO ORDERED A T-SHIRT FROM

CAROLINA PROMOTIONAL PRODUCTS

Allin Foulkrod
(919) 782-8432

FRANCES T. KING, STATIONERY

FTK

Understated Elegance
Enjoy personal attention while selecting gifts, invitations, announcements, gift enclosures, personal and business stationery, business cards, paper-by-the-pound, napkins, and personalized printing services.

787-8701
North Hills Mall

WHO IS YOUR FAVORITE SINGER?

And the survey said . . .

- Bruce Springsteen
- Ozzy Osborne
- Janet Jackson

Varsity Baseball 1987

Thanks to:

V.I.P. Formal Wear

and

Sportsworld — Wendell, N.C.

DRIVE ON

JON "CRIP" CHAPMAN, JESS "JOE ALL-AMERICAN KID" CHAPPELL, JOHN "SLACK" LACK, RANDY "OPTION" LEWIS, STEVE "STU-STUDIO" SHIRE, ANDY "COOL ROCK" WHITE

OLE TIME HOT DOGS

2706 Hillsborough Street
834-9398

WHO IS YOUR FAVORITE ACTOR?

And the survey said . . .

- Bill Cosby
- Tom Cruise
- Bruce Willis

AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL FURNITURE

8109 GLENWOOD AVENUE, RALEIGH
787-7329

"Widest selection of finished and unfinished furniture in the triangle.
Choose the furniture finish you like best."

HAMBURGER HUT
829 W. Morgan Street
755-9538

IT DOESN'T MATTER W
DON'T GO T
BROUGHTON ANYMORE

THIS IS JOLIE AND TANJI'S AD.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE AFTER-SCHOOL SNACK?

And the survey said . . .

- Anything that resembles food
- Doritos
- Everything

Thanks For All The Great Times!

*The best friends anyone could ever have.
Thanks & Love, Jennie*

To our foreign friends, Best Wishes & we'll miss you!

Suzy

Shahii

ELECTIONS COMMITTEE 1986-87

Chairman: Lloyd Clark

Advisors: Mrs. Lynne Misenheimer
Mrs. Nan Hudson

Period Captains: Nicole Simmons
Jonathan Lotz
Kristy Dunn

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 1987

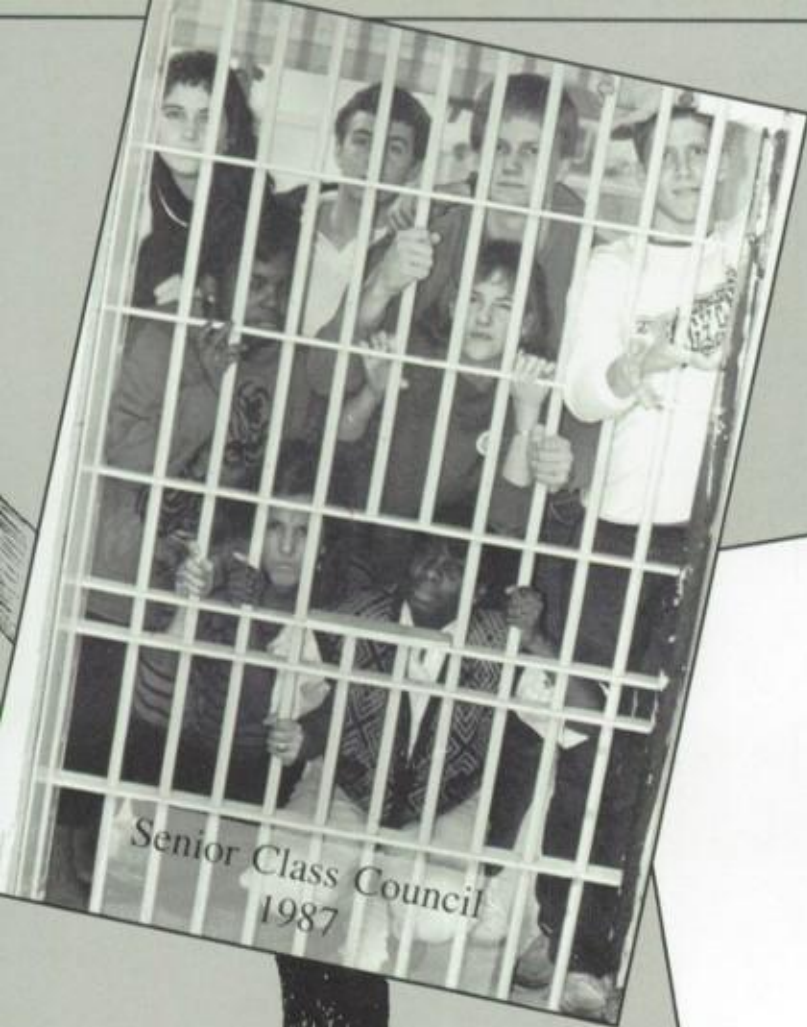

The Fellas

AKA: RATZ

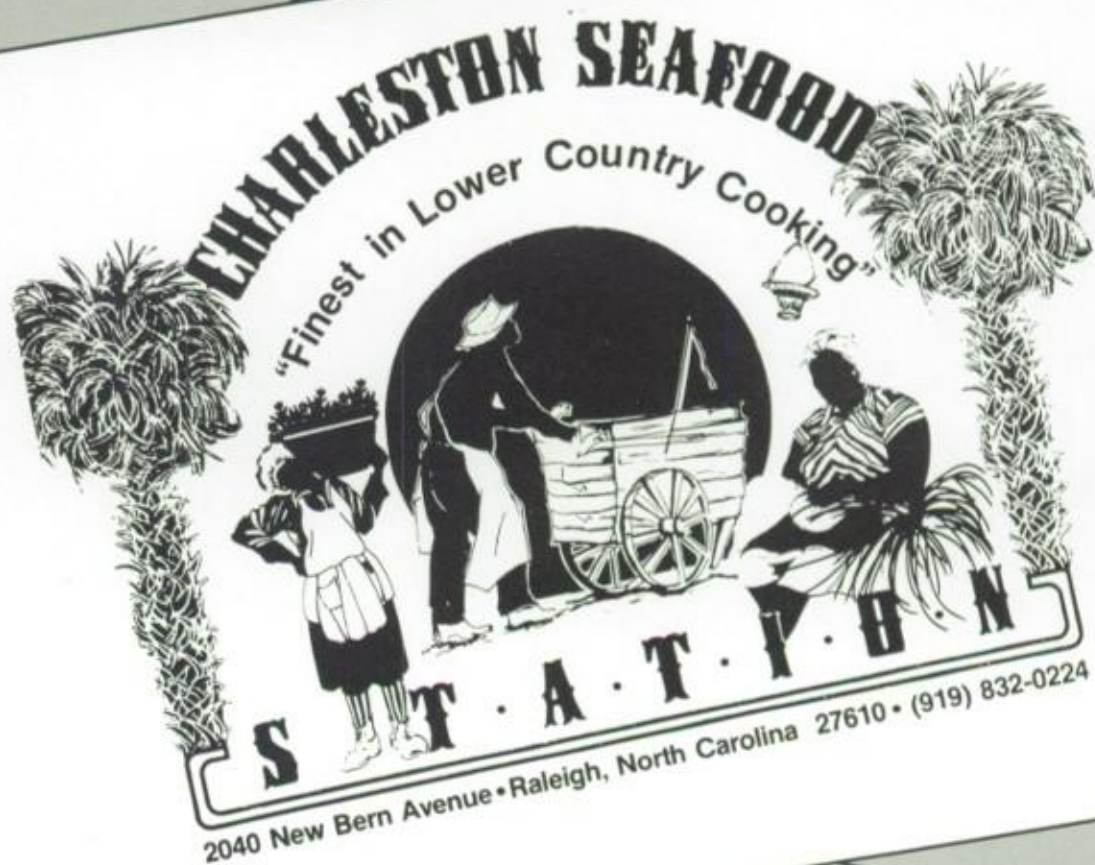

Morons from Outer Space (American; 1987) R-13; Strong Language, violence, partial stupidity, comic dimwits, confound earthlings w/ their incompetence: Brad Baron, Brian Philpot, Dennis Carey, Scott Philbrook, Lee Highsmith, Patrick McKinley, Thomas Nichols, Willie Selby, Steve Jones, Phil Laymon. occupied: Buddy Deal, Ronnie King, Michael Kornegay, David DeBoskey. Weekdays 2:35 SNM

Senior Class Council 1987

Allin and Tim

The Twelve Year Experience
Class of 1987

To Be Continued . . .
INCORPORATED

UNIQUE ACCESSORIES AND ORIGINAL DESIGNS TO ACCENT YOU!

CRABTREE VALLEY MALL
Lower Concourse

HIGHWAY 70
RALEIGH, NC

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE SINGING GROUP?

And the survey said . . .

- U2
- Run-DMC
- Eagles

Wilson-Ramseur Inc.

ROBERT J. RAMSEUR

Insurance Bonds

146 WIND CHIME COURT
RALEIGH, NC 27609-2950
(919) 847-9521

Compliments of
Mr. and Mrs. Don Bender

Thanks to:

Babb Photography for pictures
Michael Kornegay for pictures Teachers
Allin Foulkrod for shirts
Assorted moms and dads for putting up with u and not breathing a word to anyone about all th classes we missed.
Fast Fare for being open 24 hours
Burger King for their bathrooms
Chris Seward of The Raleigh Times
And a SPECIAL thanks to Miss C and Dr. Richard Jewell for all your support peace.

Blue Fire Green Peace

it's just too simple

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE SONG?

And the survey said . . .

- Girl, You Really Got Me
- Stairway to Heaven
- Louie, Louie

THIS IS NO PLACE FOR A CLASS REUNION

SCIENCE CLUB

Design your own ad

Write here

Place picture here

Place picture here

"Soccer Buddies Forever"

WHAT IS THE BEST COLLEGE CAMPUS TO SEE
MEMBERS OF THE OPPOSITE SEX?

And the survey said . . .

- UNC
- State
- UNC-W

LATIPAC Seniors — On the Road Again

Becky Carter
 Andy Brown
 Tom Laney
 Mark Brenner
 Leigh Ferris
 Linda Fisher

Jakie Phillips
 Lisa Campbell
 Randy Lewis
 Tresa Elguera
 Jon Chapman
 Marci Bernstein

Missy Stoutt
 Larissa Lewis
 Jennie Jones
 Andy White not pictured:
 Wendy May

Thanks for everything you do.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE WINTER SPORT?

And the survey said . . .

- Snow skiing
- Basketball
- Football

The LATIPAC staff wishes to express its condolences to the friends and families of those who passed on this year.

The Juggling Club.
The Animation Club.
Mr. Teel — MIG (Missing in Garner)
Fred the rabbit.
The first Roo.
President Ronald Reagan's credibility.
The clock in the clock tower is still dead.
Senior exam policies.
Senior privileges.
The front lawn.
Liberace. No cheap jokes, please.
Personal freedom in N.C..
A bunch of chickens.
An incredible three-year LATIPAC tradition.

his space provided for you compliments of the LATIPAC staff

Our Thanks To

Our Patrons

Dr. and Mrs. George Auman
William and Priscilla Bernstein
John W. Blackwell
William and Brenda Boatwright
Mr. and Mrs. Dan C. Boney Jr.
Mr. and Mrs. David C. Brenner
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Campbell
Mr. and Mrs. William L. Carter
Charles A. Chapman
Mr. and Mrs. Gregory B. Crampton
Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Curtis
Jennifer Downey
Judge and Mrs. Robert Farmer
Ms. Louise and Linda Fisher
Allin Foulkrod
Mr. and Mrs. Duff G. Freeman
Ms. C.M. Happer
James C. Hart, D.D.S., P.A. and staff
Mr. and Mrs. J. Barlow Herget
Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Jones
Don and Jerri Jones
Lara Jones
Al, Pat, Suzanne, Shari and Derek
Jordan
Mr. and Mrs. L. Kemp and Leigh
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Daniel Kierman Jr.
The Karl Lacks
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Langley, Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. Danny Lotz
Roger and Louise Lewis
Louis and Jan Martin
Mr. and Mrs. Wendell McKenzie
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. McNairy
Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Morrow
Mr. and Mrs. Mike Payne
Buz and Bettie Phillips
Diane Racey
Dr. and Mrs. Benton Satterfield
Kathy Sauls
Robert and Ann Sealey
Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Selden
John and Frances Shutt
Ken and Linda Smith
Mr. and Mrs. L. Crawford Steele
Judy and Ken Tardiff
Mr. and Mrs. Ben Taylor
The Telfairs
Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Tyner
Durant and Cornelia Vick
Rebecca C. White
Susan and Boll White
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. White
Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wilkes and Trina
Greg Prygrocki and Alison Wishart
Tom and Sherry Worth
Dr. and Mrs. Henry S. Zaytoun

Who,

What,

Where?

Abbey, Travis
 Acton, Allan 230
 Adams, Anthony 230
 Adams, Becky 230
 Adams, Felicia
 Adams, George
 Adams, Karen 253
 Adams, Krista 216
 Adams, Marty 230
 Adams, Rebekah
 Adams, Robert
 Adkins, Rhonda 230
 Agnolotto, Roberto 216
 AKA Debs, 222
 Akers, Kenneth 163
 Akers, Wesley 216
 Aldridge, William 163, 216
 Allen, Barbara Jo
 Allen, Calvin
 Allen, Carrie 230
 Allen, Jeff 14
 Allen, John 230
 Allen, Ryan 230
 Allen, William 137, 163
 Allred, David F. 137, 144, 163
 Allred, David S. 32, 127,
 137, 230
 Allred, Karen
 Alo, Thomas 126, 216
 Alston, Darrell 216
 Alston, Perry
 Ames, Jeremy 230
 Anderson, Ann 230
 Anderson, Doug 163
 Anderson, Linda
 Anderson, Mike 108
 Anderson, Philip 27, 216
 Anderson, Raye
 Anderson, Scott 163, 216
 Anderson, Walter
 Andrade, Izmar 133, 163
 Andrews, Jon 148
 Andrews, Lisa 149
 Andrews, Marilyn 38, 140,
 162, 163
 Andrews, Mary

Andrews, Wes 230
 Angeli, Claudia 230
 Angeli, Monica
 Angley, Shane 27, 163
 Anouilh, Melanie 108, 216
 Anouilh, Stephanie 108
 Archibald, Nadine
 Archible, Darick 230
 Architectural Design 213
 Arginsky, Stacey 216
 Arrington, Coucynthia
 Arrington, Jimmie 230
 Art Club 106, 107
 Ashe, Arlisa
 Atkinson, Christopher Atkinson, Sheila
 Attayek, Brian 230
 Auman, Daniel 131
 Avera, Hugh 14, 38, 163,
 Avery, Warren 144
 Avramidis, George 216
 Awards 32, 33
 Axtell, Robert 108, 109, 163
 Ayers, Sharan 250
 Ayoub, Nader 163, 216
 Ayoub, Shahinaz 163

Badgett, Ronnie
 Baffi, Michael 230
 Bahl, Judy
 Bailey, Ce Ce 39, 86, 163, 166
 Bailey, Corwin
 Bailey, Frances 36, 230
 Bailey, Thensia 230
 Bailey, Junior 18, 23, 27,
 64, 163
 Baines, Stephanie 34
 Baithrow, Amy 230
 Baker, Kelly 230
 Barker, Abdul 216
 Barker, Benjamin
 Barker, Christopher Barker, Kelly
 Balentine, Cindy 15, 140,

141, 149, 163
 Ballentine, Steven 163
 Ballinger, James 163, 201
 Banker, Maureen 106
 Banks, Anthony
 Banks, Christopher 230
 Barbour, Schyular
 Barefoot, Angela 163
 Barefoot, Melissa
 Barefoot, Rich 164
 Barker, Judy, 250
 Barkley, Ian
 Barkley, Patrick 230
 Barksdale, Erin 180
 Barksdale, Kristy 32, 34,
 106, 164, 180
 Barndt, Geoffrey 198, 230
 Barnes, Bonnie
 Barnes, Jack 230
 Barnes, James
 Barnes, Tracy 230
 Barnett, Elizabeth 216
 Barnett, Henry
 Baron, Andrea Barron, Bradford
 Bartholomew, Brett 164
 Bartley, Kevin 216
 Barton, Cynthia 164, 215
 Barton, Jeanne 108, 230
 Baseball, Junior Varsity 148
 Baseball, Varsity 146
 Basketball, Boys' Junior Varsity 148
 Basketball, Boys' Varsity
 144 Basketball, Girls' Junior Varsity 142
 Basketball, Girls' Varsity 140
 Bass, Anthony
 Bass, Tammie 216
 Bassett, Andrea 230
 Batchelder, Bret 23, 32, 38,
 164, 201
 Batchelder, Dana 36, 216
 Battle, Elizabeth 107
 Battle, James

Batts, Donald Ray
 Batts, Christy 164
 Baughan, Heather Ann
 Baumgart, Hannskillian
 Bazemore, Daphne 230
 Beamon, Albert
 Beard, Darrius
 Beard, Dawn 230
 Beasley, Brian
 Beasley, Jennifer 230
 Beasley, Karen 216
 Beaty, William 164
 Beck, Brian 164
 Becker, Kathleen 247, 253
 Beck, Lee James 14, 164
 Becoat, Christopher 216
 Beezley, Mark 127, 164
 Bell, Allison 216
 Bell, Caroline
 Bell, Catherine 23, 164
 Bell, Charles 28, 164
 Bell, Katherine 164
 Bellflower, Michael 216
 Bencke, Kristina 230
 Bender, Christopher 144
 Bennett, Cliff 230
 Benoit, Melissa 216
 Benson, Bill 284
 Benton, Thomas 230
 Berenson, Heidi 136, 164
 Berenson, James 108, 134, 216
 Berger, Christine Bernhard, Barbara 180
 Bernhard, Christian 180, 230 Bernhard, Harold Bernstein, Beth 216
 Bernstein, Marci 118, 164, 201, 221
 Berry, Lorenzo 34
 Bianchi, Lisa 164
 Bianchi, Michael 216
 Biathrow, Amy
 Bickley, Martha 230
 Bill, Mr. 230
 Bird, Juliana 230

Bird, Thomas 230
 Bishop, Amy 80, 164
 Bishop, Erin 230
 Black, Alan 164
 Black, Christopher Black, Esley 164
 Black, Mark 216
 Blackman, Karen
 Blackwell, David
 Blalock, Catherine 136, 216
 Bland, Eric 230
 Bland, Otis 230
 Blanton, Krista 230
 Blanton, Tamara 230
 Blue, Tamiko
 Boatwright, Christina
 Bobbit, Douglas Bobitt, Tony Bock, Hunter
 Bodenhagen, Mark 230
 Bogart, Jason 216
 Boggs, Shelley
 Boggs, Stacie
 Bolch, Jonathan 32
 Boles, Micheal 26, 27, 216
 Bolton, Richard 230
 Bonaparte, Wilbert
 Bond, Arlinda
 Boney, Katherine 180
 Bonito, Victor 231
 Bono, Barbara 180
 Bono, John 216
 Boone, Jennifer 33, 36, 216
 Boone, John Bors, Paula Botjer, Peter 216
 Bowen, Charlyne
 Boxley, Emily 216
 Boyd, Claire 136
 Boyd, Mark 164
 Boyd, Stephen 108
 Boyette, Virginia 231
 Boykin, Gregory 164
 Boykin, Jimmy 10, 164
 Boykin, Kathryn
 Bradsher, Eric 164
 Bragg, Wayne 216
 Brailsford, Jamie
 Brain, Scott 231
 Brantley, Larry Brantley, Robert Brantley, Vicki
 Braxton, Jimmy
 Bray, Marshall 164
 Breed, Sabrina 216
 Brennan, Samantha 231
 Brenner, Mark 18, 32, 34, 118, 164, 201
 Brenner, Susan 231
 Brewer, Curt 164, 197
 Brewer, Sam
 Brewington, James 164

Brewington, Tanika 216
 Brian, Scott
 Brian, Steven Brickhouse, Amy 106, 164
 Bridger, Margaret 37, 133, 132, 216
 Bridger, Robert 216
 Bridger, Sloan 216
 Briggs, Lisa
 Briggs, Margaret 35, 231
 Brinley, Thomas 108, 180, 231
 Briscoe, Derrick
 Britt, Lynn 164
 Brock, Christopher Brodie, Kevin 216
 Brooker, Lora 133
 Brooks, Darlene
 Brooks, Shannon 65
 Brooks, Thomas
 Broughton, Mary 164
 Brouillard, Keith 231
 Brown, Andy 39, 118, 167
 Brown, Darla 167
 Brown, Diana Brown, Edward Brown, Ginger 231
 Brown, Gregory
 Brown, Jacquelyn 231
 Brown, Kimberly 45, 216
 Brown, Lisa 134, 225
 Brown, Lucy
 Brown, Mary 30, 107
 Brown, Matthew 86
 Brown, Melissa 216
 Brown, Michelle
 Brown, Robert 107, 216
 Brown, Shannon 64, 210, 231
 Brown, Susan 231
 Brown, Tiffany 216
 Brown, Virginia
 Brown, Wallace
 Brownie, Andrew
 Brownce, Mark 232
 Brueggeman, Steven 216
 Bruner, Christopher 216
 Brunson, Annette 232
 Bryan, Laura 232
 Bryant, Jackie
 Bryant, Sheryl 232
 Bryant, Steven 137
 Bryant, Theresa
 Bryant, Timothy 216
 Buch, Anita 232
 Buchanan, Timothy
 Buchanan, William 66, 115
 Buck, Jody 167
 Buckley, Marilyn Buckner, Tony Buffalo, Vicky 167
 Buhr, Markus 167

Bullock, Melanie 216
 Bunch, Wayman 232
 Burchall, Susan 167
 Burcher, Clotilde 250
 Burke, Kim 232
 Burkhart, Stephanie 24
 Burnett, Daryl
 Burnett, Derek
 Burnette, Ricky 232
 Burnette, Theadore 216
 Burroughs, Marshall 155, 232
 Burroughs, Peter
 Burton, Brian 143, 232
 Burton, Ed 137, 167
 Burton, Eddie 216
 Burton, Kimberly
 Burton, Tonya 216
 Butler, Brooks 216
 Butler Christopher Byuers, Jon
 Byham, Kimberly 216
 Bynum, Belinda 216
 Byrd, Candi 108
 Byrd, Daphney 216
 Byrd, Janita
 Byrum, Holly

Cahoon, Stephen 148, 216
 Caldwell, Richard 232
 Camp, Leeann 106, 140, 167
 Campbell, Ashley 232
 Campbell, Lisa 94, 118, 164, 167
 Campbell, Meredith 167
 Campbell, Richard 108, 203, 233
 Campbell, Virginia
 Cannady, Felicia
 Cannon, Martha
 Cao, Han 216
 Cao, Haon 210
 Capettes 229
 Capps, Jim 167
 Carey, Dennis 167, 209
 Carlin, Maureen 32, 35, 167
 Carlin, Michael 127
 Carlson, Chantal 203
 Carlson, Peter 167
 Carlson, Sarah 115, 203
 Carlyle, Jill
 Carpenter, Clifton 127, 216
 Carr, Markham 64, 127, 167
 Carraway, Mary 233
 Carrington, Robert 203
 Carrington, Shannon
 Carroll, Martha 233

Carter, Joey
 Carter, Lisa 108, 233
 Carter, Rebecca 106, 118, 167, 185
 Carter, Rosalind 216
 Carter, Traci 168
 Carver, Carol 168, 215
 Carvso, Mary 233
 Casey, Michael 125, 233
 Casper, Kendall 233
 Casteen, Charles 216
 Casteen, William 233
 Castelloe, Clifton 125, 216
 Castelloe, Linda 18, 203
 Castelloe, Thomas 157, 167
 Cate, Tracy 65, 128, 203
 Cauley, Bryan
 Caves, Thomas 109, 180, 203
 Cella, Anne 233
 Cella, John 15, 23, 84, 167
 Challmers, Vincent 203
 Champion, Katriva
 Chandler, Brian 233
 Chandler, Jay
 Chaney, Brandon
 Chapman, Jon 100, 118, 168, 201
 Chapman, Scott 1, 118
 Chappell, Chris 108
 Chappell, Jess 168
 Charlton, Lynn 233
 Chavis, Pam 38, 168
 Chavis, Wanda 203
 Chavis, Xavier
 Cheek, Clyde 143
 Cheek, Troy 233
 Cheeks, Kirby 203
 Cheerleading 138
 Chereny, Meg 65, 107, 167
 Chereny, Patrick
 Cherry, Wynn 118
 Chew, Tim 203
 Chiavetta, Stephen
 Chicuto, Randy
 Childers, Cari 233
 Cho, Anna 168
 Choi, Young
 Chrisp, Melanie 38, 168, 222
 Chrisp, Tanya
 Chrisp, Tracy
 Chumura, Sean 233
 Chunn, Gerrelyn 37, 203
 Chunn, Tuan 108
 Cicuto, Christine 168
 Cicuto, Randy 233
 Clark, Anju
 Clark, Chris 168
 Clark, Mavis 233
 Clark, Natalie 168
 Clark, Lloyd 32, 39, 94,

100, 157, 166, 168
 Clement, Margaret Clifton, Benjamin 233
 Cline, Lisa 233
 Clougherty, John 36, 146
 Clougherty, Timothy 203
 Cochran, Joanna 153, 203
 Cochran, Jon 168
 Coffey, Caroline 203
 Coggins, Linda 168, 189
 Coidan, Eric
 Coker, Che
 Colbert, William
 Coleman, Dyan 56
 College Mail 166
 Collins, Shonda 203
 Collins, Stephanie 37
 Collinsworth, Tommy 168
 Conely, Kara 233
 Connell, Heather 233
 Connell, James 233
 Conner, Clinton
 Conrad, Chan 34, 38, 168
 Conrad, Stephen 233
 Constantino, David 137, 168
 Conway, Stephen 127, 168
 Cook, Tamotha 80
 Cook, Thomas
 Cooke, Dennis 203
 Cooley, Sallee
 Cooper, Jason
 Copeland, Coria 233
 Coppedge, Henry
 Coppedge, Nigal
 Corey, Jennifer
 Costello, Kimberly 233
 Cotten, Johnetta 203
 Cotton, Valerie
 Cover, Kendra 26, 233
 Cover, Mark 168
 Cover, Micah 203
 Covington, Charles Covington, Charmagne
 Covington, Renee
 Covington, Simmons 233
 Cowling, Emily 56, 203
 Cox, Lindsay 203, 218
 Cox, Matthew 168
 Crabtree, Brandy 233
 Crabtree, Shannon
 Cramer, Brian
 Crampton, Beth 14, 38, 56, 133, 162, 168
 Crane, Holly 203
 Creasy, Sean
 Creasy, Shannon
 Creech, Lawrence 168
 Creech, Zeke 108, 125, 126, 217
 Crenshaw, Lisa 203
 Cress, Deane 203

Crews, Chanda 233
 Crickmar, Glenn 203
 Crocker, Robert 124
 Crone, Allen 137, 168
 Crooks, Amy 107
 Cross Country 130
 Crowder, Alfred
 Crowder, Sylvia 249
 Cruikshank, Scott 125, 233
 Crump, Harold Crump, Thomaxine
 Crumpler, Richard 168
 Culberson, Jennifer 233
 Cummings, Kevin 32, 168
 Cummings, Thomas 203
 Cunningham, Shawn 203
 Curlee, Michael 108, 203
 Curran, Meghan 177
 Curran, Shaney
 Currie, Chris 14, 23, 80, 171
 Currin, Phillip 171
 Curry, Miko 171
 Curtis, Donna 210
 Curtis, Rose
 Cuss, Laucie 203
 Cuthrell, Robin 203, 218

Dail, Chrystal 203
 Dail, Holli 171
 Dailey, Ruth 204
 Dale, Christopher 204
 Dalton, Kelly
 Daniel, Walter 233
 Daniels, Kenyetta 37, 204
 Dare, Stephanie Dassinger, Rachel 204
 Dassinger, Timothy 204
 Daughtry, Kelly 32, 106, 118, 204
 Daughtry, Dana 15, 118, 204
 Daves, Dana
 Davidson, Michael 171
 Davis, Andrew 146, 204
 Davis, Cassandra
 Davis, Charles 233
 Davis, Deanna 108
 Davis, Diana
 Davis, Eric 233
 Davis, Ernest 108, 233
 Davis, Jennifer 108, 233
 Davis, Joely
 Davis, Karen
 Davis, Mary 249
 Davis, Pamela 37, 133, 204
 Davis, Regina 171
 Davis, Scotty
 Deal, Earl 215
 Deal, Margaret 171, 180

Dean, Howard 156
 Deangelis, John 10, 14, 69, 171
 Dearborn, Susan 180
 Debank, Derek 171
 Debnam, Joyce 204
 Debnam, Kermit
 Deboskey, David 171
 Degrand, Alexander
 Degumba, Susan 180
 Dekarske, Robert Dekarske, Susan
 Delozier, Daniel
 Dembicks, Jill 14, 23, 30, 34, 69, 171
 Dembicks, Tyler 204
 Denmark, Brooks 108, 233
 Denning, Anthony
 Denson, Matthew
 DeRosset, Bellamy 37, 127
 Desha, Cristen 233
 Detention Hall 206
 Devault, Michael Devone, Gary Devone, Reginald
 Devone, Wanda 233
 Devos, Michael Dewar, Jeffrey 137, 233
 Dewid, Traci 204
 Dickerson, Diane 140, 204
 Dickinson, Michael 37, 86, 118, 157, 218
 Dill, Amanda
 Dillard, Larry
 Dillon, David 233
 Dillon, Penn 106, 107, 171
 Dingman, Lisa 32, 171, 193
 Divine, Christopher Dixon, Jane Dixon, Shannon 204
 Dixon, Traci 108
 Dockery, Virginia 233
 Dodd, Christopher 233, 239
 Dodd, William 233
 Doggett, Jane 233
 Dolen, Mona
 Donadio, Andrew 14, 86, 110, 204
 Donaldson, Leslie
 Donochod, Christian 233
 Donochod, Daniel
 Dooley, Christopher 204
 Dougherty, Daniel
 Doughty, Audra
 Doves, Drew 204
 Dow, Carrie 108
 Downey, Jennifer
 Dubay, Nicole 204
 Duckett, Lisa 233
 Duke, Bill 125
 Duke, Charlotte

Duke, William
 Dula, Walter 204
 Duncan, Hillman 204
 Duncan, William 109, 204
 Dunemann, Kimberly 204
 Dunlop, Jennifer 18, 204
 Dunn, Danielle 108, 233
 Dunn, Darian 234
 Dunn, Demetrius
 Dunn, Edward Dunn, Keysha 172
 Dunn, Kristy 140, 141, 172
 Dunn, Bob 84, 233
 Dunn, Tonya
 Dunston, Loretha
 Dunston, Richard Dunston, Sarah
 Dunston, Stephanie 204
 Dupree, Christopher 204
 Durden, Carrie
 Durmaz, Filiz 234
 Dydula, Joseph
 Dzuba, Tanya 172, 209

Eagles, Virginia 172
 Earle, Dezter
 Easley, James
 Eastman, Jacqueline Eatman, Casey
 Echols, Cassandra 234
 Edgerton, Kieth
 Edmondson, Elizabeth 204
 Edwards, Brian 204
 Edwards, Cindy 172
 Edwards, Maria 204
 Edwards, Matthew 127, 204
 Edwards, Nathaniel
 Edwards, Patricia 133, 234
 Edwards, Sarah Eggleston, Ben 109, 234
 Eidson, Todd
 Eiswirth, Ricky 28, 172
 Elections Committee 94
 El-Kammash, Nader
 Elguera, Tresa 82, 118, 172, 221, 284
 Eli, Michael 172
 Eliopoulos, Cresto
 Ellers, Andrea 172
 Elliason, Christina
 Ellington, Julie 234
 Ellington, Margaret 234
 Ellington, Will 150, 172
 Elliott, David Jr. 204
 Elliott, David 204
 Elliott, Patrick 234
 Elliotte, Melissa
 Ellis, Donald
 Ellis, Katherine 32, 128, 129, 140, 204

Ellis, Rodney 124, 234
 Ellison, Tina 234
 Ellison, Tom 234
 Ellwanger, Elizabeth 204
 Emergency Preparedness Committee 110
 Emory, Kristin 234
 Emory, Melissa 204
 Emory, Thomas 204
 Emrich, John 204
 Enders, Hans 107, 109, 172
 Enders, Nicholas 108, 109, 234
 English, Alphonzo
 English, Andrea 140, 204
 English, Charles 122
 English, Danny 234
 English, Dena
 Ennis, Connie
 Ennis, Ivey 234
 Ennis, Shelton 204
 Enrico, Nicole 234
 Ervin, Daria 34, 172
 Esposito, Doug 204
 Estes, Andy 172, 201
 Ettridge, Liane
 Eubanks, Jerry
 Eure, Hadley 106, 107
 Eury, Faith
 Evans, Angelique 172
 Evans, Barry 172
 Evans, Bret 204
 Evans, James
 Evans, Lorin 234
 Evans, Norman 172
 Evenson, David 204, 245
 Exchange Students 178
 Executive Cabinet 84
 Exum, Mary
 Exum, Steve 118, 204
 Eyerman, Jill 234

Fabiano, Erika 234
 Fairweather, Keith 204, 220
 Fairweather, Robert Falcone, Paula 172, 180
 Fall Show 26, 27
 Fansler, Gregory 234
 Farmer, Caroline 23, 38, 86, 172
 Farmer, Cynthia 204
 Farr, Jennifer 234
 Farrar, Sabrina 220
 Farrington, Glenda
 Faucette, Doug 155, 204
 Faucette, Mathew 148, 234
 Faulk, Marilyn 234
 Faust, John 220
 Federici, Tamara 108, 234
 Feezor, Elizabeth 234
 Feldman, Andy 172

Felton, Andy 172
 Felton, Ross
 Fennell, Andrea
 Fennell, Sharon
 Fenton, Katrina 204
 Ferdon, Lucy 14, 204
 Ferdon, Sally 234
 Ferguson, Lauren
 Ferrell, Derrick
 Ferrell, Glestesa
 Ferrell, Trace 125, 220, 234
 Ferrell, Mary Hampton 34
 Ferrell, Stephanie 172
 Ferrell, Tracey 220
 Ferris, Leigh 118, 173
 Few, Jessica 128, 234
 Fields, Christi 234
 Finger, Anthony 220
 Fischbach, Linda 173
 Fisher, Brandy 234
 Fisher, Linda 118, 173, 221
 Fiske, Suzanne 220
 Fitzgerald, David 204
 Fleming, Patrick 220
 Fleming, Robin 220
 Flemming, Rhoderick 204
 Flourndy, Lydene 220
 Flowers, James Floyd, John Foldesi, Christopher 204
 Folken, Julia 173
 Fong, Kin Wu 204
 Fonville, Anna Dunn 204
 Football, Junior Varsity 124
 Football, Varsity 122, 123
 Forbes, Nathaniel
 Forte, Jennifer
 Forte, Stormie 142, 220
 Foster, Alonza
 Foster, Avery
 Foster, Marcia
 Foulkrod, Mark 173
 Foulkrod, Alin 18, 37, 204, 225
 Fountain, Reed 124, 220
 Fowler, Lynda 136, 220
 Fowler, Wayne 204
 Fowlkes, Kimberly 204
 Francis, Meghan 204
 Franklin, Alyssa
 Franklin, Kathleen 173
 Franklin, Leslie 175
 Frazier, Rosalyn 220
 Frederick, Peter 175
 Freeman, Colby 204
 Freeman, Duff 204
 Freeman, Rodney
 Freer, Mary
 Freezor, Beth 108
 Friberg, Karen 204
 Frye, Ashley 234
 Frye, Caroline 26, 28, 175

Fulbright, Cynthia 204
 Fuller, Alice
 Fuller, Deborah 204
 Fuller, Jennifer 107, 204
 Funderburk, Bennett 204
 Funderburk, Richard 234
 Fuqua, Dean 175
 Fuqua, Catherine 220
 Fuquay, Michelle 137, 234
 Furst, Cassandra
 Futrell, Leigh 19, 128, 204

Gaddy, Camille 234
 Gaffney, Michael 220
 Gaither, Curtis 220
 Gaither, David
 Gallagher, Patrick 204
 Gambino, Jack 204
 Gambino, Jeff
 Gantt, Courtney 204
 Garcia, Young-
 Gardner, Kimberly
 Gardner, Steve 218
 Garner, Joseph 234
 Garland, Cheala 37
 Garloff, Mark 175
 Garloff, Rick 175
 Garmhausen, John
 Garr, Meredith 175
 Garrabrant, Will 234
 Gavin, Leigh 108
 Gay, Cynthia 204, 218
 Gay, Donna
 Gay, Kristin 218
 Gay, Pamela
 Gay, Vonda 204
 Gerald, Kimberly 220
 Gerald, Tabori 234
 Gerardi, Anthony 175
 Geremina, Michele 220
 Gerig, Alison 234
 Gernon, Amy 206
 Gervin, Delma
 Gessner, Patricia 180, 206
 Gibbs, Jennifer 175, 180
 Gibson, Julie 220
 Gibson, Kelli 206
 Giersch, Christine 175
 Gilbert, Angela 234
 Gill, Yvonne
 Gilliard, Christopher Gilmore, Bobby
 Gilmore, Crystal 206
 Gilmore, Matthew 175
 Ginger, William 206
 Gist, Patricia
 Gjersten, Eric 125, 234
 Glenn, Karen 220
 Glenn, Krystal 108
 Glick, Julie 220
 Glover, Victor 32
 Gockel, Elizabeth

Goodard, Troy
 Godwin, Worth 206
 Golf 156
 Gomes, Angela 109
 Goodman, Cornelius
 Goodman, Jeffrey
 Goodman, Vincent 206
 Goodson, Bridget 234
 Goodson, Claire 206
 Goodwin, Denise 206
 Gore, Nicole 220
 Gorlesky, Joseph 220
 Goss, Robin 64, 133, 220
 Gossman, Marlayna
 Goto, Takaaki 175
 Gould, Jeremy 148, 220
 Grady, Henry 234
 Graham, Chris 234
 Graham, Horace
 Graham, James 148, 220
 Graham, Kelly
 Graham, Kelvin 206
 Graham, Meredith 206
 Gramhausen, John 234
 Grainger, Joseph 148, 220
 Granger, David 234
 Grant, Richard 220
 Graves, Kathryn 175
 Gray, Harry 206, 234
 Green, Alison 133, 220
 Green, Clark 150, 175
 Green, Jason 234
 Green, Johanna 206
 Gregory, Charlotte 108, 206
 Gregory, Jessica 220
 Gregory, Matthew 220
 Grennes, Daniel 235
 Gregory, Walter 206
 Gregory, Tonya 234
 Griffies, Don 27, 108, 109
 Griffin, Melissa 235
 Griffin, Meredith 235
 Griffin, Tripp 235
 Griggs, Oris 220
 Grimsly, Julie 246
 Grimsly, Mary 175
 Grines, Travis 206
 Gros-Pironi, Barabara 235
 Grissom, Ural 248
 Grissom, Randy 108, 126, 235
 Grossman, Marlayna 206, 220
 Growney, John 206
 Gruber, Robert 220
 Guillory, Kristen 206
 Gulick, Gregory 206
 Gunter, Steve 28, 64, 250, 256
 Gupta, Angela 235
 Guthrie, Sharon 206
 Gutierrez, Candice 206

Gutierrez, Ruben 235
 Gutkin, Emilia 235
 Gymnastics 136

 Hackett, Dionne 222
 Hackett, Wilbert
 Hackney, Sheral
 Had, Aimee 130, 220
 Hadley, Sally 180
 Hadley, Sara 220, 267
 Hagwood, Robert 235
 Haigh, Eugene 36, 220
 Haileselassie, Abraham
 Haire, Jodi 18, 19, 30, 207
 Hall, Anthony
 Hall, Carolyn
 Hall, Cedric 220
 Hall, Christopher 108, 207
 Hall, Demosha 235
 Hall, Gavin 108, 109, 207
 Hall, Stephanie 235
 Hall, Terrance 207
 Hall, Tiffany 220
 Halsell, Yolanda
 Hamilton, Jessica 236
 Hamilton, Julie 236
 Hamilton, Lachandra 236
 Hamilton, Marshall 254, 250
 Hamilton, Matthew 207
 Hamilton, Wesley 207
 Hamlet, Jomo 220
 Hammon, Annalee
 Hammon, Gordon
 Hampton, Christopher 108, 236
 Hamptonb, Kirk 131
 Hand, Ashley 220
 Hankinson, Nathaniel 220
 Hansen, Gary
 Hardesty, Frank 109, 180, 220
 Harres, Joey 108
 Harrell, David 109, 207
 Harris, Amanda 108
 Harris, Andrea 236
 Harris, Angela 108, 220
 Harris, Aundrea 236
 Harris, Barian 207
 Harris, Carla
 Harris, Christy 220
 Harris, Debbie 142, 149
 Harris, Donna 236
 Harris, Grace 207
 Harris, Gray
 Harris, James 207
 Harris, Jamie 222
 Harris, John
 Harris, Kendall 14, 19, 107, 207
 Harris, Kenneth 236
 Harris, Kimberly 38

Harris, Mary 149, 222
 Harris, Molly
 Harris, Pamela 236
 Harris, Robert
 Harris, Scotty 157
 Harris, Stephen 207
 Harris, Thresa 207
 Harris, Thurston 236
 Harris, Timothy 236
 Harris, Tracie 236
 Harris, Valeria
 Harris, Vida 237
 Harris, Willie
 Harrison, Cerranz
 Harrison, Patrick 207
 Harrison, Roderick 237
 Harry, Craig
 Hart, Meredith 133, 222
 Hartpence, Kenneth 207, 237
 Hartzog, Henry 207
 Hatch, Adam 237
 Hauser, Kim 18, 37, 207
 Hawfield, James 207
 Hawks, Jennifer 207
 Hayes, Alton 237
 Hayes, Darlene 207
 Hayes, Sheldon 237
 Haynes, Crystal 222
 Haywood, Charles
 Hazouri, Sharon 246
 Head, Darryl 237
 Head, David 36, 37, 207
 Hecker, Markus 207
 Hedre, Jonas
 Hemby, Erika
 Hemby, Larhonda 36, 237
 Henderson, Lorraine
 Hendrix, Beth Henly, Morisseau 237
 Henrikson, Brett 125, 148, 237
 Henry, Christopher 207
 Hensley, Charles 222
 Hensley, Kristi 237
 Herbert, Sarah 237
 Herget, Casey 26, 34, 94
 Herget, Richard 237
 Herring, Melissa 100
 Hester, Amber 237
 Hicks, Alyson
 Hicks, Brent Hicks, Dewey
 Hicks, Edward L. 151
 Hicks, Edward V.
 Hicks, Tyrome 237
 High, Ernest High, Travis 237
 Highsmith, Lee 18, 84, 176
 Highsmith, Elizabeth 222
 Hill, Charlotte 222
 Hill, Alan 108
 Hill, James 107, 222

Hill, Robert 207
 Hill, Yolanda
 Hilliard, Mary 222
 Hilpert, Mark 222
 Hinnant, Melissa 207
 Hinton, David
 Hinton, Jeff 108, 207
 Hinton, Juan
 Hinton, Kerwyn 37, 222
 Hinton, Lavette 237
 Hinton, Lee 137, 176, 180
 Hinton, Mark
 Hinton, Yolanda
 Hiott, Ann 207
 Hite, Mark 222
 Hoag, Peter 237
 Hoang, Kim 223
 Hobbs, Tracy
 Hobby, Chris
 Hobson, Ann 207
 Hobson, Frances 176
 Hodge, Michelle 23, 176
 Hodgson, Cal 144, 207, 226
 Hodnett, Karen 223
 Hoffman, Jennifer 108, 223
 Hoffmann, Karl 237
 Hoffmann, Kelly 237
 Hoffman, Lynn
 Hoffmann, Todd 237
 Hoffmann, Tweed 79, 176
 Hoffstedder, Kristie 237
 Hogan, Louise 176
 Hokanson, Karl 207
 Hokanson, Kirsten 237
 Holden, Brian 237
 Holden, Marie 207
 Holder, Brian 207
 Holder, William 207
 Holcup, Sandra 207
 Holland, Camille 207
 Holland, Derek 37, 176, 207
 Holland, Graham 176
 Hollard, Derek 108
 Holler, Gregory 237
 Holliday, Alan 179
 Holliday, Deborah 149, 237
 Hollis, Kendella
 Holloway, Jerry 137, 223
 Holmes, Brianna 207
 Holmes, Beth 223
 Holmes, John 207
 Holmes, Selena 237
 Holroyd, Claire 128, 237
 Holshouser, Susan 237
 Holt, Michele 207
 Homecoming 20-23
 Honor Society 100
 Hooker, Heather 237
 Horstmann, Denise 223
 Horton, Wayne 207
 Horton, Karla 237

Horton, Langston 223
 Hospitality Committee 90
 House and Grounds Committee 110
 Houston, Miranda
 Houston, Tammy 237
 Howard, Chris 237
 Howard, Michael 237
 Howard, Laronica
 Howell, Anthony 207
 Hoyt, Matt 223
 Hubbard, Alice 142, 237
 Hubbard, Will 207
 Hudgens, Jeffrey 203
 Hudson, Jonathan 237
 Huggins, Jennifer
 Hughes, Teresa
 Hume, Eric 237
 Humphrey, David 237
 Hunt, Kemp 10, 39, 144, 179
 Hunt, Melissa 207
 Hunter, Brad 246
 Hunter, Chester 207
 Hunter, Eleanor 207
 Hunter, James 107, 179
 Hunter, Malton 237
 Hunter, Marcus 223
 Hunter, Nichelle
 Hunter, Renita 86, 179, 222
 Hurst, Keisha
 Hyatt, Ann 108

Ide, Kathy 223
 Ingram, Karen 237
 Intramurals 157
 Isbell, Becca 81, 179
 Ives, Hope

Jackson, Barbara 179
 Jackson, Charles 179
 Jackson, Chris 179
 Jackson, Jon 238
 Jackson, Mark 210, 231
 Jackson, Mary K. 238
 Jackson, Mary W.
 Jackson, Michael Jackson, Raymond
 Jackson, Tammie 237
 Jackson, Tammy
 Jacobs, Thach
 Jacobs, Thomas 124, 137, 223
 Jacobson, Brian 207
 James, Andre 223
 James, Kimberly

James, Montague 223
 James, Wendy 237
 Jankowitz, Marci
 Jarrett, Sara 223
 Jarrett, Thomas
 Jaynes, Alonzo
 Jeanblanc, Jason 126, 237
 Jefferson, Carla
 Jeffreys, Jerry 185, 238
 Jeffreys, Joanne
 Jenik, Vanessa
 Jenkins, David 238
 Jenkins, Jason 223
 Jenkins, Kim 238
 Jenkins, Mary 238
 Jewell, Dr. Richard 84
 Jezik, David 179
 Johns, Andre
 Johnson, Andrea
 Johnson, Ann
 Johnson, Cheryle 223
 Johnson, Clark 109
 Johnson, Clark 180
 Johnson, Gina
 Johnson, Ivey 179
 Johnson, James
 Johnson, James F. 238
 Johnson, Jeana
 Johnson, Jeremy Johnson, Joshua 238
 Johnson, Julie
 Johnson, Kathryn
 Johnson, Ken 37, 144
 Johnson, Kimberly
 Johnson, Lawrence 223
 Johnson, Melanie J. 223
 Johnson, Melanie L. 238
 Johnson, Nona 223
 Johnson, Otha 179, 245
 Johnson, Patrick 179
 Johnson, Susan 223
 Johnson, Timothy 179
 Johnson, William 223
 Johnston, Jennapher 64
 Johnston, Neville 223
 Johnstone, Amelia
 Jones, Alexander 238
 Jones, Amy
 Jones, Andrew 238
 Jones, Angela
 Jones, Anna
 Jones, Cheryl 238
 Jones, Christopher 238
 Jones, Christopher M.
 Jones, Donna
 Jones, Dottie 179
 Jones, Elizabeth 23, 31
 Jones, Jacqueline 179
 Jones, Jason
 Jones, Jennifer 238
 Jones, Jennifer E. 179
 Jones, Jennie L. 118
 Jones, Joseph

Jones, Julie
 Jones, Katherine
 Jones, Kim 238
 Jones, Kimberly
 Jones, Malachi
 Jones, Roger Jones, Rosalie 238
 Jones, Rosalind 162, 180
 Jones, Shae 238
 Jones, Shannon 223
 Jones, Shernell
 Jones, Sherwood
 Jones, Stephen 180
 Jones, Tracey
 Jordan, Deborah 180
 Jordan, Robert 180
 Jordan, Shari 238
 Jordan, Suzanne 18, 30, 225
 Joseph, Jack 223
 Joyce, Jenkie 180
 Joyner, Julie 15, 115, 218, 228
 Jurgens, Christopher 238
 Jurkiewicz, Jeanette 180, 223
 Jurovics, Nicole 238

Kapil, Narayan
 Karam, Gigi 180
 Karn, Matthew 223
 Kaylor, Tonya 223
 Kearney, Mary
 Keen, Deanna 238
 Keener, Ashleigh 106, 180
 Kellander, Julie 223
 Kelley, Angela 223
 Kelley, Elizabeth 223
 Kellison, Todd
 Kelly, Justine 14, 180
 Kemp, Leigh 180
 Kennedy, Charles 28, 86
 Kennedy, Katherine 106, 223
 Kennedy, Laura
 Kennedy, Patrick 149
 Kenny, Tammany
 Kent, Lottie
 Keown, Alex 144
 Keravuori, Andrew 180
 Kerr, Jill
 Kesler, Daniel 157
 Kesterson, Erin 238
 Ketchie, Richard 124, 223
 Kiernan, Kelly 223
 Kiernan, Rick 118
 Kikendall, Kristi 223
 Kilgore, Joel
 Kilmartin, Bobby 223
 Kim, Soo Hang 232, 238
 Kincaid, Anne 188

King, Donna
 King, Joseph 238
 King, Ronald 180
 King, Russell
 Kinney, Carmen 223
 Kinney, Michael 180
 Kirk, Karen
 Kirkman, Nathaniel
 Kirkman, Timothy 238
 Kish, Karen Kleiner, Andy
 Kleiner, Francie 128, 223
 Klish, Cyprian
 Knight, Christy
 Knight, Kellee 149, 223
 Knight, Kelly
 Knox, Charles 223
 Knox, Robby 180
 Ko, Nancy 106, 180
 Koehler, Bonnie 35, 180
 Koger, Christine Koger, Jim Kornegay, Michael 180
 Korte, Meg 180
 Kotlas, Amelia
 Kral, Mike 24, 157
 Krieger, Brad
 Kring, Jason 180
 Kubeny, Shelley 180
 Kupferman, Matthew Kurdian, Stephen

Lack, John Lambert, Michael 238
 Lambert, Wallace 180
 Lamm, Tina 238
 Lancaster, Kevin 37, 122, 222
 Lancaster, Larry 180
 Lane, Kenya 180
 Lane, Nikki
 Lane, Teresa 180
 Laney, Tom 118, 166, 180
 Langley, Marty Langston, Robert Lasane, Keisha
 Latham, Trader 238
 Law, Charles Law, Christopher Lawrence, Daron 180
 Lawrence, Devona
 Lawrence, Shannon 106, 180
 Laws, Royce 32, 38, 180
 Laymon, Phillip 180
 Leach, Deborah 210
 Leach, Sharon 238
 Leden, Pamela
 Lee, Elizabeth 180
 Lee, Garland 238
 Lee, Kevin 34, 38, 180, 183

Lee, Lativla
 Lee, Martha 223
 Lee, Gregg 109, 166, 180, 230
 Lee, Sherry 223
 Lefort, Charlie 223
 Lefort, Missy 36, 128, 238
 Legge, Troy 127
 LeGrand, Gordan 96, 127, 223
 Leitrick, Nancy
 Leonard, David
 Leonard, Jeffrey 125, 224
 Lepere, David 183
 Lepere, Nathan 238
 Lester, Andrew 15
 Leveille, Joey 34, 108, 109, 183, 230
 Levi, Dayan 18, 183
 Lewis, Cameron 238
 Lewis, Dana
 Lewis, Dawn 223
 Lewis, Larissa 118, 183
 Lewis, Randy 118, 183, 197, 201
 Lewis, Sara 183
 Lewis, Steven 148, 224
 Lewis, Sue May 183
 Lightbourne, Trudy 224
 Lightfoot, Kenneth 10, 79
 Lightfoot, La Tresia
 Lilly, Steven Lima, Stig
 Lincoln, Stephanie Lindholm, Michelle 224
 Lindholm, Raymond 238
 Lindsay, Mark 180
 Lindsay, Robert
 Lindsley, Bradley 238
 Lineberger, Beth 250
 Lingle, Philip 238
 Littleton, Leah
 Littrell, Tim 183
 Liu, Shuo-sen
 Liv, Robert 238
 Livingston, Gary
 Lloyd, Connie 250
 Lloyd, Danny 224
 Lockehart, Beverly Lockemy, Christopher Locklear, Gary 238
 Loftin, Jonathan
 Lokken, Asle 126, 127, 180
 Long, Amy 128, 224
 Long, Christopher 183
 Long, Frederick 238
 Long, Kimberly
 Long, Melissa 183
 Lotz, Jonathan 18, 34, 144, 145
 Love, Carolyn
 Love, Jennifer 238
 Love, Renee 183

Lovelace, Derrick 36, 238
 Lovelace, John 224
 Lovingood, Lara 30
 Lozaw, Jennie 224
 Lucas, Christopher 224
 Lucas, Cleveland
 Lumsden, Danny 224
 Lunch 210
 Lundberg, Charles
 Lynch, Brian 36, 125, 238
 Lynch, David 107, 183
 Lynn, Aisa
 Lynn, Lori 86, 210, 218
 Lynn, Pamela

Mack, Michelle 183
 Mack, Salathiel 183
 Macomber, Steven Magers, Chad 184
 Magers, Joseph 224
 Maigiros, Marion 224
 Majors, Susan 109, 184
 Maldonado, Alex
 Malone, Monica
 Maness, Kelly 238
 Manifold, Brad 31
 Manley, Callina 224
 Manley, Sellina 108, 224
 Manning, Howard 224
 Markovsky, Steven 224
 Marlin, Suzanne 106, 107, 184
 Marsden, George 238
 Marshall, Kelvin 184
 Marshalls 91
 Martin, Ben 239
 Martin, Shane 184
 Martin, Arthur 81
 Martin, Deidre 109, 224
 Martin, Wanda 239
 Martin, Jacqueline 239
 Martin, Lettie
 Martin, Michael 108
 Martin, Michelle Mason, Randy
 Masonary 213
 Massenburg, Malcolm
 Massenburg, McGregory 224
 Massenburg, Roger Masterson, Robert 148
 Matheson, Robert 125
 Matlock, Andria 31, 184
 Matt, Jacqueline 224
 Matthews, Kelvin 224
 Mattox, Ashley
 Mauldin, Courtney
 Maxwell, April
 Maxwell, Wendy 224
 May, Mary 184
 May, Wendy 118
 Mayo, Felisha 224

Mays, Bryon 224
 McAllister, Tim McArthur, Charles McBride, Vanessa 239
 McCaffity, Beth
 McCall, Dana 7, 27, 109, 180, 184
 McCallister, Calvin 239
 McCallister, Kim 180, 184
 McCallop, Gwendolin 224
 McCann, Dana 224
 McCann, John 239
 McCann, Terry 224
 McCarthy, Robbie 14, 224
 McCarthy, Ann 224
 McChesney, Anne 98, 230
 McClain, Larry 239
 McClain, Lesha 96
 McClam, Alvin
 McClellan, Adam 224
 McCloughy, Jodi 136, 239
 McCloughy, Wendy 136, 184
 McCluney, Amy 184
 McConnell, Johnny 14, 18, 86
 McCoy, Domonic 184, 222
 McCracken, Frank 224
 McCray, Dwight
 McCreary, Jeff
 McCullough, Mary
 McDaniel, Joseph McDaniel, Will 239
 McDowell, Margaret 224
 McDowell, William 108, 109, 180, 184, 224
 McDuffie, Christy 184
 McFadden, James 239
 McGhee, Angela 239
 McGill, Yolanda 32
 McKay, James 239
 McKenzie, Jodi 27, 32, 184, 201
 McKinley, Patrick
 McLachlan, James 108, 109, 126, 224
 McLamb, Michael McLean, Lisa
 McLeod, Michelle 240
 McLeod, Theresa
 McMahan, Robert 240
 McNair, Roberta
 McNairy, Bill 32, 131, 184
 McNally, Ayla 224
 McNeil, Lena 224
 McNeill, Eric
 McNeill, Lisa
 McWilliams, Kinsey
 Meares, Katherine 37, 232, 240
 Medlin, Anthony
 Meece, Ollie 148, 240
 Meehan, Thomas 187

Mehlich, Kim 106, 187
 Meierer, Joseph
 Mellage, Kelly
 Melton, Judi
 Melton, Kim 187
 Mendenhawll, Sherry 30
 Mera, Sandy
 Mercer, Holly 38, 136, 187
 Meriwether, Kirstin 187
 Merrick, Evi 106, 187
 Merriweather, Monique 57, 86, 108, 187
 Messner, Michael 38, 187
 Metz, Cade 125, 240
 Metz, Jean 187
 Meyer, James Meyer, Laura Mezzanotte, Nancy
 Mial, April 118, 140, 141
 Mickens, Cheannell 187
 Miles, Janie 240
 Miles, Hart 154, 187, 201
 Miles, Randy
 Millar, Andrea
 Millar, Janet 187
 Millar, Leah 34, 35, 130, 187
 Miller, Amy 128
 Miller, Brent 24, 187
 Miller, Charles 157, 187
 Miller, Janice Miller, Melissa
 Miller, Robert Miller, Shannon
 Miller, Shelby
 Mills, Laura 187
 Milner, Noah
 Milton, Traci
 Misenheimer, Lynne 253
 Mitchell, Catherine 178, 240
 Mitchell, Marti 178, 187
 Mitchell, Mellissa 187
 Mitchener, Robert
 Mittelstaedt, Jackie 17, 34, 187
 Mizell, Kenneth Mizell, Meredith 240
 Mock, Jeffrey 240
 Mock, Timothy 108
 Mohr, Laura 108
 Molden, Sharon
 Monast, Jonas
 Monroe, Carolyn
 Monroe, Shaka
 Montague, James
 Montague, Lavonne 240
 Mooky, Shannon 240
 Mooney, Michael Moore, Allen 240
 Moore, Anthony 205
 Moore, Ashley 126, 127
 Moore, Chad 241

Moore, Christopher 187
 Moore, Cynthia
 Moore, Dana
 Moore, Hiawatha
 Moore, Hudson 205
 Moore, John A. 126
 Moore, John H.
 Moore, Michael 241
 Moore, Sabine 34, 182, 187
 Moore, Theodore 241
 Moore, William
 Mordecai, Julian 187
 Moreland, David
 Morgan, Allison 241
 Morgan, Tony
 Morgan, David 127, 241
 Morgan, Dexter 127
 Morgan, Gwendolyn 187
 Morgan, Jason
 Morgan, Marc
 Morgan, Shannon
 Morgan, Tony 187
 Morisey, John 241
 Morisseau, Henly
 Morris, Charles 125, 148, 241
 Morris, Christy 241
 Morris, Elizabeth Anne
 Morris, Lisa 241
 Morris, Melissa
 Morrison, Anna
 Moss, Tara
 Muddiman, John
 Mullen, Leigh 241
 Mullins, Donna 241
 Mullins, Jacqueline 187
 Munley, Patrick 241
 Munoz, Soledad 241
 Murdoch, Roscoe 249, 250
 Murphy, Christopher Murphy, Jason
 Murray, Frederick 241
 Murray, Kimberly
 Murray, Leslie
 Murrell, Karen 39
 Murrell, Kevin 23, 49, 187
 Muse, Michelle
 Myers, Jeanelle
 Myers, Juanon 187

Nagakuni, Rita 188
 Narducci, Julie 188
 Narducci, Lisa
 Narron, Kristin 128, 149
 Nash, Eben 188
 Naylor, William Neal, John Neal, Thomas
 Neal, William
 Neely, Christine Neely, Patrick
 Nelson, John 188

Nelson, Lisa
 Nelson, Mike
 Nelson, Paul 188
 Nemeth, Rosemarie
 Nemitz, Julia 133
 Newkirk, Benjamin 241
 Newkirk, Daniel
 Newman, Bridger 188
 Newman, Cecelia
 News 24, 25
 Newsome, Lee 241
 Newsome, Thomas
 Newsome, Tom 253
 Newton, Chris 188
 Newton, Stephen
 Nicholls, Cullen
 Nichols, Michael Nichols, Rebekah 140
 Nichols, Robert
 Nichols, Thomas 188
 Nicholson, Barry
 Noah, Michaux
 Noland, Daniel 241
 Noon, Scott 241
 Norman, Bartley 239, 241
 Nowell, Karen 188
 Nowell, Laura 17, 23, 39, 86, 188
 Nutrition 217
 Nutt, Jackie 250
 Nuttle, Eugenia 188

Oakes, Bonnie
 Oates, Ronald 226
 O'Connor, James 34, 188
 Oestreich, Richard 188
 Oestreich, Karyn 188
 Ogden, David 226
 Olive, Misty 241
 Oller, Troy 241
 Olson, Meg 226
 Oneal, Ivan 23, 27, 188
 Oneal, Johnna
 Orander, Joseph 188
 Orr, John 241
 Orr, Kathryn
 Ostling, Susan
 Ostrander, Kirby
 Ott, Jennifer 226
 Otto, Stephen
 Outlaw, Jason 107, 291
 Outward Bound 197
 Overman, John Overton, Patrick 241
 Owen, Chris
 Owens, Timothy 241

Padgett, Will Page, Laurie
 Pahl, Anna 226

Pailthorpe, Karen Paktiawal, Ahmad
 Paktiawal, Soraya
 Palko, John Palmer, Nikki 241
 Palumbo, Jeanine 291
 Pantin, Pam 226
 Park, Trent 241
 Parker, Christine 136, 241
 Parker, Felicia 34, 291
 Parker, Joseph 226
 Parker, Nathan 241
 Parks, Clarence
 Parramore, Lynn 106
 Parrish, Sena 132, 133, 291
 Parrish, Tammy
 Parshall, Kyle 241
 Parsons, Theodora 241
 Partin, Eugenia 241
 Partin, Katrina 241
 Partin, Pamela
 Paschaloudis, Panos 205
 Paschaloudis, Stratos 126, 127, 205
 Pate, Katherine 226
 Patel, Kalpanakumari 241
 Pattee, Yvonne 241
 Patterson, Raymond
 Patterson, Shawn
 Paulson, Glenn
 Pausharpe, Karen 241
 Pavlic, Doug
 Payne, Erica 178, 291
 Peace, Robert 241
 Peacock, Anthony
 Pearce, David
 Pearce, Leamon
 Pearce, Leigh 226
 Pearce, Scott 291
 Peckham, Julie 226
 Peebles, Crystal 291
 Peebles, Dennis 10, 38, 122, 144, 145, 291
 Peery, Shannon 291
 Penny, Wayne 226
 Percy, Ralph Pergeorelis, Sandra
 Perkins, Claire 226
 Perkins, Clifton 227
 Permar, Lisa
 Pernell, Paige 291
 Perry, Jeremy 227
 Perry, Darlene 227
 Perry, Nikki 241
 Perry, Raymond
 Perry, Kent 18, 291
 Perry, Tiffany 241
 Person, Marcia Peterkin, Victoria 235
 Peterson, Amy 178, 203, 291
 Peterson, Brian 291
 Peterson, Eric 227

Peterson, Jason 227
 Peterson, Kelsha
 Phan, Phuc 241
 Pharr, Keri 227
 Phelps, Renn 227
 Phifer, Jamie
 Philbrook, Scott 291
 Philips, Jennie 241
 Phillips, Jack 291
 Phillips, Jakie 15, 23, 34, 118, 246, 291
 Phillips, Jennifer 37, 136, 241
 Philpot, Brian 215, 291
 Pickard, Brad 227
 Pickard, Steven Pierce, Shaun
 Pierce, Timothy 157
 Pigott, Jeffery 241
 Pipkin, Andy 32, 131
 Piserchia, Felice Pit 201
 Pittard, Lisa 241
 Pittard, Ronald Pittillo, Wendy Pittman, Hope
 Pleasants, Kelly 31, 291
 Podobinski, Alex
 Pointer, Renee 241
 Pollard, Deanna 30, 291
 Pollard, Stacy
 Pollard, Al
 Pollock, Ben 227, 241
 Pollock, Michael 291
 Poole, Patrick
 Porter, Margaret 37
 Poston, Barbara 227
 Potak, Julie 241
 Powder Puff 18, 19, 162
 Powell, Frank Powell, James
 Powell, Jennifer 291
 Powell, Martina 107, 108, 227
 Prairie, Kyle Preddy, Rodney Preston, Lamont
 Preston, Sarah 241
 Pretty, Ezard
 Pretty, Kevin 242
 Price, Chesley 108, 242
 Price, Elizabeth 109, 180
 Price, Katherine 242
 Pridgen, Irene
 Priest, Cathie
 Principal's Advisory Council 84
 Pritchard, Meredith
 Pritchard, Michael Privette, Russell 191
 Prygrocki, Cathy 191
 Publications Committee 94
 Pulley, Gwendolyn 191

Purdee, Tracy 242

Quaintance, George Quaintance, James 191
 Queen of Hearts 34-39
 Queen, Tonya 191
 Quinn, Abram

Racey, Derick 118, 203, 227, 246
 Radford, Elizabeth
 Radford, Kim 242
 Ragland, Michelle 227
 Ragsdale, Addra 227
 Raines, Marvin
 Raines, Michelle 149
 Raleigh Youth Council 209
 Ralph, Willard
 Ramey, Richard 14, 242
 Ramirez, Mary
 Ramseur, Robert 180
 Rand, Frederick 242
 Randolph, Mark 191
 Randolph, Michael Randolph, Sean 227
 Ransdell, Edward 242
 Rasette, James 227
 Rasette, Mary 185
 Rastelli, Matthew 148, 227
 Ratliff, Dane
 Ratliff, Phil 249, 250
 Rawat, Kerima 227
 Ray, Heavenly
 Ray, Marsh
 Ray, Mary
 Rayborn, Khydon 227
 Raynor, Sara 180
 Reade, Faye 227
 Reade, Shirley Reed, Banning
 Reed, Christine 227
 Reep, Laura 227
 Reese, Jimmy 242
 Reese, Johnny 191
 Reeves, Adam 242
 Reeves, Karen Regan, Sean
 Rehnberg, Jason 242
 Reibel, Jeffrey
 Reichstetter, Thomas 109, 180, 292
 Reid, Jonathan 227
 Reid, Margaret
 Reid, J.R. 254
 Reiter, Laura 133+
 Renfrow, Veda 106
 Renner, Richard 242

- Reville, Stephen
 Rexroad, Kimberly
 Reynolds, Jason
 Rhee, Suk 107
 Rhem, Christiel 242
 Rhew, Beatrice 242
 Rice, Kendall
 Rich, Christy
 Richards, Tara
 Richardson, Bobby 292
 Richardson, Crystal 292
 Richardson, Demetria 229
 Richardson, Evan 108, 242
 Richardson, Jeffrey 98
 Richardson, Stacy 242
 Richardson, Stephanie 227
 Richmond, Karen 292
 Richmond, Sharon 292
 Ridge, Jeffrey
 Rinne, Laura 14, 34, 140, 292
 Ripple, Stephanie Risley, James 126, 227
 Risley, Renelle 34, 128, 292
 Rivers, Susan Roberson, John 242
 Roberson, Rob
 Roberts, Daniel 227
 Roberts, Lisa
 Roberts, Michelle 34, 292
 Roberts, Suzy 180
 Robertson, Felicia 292
 Robertson, Jeff 108
 Robertson, Jonathan
 Robertson, Todd 242
 Robinson, Alisha
 Robinson, Anthony
 Robinson, Gwendolyn 227
 Robinson, Jerome
 Robinson, Jimmie
 Robinson, John Robinson, Meredith
 Robinson, Plimpton
 Robinson, Tracie
 Robinson, William Rodgers, Teresa 227
 Rodman, Jennifer Roe, Thomas
 Roebuck, John 227
 Rogers, Larisa 242
 Rogers, Tracey
 Roll, Ashlee 242
 Roseberry, Robin 31, 227
 Ross, Chadwick 242
 Rouse, Angela 292
 Rouse, Christopher
 Rowland, Joseph 137, 292
 Rowland, Maylon 38, 151
 Rowland, Peter 137, 227
 Royall, Andrew
 Rudder, John 240, 249
 Rudolph, Laura Ruebesam, Kara 242
 Ruggles, Cristin 107, 136, 227
 Ruggles, Leigh 242
 Ruggles, Michael Runyon, Scott
 Rusher, Frederick 143, 227
 Rusher, Pamela
 Rusher, Peter 242
 Russell, Clarke 242
 Russler, Sue 227
 SADD 115
 Sadie Hawkins 28, 29
 Sadler, Robert 242
 Salem, Hoda
 Salgado, Reda 242
 Salgado, Rommell 227
 Samuels, Christopher 137
 Sanchez, Evan 98, 109, 180, 292
 Sanders, Chaunte 227
 Sanders, Joel
 Sanders, John 227
 Sanders, Kevin 227
 Sanders, Lois 242
 Sanders, Racquel 128, 242
 Sanders, Steven Sanders, Todd 292
 Sanderson, Alan 292
 Sanderson, Parke
 Sarantos, James 210
 Sasser, Daryl
 Satterfield, Carson 128, 292
 Satterfield, Bart 242
 Satterfield, William Savage, James 227
 Savitt, Joel 126, 227
 Sbaiti, Tarek
 Scandalios, Nikki 108, 227
 Scarboro, Lynne 242
 Schmitz, Donna 227
 Schnitzler, Guy
 Schroeder, Benjamin
 Schultz, Thekla
 Schwall, Helen 250
 Schwartz, Karin
 Scott, Anthony
 Scott, Bruce
 Scott, Hunter 292
 Scott, Jennifer 295
 Scott, Joanna 227
 Scott, Melissa
 Scott, Raceal 227
 Scott, Sally 133
 Scott, Tyrone
 Scruggs, Marcus 127, 253
 Sealey, Robert 107, 148
 Sears, Thomas 242
 Seeley, Traci 227
 Selby, Willie 295
 Selden, Ann 242
 Selden, McClain 86, 107, 118
 Self, Sally 227
 Sellers, Nicole 242
 Seltmann, Heinz 227
 Semunegus, Zema 295
 Serracin, Danitza 295
 Serracin, Shellma
 Serxner, Jonathan 295
 Sexton, Diana Sexton, Jason 227
 Sexton, Reggie 228
 Shaff, Christopher Shamel, Christopher 228
 Sharer, Robert 108
 Sharp, John 242
 Shaw, Catherine 228
 Shaw, Beth 134, 153, 295
 Shaw, Jason 228
 Shaw, Mary 34, 84, 166, 178, 295
 Shaw, Michael Shekita, Melanie 242
 Shepard, Carla 57, 228
 Sheperd, Christopher Sheperd, Corey
 Shepard, Scott 295
 Shields, Miguel Shimmel, Beth Shippey, Ford 295
 Shire, Roy Shirey, Kenna 242
 Shirey, Stewart 226, 295
 Shirey, Will 242
 Shuffler, Robert
 Shuler, Phillip
 Shuler, Steven 228
 Shultz, Thelka 128
 Shutt, John Eric 295
 Sides, Benjamin
 Sidney, Tony Signal, Timothy 242
 Sikes, Angela 115, 295
 Sikes, Foster
 Sikes, Marianne 295
 Simmons, Angela R. 128, 151, 228
 Simmons, Angela Y. 228
 Simmons, Nicole 32, 56, 218
 Simmons, Scott 228
 Simon, Eric
 Simpkins, Patrick 148, 242
 Simpson, Ian
 Simpson, Nancy
 Simpson, Shaun 228
 Sims, Steva 295
 Singer, Anna 228
 Singletary, Gwen 228
 Singleton, Hollis 242
 Singleton, Rob
 Singleton, Shannon 228
 Sinnema, Daniel
 Sinor, Scott
 Sisson, Debbie 226
 Skarin, Luke
 Skea, Kingsley
 Skinner, Penny 136
 Slagle, Christopher Smallwood, Sheri 228
 Smart, Daniel
 Smisson, Sally 106, 250
 Smith, Alphonzo
 Smith, Andre
 Smith, Angela
 Smith, Becky 228
 Smith, Billy 228
 Smith, Caleb 295
 Smith, Catherine H.
 Smith, Catherine L.
 Smith, De 118, 221
 Smith, Edward 228
 Smith, Gordon 109, 242
 Smith, Gregory
 Smith, Jason 14, 23, 39, 295
 Smith, Jeff 78, 144
 Smith, Kathleen 228
 Smith, Matthew 242
 Smith, Micah
 Smith, Michael 32, 144
 Smith, Michael 122, 242
 Smith, Ray 201, 295
 Smith, Rebekah
 Smith, Roger 24, 30, 86, 295
 Smith, Sondra 108, 292
 Smith, Sonya 228
 Smith, Tammy
 Smith, Tara 242
 Smith, Timothy 108, 228
 Smith, Tina 242
 Smithson, Mike
 Snelling, Jacqueline 228
 Snyder, Julee 108, 242
 Snyder, Nancy 15, 118
 Soccer, Boys, Varsity 126
 Soccer, Boys, J.V. 125
 Soccer, Girls 152
 Softball 149
 Solomon, Kim 106, 292
 Solomon, Sara 106, 205, 292
 Sommer, Andrea 292
 Sommerville, Helen 250
 Soward, Jana 228
 Sparboe, Julie 166, 292
 Sparrow, Elizabeth 108
 Sparrow, Virginia 37, 242
 Spears, Darlene 243
 Spears, Martha 243
 Special Projects Committee 94
 Speer, Jill
 Speer, Tracie
 Spence, Bertha 228

Spence, Lara
 Spence, Pamela
 Spence, Ray 292
 Spence, Tajiauna
 Spence, Thomas 228
 Spence, Tony Spencer, James 228
 Spencer, Kenneth 228
 Spencer, Tracy 193, 292
 Sperduti, Michele
 Spivey, Steve 133, 137
 Spooner, Courtney
 Spring Break 30
 Spruill, Trevis 243
 Spry, Russell
 Stafford, Judi 196
 Stage Crew 110
 Stahel, Anne 180
 Stahel, Pete 166, 196
 Stallings, Tracey
 Stallings, Verlinda 108
 Stancil, Brenda 196
 Stancil, Marietta 228
 Stanley, Connie 196
 Starling, Clyde
 Starling, Kelly
 Starling, Rodney 228
 Staten, Lesea 243
 Steele, Devin 150, 196
 Steele, Jason 18, 125, 228
 Stenberg, Alyssa
 Stephens, Kimberly 243
 Stephens, Michael Stephenson, Christopher Stephenson, David
 Stephenson, Gordon 24, 26, 196
 Stephenson, Harriet 39, 128, 129, 153, 162, 189, 196
 Stephenson, Renee 243
 Stevens, Jerada
 Stevens, Michael 148
 Stevens, Terrance
 Stevens, Todd 243
 Stewart, Antoinette 196, 222
 Stewart, Benjamin 228
 Stewart, Kellie 243
 Stewart, Maggie 243
 Still, Rhonda
 Still, Thomas
 Stiteler, Andrew 228
 Stiteler, Jennifer
 Stitzinger, Ernest 243
 Stitzinger, Kerry
 Stokes, Dianne
 Stokes, Tyrone
 Stonaker, Tracy
 Stone, Sandra Stone, Sarah

Stoutt, Missy 118, 196
 Stratford, Angela
 Street, Rico 243
 Stuart, Kelly 243
 Stuch, Rebecca
 Sullivan, Kevin 244
 Sulzen, Kathleen 228
 Surles, Larry
 Surles, Pearl 23, 196
 Swaringen, Michael Swearingen, Nathaniel Sweatland, Aimee 228
 Swinarski, Cindy 244
 Swimming 134
 Szlajus, Suzanne

Tallman, Craig 228
 Tardiff, Stephanie 31, 210
 Taybron, Joanie 229
 Taylor, Andra 244
 Taylor, Ashley 244
 Taylor, Benji 32, 196
 Taylor, Jennie
 Taylor, John 108, 228
 Taylor, Melinda 108, 228
 Taylor, Melissa 244
 Taylor, Michael 228, 244
 Taylor, Parker
 Taylor, Roderick 228
 Taylor, Shannon 196
 Taynton, Jennifer 244
 Teagle, Christopher Teague, Gregg 228
 Teague, Robert
 Teasley, Vasseria 228
 Tecnical Support Crew 110
 Tehrani, Shadi 244
 Teitrick, Nancy 228
 Telfair, Kimberly 228
 Tenai, Kimberly 196
 Teng, Peggy
 Tennis, Boys 154
 Tennis, Girls 132
 Terdik, Christopher 196
 Terdik, Marcus 228
 Terrell, Bernard 37, 78, 144, 145
 Terrell, Catrina
 Terrell, Keltina
 Terry, Ivan
 Terry, Laura Tess, Amy 228
 Tharpe, Constance 228
 Thiede, Angela
 Thigpen, Kimberly 178, 196
 Thomas, Ajaratu 196
 Thomas, Anthony
 Thomas, Charlie
 Thomas, Chris 244

Thomas, Scott
 Thomas, Eric
 Thomas, Jennie 228
 Thomas, Jennifer 228
 Thomas, Leroy
 Thomas, Melissa 228
 Thomas, Scott 196
 Thomasson, Jennifer 228
 Thomasson, Kristen 180, 196
 Thompson, Ashley 37, 228
 Thompson, Ingrid
 Thompson, Jimmie
 Thompson, Mansah
 Thompson, Nathan 228
 Thompson, Phillip 244
 Thompson, Theon
 Thompson, Tony 228
 Thompson, Yolanda 196
 Thornburg, Lee 122
 Thornton, Dottie 108
 Thorpe, Doritha
 Thorpe, Lori 228
 Thorpe, Nicole
 Thorpe, Stephanie Thorpe, Toweenaa
 Tierney, Sarah 136
 Tillery, Emmanuel
 Tinsley, Latanya 229
 Tipps, Rotonya
 Titchener, Katie 244
 Tittle, Laurinal
 Tolson, Susan 228
 Tomlinson, Christopher Torrence, Brian 244
 Torrence, Clifford 199
 Torrence, Stuart
 Townshend, Peter 1
 Track 150
 Tracy, Erin 30, 31, 107, 228
 Trenner, Kevin 228
 Trest, Amelia
 Tevathan, Henry 122
 Tripp, James 209
 Troan, John 244
 Trusty, Adam 228
 Tucker, Kristi 228
 Tucker, Kelly
 Tucker, Nancy
 Tucker, Pamela
 Tucker, Raymond 244
 Tugman, Amanda 15, 140, 149, 199, 201
 Tull, Susan 26, 34, 189, 199
 Turner, Camilla 199
 Turner, James 228
 Turner, Joseph 228
 Turner, James E.
 Turner, James H.

Turner, Joseph
 Turner, Julie
 Turner, Katherine 108, 228
 Turner, Melanie 199
 Turner, Vickie
 Turner, Zabian
 Tutt, Michael Tuttle, Margaret 244
 Twins 205
 Tyner, Leslie 106, 107
 Tyree, Edward Tyson, Kristen
 Tyson, Tomiko

Ulasewich, Richard 148, 228
 Underwood, James
 Upchurch, Marlu 228
 Upchurch, Patrick 199
 US Club 90
 Ussery, Amy 244
 Utley, William

Van Hilvoorde, Ivo 199
 Vance, Roberta 228
 Vancleave, Katrina 230
 Vandenboom, Edward 199
 Vandenboom, Stacy 244
 Vandenboom, Teresa 199
 Vanderkam, Jeffrey 232, 244
 Varsel, Wayne
 Vassallo, Thomas 230
 Vaughn, Susan 196
 Veasey, Charles 147
 Vick, Durant 244
 Vick, Miller 14, 31, 182, 199
 Vincent, Brian Vinson, Andre 230
 Vinson, Teddy Virtue, Michelle 244
 Virtue, Suzanne 108, 244
 Vitaglione, Guy
 Vitaglione, Sandro 108, 109
 Vocational Education 80
 Volleyball 129
 Volodarsky, Alexander

Wachtel, Martin 230
 Waerlop, Alyssa 230
 Wagner, Laura 109, 230
 Wagner, Rhonda 244
 Wagstaff, Brinkley 124
 Wahler, Todd 244
 Walford, Russell 244
 Walker, Amy 108, 230

Walker, Ashley
Walker, Daryl 244
Walker, Demetria 142, 230
Walker, Derek 199
Walker, Dina
Walker, Elvia 240, 250
Walker, Grant 199
Walker, Hester 230
Walker, Katrina 140, 149
Walker, Kimberly 180
Walker, Scott
Walker, Terry
Wall, Arlene
Wall, Charlene 199
Wall, Phillip
Wall Stephen 230
Wallace, Matthew 230
Walters, Juanita 230
Walters, Theresa 106, 199
Walton, Delma
Walton, Ryan 244
Ward, Michael Ward, Tracy
Warren, Craig 37
Warren, Lesley 230
Washington, Denunzio
Washington, George Waters, Ellen Waters, Robin 231
Watkins, Belinda 17, 34, 199
Watkins, Heather
Watkins, Jeffrey 231
Watkins, Kendra
Watkins, Robert
Watson, Bryant 199
Watson, Cathleen 231
Watson, Courtney 108, 231
Watson, Maria 199
Watson, Tim 199, 225
Watson, Wanda 199, 222
Watta, Allison 244
Watta, Louis
Watters, John 94, 231
Watters, Sharon 14, 37
Weatherford, Bryan
Weatherman, Alison 199
Weatherspoon, Randy 108, 231
Weaver, Heidi 244
Weaver, Kathryn 231
Webb, Camden
Weems, Virginia 231
Weisser, Chadwick
Welborn, Kellie 231
Wells, Kiley 231
Wennen, Yvonne 199
Wesley, Blyden
Wesley, Ebony
West, Rebecca 231
West, Rodrigues 244

Westbrook, James 231
Westphal, Mark
Wetherbee, Richard Wheeler, Stephanie 231
Wheless, Laura 244
Whicker, Ashley 231
Whitaker, Alan 231
Whitaker, Courtney 244
Whitaker, Joseph 244
Whitaker, Princess 23, 38, 199
Whitaker, Thomas
White, Andy 84, 100, 118, 199, 201, 221
White, Anissa
White, Christina 231
White, Clinton 244
White, Emily 231
White, Gerald 244
White, Glenn
White, James E.
White, James S.
White, Jessie 149, 231
White, Kimberly 180, 231
White, Kristie 199
White, Lori
White, Scott
White, Sylvia 115, 250, 254
White, Thomas
Whitehurst, Alan 125, 244
Whitley, Vonzile
Wickham, Alison 118, 231
Wiggins, Petra 84, 199, 222
Wiggs, Cederick 244
Wiggs, Maura
Wilder, Cynthia
Wiley, James 14, 23, 185, 199
Wilkes, Trina 244
Wilkins, Aleatha
Wilkins, Charles 36, 244
Wilkinson, Noel 199
Willer, Groves 197
Williams, Alvin
Williams, Angela 200
Williams, Arinzo
Williams, Barbara
Williams, Calvin
Williams, Chuck 14
Williams, Crystal
Williams, Darriel 213
Williams, Gray 36, 244
Williams, Hofler 156, 217, 200
Williams, Jeffrey 244
Williams, Kerry 244
Williams, Kesha
Williams, Larry
Williams, Maria 231
Williams, Martie
Williams, Michele 231

Williams, Migel
Williams, Orlando 231
Williams, Phylicia 149
Williams, Robert Williams, Roderick
Williams, Rodney 200
Williams, Tara 231
Williams, Tiffany 231
Williams, Vaughn
Williams, Walter 231
Williams, Warren 244
Williamson, Joseph 231
Willis, Derrick
Wilson, Andrew 127, 231
Wilson, Angela 149, 231
Wilson, David 131, 231
Wilson, Kerrick
Wilson, Kristal 149
Wilson, Ronald 244
Wilson, Sarah 18, 94, 200
Wilson, Tina
Wimbush, Felicia
Wimbush, Yulonda 244
Winged Words 107
Winker, Sara 200
Winner, Alfred 244
Winstead, Charles
Winstead, Robin
Winters, Catherine 200, 222
Wise, Jessie 231
Wisowaty, Dawn 98, 108
Witherspoon, Thomas 244
Wofford, Dennis
Wofford, Thomas
Wofford, Jeffrey 231
Womack, Clark 69, 146, 200
Wondergem, Eric
Wood, Charles 231
Wood, Kimberly 200
Wood, Troy 244
Woodall, Ernest
Woodall, Ross 231
Woodard, Vanessa
Woody, Sawanda 231
Wooten, Ashley 244
Wooten, Patrick
Worley, Miles
Worsley, John 26, 200
Worth, Cammy 14, 30, 39, 200
Worth, Thomas 125, 231
Wray, Johnathan 244
Wrench, Mary 142, 149, 231
Wrestling 137
Wright, Cynthia 244
Wright, Elisa 200
Wright, Jennifer 231
Wright, Johnny

Wright, Joseph 244
Wright, Mary
Wright, William 231
Wu, Eric 231
Wyatt, Cynthia
Wyrick, Laura 209, 231

Yates, Jason
Yates, Jennette, 231
Yelverton, Ann 26, 244
York, George 231
York, Scott
Yost, Stephanie 244
Young, Desiron 98, 180, 200
Young, George 231
Young, Graham
Young, Henry 23, 35, 200
Young, Kimberly 231
Young, Michael 37, 151, 231
Young, Rita
Young, Steven Young, Tracey

Zaytoun, Constance 84, 90, 106
Zieger, Jessica 231
Zimmerman, Cathy 231
Zimmerman, Janet 200
Zuehlke, Chad 127, 244
Zugu, Jessica, 231

Rehearsing in the gym for an upcoming pep-rally, cheerleaders practice their routine. As a tribute to alumni, they performed a 50's dance at the Homecoming pep-rally.

Beginning a practice match, Rodney and Calvin Williams prepare to fight at the sound of a whistle. The wrestling team practiced for many hours after school to perfect their skill.

Performing for the holiday assembly, Charlotte Gregory and Susan Majors play the cello part to "Sleigh Bells." The assembly was highlighted by the ensemble and the bands joint presentation of the "Hallelujah Chorus."

SPEECHLESS

(spech'lis) adj. temporarily unable to speak, as though from astonishment, Yes, we're astonished. And that astonishment has left us speechless. The astonishment of finally completing the book, a book where we tried to describe Broughton through words and pictures. And now, we've run out of words. So let us say farewell with pictures, and a secret message that really does describe it all.

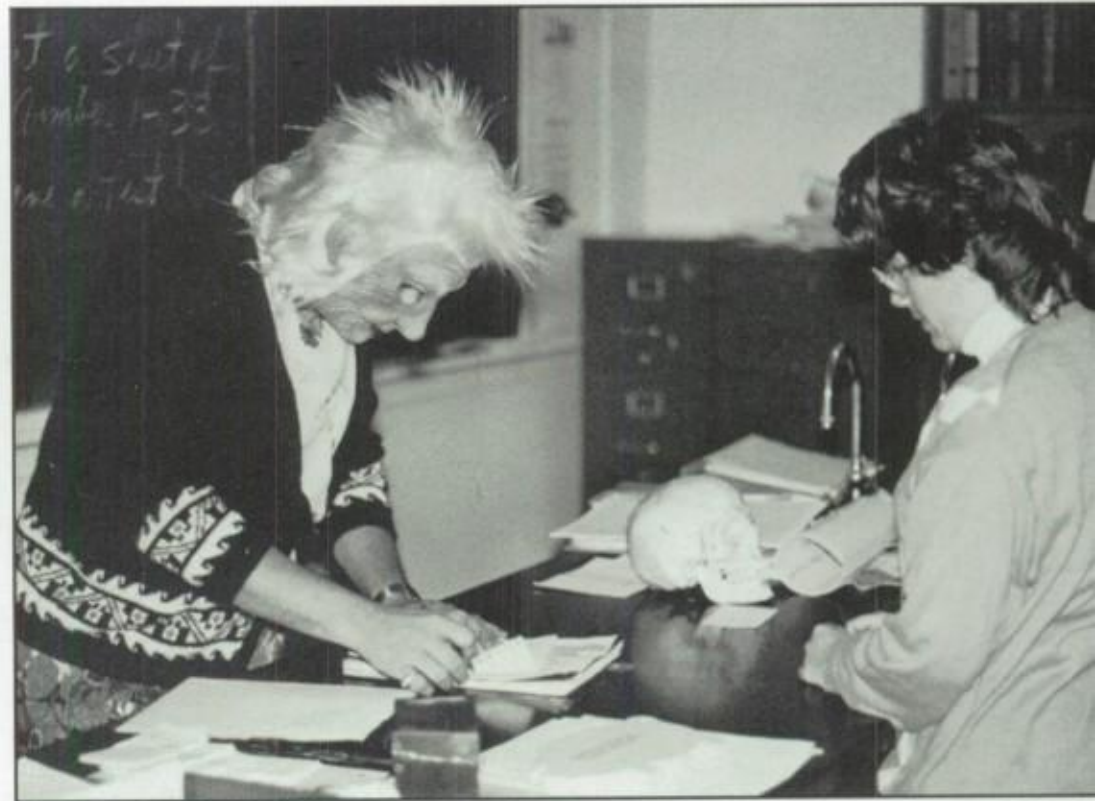

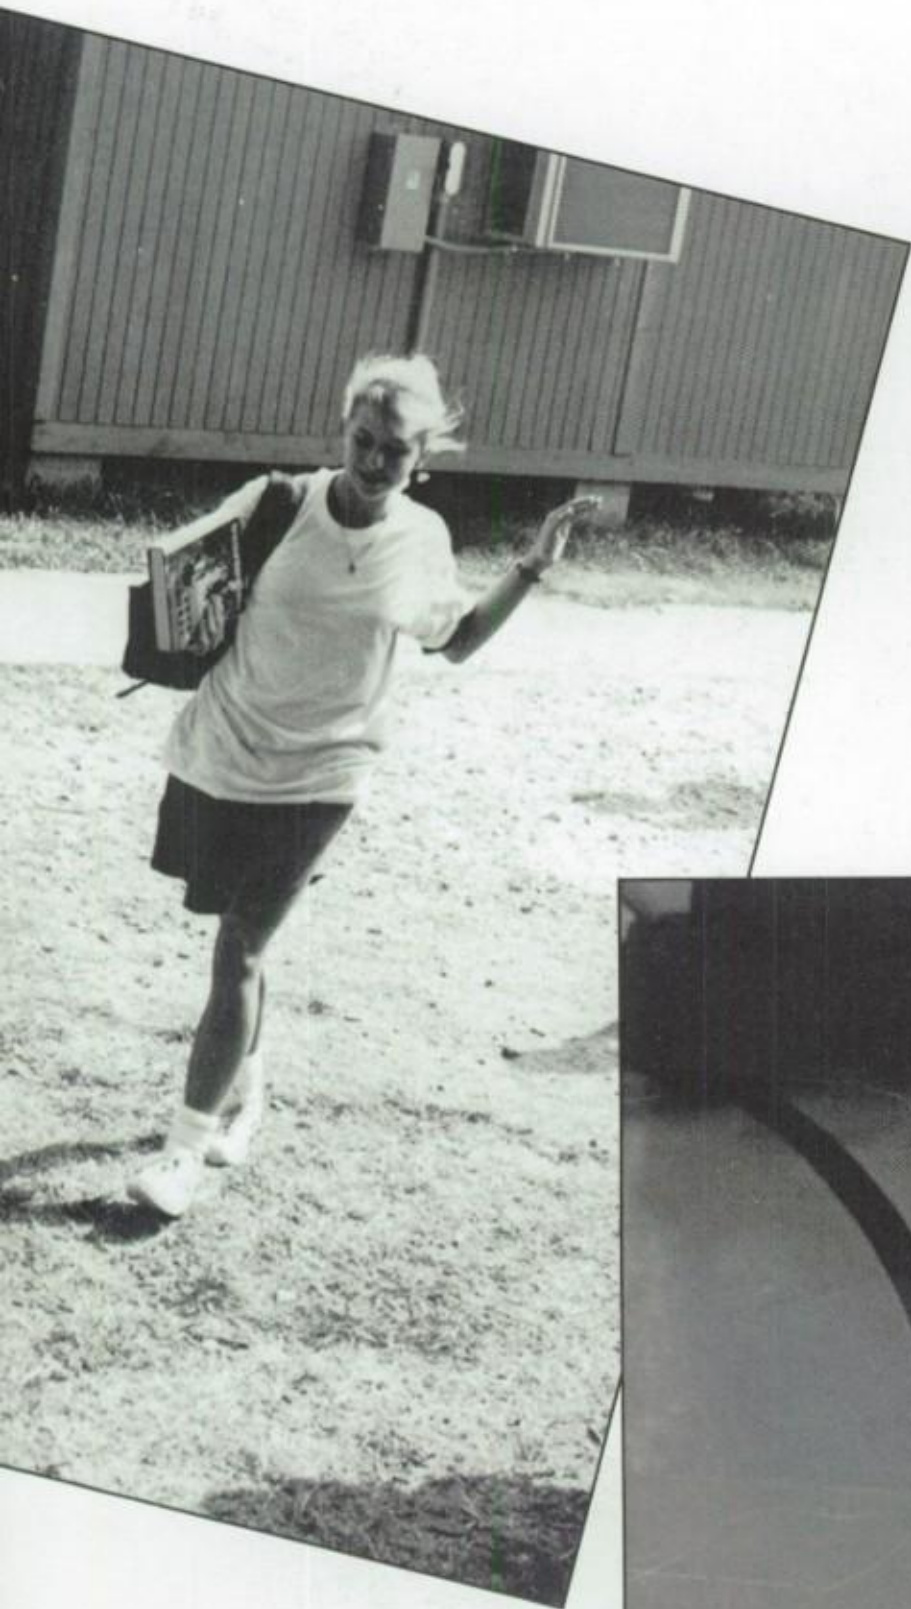

ing a breather from a tough game, Dominique McCoy relaxes with a drink. n on the bench, players felt the intensity competition and watched closely to p track of the plays.

As part of a United Way fund raiser, John Cella, Susan Majors and Rennelle Risley sell tickets to the student body. To encourage participation, the fund raiser was turned into a class competition.

Broughton's campus is well landscaped and has many large trees and stone benches accentuating the age and tradition of Broughton High School. On a spring day, with the grass and leaves a bright green and the sun shining on the campus, it appears quiet and serene.

Words Can't Describe It

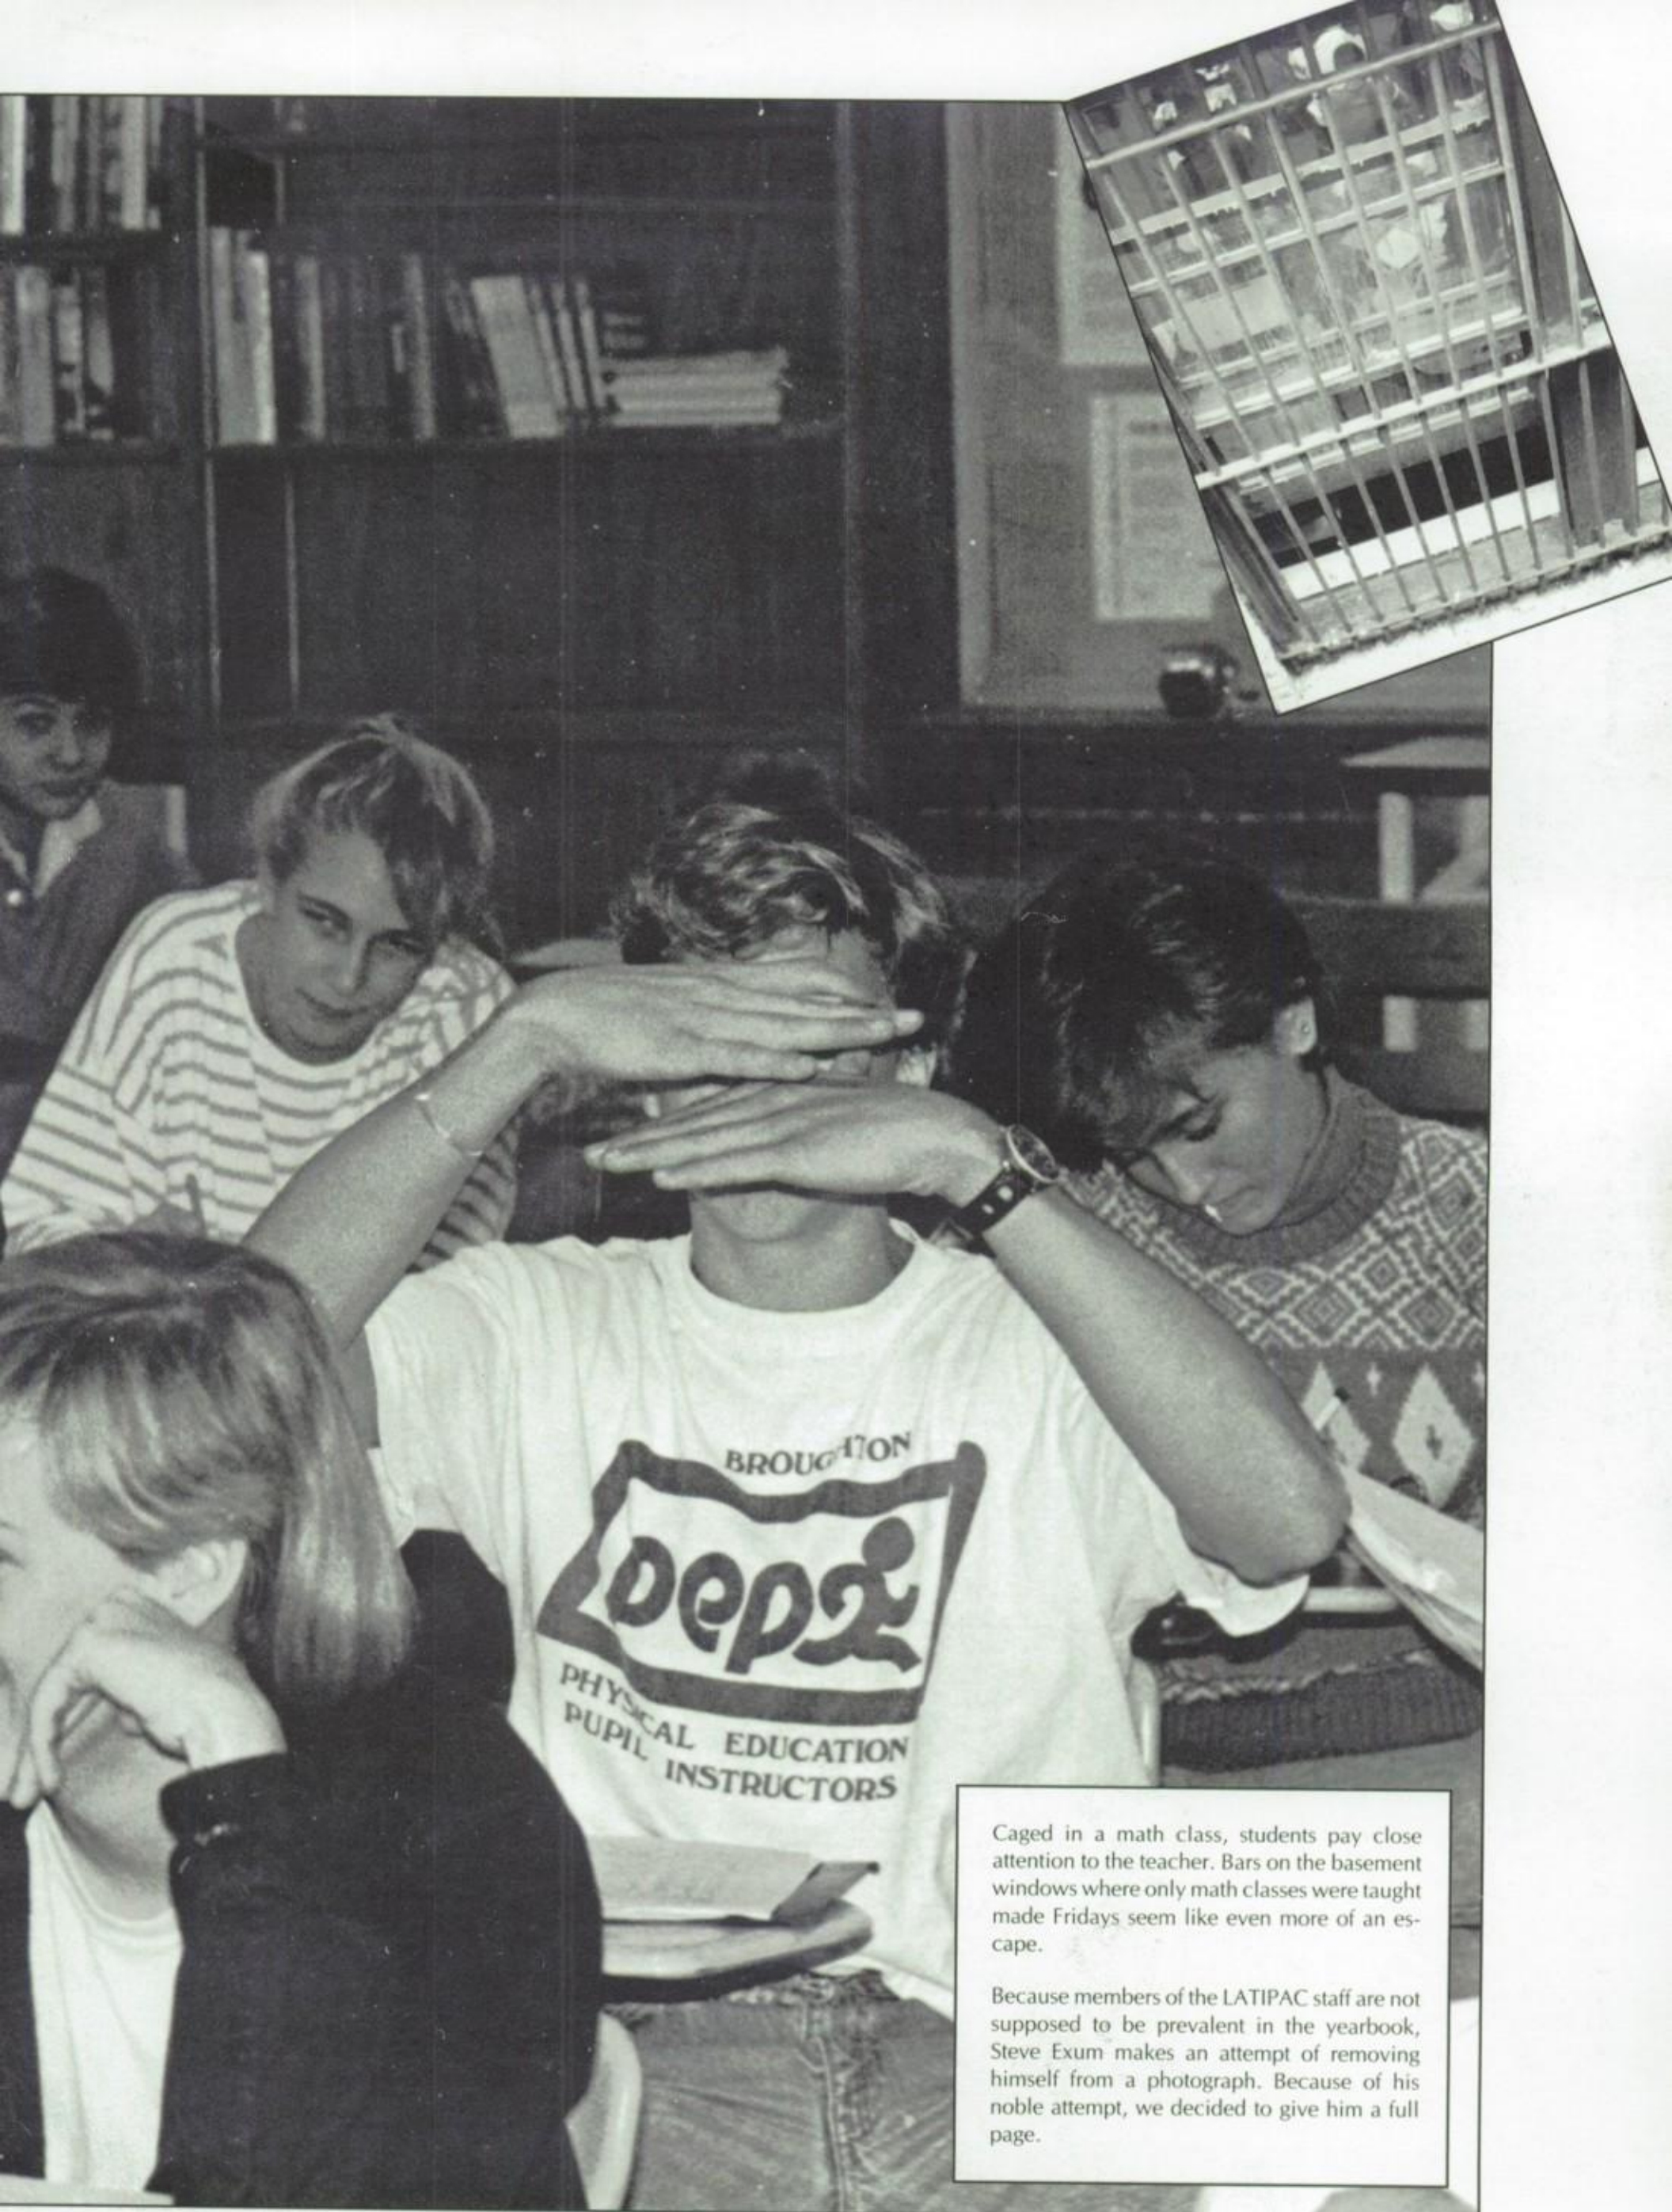

In costume for Halloween, Mr. Roscoe Murdoch returns a graded paper to Casey Herget. Many teachers participated in the Halloween festivities as a boost to school spirit.

Rushing to get to class on time, Mary Exum tries to avoid tripping. The graveled path and continuous construction made getting to class somewhat of a challenge.

Horsing around in P.E. class, Shawn Jefferson and Larry McClain attempt to pin the others' shoulders to the mat. P.E. classes were looked forward to by many as a place to "work out" their frustrations.

Caged in a math class, students pay close attention to the teacher. Bars on the basement windows where only math classes were taught made Fridays seem like even more of an escape.

Because members of the LATIPAC staff are not supposed to be prevalent in the yearbook, Steve Exum makes an attempt of removing himself from a photograph. Because of his noble attempt, we decided to give him a full page.

HEIDKFJTHVNDJSKALITYDH DDNOHEYDJKSADSTUIOPH
KLQWERHJKKKDKOGHRUEI KOMVJFKEIDOEPWERTFGHT DJFVNFJRJKRIUNMVBCHSUM
VHDI EODKCZHYGBDTVERDY
CGHWIOSJDTBDHEWQPOIN LOKCNZHDEAJSHDYRHFTH AGSYDGCFTHDJSIDUDENDI
URHFHFDHCNDJDUJEHDYO PQOADHITDOESNTMATTERI HRUFHJWEWENTTOBROUGH
COND TUDJCNFHEISKSIARS YUVSGEXZKAUQOHTPLMNI DKEASDFJKLWERYTUJFJFVH
WHORYDJRYFHFIEYEFYVUEH YVUORUJDIJRYELIELIDTYDUIV

Words
Describe Can't It

